CREATIVE KIDS Teaching Artist Positions Available!

CREATIVE KIDS is looking for actors, teaching artists, and students with a theatre/drama background who have part-time availability and a love of children to be a part of our after school program for our winter and spring sessions.

CREATIVE KIDS is an innovative and dynamic literature based drama program. A professional actor/teacher will lead the class in exploring and dramatizing specially selected children's stories. The students then create and act out their own original stories based on these books. These stories come from all over the world and are carefully chosen for each age group. CREATIVE KIDS introduces students to acting, increases their love of books, and is loads of fun – a perfect mix for a great after-school program!

Positions Available Now in Baltimore County, Howard County, Washington DC Metro Area, and Northern Virginia

Teaching Positions Available Now for the After School Drama Program
Theatre training, experience working with children, and a car are required.

Classes are 45—60 minutes between the hours of 2—5 PM and run one or more days per week for 6—8 weeks.

Health Policy Scholars Program Opportunity!

Presenting The Henry J. Kaiser Family Foundation Barbara Jordan Health Policy Scholars Program in partnership with Howard University!

The application for the 2010 Program deadline is Friday, December 4, 2009.

PROGRAM

The Barbara Jordan Health Policy Scholars Program brings talented college seniors and recent graduates to Washington, D.C., where they are placed in congressional offices and learn about health policy issues, with a focus on issues affecting racial and ethnic minority and underserved communities. Through the ten-week program (May 17–July 24, 2010), Scholars gain knowledge about federal legislative procedure and health policy issues, while further developing their critical thinking and leadership skills. In addition to gaining experience in a congressional office, Scholars participate in seminars and site visits to augment their knowledge of health care issues, and write and present a health policy research memo that addresses a problem of concern to disadvantaged populations.

PURPOSE

The Henry J. Kaiser Family Foundation established the Barbara Jordan Health Policy Scholars Program at Howard University to honor the legacy of former Foundation Trustee and Congresswoman Barbara Jordan and to expand the pool of students in the field of health policy who are interested in issues affecting racial and ethnic minority and underserved communities. As a member of the United States Congress and the Texas State Legislature, Barbara Jordan's distinguished career was exemplified by her tireless advocacy of behalf of vulnerable populations. She brought this passion to her work, inspiring others to become involved in addressing challenging health policy issues.

Project HOPE Internship Opportunity!

The mission of the organization is reflected in the name Health Opportunities for People Everywhere (HOPE) and in a very simple philosophy: Go only where invited and help people help themselves. The organization partners with and brings together government, business, academic, military and a host of health care professionals to address and provide solutions to health care challenges worldwide. From its humble beginning, HOPE has developed into one of the world's leading international organizations devoted to long-term solutions in health care. Currently the organization is improving health and increasing knowledge in the areas of infectious disease (HIV/AIDS, TB, and Hepatitis), chronic disease such as diabetes, women's and children's health, health professional education, health systems and facilities, health policy and humanitarian assistance. By focusing its health initiatives in these areas, HOPE can assure excellence and better serve those in need and truly make a difference.

The Intern position will provide support to the IT team on the day-to-day tasks associated with managing our technology infrastructure. Completing a variety of tasks encompassing a broad spectrum of technologies, with duties focused on several possible IT career paths.

The preferred candidate is High School Senior/Community College/University level computer technology undergrad or graduate in accredited institution pursuing a degree in Computer Science, Information Systems or a related field.

This position is an unpaid internship. We are proud to be an EEO/AA employer M/F/D/V. We maintain a drug-free workplace and perform pre-employment substance abuse testing.
