Intern with Loudoun Wildlife Conservancy

Loudoun Wildlife Conservancy (LWC) is accepting applications for its 2010 Summer Internship Program. The LWC internship program provides educational and hands-on opportunities for students concerning environmental issues impacting Loudoun County.

College juniors, seniors, and graduate students pursuing a career in the environment are encouraged to apply. The deadline for applications is March 15, 2010.

In previous years, interns have supported LWC's citizen science programs, including stream monitoring, amphibian monitoring and habitat restoration. They have helped to develop the organization's publications and assisted with nature camps for children. In 2010, the internship will include working on the bluebird and butterfly monitoring programs as well as the stream monitoring program. The intern also will be expected to support the children's nature camp for two weeks during the summer at Banshee Reeks in Ashburn, VA.

The LWC Summer Internship Program provides students learning and training opportunities to:

- advance their knowledge and understanding of environmental issues;
- gain exposure to the operations of a nonprofit organization;
- develop research capabilities, and technical, field and leadership skills;
- apply knowledge learned in the classroom to real world environmental challenges;
- be guided and mentored by environmental professionals;
- benefit from the opportunity to network with LWC volunteers and the greater Loudoun community; and explore career possibilities in the nonprofit and environmental field.

Requirements for consideration:

- The intern should be available for work at least 20 hours per week, from approximately May 15 – Aug. 25.
- The intern should be pursuing a degree in an environmental career including, for example, biology, policy issues, environmental management, horticulture, etc.
- The intern will need to be available to participate in a face-to-face interview with two LWC staff for consideration.
- Applicants will need to submit a resume and cover letter detailing education, training, and skills they will bring to the LWC internship program, as well as how the program will enhance their education and relate to their chosen career.
- The intern will need to provide two references, preferably employment-related.

A writing sample in the candidate's current research field or other environmental area of interest will need to be submitted.

Interns will receive compensation for the work performed.

Applications may be submitted online at www.loudounwildlife.org. Or, contact the LWC Summer Internship Coordinator, Karen Strick, at kstrick@loudounwildlife.org, for more information.

Loudoun Wildlife Conservancy is an all-volunteer non-profit organization whose mission is to promote the preservation and proliferation of healthy wildlife habitats throughout Loudoun County. Visit www.loudounwildlife.org or call (540) 554-2542.

Volunteer Alert

Habitat for Humanity of Winchester-Frederick County is seeking a volunteer to start a collection route for recycled cans. Proceeds for the cans go directly to Habitat and there's satisfaction that it's contributing to the betterment of our environment.

The time commitment would be a maximum of 2 hours, once a month or bi-monthly.

Essentially, here's what needs to be done each time:

1. 4-5 pre-arranged stops in the route (all within greater Winchester area) to collect cans from donors in large trash bags.
2. Take the cans to Zuckerman Company (207 Ebert Road in Winchester) for drop-off and to receive a paper receipt.
3. Take the receipt to the Habitat office at 145 Baker Street, Winchester.

Interested volunteers should contact Joan Weiss at jweiss@habitatwfc.org or (540) 662-7066.
