Mission
Shenandoah University educates and inspires individuals to be critical, reflective thinkers; lifelong learners; and ethical, compassionate citizens who are committed to making responsible contributions within a community, a nation and the world.

Core Values
Development of an enduring passion for learning
Commitment to self-reflection and personal development
Respect for diverse cultures, experiences and perspectives
Celebration of creative performance, expression, teaching and discovery
Cultivation of leadership to advance positive change and growth
Dedication to citizenship, professional service and global outreach

Foundation
Shenandoah University distinguishes itself by providing opportunities to gain knowledge and develop skills in a collaborative, personalized environment that intertwines professional and liberal learning. A Shenandoah education incorporates scholarship, experiential learning and sophisticated technologies, as well as practical wisdom.

As an institution affiliated with the United Methodist Church, Shenandoah University practices the highest ethical standards in its interactions with the community and with students of all faiths. Within a community of scholars, Shenandoah promotes the welfare of the whole person by fostering a nurturing environment in which students learn, grow and flourish.

Non-Discrimination Policy
Shenandoah University values the unique and diverse perspectives of individuals and communities locally and globally and seeks to foster mutual understanding in an inviting community where individuals are welcome and respected. The university does not discriminate on the basis of sex, race, color, religion, national or ethnic origin, age, physical or mental disability, veteran status or sexual orientation.

This catalog is a source of general information and does not constitute an irrevocable contract between Shenandoah University and any person. Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy and completeness of this catalog; however, Shenandoah University reserves the right to make necessary changes to the provisions and policies of this catalog at any time. All such changes are effective at such time as determined by Shenandoah University and may apply to all prospective and matriculated students. Every effort will be made to minimize the inconvenience such changes might create for students.
Shenandoah University Identity

Shenandoah University is the private, nationally recognized applied liberal arts university that invites students to join a close-knit community rich in creative energy. We attract independent, curious and academically prepared students who seek a rigorous education and exceptional professional training. In our dynamic academic community, students:

- Connect with accomplished professors
- Engage in small, highly interactive classes
- Apply what they learn in a variety of experiences outside the classroom, and
- Expand their understanding and perspectives by being involved in global initiatives.

As a result, our graduates are empowered to help improve the human condition and are prepared to be principled professionals and leaders wherever they go.

Our Personality

Creative – Shenandoah University is a creatively charged environment where ideas, connections and inspiration are born from the university’s rich mix of programs, personalities, cultures and perspectives and a solution-oriented approach to problem solving is embraced.

High Energy – Shenandoah University’s faculty, staff and students are actively involved in the intellectual, creative and social life of the university. Our high energy approach to learning, activities and exploration infuse the campus with enthusiasm and a spirit of possibility.

Inviting – Faculty, staff and students at Shenandoah University cultivate collaboration and teamwork and create an inviting community where individuals with varying perspectives are welcome and respected.

Principled – Faculty, staff and students at Shenandoah University have a strong sense of personal responsibility. They believe in doing what’s right and in living meaningful lives.

A D M I S S I O N S

Students are selected by the Office of Admissions on the basis of their ability, interests and academic preparation as indicated by their applications, school records and test results. Since applicants are considered on their own merit, Shenandoah University invites them to supply all evidence to indicate their competence and eagerness to deal with a demanding and exciting Shenandoah program of study.

Admission to Shenandoah University is competitive. The number of new students admitted each year is limited by the available residence hall and classroom space, instructional personnel and budgetary resources. The executive director of recruitment and admissions is authorized to accept applicants who meet the published admission requirements after examining their application in accordance with policies approved by the institution.

The Undergraduate Application for Admission is for degree-seeking students and requires a $30 application fee. Application fees are not credited to tuition and are non-refundable. Application documents submitted to Shenandoah University will not be returned to the student. Undergraduate applications are available at www.su.edu/admission.

Entrance Requirements

Admission of High School Graduates

The strongest candidates for admission will demonstrate preparation for a university liberal arts education. The high school transcript should indicate courses pursued, grades earned, grade point average and credits earned. It is required that the coursework include: four units of English, three units of Mathematics (Algebra I, Algebra II and Geometry), and two units of science (including one laboratory science). Two units of a foreign language are strongly recommended. Other classes may be appropriate for some curricula and will be evaluated on an individual basis by the Office of Admissions. Applicants are strongly recommended to indicate community and extra-curricular involvement. Shenandoah Conservatory applicants are also required to successfully complete an audition, meeting the specific requirements as outlined in the university’s “Audition Guidelines.” The “Audition Guidelines” are available from the Office of Admissions.

The most heavily weighted factor in the applicant’s total profile is actual academic performance, as indicated by the high school transcript. Because class rank is a relative factor, it is not considered in the admission decision.

Applicants for admission to Shenandoah University are evaluated in following areas:

1. Previous high school or college records or both
2. Results of the SAT or ACT examination
3. For Conservatory applicants only, the result of the audition

Most applicants seek admission during the first semester of their senior year in high school to enter Shenandoah University the following fall. A student who intends to enter directly after high school graduation must request the necessary forms from the Office of Admissions. Procedures for admission are:
1. Application for admission must be made on the Undergraduate Application for Admission. The application must be signed by the applicant (and a parent or guardian if the applicant is under 18 years of age) and returned to the Office of Admissions. A non-refundable application fee of $30 must be submitted, and is not credited to tuition and fees.

2. Applicants must ask their high school guidance office to send an official transcript of their high school records and SAT or ACT test scores to the Office of Admissions. Credentials submitted by the applicant are not considered official.

3. If the SAT or ACT scores are not included on the high school transcript, the applicant must request the College Entrance Examination Board to send them directly to Shenandoah University, CEEB code #5613.

4. Shenandoah Conservatory Applicants Additional Requirements: Conservatory applicants must satisfactorily complete an audition or portfolio review prior to the admission decision. In the audition, each applicant must demonstrate an appropriate level of technical facility in one performance medium. Specific audition and portfolio requirements are found in the “Audition Guidelines,” which are available from the Office of Admissions and on the website at: www.su.edu/admission.

   All music curricula require the music theory diagnostic skills exam during the audition process.

   An interview with a faculty panel is required for the following curricula: Music Education, Music Production and Recording Technology, and Music Therapy.

   An interview and portfolio review session with a faculty member is required for the following curricula: Composition, Scenic and Lighting Design, and Costume Design.

   Applicants do not audition for study with a particular Conservatory teacher; as the faculty member conducting the audition is a representative of the department. Applicants will have an opportunity to express a preference, but it is not guaranteed that they will study in the studio of the auditioning faculty.

   When an application file is complete, the applicant will usually be notified of the admission decision within three weeks by their admissions counselor.

Guaranteed Admission Program for Graduate Health Professions Programs

Freshmen students with exceptional academic credentials who have been admitted to a pre-health professions program will be considered for Pre-Admit status to a graduate health professions program. When a student is Pre-Admitted, he/she is guaranteed a non-competitive seat at the graduate level in the program for which he/she has been accepted. If a student fails to maintain the outlined criteria while attending Shenandoah, the guaranteed seat will become competitive.

Admission of Home-Schooled Applicants

Applicants must submit transcripts of home-school records and official SAT or ACT test scores to the Office of Admissions. Applicants must also submit written documentation of local school district approval of the home-school arrangement, if available. If any coursework is completed or accepted as degree credit at a local high school, official high school transcripts must be submitted by a high school guidance counselor. Based upon academic credentials and SAT or ACT scores, applicants may be required to submit General Educational Development (GED) scores.

Admission of Transfer Students

Applicants who have attended other regionally accredited institutions of post-secondary education for purposes other than high school dual enrollment will be considered as transfer students.

In order to be considered for admission, the prospective transfer student must submit the following:

1. Shenandoah University Undergraduate Application for Admission. The application must be signed by the applicant (and a parent or guardian if the applicant is under 18 years of age).

2. A non-refundable application fee of $30 submitted by check, money order, or electronically payable to Shenandoah University. The application fee is not credited to tuition and fees.

3. Official transcript(s) of credits earned, entrance credits accepted, results of standardized tests administered, and evidence of good standing forwarded in a sealed envelope or a secure electronic transmission directly from each institution attended to the Office of Admissions.

4. Applicants who have completed fewer than 24 credits must also submit official high school transcripts.

5. SAT or ACT scores are also required if the applicant has been out of high school less than two years.

Shenandoah University grants transfer credit based on the policy headed Transfer Credit in the Academic Policies section of this catalog.

Although admissions counselors may prepare unofficial preliminary transfer course evaluations, the official report of transfer equivalencies will be issued by the Office of Academic Affairs at the time of admission.

Transfer students holding an Associate of Arts, Associate of Sciences, Associate of Arts and Sciences, or Associate of Arts and Teaching degree from an American institution will be considered to have fulfilled the Shenandoah University general education requirement. General education requirements of holders of other associates degrees or associates degrees from foreign institutions will be considered on a case-by-case basis. Specific requirements of each academic unit and majors will be considered on a case-by-case basis regardless of the associates degree earned.

Shenandoah University guarantees admission to Virginia Community College System students who have completed the associates degree with a minimum 2.5 grade point average. Please refer to https://www.vawizard.org/vccs/TransferGAA.action#856 for the full terms of the agreement.

The VCCS guaranteed admission program applies only to university admission.

Several programs have specific requirements, and admission to those programs is not guaranteed. Refer to Additional Program Specified Admissions Requirements below.
See below for Notification of Admissions Decisions and Types of Acceptance Decision.

Additional Program Specified Admissions Requirements:

Shenandoah Conservatory

Except those entering the Scenic and Lighting Design, Theatre Stage Management, and Costume Design curricula (see below), each applicant must satisfactorily complete an audition prior to the admission decision. Applicants do not audition for study with a particular Conservatory teacher, as the faculty member conducting the audition is a representative of the department. Applicants will have an opportunity to express a preference, but it is not guaranteed that they will study in the studio of the auditioning faculty.

In the audition, each applicant must demonstrate an appropriate level of technical facility in one performance medium. Specific audition requirements are found in the “Audition Guidelines,” which are available from the Office of Admissions and on the Web site at: www.su.edu/admission. All music curricula require the music theory diagnostic skills exam during the audition process.

An interview with a faculty panel is required for the following curricula: Music Education, Music Production and Recording Technology, Theatre Stage Management, and Music Therapy.

An interview and/or portfolio review session with a faculty member is required for the following curricula: Composition, Scenic and Lighting Design, Theatre Stage Management, and Costume Design.

For transfer students in a music curriculum, proficiency in applied music is evaluated following the first semester of study at Shenandoah University.

Per the National Association of Schools of Music guidelines, students who are receiving scholarship from a NASM accredited institution must submit written verification of official release from any scholarship obligations before full admission will be granted. This release can be sent to admissions in the form of an email from the current Dean of the applicant's school.

School of Nursing

Nursing applicants must successfully pass the Test of Essential Academic Skills V (TEAS V) exam with a cumulative score of 65 (note that the passing score is subject to change). Applicants may retake the TEAS exam one time.

The School of Nursing requires a minimum grade point average of 3.0 for all science courses and a 3.0 for remaining pre-requisite courses for all nursing pre-licensure transfers.

Respiratory Care

Applicants to the Respiratory Care Three-Semester Track must complete 80 credit hours, including all prerequisites and general education requirements, prior to beginning their respiratory care coursework. Respiratory Care applicants are required to have a minimum of a 2.5 grade point average overall and in all prerequisite coursework.
Readmission of Former Students

Former students seeking readmission, who have not attended class at Shenandoah for three consecutive semesters, must submit an Undergraduate Application for Admission to the Office of Admissions. A non-refundable application fee of $30 must be submitted and is not credited to tuition and fees.

Former students who were in good academic and good social standing may be readmitted upon completion of the appropriate forms. Former students, however, may be denied readmission on the basis of an outstanding and/or unresolved debt to Shenandoah University.

Former students who were not in good academic or good social standing may be readmitted only upon completion of the appropriate forms in the Office of Admissions, and approval by the appropriate academic office, the Office of Student Accounts and the Office of Student Life.

Admission of International Students

International applicants must meet the following requirements:

1. Send completed Undergraduate Application for Admission and Supplemental Application for International Students forms and a $30 non-refundable application fee to the Shenandoah University Office of Admissions. The application form must be signed by the applicant (and a parent or guardian if the applicant is under 18 years of age). The application fee must be paid in U.S. currency by credit card, money order or wire transfer made payable to Shenandoah University.

2. Applicants must ask their former high school and/or university to send an official transcript directly to Shenandoah University's Office of Admissions. If an institution is unable to send original documents, the applicant must have an appropriate school official certify that the copy is an official copy with a stamp and signature. All transcripts must be received in unopened envelopes that have been stamped or signed by an authority at the sending institution across the envelope seal. If records are not in English, the applicant must include a certified translation. Shenandoah University will also accept verified transcripts from WES ICAP in lieu of official transcripts sent from the applicant's previous institution(s) of higher learning.

3. All transcripts from countries outside the United States must also be evaluated by an academic credential evaluation company to obtain equivalency information on courses, grades and degrees earned. An English translation will not be accepted in place of an academic credential evaluation. Applicants may make arrangements to have an evaluation completed with any of the providers listed at www.naces.org. All associated fees are the responsibility of the applicant.

4. Shenandoah Conservatory applicants may complete specific audition and portfolio review requirements by submitting a recorded audition, if travel to the Winchester campus or a regional audition site is not feasible. Recorded audition rules and guidelines is available at www.su.edu/auditions.

Non-Native English Speaking (NNES) undergraduate students are admitted in three different ways: 1) full admission, 2) provisional admission, depending on requirements for
A. Full Admission of NNES Undergraduate Students

Entering students who meet Shenandoah University’s ESL requirement through one of the four ways outlined below are not required to enroll in ESL courses. However, such students may elect ESL study to improve their English language skills. All transcripts and/or test scores must be received by the Admissions office no later than 14 business days before the start date of each term. No test score will be considered that is over 12 months old. The Shenandoah University TOEFL test code is 5613.

1. At least 48 credit hours with a cumulative GPA of 2.5 in a post-secondary institution in which English is the language of instruction.

2. Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) internet-based score of 71 or higher; paper-based score of 527 or higher; or computer-based score of 197 or higher.

3. Sakae Institute of Study Abroad (SISA) test score of level 14 or higher.

4. International English Language Testing System (IELTS) minimum overall band score of 6.0 with no subset score below 5.0.

B. Provisional Admission of NNES Undergraduate Students

Undergraduate students with scores in the following ranges may be granted provisional admission and begin their undergraduate programs, however, they must enroll in 6 to 9 credit hours of ESL at the Intermediate Level until they achieve the TOEFL/IELTS score required or until they have obtained a grade of B or higher in ESL 106 and 109.

1. Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) internet-based score of 61 to 70; paper-based scores of 500-226; or computer-based scores of 173-195.

2. Sakae Institute of Study Abroad (SISA) test score levels 10 to 13.

3. International English Language Testing System (IELTS) overall band score of 5.5 to 6.0 with no subset score below 4.0.

C. ESL Certificate Admission of NNES Undergraduate Students

Depending on program requirements, some students may gain provisional admission with the test scores listed below, but most will be admitted into the ESL Certificate program only and will be required to successfully complete the two Beginning Level ESL courses offered in the summer term with a grade of B or higher before they are able to apply for provisional admission to other programs.

1. Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) internet-based score of 40 to 60.

2. Sakae Institute of Study Abroad (SISA) test score levels of 5 to 9.

3. International English Language Testing System (IELTS) overall band scores of 4.5 to 5.5 with no subset score below 3.5.
Students who complete the summer program and gain provisional admission must fulfill the ESL guidelines for provisionally admitted students below.

The following ranges indicate how many ESL credits, along with undergraduate credits within their program, admitted students may expect to take:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>TOEFL /SAKAE/IELTS</th>
<th>ESL credits</th>
<th>coursework credits</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>61 to 65/10 to 12/5.5</td>
<td>9</td>
<td>3 to 6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>66 to 70/13/6.0 with any subset below 5.0</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>6 to 9</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Entering undergraduate students who do not meet the minimum requirements specified above may be admitted only to the English as a Second Language Certificate until reaching the levels specified for provisional admission to a program.

Undergraduate students must meet all ESL requirements within one calendar year of initial enrollment at Shenandoah University, or prior to graduation, whichever comes first. Failure to meet this requirement may result in suspension from the university.

Specific guidelines for completing ESL requirements may be obtained from the ESL Department.

6. To be eligible to receive a SEVIS I-20 form from Shenandoah, applicants must send financial documentation explaining how they plan to cover their educational and living expenses while a student at Shenandoah. To document financial resources, applicants may complete the Supplemental Application for International Students and include support materials as indicated.

Once an application is accepted and finances documented, applicants will be issued a SEVIS I-20 form which is needed to apply for an F-1 student visa. It is important that international students receive their F-1 visa from the U.S. Consulate Office in their native country prior to their arrival in the United States. This procedure is subject to change due to revisions and proposals of changes to the Federal Regulations governing issuance of I-20s for International Students.

Inquiries regarding financial aid should be directed to the university's Office of Financial Aid. Financial aid for international students is extremely limited since federal and state sources are unavailable. International students should seek to obtain educational funds from their native country and should not rely on aid being available from Shenandoah University.

When an application file is complete, the applicant will usually be notified of the admission decision within three weeks by the executive director of recruitment and admissions. For additional information, see the heading “Notification of Admission Decision” in this section.

Admission of Certificate Students

Applicants for admission as a certificate student are those applicants interested in obtaining training in a specific area that is recognized by the awarding of a certificate rather than a degree and/or applicants interested in completing the Elementary or Secondary Education Virginia Licensure requirements. (The actual teacher licensure is granted by the Virginia Department of Education after review of credentials.) Certificate programs are academic programs. Generally, a certificate student is enrolled on a part-time basis.
Certificate applicants must complete and submit the Undergraduate Application for Admission directly to the Office of Admissions. A non-refundable application fee of $30 must be submitted and is not credited to tuition and fees.

Certificate applicants are required to submit the same materials as degree-seeking students. See previous sections on requirements for freshman and transfer students. An undergraduate certificate applicant must have a high school diploma. Certificate students are held to the same academic standards and judged in the same way as students enrolled in degree programs.

Once the application has been received and processed, the applicant will usually be notified of the admission decision within three weeks by their admissions counselor. Certificate students are eligible for limited types of financial aid.

High School Seniors
Qualified seniors in area high schools who will not be taking a full academic load in their high school senior year can apply to Shenandoah as a visiting student. Under this program, students are permitted, with the approval of high school officials, to undertake coursework at Shenandoah University concurrently with coursework undertaken at their high school.

Under certain conditions, credit earned at Shenandoah University may be applicable to graduation requirements from Virginia high schools. Credit and grades earned become part of the student's permanent academic record at Shenandoah University.

Admission After the Junior Year
This program, in which the student enters as a full-time, degree-seeking freshman after the junior year in high school, is designed for a small number of exceptionally qualified students. To be considered, a student must have all required credits in mathematics and science. Most commonly at the end of the junior year, the student will have only one unit in English to complete.

Students applying for this program need all the materials required of a candidate for regular admission, and, in addition, the high school counselor and principal will be asked to speak directly to the question of the student’s maturity, academic ability, personality, sense of purpose, and ability to handle responsibility independently. Credit and grades earned become part of the student’s permanent academic record at Shenandoah University.

The admission procedure is the same as for those students seeking regular admission, except that generally students seeking admission after the junior year submit their application during the spring of their junior year in high school. Students applying for this type of admission must submit the regular application for admission, the non-refundable application fee of $30, an official high school transcript, and the results of the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the American College Test (ACT) and the recommendations from the high school guidance counselor and principal.

Visiting Students (Non-Degree-Seeking)
Visiting students (non-degree-seeking) are most often applicants who are not interested in a degree but in a specific course; applicants who did not follow an academic program in high school; or students at other institutions who will earn credits to transfer back to their own institutions. Generally, a visiting student is enrolled on a part-time basis.
Visiting students, though not enrolled in a certificate or degree program at Shenandoah University, are held to the same academic standards and judged in the same way as students who are enrolled in a certificate or degree program.

Occasionally, a visiting student will later apply for admission as a degree-seeking student. In that case, the regular admission procedure is followed. Once enrolled as a visiting student, a student cannot change their status in that semester. Not more than 30 undergraduate credit hours earned as a visiting student may be applied toward an undergraduate certificate or undergraduate degree program.

Visiting students are not eligible for financial aid.

Visiting students complete the Visiting Student Application which is available from and must be submitted directly to the Office of the Registrar. A non-refundable application fee of $20 must be submitted and is not credited to tuition and fees.

Center for Lifelong Learning Students
Center for Lifelong Learning applicants apply directly through the Center for Lifelong Learning Office.

Special Admissions

Admission of Applicants Without a High School Diploma
Applicants may be considered for admission on the basis of the General Educational Development (GED) examination. Shenandoah University does not administer this examination. Interested applicants should consult the guidance department of a nearby high school for information about when and where the examinations can be taken. An average battery of 450 (total score of 2250) or higher with no individual score below 410 is required for admission to Shenandoah University. An interview with a member of the admissions staff is required. An interview with a member of the admissions staff is required. Requirements for admission include:

• An average battery of 450 (total score of 2250) or higher with no individual score below 410
• Evaluation of the application by the appropriate academic unit
• Interview of the applicant by the appropriate academic unit

The decision on acceptance will be made on a case-by-case basis.

Dual Enrollment

Admitted students who present acceptable scores in dual enrollment college courses may receive advanced placement with credit. Students must submit official college transcripts to the Office of Admissions to have the scores evaluated for credit. Credit granted on the basis of the dual enrollment coursework is treated as transfer work and is subject to the university’s transfer policy. See “Transfer Credit” in the Academic Policies Section of this catalog.

Dual enrollment courses are only valid while the student is still enrolled at a high school. Upon high school graduation, if a student enrolls at another college or university, before enrolling at Shenandoah University, they will be considered a transfer student, not a freshman or first-time student.
Advanced Placement
Admitted students who present acceptable scores on the College Board Advanced Placement Test(s) may receive advanced placement with credit. Students must submit official test scores to the Office of Admissions to have the scores evaluated for credit. Credit granted on the basis of the Advanced Placement Test is treated as transfer work and is subject to the university’s transfer policy. See “Transfer Credit” in the Academic Policies Section of this catalog.

International Baccalaureate
Admitted students who present acceptable scores for higher level International Baccalaureate (IB) courses may receive advanced placement with credit. Students must submit official course test scores to the Office of Admissions to have the scores evaluated for credit. Credit granted on the basis of the IB course test scores is treated as transfer work and is subject to the university’s transfer policy. See “Transfer Credit” in the Academic Policies Section of this catalog.

Deferred Enrollment
Upon written request, and payment of the advance tuition deposit, an admitted student may defer enrollment for up to one year. Deferred enrollment is subject to the admission requirements in force at the time the initial admission decision was made and is predicated upon the fact that the student will not enroll at another institution before enrolling at Shenandoah University. A student who enrolls at another institution before enrolling at Shenandoah University must reapply as a transfer student. The student will be subject to the rules, regulations and financial charges in effect at the time of enrollment.

Types of Acceptance Decisions
At the discretion of the executive director of recruitment and admissions, applicants who meet all admissions criteria may be accepted to Shenandoah University. Accepted applicants will receive a standard acceptance or a provisional acceptance as students to Shenandoah, whether entering as freshmen or transfer students, and will be classified as 1) degree or non-degree seeking students, and 2) full-time or part-time students.

Standard Acceptance
A standard acceptance is issued to an applicant who has met all admissions criteria and has submitted all required documentation for admission. Accepted students are admitted in one of the following categories:

1. Admission in good standing
2. Admission in conditional standing

Admission in Good Standing
An applicant who presents an acceptable academic record, acceptable test scores, and a satisfactory audition or interview (when applicable) is admitted in good standing. Such students may enroll in a full program of study as outlined in the catalog.
Admission in Conditional Standing
If the scholastic record of an applicant is slightly below the standards for regular admission, but personal recommendations, test scores, audition or interview (when applicable) seem to indicate the probability of success at the college level, a student may be admitted in conditional standing. Students admitted in conditional standing will be required to enroll in a one-semester credit hour study skills class the first semester of enrollment. The student’s academic achievement will be governed by the university’s policy on academic standing. See “Academic Standing” in the Academic Policies section of the catalog.

Provisional Acceptance
A transfer applicant who is admissible, but continues to have coursework in progress at another institution, may be admitted on a provisional basis. As soon as the coursework is completed, the student must submit the final, official transcript. Any provisionally accepted student who fails to submit the official documentation or to complete the stipulated provisions will not be permitted to register for courses. Provisionally admitted students who are registered for classes and fail to submit final documentation will be withdrawn from classes at the end of the drop/add period.

Notification of Admission Decision
Applicants are usually notified by letter approximately three weeks after their application is complete. Admissions decisions may be deferred if an applicant is slightly below the standards for regular admission. The executive director of recruitment and admissions may require additional information and/or an admissions interview before a decision is rendered. Applicants who wish to appeal an admission decision must submit a written letter of appeal to the executive director of recruitment and admissions.

Admitted students must submit an advance tuition deposit of $300. Dates by which the deposit must be paid are stipulated in the letter of acceptance, and vary depending on the time of year the offer of acceptance is granted. Advance tuition deposits are refundable until May 1. Refund requests must be made in writing to the executive director of recruitment and admissions.

The applicant’s notification of admission is tentative and conditioned (when applicable) by the applicant’s subsequent graduation from high school and/or satisfactory completion of the current college semester. Applicants must request their official high school and/or college transcripts to the Office of Admissions. Credentials submitted by the applicant are not considered official. These records should include confirmation of graduation from high school and/or evidence of good standing at the termination of the college semester.
ACADEMIC POLICIES

Matriculation
The Office of the Registrar directs and coordinates matriculation of all students, but the courses selected by the student are conditioned by academic programs and regulations.

Criminal Background Check Policy
Students who will have experiential learning components required as part of their degree programs must authorize, submit to and pay for a criminal background check prior to entering the program, and in some circumstances, on an annual schedule after admission. Details are available from each school/division dean/director.

Email Policy
Email is considered an official method of communication at Shenandoah University. Students are issued an SU email account upon admission to the university. Students are responsible for reading and responding to their email on a frequent and consistent basis to stay current with university-related communications. Student communications via email may include, but are not limited to, the following: registration/course changes, student account information, appeal results, university emergencies, university deadlines, etc. All communications from students to SU staff and faculty should be through the student’s issued SU email account.

Academic Advising
Academic advising is required for all degree-seeking students before registration each term. Academic advisors are provided to assist students in planning their academic programs. Academic advisors are not authorized to change established policy for the university. The student is solely responsible for assuring that his academic program complies with the policies and requirements of Shenandoah University. Any advice that is at variance with established policy must be confirmed in writing by the school or division dean or director and the vice president for academic affairs.

Registration
General dates and times for registration are published in advance by the registrar.

Inaccurate Registration
Shenandoah University reserves the right to make void the registration of any student who fails to comply with registration instructions or fails to pay the prescribed tuition and fees.

Course Prerequisites
Before beginning a course, a student is expected to have fulfilled the appropriate prerequisites. A student who has not met the prerequisites may be denied registration or be un-enrolled.
Change in Registration
Students wishing to drop or add a course may do so either online or by completing a Course Schedule Adjustment Form available from the Office of the Registrar. The effective date for any change in registration is the date completed online or noted on the Course Schedule Adjustment Form received in the Office of the Registrar.

Adding a Course
Courses scheduled for an entire term of 14 or more weeks: Students may add individual courses for the first six calendar days after the beginning of the term.

Courses scheduled for less than 14 weeks: Students may add individual courses up to the point at which 10 percent of the total class meeting time occurred.

Dropping a Course
For courses scheduled for an entire term of 14 or more weeks: Students may drop individual courses without record for the first six calendar days after the beginning of the term.

For courses scheduled for less than 14 weeks: Students may drop individual courses without record up to the point at which 10 percent of the total class meeting time has occurred.

Withdrawal from a Course
A student may drop a course during the drop/add period without any reference on the transcript.

Students may withdraw from individual classes with the permission of the advisor and receive a grade of “W” that will appear on the student’s transcript but will not be computed in the quality point average. The withdrawal period will end 14 calendar days prior the beginning of the final examination period.

After the withdrawal period, the student may not withdraw from a course for any reason related to academic performance. This Withdrawal from a Course policy appears in the Academics Policies section of the university’s catalogs and the Faculty Handbook.

Dates of the withdrawal period will appear in the university’s Academic Calendar and Registration Schedule and Calendar.

This policy should be implemented in conjunction with the progression policies of individual schools and divisions within the university.

Drop and Withdrawal Policy for Summer Terms
Due to the varying length of summer term courses, the following Drop and Withdrawal policies shall apply to summer terms.

Dropping a Summer Term Course
- Courses meeting less than one and up to two weeks: Any drop must be prior to the first day of class.
- Courses meeting three to four weeks: First day of class and the following business day.
• Courses meeting five to six weeks: First day of class and the following two business days.

• Courses meeting seven to eight weeks: First day of class and the following three business days.

• Courses meeting nine or more weeks: First day of class and the following four business days.

Withdrawal from a Summer Term Course

A summer course withdrawal is based on the length of the course. For courses running less than two weeks, the withdrawal period is the first day of class and the following business day.

For courses running longer than two weeks, a student is able to withdraw from a summer course prior to 60 percent of course completion. A student is entitled to a full refund on a course when it is dropped prior to the published drop date for the specific course.

After the drop date, a student is entitled to a prorated refund based on the course dates only if he/she withdraws from all of his/her courses for the same summer term and it is within the first 60 percent of the term. However, if a student is registered for two or more courses and withdraws from only one course, no proration of tuition occurs.

Repeating Courses

A student may repeat a course a maximum of two times. A student who does not satisfactorily complete a required course after three attempts may be subject to academic dismissal. Students are advised to check the policies applicable to each specific program. Individual programs can further limit the number of attempts a student may make. Students receiving financial aid may also be subject to limitations on financial aid coverage of repeated courses and should consult the Financial Aid office for further information. Not all courses may be repeated.

All course grades will be recorded on the student’s permanent record. The credits and quality points resulting from the student’s most recent attempt will be used to compute the student’s cumulative grade point average.

Students may not repeat a course after the applicable degree has been awarded.

Auditing a Course

Students may enroll in courses as auditors on a space available basis during the time period beginning the week prior to the start of term through the sixth calendar day of a semester (last day of add/drop period). A change in status cannot be made after the sixth calendar day of a semester.

Students may not enroll in classes at audit fee levels when the class is offered on a special fee basis.

The audited course will not be used in determining the student’s full-time or part-time enrollment status for the semester.

Auditing students may attend class; engage in discussion at a reasonable level; participate in field trips, concerts, etc.; submit work for evaluation and take examinations. Auditing students must meet course prerequisites. Auditing students do not receive background instruction in prerequisite areas, outside coaching or project advising.
Students may not enroll as auditors in applied music or any other form of independent or individual instruction.

Independent Study

Independent study involves student pursuit of a specialized topic under the guidance of a faculty member. The content of the study is determined by the student and approved by the faculty member. Registration for independent study occurs on a special form available at the Registrar’s Office, and credits are included in the normal student load.

Independent study may be used as elective credit, but does not substitute for specific course requirements. Independent study is variously titled as individual directed research, seminar, workshop, research, directed study, comprehensive seminar and/or independent readings.

Private Instruction in Classes

When required by special conditions, a student may register for a specific class required in the curriculum through private instruction. The content of the instruction is the same as the content when offered as a class. Registration for private instruction in a class occurs on a form available in the Registrar’s Office. An additional fee is required.

Withdrawal from the University

Students who withdraw from Shenandoah University must complete a Withdrawal/Leave of Absence Form in the Office of Enrollment Management and Student Success. Students must settle unpaid accounts in the Business Office, return materials and pay fines to the library, and, if a residential student, leave the residence hall room in acceptable condition and return the residence hall room key to the Student Life Office.

Students in good social and academic standing who withdraw from the university for no more than two consecutive semesters are not required to reapply through Admissions, but may register for courses following normal procedures after first contacting the Registrar’s Office to have their program reactivated. Students are considered “in attendance” the semester of withdrawal provided they actually did attend classes beyond the add/drop period of that semester before withdrawing.

Students who withdraw from the university and do not attend class at Shenandoah for three consecutive semesters and wish to return must apply for readmission.

Course Numbering System

Course descriptions are arranged alphabetically by subject prefix description. Courses are identified by a course prefix up to four letters and a course number that indicates suggested level and/or type of course.

Courses are numbered as follows:

- 000-099 Non-credit review, preparatory or remedial classes
- 100-299 Undergraduate, lower division
- 300-499 Undergraduate, upper division
- 500-899 Graduate, Doctoral and First Professional Semester Credit Hours

A credit hour is the credit earned by work for the equivalent of one hour (50 minutes) in a lecture class per week for a semester. A class for a three-hour lecture course at Shenandoah typically meets for three clock hours per week.

Students who transfer from an institution that is on the quarter system should note that one quarter hour is equal to two-thirds of a semester hour. For example, a student transferring 36 quarter hours of work to Shenandoah would receive 2/3 x 36 or 24 semester hours of credit.

Academic Terms

Shenandoah University offers courses and programs of various lengths throughout the year. These include fall and spring semesters, summer terms, trimester and short-term programs. In order that courses are identified clearly on official records, the academic calendar is divided into three terms of equal length. Specific dates are published in the academic calendar.

A course or program is identified with one of these terms depending on the start date of the course. Any course or program that begins on or after the first date of each term and up through and including the last date of that term is said to belong to that term. The end date is not considered in designating the term.

All credits are expressed as semester hours, regardless of length of term or dates of beginning and ending of a course or program.

Academic Student Load

A full-time undergraduate student is one who carries a minimum of 12 credit hours per semester. The maximum load is 18 credit hours per semester, except for Conservatory students whose maximum load is 18.5 credit hours per semester. A part-time undergraduate student is one who carries less than 12 credit hours per semester. Approval to carry a course load beyond the maximum will be reviewed by the dean/director of the student's school/division and granted only for compelling reasons.

Alternative Means of Earning Credit

Transfer Credit

Shenandoah University may award transfer credit for successfully completing coursework with a grade of “C-” or better. This includes:

1. Credits from an institution of higher education that has been fully accredited by one of the six regional accrediting agencies, such as the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, or at an institution that is a “Recognized Candidate for Accreditation.”

2. Credits for courses taken at foreign tertiary-level institutions, which are chartered and authorized by their respective national governments and that are recognized by the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers. The amount of credit granted will correspond to that given for comparable Shenandoah University courses. Official documentation of course evaluation of international transcripts must be submitted through a current member of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES). See http://www.naces.org/members.htm
3. Credit for non-collegiate sponsored instruction, such as the armed services, business and industry, health care, or government agencies, recognized by the American Council on Education (ACE) or the National Program on Non-Collegiate Sponsored Instruction. Those submitting armed services instruction are encouraged to review ACE’s “A Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Forces.” Official documentation for such credit must be submitted to the Office of Admissions, which will make a determination, in consultation with the appropriate dean or director, on the credit to be awarded.

4. Credits for secondary school advanced standing and credit by examination. Such options include Advanced Placement (AP), International Baccalaureate (IB), Cambridge International Examination (CIE) and College Level Examination Project (CLEP). Please see below for test score requirements and Shenandoah equivalencies. Official documentation for such credit must be submitted to the Office of Admissions.

5. Upon appeal to the Office of Academic Affairs, credits earned at non-accredited institutions or by any means not described above will be considered on the basis of the content of the course and the credentials of the instructor for the course. The appeal must include a copy of the course description, course syllabus and documentation related to the instructor’s academic credentials for each course to be evaluated. In considering such courses for transfer, the official designated by the chief academic officer will consult with the appropriate dean or director.

Transfer evaluation is completed by the Office of Academic Affairs upon receipt of official documentation as specified above. The following procedures guide transfer credit consideration:

1. Shenandoah University requires that a student complete at least 30 credits in residence and at least 30 credits at the 300-level or above. Accordingly, no more than 90 credits total will be accepted for transfer.

2. Courses for which there is a direct Shenandoah University equivalency and/or which apply to general education, the student’s major and/or minor program or general electives will be considered for transfer.

3. Credits from institutions on the quarter-hour system will be converted to semester hours using the formula of one quarter hour equals two-thirds of a semester hour.

4. Courses completed more than ten years ago are subject to case-by-case review which may limit their applicability toward a degree program.

5. Shenandoah University awards credit for the courses transferred, but grades do not transfer nor have any effect on the student’s cumulative grade point average (GPA) at this institution.

Those students who wish to transfer credits to Shenandoah University after matriculation are encouraged to complete the “Permission to Study Elsewhere” form to insure that the completed course will transfer. The above guidelines for initial evaluation apply.
Advanced Standing

Shenandoah University accepts several alternative options that provide for credit toward a degree. Such credits are also treated as transfer work. No grades are awarded for advanced standing credit.

Advanced Placement (AP)

Shenandoah University participates in the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB). Students must submit official copies of the test results to the Office of Admissions in order to earn the credits and course equivalencies listed below.

Advanced Placement

Credit by Examination

Students may also earn credit through a variety of examinations. A student may not attempt credit by examination for a course in which he/she previously received college-level credit, received a failing grade, or for a basic course in an area in which college-level credit has been earned for a more advanced course.

College Level Examination Program (CLEP)

Shenandoah University accepts the full range of CLEP tests, which measure the mastery of college-level introductory course content in a wide range of disciplines. CLEP tests are administered on campus. Students should contact the Transfer Evaluation Office prior to Taking a CLEP to verify how the CLEP will transfer into Shenandoah University. Students must submit official copies of the test results to the Office of the Registrar in order to earn the credits and course equivalencies listed below.

Shenandoah University does not award grades for CLEP.

Students meeting the credit-granting score standard will earn the credits and course exemptions listed below.

Challenge Examinations

Challenge Examinations, which allow a student to earn credit for a course by passing a comprehensive examination on the content of the course, are available for some courses, subject to the approval of the faculty member responsible for the course, the dean/director of the academic unit in which the course is taught, and the vice president for academic affairs. Challenge exams are not given if a comparable CLEP or other approved standardized test is available for the course.

Challenge Examinations must be completed before the end of the drop/add period for fall or spring semester. The student must be registered for the course in which the Challenge Examination is being taken, and the course is counted in the student’s workload for purposes of assessing tuition and fees. Grades are awarded in courses completed by Challenge Examination.

Students interested in Challenge Examinations should obtain a Request for Challenge Examination form in the Registrar’s Office.

Additional Examinations

Each academic unit may determine, subject to the approval of the vice president for academic affairs, which, if any, other examinations are accepted. Each unit also determines the minimum passing score for such examinations and the credit, if any, to be awarded.

Non-Collegiate-Sponsored Instruction

Students may be awarded credit for satisfactory completion of coursework in the armed services, business and industry, or government agencies as recognized by the American Council on Education or the National Program on Non-Collegiate Sponsored Instruction.

Catalog of Record

Students are subject to the curricular and graduation requirements contained in the academic catalog in effect upon their enrollment at Shenandoah University. If a student chooses to add a specialization, minor, or certificate after they are enrolled, the student’s original academic catalog year will remain unchanged, but the specialization, minor, or certificate requirements will be those specified in the academic catalog in effect at the time of the change.

If a Conservatory student chooses to change a specialization (applied instrument) after they are enrolled, the student will be placed on the next available academic catalog. For any Conservatory student choosing to complete a change of curriculum or add a minor, certificate or second degree, the approved changes will become effective at the beginning of the first academic term after the form is received by the Office of the Registrar. The student will be placed on the next available academic catalog.
Degree candidates who have been continuously enrolled (allowing absences no longer than 12 consecutive months) may choose to graduate under the terms of any catalog in effect at or after their admission. Any change in a student’s catalog of record requires approval of the student’s academic dean or director. Students who leave and re-enter the university after an absence of more than 12 consecutive months will be subject to the catalog in effect at the time of their re-admission. Students may not elect to graduate under a catalog in effect prior to their entrance or re-admission.

Requirements for Degrees

Candidates for degrees at Shenandoah University must complete all of the following in order to graduate:

1. The minimum number of credit hours required for a baccalaureate degree is 120.
   a. Candidates for baccalaureate degrees must earn a minimum of 30 credit hours of the 120 credit hour requirement at Shenandoah University.
   b. Twenty-four of the last 30 credit hours required in a baccalaureate degree program must be earned at Shenandoah University. Credits earned at institutions with specific program articulation agreements with Shenandoah University will be considered as Shenandoah University credits for this requirement.

2. Within the minimum 120 credit hour requirement for the baccalaureate:
   a. The university-wide general education curriculum
      The university-mandated general education domain requirements will be considered to have been fulfilled for a transfer student who holds an Associate of Arts, Associate of Sciences, Associate of Arts and Sciences, and/or an Associate of Arts and Teaching degree. The core requirements of the individual academic unit will be considered on a case-by-case basis, as will all other associate degree-holding students.
   b. Any academic unit core curriculum requirements.
   c. All courses required for a major/degree program and any additional elective program of study such as minor or concentration.
   d. At least 30 credit hours at or above the 300-level.

3. The certificate residency minimum requirement is one half of the credits of the certificate program or 30 credit hours, whichever is less. Schools may raise these requirements. Students should refer to the individual school or division sections of the academic catalog for additional information.

4. Candidates for certificates and baccalaureate degrees must fulfill the specific requirements of their curricula with a cumulative grade point average of 2.000. Some programs require a higher grade point average in the major. Consult the descriptions of individual majors/degree programs to determine other requirements.

5. Complete all necessary assessment measures and surveys as deemed appropriate by the university or school.

6. To be eligible for graduation, students must submit an application to graduate by the publicized deadline.
A student may complete the requirements for the initial degree under the provisions of any catalog between the year in which they matriculate into the university and the year in which they graduate from the university.

Consult degree requirements in each school for further restrictions.

General Education Curriculum
Amy Sarch, Director of General Education
Smith Library, Room 322, (540) 542-6534, asarch@su.edu

The general education program is required of all students entering Shenandoah University as a first-year/freshman. This requirement is in addition to the college/school requirements and the major/program of study requirements. Transfer students should consult with their advisor and/or the director of general education concerning their general education requirements.

Students should direct all questions regarding general education to their college/school/program dean or director, and/or the director of general education at asarch@su.edu.

Statement of Purpose
The purpose of general education at Shenandoah University is to provide students with the knowledge, skills and opportunities to be active, ethical and productive citizens in a changing and diverse world.

Quick Reference Guide for General Education
• Students must complete at least three credits in each of the seven domains.
• A maximum of six credits per domain may count toward a student’s general education requirements with the exception of the effective communication domain, in which students may take a maximum of nine credits, and the nature of science domain, in which students may take a maximum of eight credits.
• Students must complete ENG 101 or its equivalent and an Oral Communication class (these courses will fulfill the Domain 1 requirement).
• First-time, first-year students must complete the FYS 101 course (this will fulfill the Domain 7 requirement). Transfer students are exempt from FYS 101; however, transfer students must complete the general education requirements with a three-credit course from Domain 7.
• Students must complete a minimum of thirty general education credits.
• It is recommended that students complete their written communication and quantitative literacy general education requirements during their first two years.

Program Goals
Shenandoah University’s general education program targets eight primary areas that the faculty and students have identified as essential to productive citizenry: 1) critical thinking; 2) effective communication; 3) artistic expression; 4) quantitative literacy; 5) the nature of science; 6) moral reasoning; 7) the individual in society; and 8) the individual in the world. The general education requirements are designed to enhance the skills of students within all of these areas.

Critical Thinking
Definition: Critical thinking is the process of analyzing a problem in an impartial, rational, and methodological manner. Necessary skills in this process include the ability to identify the salient arguments, accurately interpret available evidence and justify conclusions in an objective manner.

Objectives: Students who complete the general education program shall demonstrate the ability to:

1. Accurately interpret evidence, statements, graphics, questions, expression, etc.;
2. Identify salient arguments (reasons and claims) pro and con;
3. Thoughtfully analyze and evaluate alternative points of view;
4. Justify key results and procedures, explain assumptions and reasons; and
5. Objectively follow where evidence and reason lead.

Effective Communication
Definition: In order to communicate effectively, individuals must understand the operations of language in the context of social, cultural, and discipline-specific norms. Effective communication requires fluency in expressing and articulating ideas, reading and listening actively, and using and understanding multiple modes of language delivery, including technology. Students must demonstrate their ability to communicate effectively in both written and oral form.

Written Communication Objectives: Students who complete the general education program shall demonstrate the ability to:

1. Adapt written presentations through analysis to fit an audience;
2. Use evidence ethically and appropriately to inform, investigate or persuade;
3. Use the composing process (brainstorming, drafting, revising and editing) in developing texts/presentations;
4. Distill a primary purpose into a single central idea;
5. Develop major points in a reasonable, organized, and convincing manner based on a central idea; and
6. Present ideas using standard conventions of grammar, usage and mechanics.

Oral Communication Objectives: Students who complete the general education program shall demonstrate the ability to:

1. Understand how to construct an oral presentation for a specific audience or situation according to appropriate conventions of a discipline or profession;
2. Present their ideas in a clearly organized and well-developed manner; using effective verbal delivery skills related to the context;

3. Identify the appropriate use of information and sources in the construct and delivery of their presentation; and

4. Demonstrate the effective use of instructor/audience feedback in the development and delivery of their presentations.

Artistic Expression

Definition: For students to fully understand their world, they need to appreciate the human capacity for artistic expression through performance or study. Art stretches boundaries and the study of art reminds students of their own capacities to create and express themselves beyond conventional expectations. Art is humankind’s symbolic search for meaning and purpose, and it is expressed through media such as literature, music, dance, theater; the visual arts and other forms of artistic expression. The study of art is at the liberating center of the student’s individual development and expression; the study of art is not an ornament of the general education program.

Objectives: Students who complete the general education program shall demonstrate the ability to:

1. Understand a single medium of art which will function to introduce students to the arts as a whole;
2. Understand the historic and social circumstances that effect art;
3. Understand the traditions of artistic form and genre;
4. Articulate clearly the terminology of the medium they study;
5. Recognize major themes; and
6. Be able to analyze and criticize a specific artistic medium.

Quantitative Literacy

Definition: Mathematical literacy is an individual’s capacity to identify and understand the role that mathematics plays in the world, to make well-founded mathematical judgments and to engage in mathematics in ways that meet the needs of that individual’s current and future life as a constructive, concerned and reflective citizen (PISA, 2000).

Objectives: Students who complete the general education program shall demonstrate the ability to:

1. Apply mathematical methods to solve problems;
2. Analyze information with an appropriate mathematical model and interpret the results; and
3. Organize mathematical information using multiple representations and understand the applicability of each.
The Nature of Science

Definition: The goal of science is to seek an understanding of natural phenomena by the rational acquisition, interpretation, and application of information both quantitative and qualitative. As scientifically literate citizens, students must be able to integrate and apply the concepts and the processes of science. In order to achieve this goal, students must acquire a foundation of knowledge in an area of science.

Learning Objectives

1. Students will be able to describe how scientific knowledge is acquired through the active interplay between conceptual knowledge and scientific investigation processes. They will also demonstrate an understanding of the core concepts of a discipline within the natural sciences (e.g. biology, chemistry, environmental science, earth science or physics).

2. Students will integrate their scientific knowledge and critical thinking skills in order to pose scientific questions, make and record observations, interpret data and form valid conclusions.

3. Students will integrate their scientific knowledge and critical thinking skills in order to apply them to novel scientific questions and data sets, and/or to evaluate claims made in scientific articles from the popular press.

Moral Reasoning

Definition: Moral reasoning involves an ability to recognize the moral implications of various situations, policies and decisions, and an appreciation of and respect for the variety of perspectives operative in a multi-cultural and global context. To act morally and ethically, one must be able to discern a course of action that is consistent with one's core values in relation to one's socio-cultural environment (as these are shaped by religious and philosophical commitments). Responsible citizenship involves providing publically accessible reasons for one's course of action consistent with one's core values while respecting moral pluralism.

Objectives: Students who complete the general education program shall demonstrate the ability to:

1. Identify the moral relevance of specific behaviors, policies and/or issues;

2. Identify the way foundational moral values, grounded in philosophical or religious worldviews, shape perception and discernment;

3. Articulate reasons for a course of action consistent with one's personal moral values; and

4. Analyze and explain a moral perspective different from one's own and provide reasoned responses to it.

The Individual in Society

Definition: The study of the individual in society investigates the individual and societal aspects of the human experience. Courses that fulfill this objective will provide students with an appreciation for the interrelationship of the person and the social environment, along with providing the opportunity to explore historical and/or theoretical principles related to the foundation and development of human and/or societal behavior.
Objectives: Students who complete the general education program shall demonstrate the ability to:

1. Identify the biological, physiological, historical and/or social underpinnings of human behavior;
2. Understand how individuals and/or society develops physically, cognitively, socially, historically and/or politically;
3. Articulate and apply appropriate theoretical/historical frameworks for understanding the human experience; and
4. Assess how social situations affect human/societal behavior.

The Individual in the World
Definition: The study of the individual in the world investigates peoples, cultures and/or governments different from the students own in an attempt to foster an appreciation of cultural diversity. Such a global perspective is a cornerstone of productive citizenry in the 21st century. As a result, courses that fulfill this requirement will provide students with multiple perspectives, global awareness, and personal engagement.

Objectives: Students who complete the general education program shall demonstrate the ability to:

1. Describe a cultural viewpoint different from their own and discuss the advantages of a different cultural viewpoint;
2. Provide an example of interdependence and discuss a global issue from an interactive and interdependent perspective; and
3. Articulate the importance of developing a global perspective and identify resource options available for use in developing such a perspective.

Domains of Knowledge
Seven domains of learning form the foundation of the general education curriculum at Shenandoah University. Each domain fosters at least one element of the program’s primary objectives. The general education program at Shenandoah University exposes students to multiple methods of thinking, questioning and knowing. Through an exploration of the domains of effective communication, artistic expression, quantitative literacy, the nature of science, moral reasoning, the individual in society, and the individual in the world, students develop an awareness of the world around them and the ability to perform effectively in the communities in which they engage.

The following is an overview of the seven domains. A maximum of six credits per domain may count toward a student’s general education requirements with the exception of the effective communication domain (in which students may take nine credits) and the nature of science domain (in which students may take a maximum of eight credits).
Requirements

Domain | Credits
1) Effective Communication (EC) | 6-9
(Every student must complete ENG 101 or its equivalent and an Oral Communication course)
2) Artistic Expression (AX) | 3-6
3) Quantitative Literacy (QL) | 3-6
4) The Nature of Science (SL) | 3-8
5) Moral Reasoning (MR) | 3-6
6) The Individual in Society (IS) | 3-6
7) The Individual in the World (IW) | 3-6
(Every first-time, first-year student must complete FYS 101)

Dual Enrollment

Students who have not completed a baccalaureate degree but are within 15 credits of completion, and who have earned a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0, may enroll in graduate classes for which all prerequisites have been met.

Approval may be granted by the dean/director of the school/division in which the instruction is offered when the student files a written plan that projects completion of the baccalaureate degree within 12 months and when the student has applied for admission to a specific graduate program at Shenandoah University. All graduate credits undertaken must apply to the anticipated curriculum. Credits may be applied to either the undergraduate or graduate curriculum, but not to both.

The above policy does not apply to Shenandoah University-approved articulated seamless undergraduate to graduate degree programs.

Program Time Limit

A full-time student should complete all degree requirements within six years of initial registration at Shenandoah. Stand-alone undergraduate certificate requirements (not taken with an undergraduate program) should be completed within four years of initial registration at Shenandoah. Time extensions may be granted when approved by the vice president for academic affairs.

Second Degree Policy

A student who already holds a bachelor’s degree from Shenandoah University may complete an additional degree. The student seeking the additional degree must request re-admission to the university. There is no minimum credit hour requirement for an additional degree, but all curriculum requirements in effect at the time of re-admission must be completed. Upon completion of the additional degree, the student will receive an additional diploma and will be entitled to participate in commencement ceremonies.

A transfer student (whose bachelor’s or first professional degree was not from Shenandoah University) must complete Shenandoah University’s Requirements for Degrees as well as all major requirements. University-mandated general education requirements will be considered to have been fulfilled, but core requirements of individual academic units will be considered on a case-by-case basis. Requirements mandated by external accrediting agencies must be met.
Program Continuity
Shenandoah University is committed to continuity and stability in its degree and program offerings. However, it may be necessary, from time to time, to modify or terminate program requirements, content or sequence of course offerings for various reasons. These include, but are not limited to, educational (including accreditation and certification) or financial reasons that the institution deems necessary or other reasons or circumstances beyond the control of Shenandoah University.

Change in Curriculum
Students may change curriculum with the approval of the former and present academic advisors and school/division deans/directors. Students must complete a Curriculum Change Form, which is available from the Office of the Registrar.

Approved curriculum changes will become effective at the beginning of the first academic term after the form is received by the Office of the Registrar.

Students who change curriculum will have all previously-earned college-level credit re-evaluated for applicability to the new curriculum.

Not more than 30 undergraduate semester credit hours earned as a visiting student may be applied toward an undergraduate certificate or degree program.

Classification of Students
Students are classified academically at the end of each semester. Courses from other institutions that meet the requirements for transfer are included in determining a student’s classification. All students enrolled in certificate programs are classified as freshmen.

Students enrolled in baccalaureate degree programs are classified as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Classification</th>
<th>Credit Hours Earned</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Freshman</td>
<td>0.00 - 23.99</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Junior</td>
<td>54.00 - 83.99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Senior</td>
<td>84.00 or more</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Visiting students (those students not formally admitted into a certificate or degree program) are not classified.
Grading Scale and Quality Point System

The chart below shows the standard SU grading system. Individual schools, divisions or professors may elect not to give “+” or “-” grades, but must clearly state their policy in their student materials including course syllabus. Students should refer to the individual school or division sections of the academic catalog for additional information.

Students must officially withdraw from a class or from school to receive a grade of “W.”

Incomplete Grades

If, because of illness, emergency or reasonable cause, a student cannot complete the required work for a course, he/she may request the assignment of an “I” (incomplete) for the course. If the instructor in the course and the student’s school dean approve the request, then the student and the instructor shall enter into a written contract for the completion of the coursework. This contract is available in the Registrar’s Office. The contract shall stipulate what work is required for completion of the course, the date that the work must be completed (in no case later than the drop/add period of the next academic semester after the incomplete is assigned), and the grade to be given if the coursework is not completed. If no grade has been submitted by the drop/add date of the next academic semester, the registrar will change the grade from “I” to “F.”

Grade Changes

The instructor of a course and/or the vice president of academic affairs (VPAA) are the only persons authorized to change a grade and may do so only with approval of the school dean/director. Grade change forms are available from the school dean’s/director’s office or the Registrar’s Office. Requests for recalculation of grades must be submitted to the school dean no later than the last day of classes in the semester following completion of the course. In no case may a grade be changed after one calendar year without the permission of the VPAA.
Calculation of Grade Point Average

Each grade is assigned a numerical grade value (see previous page). This numerical equivalent is used to determine how many “quality points” a student receives for each course. To calculate quality points earned for each course, multiply the number of credit hours for the course times the grade value of the letter grade received. The grade point average (GPA) is then determined by dividing the total number of quality points earned by the total number of attempted credits graded. GPAs are reported to the third decimal point and are not rounded up or down.

Posting of Grades, Mid-Semester Grades and Distribution of Grades

Midterm and final course grades will be posted within three business days after the final exam or final class meeting.

Mid-term and final semester grades and grade point averages are provided to students, faculty advisors and school deans/directors via the online portal. Hard copies of grade reports can be made available in certain circumstances by special request to the Registrar’s Office.

Final Examinations

Final examinations shall be scheduled by the registrar and may not be altered in time or place without permission of the vice president for academic affairs. Any requests for exceptions must go first to the dean or director who will make a recommendation to the vice president for academic affairs.

The final examination period is part of the instructional time of the semester. If no final examination is administered, the time will be used for other educational activities for the members of the class.

Rescheduling Coursework in the Event of a Campus Closure

In the event of a campus closure, causing faculty to miss contact hours, faculty have several options:

1. Faculty may hold class during the scheduled time for make-up that appears with the closure notice or within another mutually defined time through consultation with the deans/directors. Faculty should follow their standard attendance policy.

2. Faculty may reorganize their syllabus to absorb content and classroom work through regularly scheduled classes.

3. Faculty may use digital means to hold class, either synchronously through teleconferencing, chatting or discussion boards; or asynchronously through Blackboard course management system, web pages or some other means. Faculty should follow their standard attendance policy and make allowances to complete work at a later date if students do not have access to the Internet.

4. Faculty may offer an assignment in replacement of the contact hours. These assignments could include quizzes, papers, podcasts, research assignments, etc.
Rescheduling Exams in the Event of a Campus Closure During Final's Week

In the event of a campus closure during the week of finals, faculty have several options:

1. Faculty may offer students the option to take the final either on the date for make-up that appears in the closure notice or within another mutually defined time through consultation with the dean/director to be no later than the add/drop period of the following semester. The university will follow the schedule as outlined for the day it closed. Faculty will have to coordinate with their department to find exam locations for returning students who wish to take the exam at the beginning of term.

2. Faculty may offer the exam as a take-home exam or use distance-learning means to have the students submit their final work (i.e. online exams through Blackboard, podcasts of performance or presentations, web page creations, power point presentations, etc.).

3. Faculty may change the final exam assignment to something that can be done through digital means, such as a paper or a podcast.

4. Faculty may offer their classes the option of reassigning different weights to already completed coursework (e.g. quizzes, exams, papers, portfolios, projects, presentations, etc.), thereby forgoing the final. However, if a student wants to take a final exam, faculty must grant that request and offer the student the option to do so within the time specified in #1.

Academic Standing

The minimum graduation requirements for students enrolled in a baccalaureate degree program at Shenandoah University are the completion of 120 credit hours with a minimum grade point average of 2.0 on a 4.0 scale. Assuming that a student wishes to complete a degree in the standard four years, they would need to complete 15 credit hours per semester with a 2.0 cumulative grade point average. As some programs require a student to complete more than 120 credit hours, and some students choose to pursue their education on a less than a full-time basis, students should plan accordingly for this extended period of time.

Students who have difficulties in the initial hours of enrollment at Shenandoah frequently make sufficient improvement in subsequent coursework to overcome their deficit in grades or credit hours or both. For this reason, Shenandoah has set a rising scale of minimum requirements for the successive completed credit hours, shown in the chart below, for determining the conditions under which a student may continue his/her education.

Turning Point Program: any student failing to reach at least 2.0 GPA for a term or as a cumulative GPA must enroll in the Turning Point Program. The program is offered through the Academic Enrichment Center.
Academic Probation
Students are placed on academic probation when their GPA does not meet the minimum standards. Students on academic probation meet with the Academic Review Board and are placed into the Turning Point Program. The program is offered through the Academic Enrichment Center and has mandatory meetings with tutors and advisors and may require the student to take a reduced load.

Students remaining on probation for two consecutive terms may be subject to academic suspension.

Academic Suspension and Dismissal
1. After two semesters on probation, students may be academically suspended from the university.
2. Students suspended from the university shall remain out of school for a period of at least one academic semester and no longer than one year. Students not attending for a period of more than one calendar year (a calendar year starts on the day after the student’s last term of registration) will need to re-apply for admission.
3. After that semester, a student can petition for reinstatement through the dean or director of the school or division and vice president for academic affairs.
4. If reinstated, the student must achieve at least a 2.0 GPA in the returning semester and must be a full-time student. Failure to meet this condition shall result in academic dismissal.

Condition of Dismissal
Only under justifiable conditions shall a petition for reinstatement be considered, and then only after a period of one calendar year from the date of dismissal.

Social Suspension or Dismissal
Students suspended or dismissed for social reasons will receive a grade of “W.”

Academic Honors
Dean’s List
Students enrolled full-time in baccalaureate degree programs who have attained a term grade point average of 3.25 with no grade below “C-” will be placed on the Dean’s List of honor students. The Dean’s List is calculated for fall and spring semesters.

Graduation Honors
All candidates for baccalaureate degrees are eligible for honors based on the cumulative grade point average for any credits earned after initial registration at Shenandoah University. The grade point averages required for undergraduate academic honors are:

- 3.900 — Summa Cum Laude, with highest praise
- 3.700 — Magna Cum Laude, with great praise
- 3.500 — Cum Laude, with praise
Gold cords are worn by students graduating with honors. Honors for the graduation ceremony are calculated at the end of the fall semester prior to graduation and are listed in the program. Final honors are calculated with the spring semester grades and appear on the transcript and diploma.

Student Participation in Commencement Ceremony

Recognizing that there are times when certain students are unable to complete all degree requirements in time for commencement, students may participate in the commencement ceremony at any time after their degree requirements have been met or as specified below. In fulfillment of this policy, the following guidelines apply:

1. Shenandoah University’s commencement ceremony is scheduled in May.

2. A student may “walk” in the May ceremony, if he/she has attempted enough credits required for completion of his/her degree program minus six in the semester of commencement. Exceptions may be approved only by the vice president for academic affairs.

3. Only students who have fulfilled all degree requirements will be eligible for class honors. Honors for the commencement program in May are calculated at the end of the fall semester prior to graduation. For those who complete requirements after the May ceremony, honors are calculated at the end of their final term and will appear on their transcript and diploma. Their honors will also be eligible for inclusion in the commencement program the following May.

4. For each degree earned, students may participate in one commencement ceremony. Accordingly, their name may be printed one time, for each degree earned, in the commencement program.

Degree Conferrals and Diplomas

The degree conferral date is the last day of each term. However, verification of conferral eligibility may be completed within four weeks after the last day of the term. A student’s transcript will not show the degree conferral until this verification has been completed. If a student’s eligibility for conferral cannot be determined within that four-week period, the student will be required to reapply for graduation in the subsequent term.

Diplomas will be mailed to the address provided by the student on his/her graduation application within six to eight weeks after graduation, as long as all academic requirements have been verified and the student has met all necessary obligations and requirements to the university.

Transcripts and Student Records

Shenandoah University accords to students all rights under the law. No one outside the institution shall have access to, nor will the institution disclose any information from, students’ education records without the written consent of students, except to personnel within the institution, persons or organizations providing student financial aid, accrediting agencies carrying out their accreditation function, persons in compliance with a judicial order and persons in an emergency in order to protect the health or safety of other persons. All these exceptions are permitted under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974. School policy explains in detail the procedures to be used by the institution for compliance with the provisions of the Act. Copies of the policy can be found in the Academic Policies section of the university’s catalogs, in the Office of the Registrar and in the Student Life Office.

Official transcripts of a student’s record may be released to a third party only upon receipt of written authorization from the student. Requests for transcripts, certifications, and other similar information will not be honored unless all financial obligations due the university are satisfied. Financial obligations include, but are not limited to, items of tuition and fees, overdue library materials and unpaid library fines, checks returned to the bookstore and musical instruments that have been loaned and not properly returned to the Conservatory.

Non-Discrimination Statement
Shenandoah University values the unique and diverse perspectives of individuals and communities locally and globally and seeks to foster mutual understanding in an inviting community where individuals are welcome and respected. The university does not discriminate on the basis of sex, race, color, religion, national or ethnic origin, age, physical or mental disability, veteran status or sexual orientation

Student Rights
Shenandoah affirms the right of academic freedom for the university community. Freedom of assembly, freedom of the press and freedom of speech are constitutional rights. Shenandoah reserves the right to specify the time, place and manner of the exercise of these rights on university facilities. Shenandoah insists that every member of the university community abide by the laws of the United States, the Commonwealth of Virginia and established institutional rules and regulations.

Members of the university community should be aware of the inherent responsibility of free speech and the possible consequences when free speech is used as a license to disrupt the normal academic activities of the institution. Demonstrations that disrupt normal activities of the institution will not be tolerated at Shenandoah. Any student who participates in any form of disruptive action is subject to immediate interim suspension and lawful prosecution in the courts. Shenandoah does not at any time tolerate and will not permit uninvited persons to remain on campus for the purpose of inciting students to disruptive activity. Any such person on campus will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

Students must make themselves aware of the philosophy, standards and rules of Shenandoah as contained in the university catalogs. Criticism and suggestions are always welcomed; however, threats, disturbances, force of any kind by a single student, a minority or majority will not be tolerated. The trustees, administration, faculty and student body all have the obligation to protect the rights of students to the peaceful and orderly use of its resources, personnel and facilities.

Shenandoah affirms the basic constitutional rights for all students and faculty. No student will be summarily dismissed without proof and a hearing. Each person subject to a hearing must be informed of the charges prior to that hearing. Witnesses may be called in the student's defense. Witnesses should be identified and reference should be made to the university's rule violated and the possible severity of such charges. The final authority in all hearings rests with the president as delegated to him/her by the Board of Trustees.

Shenandoah affirms the right of every person to privacy in his/her room. A student's room will only be entered for inspections or if there is reason to believe a school regulation has been violated. Emergency inspections may be made anytime by the vice president for student life, the associate vice president/director of residence life and/or the director of residence life, director of public safety or the president.

Shenandoah affirms the right of each student to study or practice without undue restriction or disruption. It is the responsibility of Shenandoah to provide an atmosphere within its residence halls, library and practice areas that is conducive to study.

Shenandoah believes all disruptive action should be controlled from within the Shenandoah community without involvement from outside authorities; however, if such instances should occur where outside enforcement of basic laws is necessary, local law enforcement agencies will be contacted.

Protecting Student’s Privacy Rights

Annual FERPA Disclosure

Annually, Shenandoah University provides information to students concerning their rights under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended (FERPA). This act was designed to protect the privacy of education records and afford students certain rights with respect to their education records.

FERPA Annual Notice to Reflect Possible Federal and State Data Collection and Use

As of January 3, 2012, the U.S. Department of Education’s FERPA regulations expand the circumstances under which your education records and personally identifiable information (PII) contained in such records — including your Social Security Number, grades or other private information — may be accessed without your consent. First, the U.S. Comptroller General, the U.S. Attorney General, the U.S. Secretary of Education or state and local education authorities (“federal and state authorities”) may allow access to your records and PII without your consent to any third party designated by a federal or state authority to evaluate a federal- or state-supported education program. The evaluation may relate to any program that is “principally engaged in the provision of education,” such as early childhood education and job training, as well as any program that is administered by an education agency or institution. Second, federal and state authorities may allow access to your education records and PII without your consent to researchers performing certain types of studies, in certain cases even when we object to or do not request such research. Federal and state authorities must obtain certain use-restriction and data security promises from the entities that they authorize to receive your PII, but the authorities need not maintain direct control over such entities. In addition, in connection with Statewide Longitudinal Data Systems, state authorities may collect, compile, permanently retain and share without your consent PII from your education records, and they may track your participation in education and other programs by linking such PII to other personal information about you that they obtain from other federal or state data sources, including workforce development, unemployment insurance, child welfare, juvenile justice, military service and migrant student records systems.
Definitions

For the purpose of this policy, Shenandoah University has used the following definitions of terms:

Student – any person who attends or has attended Shenandoah University Education records – any record (in handwriting, print, tapes, film or other medium) maintained by Shenandoah University, or an agent of the university, which is directly related to the student.

Education records, as defined by FERPA, include, but are not limited to:

- GPAs, transcripts, and final course grades
- Admissions materials
- Financial aid records
- Disciplinary records
- Attendance records
- Academic counseling records

Exceptions to the definition of education record include:

I. A personal record kept by a staff member if it is kept in the sole possession of the maker of record and is not accessible or revealed to any other person except a temporary substitute for the maker of record.

II. An employment record of an individual, whose employment is not contingent on the fact that he/she is a student, provided the record is used only in relation to the individual’s employment.

III. Records maintained by Shenandoah University if the record is maintained solely for law enforcement purposes, is revealed only to law enforcement agencies of the same jurisdiction, and the Unit does not have access to education records maintained by the university.

IV. Records maintained by the Wellness Center if the records are used only for treatment of a student and made available only to those persons providing the treatment.

V. Alumni records which contain information about a student after he/she is no longer in attendance at the university and which do not relate to the person as a student.

Under FERPA, students have the following rights:

1. The right to inspect and review their education records within 45 days of the day the university receives a request for access.

Procedure to Inspect Education Records

Students may inspect and review their education records upon request to the appropriate custodian. Students should submit to the record custodian, or an appropriate university staff person, a written request which identifies as precisely as possible the record(s) he/she wishes to inspect. The record custodian, or an appropriate university staff person, will make the needed arrangements for access as promptly as possible and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. Access must be given within 45 days or less from receipt of the request. When a record contains information about more than one student, the student may inspect only the records which relate to him/her.

Right of the University to Refuse Access

Shenandoah University reserves the right to refuse to permit a student to inspect the following records:

- The financial statement of the student’s parents;
- Letters and statements of recommendation for which the student has waived his/her right of access, or which were placed in the file before January 1, 1975;
- Records connected with an application to attend Shenandoah University, or a component unit of Shenandoah University, if that application was denied;
- Those records which are excluded from the FERPA definition of education records.

Refusal to Provide Copies

Shenandoah University reserves the right to deny transcripts or copies of records not required to be made available by FERPA in any of the following situations: 1) the student has an unpaid financial obligation to Shenandoah University; or 2) there is an unresolved disciplinary action against the student.

2. The right to request an amendment to any education records the student believes are inaccurate or misleading, and the right to request a hearing if the request to correct an alleged inaccuracy is denied. (This is different from disputing a grade received in a class. Please refer to “Academic Appeals Policy: Grievance of a Grade” further in this section.)

Correction of Education Records

Students have the right to ask to have records corrected that they believe are inaccurate, misleading, or in violation of their privacy rights. Following are the procedures for the correction of records:

I. A student must ask Shenandoah University to amend a record. In so doing, the student should identify the part of the record he/she wants changed and specify why he/she believes it is inaccurate, misleading, or in violation of his/her privacy or other rights.

II. Shenandoah University may comply with the request, or it may decide not to comply. If it decides not to comply, the university will notify the student of the decision and advise him/her of his/her right to a hearing to challenge the information believed to be inaccurate, misleading, or in violation of the student’s rights.

III. Upon request, Shenandoah University will arrange for a hearing and notify the student, reasonably in advance, of the date, place and time of the hearing.

IV. The hearing will be conducted by a hearing officer who is a disinterested party; however, the hearing officer may be an official of the institution. The student shall be afforded a full and fair opportunity to present evidence relevant to the issues raised in the original request to amend the student’s education records. The student may be assisted by one or more individuals.
V. Shenandoah University will prepare a written decision based solely on the evidence presented at the hearing. The decision will include a summary of the evidence presented and the reasons for the decision.

VI. If the university decides that the challenged information is not inaccurate, misleading, or in violation of the student’s right of privacy, it will notify the student that he/she has a right to place in the record a statement commenting on the challenged information and/or a statement setting forth reasons for disagreeing with the decision.

VII. The statement will be maintained as part of the student’s education records as long as the contested portion is maintained. If the university discloses the contested portion of the record, it must also disclose the statement.

VIII. If the university decides that the information is inaccurate, misleading, or in violation of the student’s right of privacy, it will amend the record and notify the student, in writing, that the record has been amended.

3. The right to provide written consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student’s educational records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. FERPA allows schools to disclose records, without written consent, to the following parties or under the following conditions:

- SU school officials who have a legitimate educational interest in the records. A school official is a person employed by the university in an administrative, supervisory, academic, research, or support staff position; or a person employed by or under contract to the university to perform a special task, such as an attorney or auditor. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official is: 1) performing a task that is specified in his/her position description or by a contract agreement; 2) performing a task related to the student’s education; and/or 3) performing a task related to the discipline of a student.

- Officials of another school, upon request, in which a student seeks or intends to enroll;

- To certain officials of the U.S. Department of Education, the Comptroller General, and state and local educational authorities, in connection with certain state or federally supported education programs;

- Specified officials for audit or evaluation purposes;

- Appropriate parties in connection with a student’s request for or receipt of financial aid, as necessary to determine the eligibility, amount or conditions of the financial aid, or to enforce the terms and conditions of the aid;

- Organizations conducting certain studies for or on behalf of the university;

- Accrediting organizations to carry out their functions;

- To comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena;

- Appropriate parties in cases of health and safety emergencies; and

- State and local authorities, within a juvenile justice system, pursuant to specific state law, or if required by a state law requiring disclosure that was adopted before November 19, 1974;
• To an alleged victim of any crime of violence of the results of any institutional disciplinary proceeding against the alleged perpetrator of that crime with respect to that crime.

4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by SU to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202-5920
Phone: 1-800-USA-LEARN (1-800-872-5327)

Types, Locations and Custodians of Education Records
The following is a list of the types of records that the university maintains, their locations, and their custodians (Type/Location/Custodian):

• Admission Records/Admissions Office/Director of Admissions
• Cumulative Academic Records/Registrar’s Office/Registrar
• Health Records/Wellness Center/Wellness Center Director
• Financial Records/Business Office/Vice President for Administration and Finance
• Placement Records/Career Activities Center/Director of Student Activities
• Progress Records/Office of the Dean/Director of each School/Division/Dean or Director
• Disciplinary Records/Student Programs Office/Vice President for Student Life
• Occasional Records/The appropriate official will collect such records, direct the student to their location, or otherwise make them available for inspection and review./The university staff person who maintains such occasional systems records. (Student education records not included in the types above such as minutes of faculty committee meetings, copies of correspondence in offices not listed, etc.)

Shenandoah University is fully committed to protecting the privacy of student’s education records.

Parental Rights Under FERPA
Parental access rights under FERPA can be summarized as follows: At the postsecondary level, parents have no inherent rights to inspect their student’s educational records; the right to inspect is limited solely to the student. When a student reaches the age of 18 or begins attending a school beyond the high-school level, regardless of age, FERPA rights transfer from the parent to student. SU may release student information to parents only if:

• The student provides written consent by completing the Consent to Release Education Records form and submitting it to the Registrar’s Office. This form will be kept as part of their permanent record.
• The student is claimed as a dependent for federal income tax purposes. The parent would need to provide the registrar with a certified copy of their most recent Federal Income Tax Form verifying the student’s dependency status.
• There is a health or safety emergency.

• The student is under 21 and has violated an SU rule related to alcohol or controlled substances.

If parents have their student’s written consent for access, or if the student can be claimed as a dependent (as outlined above), questions about registration, final grades received, GPAs, graduation, and similar issues should be directed to the Office of the Registrar. For security purposes, grades cannot be provided over the telephone, by fax, or sent to a non-SU email address, as these processes cannot guarantee a completely secure transmission of the student’s grades to the intended third parties. Also note that requests to discuss information in the student’s educational record will require certain information to be provided for cross-check verification.

Restrictions or permissions related to the sharing of educational records extend to Shenandoah alumni, as well, so any requests a student makes will remain in effect indefinitely, unless the student submits a change, in writing, to the Registrar’s Office.

The information above is only a brief summary of the detailed federal law. For more information, please visit http://www2.ed.gov/legislation/FedRegister/finrule/2008-4/120908a.pdf.

Directory Information
Under FERPA, Shenandoah may release “directory information” about students without first obtaining student’s consent. Directory information is defined as information contained in an education record of a student that would not generally be considered harmful or an invasion of privacy if disclosed. At Shenandoah, directory information includes the following:

• Student name, address, telephone number and SU email address

• Date and place of birth

• Participation in officially recognized activities and sports; weight and height of members of athletic teams

• Major field of study, school or division, academic level and year in school, full-time/part-time status

• Dates of attendance; degrees and awards received

• Most recent previous school attended

• Photograph or video clip

The university may disclose any of those items listed above without prior written consent, unless notified in writing to the contrary. Students may opt out of sharing directory information by completing the Request to Withhold Directory Information form in the Registrar’s Office. However, students are urged to think carefully about such a request. If a request to withhold directory information is made, school officials will not be able to publish news releases about student achievements, include student information in articles about sports achievements, print student’s information in the commencement program, or verify student’s degree or status to potential employers, insurers or lenders, for example. The university’s withholding of directory information may have unexpected or undesirable ramifications. Please contact the Registrar’s Office for more information.
Please understand that restrictions on directory information also extend to Shenandoah alumni, so any requests a student makes will remain in effect until he/she submits a change, in writing, to the Registrar’s Office. SU assumes no liability for honoring student requests to withhold directory information.

Accommodations of Persons with Disabilities Policy

As part of Shenandoah University’s commitment to upholding the letter and spirit of the laws that ensure equal treatment of people with disabilities, the university recognizes and adheres to the mandates of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. It is the policy of Shenandoah University that no otherwise qualified individual is denied reasonable and appropriate access to or participation in any program or activity of the university because of a disability. Pursuant to this policy, the university’s Disabilities Services Office is a resource for students, faculty and staff. Any individual who believes he/she has a disability covered under disability laws may provide the requisite documentation and request accommodations and resources from Disabilities Services.

Disability Grievance Procedure

Any university student who believes that he/she has been subjected to discrimination on the basis of disability by being denied academic access or accommodations required by law shall have the right to invoke the grievance procedure. This procedure is designed to address disagreements or denials regarding requested services, accommodations, or modifications to university academic practices or requirements.

Step One

In the event that specific complaints arise regarding the university’s compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the director of disability services will, at the request of students, faculty or staff, review the procedures implemented and seek to resolve the matter informally. To the extent that the complaint(s) cannot be resolved informally, the following procedures shall be employed in order to address the grievance formally.

Step Two

1. A student wishing to file a complaint shall submit a written grievance to the director of disabilities services within 30 calendar days of the event(s) triggering the grievance. The written grievance must include:

   a. a clear statement of the university rule, regulation, policy, and/or action of which the student complains;

   b. the date of any action which the student is appealing;

   c. a summary of the action(s) which the student has taken to resolve the matter informally;

   d. documentation which supports the grievance.

   The director will forward this to the appropriate administrator as designated by the president.

2. The appropriate administrator shall meet with the student within five class days of the receipt of the grievance to gather data and attempt resolution.
3. If this meeting does not resolve the grievance, the appropriate administrator shall conduct an informal investigation of the grievance. In cases where the grievance is about the conduct or requirements of a course or an academic program, the appropriate administrator shall consult with the faculty member responsible for the affected course or academic program, and meet with and seek advice from the Advisory Committee on Disability Issues, consisting of at least one faculty representative from each school and one student. One of the faculty participants must be from the school responsible for the course or academic program from which the grievance originated.

4. The appropriate administrator shall furnish a written response to the grievance no later than 15 class days of the meeting with the student. The written response shall be mailed to the student by certified mail, return receipt requested.

Step Three
1. If the student is not satisfied with the written response from the appropriate administrator, he/she may present the grievance in written form to the vice president for academic affairs within 10 class days after the receipt of the response from the appropriate administrator.

2. The vice president for academic affairs or designate shall, within 15 class days after the receipt of the grievance, schedule and conduct a meeting with the student and other persons involved in the grievance.

3. After the investigation is complete, the vice president for academic affairs or designate shall issue a written answer to the complainant within 15 class days from completion of the meeting(s) with the student and other persons.

4. If the grievance involved conduct or requirements of a course or academic program, a copy of the written decision of the vice president for academic affairs or designate shall be provided to the Advisory Committee on Disability Issues, the dean and the department head in the school involved and to the professor of the course.

5. The director of disabilities services shall maintain the files and records relating to the complaints filed.

6. The right of a person to prompt and equitable resolution of a grievance shall not be impaired by the person’s pursuit of other remedies such as filing a complaint with a responsible federal department or agency. Although individuals have the right to pursue appeals through external channels, they are encouraged to use internal mechanisms to resolve disagreements.

Step Four
If the vice president for academic affairs or designate is unable to offer a satisfactory resolution, the student may appeal to the president of the university, whose decision is final.
Student Behavior

Class Attendance

Instructors will provide students with a written statement of the class attendance requirements governing that course and the consequences for violating these requirements. After the written statement has been made available, consequences of class absences may include, but are not limited to, a reduced or failing grade. Students who are absent from classes are held responsible for all materials covered and assignments regardless of the reason for absences. If a school, college or division has its own attendance policy, instructors must follow that policy. When the student is not in compliance with the course attendance policy, it is the instructor’s responsibility to notify the registrar.

Upon recommendation of the instructor to the dean or director of an academic program, a student with excessive absences (defined as five 50-minute, three 75-minute, or two 150-minute classes in succession or 30 percent of all class meetings by mid-term or after) may be administratively withdrawn from a class.

Instructors are encouraged to excuse students officially representing Shenandoah University for events including, but not limited to, participation in a sporting event, concerts and performances. However, it is the student’s responsibility to inform the instructor of the absence in a timely manner and to make arrangements for the information missed in the course. The coach or instructor of the event should also notify the course instructor of the absence, but the responsibility lies with the student to inform the instructor. Every effort should be made by the student to avoid excessive absences that may compromise mastery of the course material and successful completion of the course. The instructor retains the right to deny an absence if it is felt the absence would be counterproductive to mastery of the material and successful completion of the course.

Student Conduct in Class

Classes are conducted in a manner that provides academic freedom of expression for the student, but instructors need not tolerate physical or other disturbances that disrupt teaching sessions. For justifiable cause, the instructor may dismiss a student from class for a definite or indefinite period of time. Such action is reported to the vice president for academic affairs. The student dismissed from class on disciplinary grounds may appeal to the vice president for academic affairs for review of the incident for the purpose of possible readmission to class.

Academic Review Board

The Academic Review Board hears course grade grievances and dismissal appeals. It also monitors academic probation and assigns students to the Turning Point program. The Academic Review Board will be made up of no fewer than five members and may include the vice president for academic affairs (chair), vice president for student life, the dean of the College of Arts & Sciences, the dean of the School of Business, the dean of the School of Pharmacy, the dean of the Conservatory, the dean of the School of Nursing, the chair of Health Professions Council, the director of the Academic Enrichment Center, the registrar, and two faculty members appointed by Faculty Senate.
Shenandoah University Honor Code

I. Introduction
Shenandoah University’s mission statement is to educate and inspire individuals to be thinkers, lifelong learners and ethical, compassionate citizens. To fulfill the university’s mission, it is important to uphold the principles of academic integrity on campus. The concept of honor may be defined in a variety of ways; however, at this university, the code prohibits lying, stealing and cheating. All students enrolled in courses at Shenandoah University must be held to the rigorous standards of academic honesty to ensure the attainment of knowledge necessary to become ethical and compassionate citizens who can make responsible contributions to their community and career. The guidelines for academic integrity are outlined in the following Honor Code.

Undergraduate and graduate students, faculty and staff are responsible for upholding the Honor Code, being aware of the university’s Honor Code procedures, and reporting all violations of the Honor Code in a timely manner. Ignorance is not an acceptable defense for failing to follow the Honor Code.

The University Cabinet shall recommend all non-editorial changes to this Honor Code to the Board of trustees for approval, upon consideration of said changes by each of the Student Government Association, the Faculty Senate and the Academic Cabinet. Proposed changes should be shared with Student Government and Faculty Senate for any comment from those bodies by their representative to the University Cabinet, at the time the University Cabinet considers the changes to the Honor Code. The president may make editorial changes.

II. Overview of Honor Code Procedures
Alleged violations of the Honor Code can be reported by a student or faculty member/course coordinator/instructor; but once an alleged violation is reported, the case should be resolved (a decision is rendered and if necessary, sanctions are imposed) within thirty (30) business days, unless there are extenuating circumstances. The Honor Code process allows for alleged violations related to a specific class to be handled by the Faculty Reporter as defined in Article III, Section 3.01.b. Alternatively, the Faculty Reporter may seek assistance to resolve alleged violations by requesting an Academic Integrity Meeting. Accused Students, who have been found guilty previously of violating the Honor Code, will be required to attend an Honor Court hearing, the highest level of this Honor Code process, for any subsequent charges. Accused Students found guilty of violating the Honor Code may appeal decisions and/or sanction(s), but the last level of appeal is the Honor Court (see Figure 1).

III. Terms and Definitions
1. Participants
   a. Accused Student: The student alleged to have committed a violation of the honor code.
   b. Faculty Reporter: A faculty member, course coordinator, or instructor, who has knowledge of an alleged Honor Code violation, or is making an accusation on behalf of a student reporter.
c. Student Reporter: A student who has knowledge of an alleged Honor Code violation. A student must notify a faculty member, course coordinator, instructor, or Academic Integrity Representative of the alleged violation.

d. Advocate: Another member of the university community, an employee or student, who is not a lawyer or a relative and will act as a resource for the Accused Student, Faculty Reporter or Student Reporter. An advocate may be present with the Accused Student, Faculty Reporter or Student Reporter at any point of time during the Honor Code process. During the Accused Student- Faculty Reporter meeting or the Academic Integrity meeting, the advocate may only consult with the Accused Student, Faculty Reporter or Student Reporter. During the Honor Court hearing, the advocate may assist the Accused Student in providing evidence and statements.

e. Academic Integrity Representatives: Academic Integrity Representative(s) are full-time faculty members appointed by the dean or director for a three (3) year term to oversee the Academic Integrity Meeting and provide guidance to the Accused Student, Faculty Reporter and Student Reporters each year. Each College/School/Division should have at least two (2) Academic Integrity Representatives and one (1) alternate.

f. Academic Integrity Meeting: A meeting to hear evidence and testimony of the Accused Student, Faculty Reporter and Student Reporter by at least one Academic Integrity Representative. The Academic Integrity Meeting involves the Academic Integrity Representative(s) and student. The Faculty Reporter must be present at the Academic Integrity Meeting unless the Accused Student specifically requests that the Faculty Reporter not be present. In addition, advocates for the Accused Student, Faculty Reporter and Student Reporter; witnesses, and others with pertinent information may be present.

g. Convening Officer: Full-time faculty members appointed by the Office of Academic Affairs who are responsible for investigating, collecting evidence and ensuring that all Honor Court hearing proceedings are followed. The Office of Academic Affairs will appoint six (6) faculty members in three (3) year staggered terms. When there is need to convene an Honor Court, the Office of Academic Affairs will randomly select a Convening Officer from this pool.

h. Honor Court: A body of five (5) voting members that hears cases not resolved at a previous stage or cases involving students who have been found guilty of a previous Honor Code violation. The Honor Court is comprised of the vice president for academic affairs (chair), a Convening Officer, one (1) faculty member from a pool of potential members of the Honor Court, and two (2) undergraduate or graduate students from a pool of potential members of the Honor Court. Membership of the Honor Court will be chosen from the pool of faculty and students in the corresponding academic level (undergraduate or graduate), but from a different School, Program, or Division of study as the Accused Student.

2. Violations

a. Cheating: Selling, giving, receiving or attempted submission of unauthorized assistance or advantage in academic work, or any attempt thereof. Examples of cheating include, but are not limited to: unauthorized talking, signs, text messages, gestures from another student during assessments, quizzes or examinations; the unauthorized use of past quizzes, examinations, papers, study aids, notes, books, data or other information; looking at another student’s assignment, quiz or examination. An assignment is any academic work, required or voluntary, submitted to an instructor for review or academic credit or any work, required or voluntary, submitted for use in a university-sponsored or other publication or in conjunction with a university-sponsored event or activity.

b. Plagiarism: Presentation, oral or written, or copying of the language, structure, ideas, facts, data or thoughts of another person without proper acknowledgment, or submitting purchased work, or misrepresenting another’s work as one’s own. Examples of plagiarism include, but are not limited to: copying a passage straight from an article, website or book into a paper without quoting or explicitly citing the source, rewording someone else’s work and using it as one’s own work, or submitting an assignment that has previously been submitted at this university or at another institution for academic credit in a current course.

c. Falsification: Willful and knowing representation of an untruth, uttered or presented verbally, electronically or in writing, as well as any form of deceit or fraud in an oral or written statement relating to academic or clinical work. Examples of falsification include, but are not limited to: lying to administration or faculty members regarding academic work; falsification of patient record, physician order or patient billing; misrepresenting a reference; falsifying of data or a citation; tampering with any university paper or electronic record by mutilation, addition, deletion or forgery; registration irregularity including violation of registration procedure designed to gain an advantage over other students; falsification of attendance records; false reason for being absent or late for quizzes, examinations or written or clinical assignment; taking a quiz or examination or completing an assignment in the place of another student; obstructing an investigation or hearing due to falsification; or lying to the Honor Court during investigations and hearings.

d. Tampering with records: Alteration or unauthorized possession of university records or any attempt thereof. University records include, but are not limited to: grade reports, transcripts, computerized records, examinations, papers, registrations and attendance reports.

e. Forgery: Imitating or counterfeiting of any academic or clinical document, signature or authorization.

f. Withholding information: Failure to inform Academic Integrity Representative(s), the Honor Court or faculty members of any and all information concerning Honor Code violations.

g. Breach of confidence: As all processes investigating a violation of the Honor Code are confidential, any inappropriate disclosure of information pertaining to a potential Honor Code violation, including information discussed within the Academic Integrity Meeting and Honor Court proceeding, is considered to be a breach of confidence.

h. Academic theft: Unauthorized removal or mutilation of academic material, which may deprive or prevent others from having equal learning opportunities. Such materials include, but are not limited to: print, film, tape, scores, recordings, classroom or lab supplies and electronic databases.
3. Sanctions

a. The Faculty Reporter, Academic Integrity Representative(s) or Honor Court will recommend and impose sanction(s) that they believe are appropriate to the violation. The Faculty Reporter has control over his/her classroom, and therefore can recommend sanctions only related to his/her course. Any modifications to sanctions made by the Academic Integrity Representative(s) or Honor Court must be discussed and approved by the Faculty Reporter. Sanctions are not limited to those listed in this document, however, any sanctions developed outside of this document should not violate the Accused Student’s rights. Committing additional violations will result in more severe sanctions.

b. The Faculty Reporter, Academic Integrity Representative(s), or Honor Court will consider the following criteria in determining if and how the sanctions are to be applied: 1) whether a violation of the Honor Code has occurred; 2) whether the violation was committed purposely, willingly and with the knowledge of the accused; 3) whether the Accused Student has a prior Honor Code violation (only applicable to the Honor Court).

c. Imposed sanction(s) will include mandatory Honor Probation for the remainder of his/her education at the university. The Office of Academic Affairs will maintain the list of students on honor probation. In addition, all students being found guilty will receive a letter of reprimand from the Office of Academic Affairs.

d. Additional sanction(s) may include, but are not limited to, the following:

i. Notation on Transcript: Notation of Honor Code violation on the student’s transcript. The notation will indicate that the student is on “Honor Code Probation.” If noted on the student’s transcript, it will remain on the transcript until the student’s departure from the university, at which time the student may appeal to the Registrar’s Office for it to be removed.

ii. Loss of Academic Credit: Assignment of any grade up to and including no credit on an affected assignment, quiz, examination or course. Also assignment of a grade up to and including failure in all courses in which the student is enrolled at the time of the violation. Honor code cases resulting in failure in the course will be noted on the student’s transcript. This notation will remain on the student’s transcript until departure from the university, at which time the student may appeal to the Registrar’s Office for it to be removed.

iii. Suspension from the Course or University: Suspension from the course and/or university may take effect either during the semester in which the violation occurred or the following semester, excluding summer terms. It may also be recommended the student receive failing grades in any or all of the courses in which the student was enrolled at the time of violation. The time period for the suspension will be decided by the vice president for academic affairs.

iv. Dismissal from Shenandoah University: Dismissal of a student from the university (with or without the possibility for reapplication). Honor code cases resulting in dismissal from the university will be noted on the student’s transcript.

v. Temporary or permanent loss of facility or campus privileges, visitation, housing or parking.
vi. Community service.

vii. Revocation of awarded certificate or degree.

IV. Rights and Responsibilities of the Accused Student

1. Rights of the Accused Student

a. To be considered innocent until proven guilty.

b. To be accompanied by a single advocate of his/her choice from the university, an employee or student, who is not a lawyer or a relative.

c. To seek guidance from his/her advocate and expect all such conversations to be kept in confidence.

d. To speak on his/her own behalf or to refuse to do so.

e. To receive a copy of evidence pertaining to the alleged Honor Code violation at the time of the Accused Student-Faculty Reporter Meeting and prior to the Academic Integrity Meeting or Honor Court hearing.

f. To receive a new and separate hearing for each charge, which cannot be held at the same time as another hearing. Discovery of multiple violations at the same time by a single reporter may be treated as one charge.

g. To request that any persons with information pertinent to the case be called forward to speak.

h. To receive notification of the date, time, location and membership of the Academic Integrity Meeting or Honor Court hearing no later than two (2) business days prior to the assigned meeting or hearing.

i. To call into question the impartiality of any of the Academic Integrity Representative(s) or Honor Court officials no later than one (1) business day before the Academic Integrity meeting or Honor Court hearing. Failure to do so waives that right, except if proven that the information was found afterwards.

j. To be present and receive written notification of the Academic Integrity Meeting or Honor Court's decision.

k. To request that the Faculty Reporter not be present at the Academic Integrity Meeting or during the rendering of the decision (and sanctions) at the Honor Court hearing.

l. To appeal a decision of a Faculty Reporter to the Academic Integrity Representative(s).

m. To appeal the decision of the Academic Integrity Representative(s) to the Honor Court.

2. Violation of the Accused Student's Rights

If the accused student feels that his/her rights, as described in Article IV, Section 4.01, have been violated, he/she should file a written appeal (in hardcopy or electronically) to the vice president for academic affairs within two (2) business days of the Accused Student-Faculty Reporter Meeting, Academic Integrity Meeting or Honor Court hearing. Any purported violation rights will be reviewed by the VPAA. Any proven violation will result in dismissal of current charges.

3. Responsibilities of the Accused Student
A student accused of an Honor Code violation has the responsibility to participate in the Honor Code process. If a good faith effort is made to involve the student in the process, including but not limited to a letter and/or email, and the student fails to respond and/or participate, the alleged violation will move forward with a decision and sanctions, if applicable, being rendered based on existing evidence.

4. End of Semester and Graduation Policy
A student accused of an Honor Code violation for which a decision has not yet been rendered, the Faculty Reporter will assign the grade of Incomplete ("I") for the course. The grade will be reassigned once a decision is rendered on the Honor Code violation. If a student has met all other graduation requirements, but has been accused of an Honor Code violation for which a decision has not yet been rendered, he/she has the right to participate in the graduation ceremony. The student will not be granted a degree or receive a diploma until a decision is rendered on the Honor Code violation.

5. Summer Sessions
Alleged Honor Code violations occurring between spring commencement and the first day of fall semester classes should be resolved within the thirty (30) day time period proposed for the Honor Court procedure whenever possible. If an Accused Student-Faculty Reporter Meeting and/or Academic Integrity Meeting cannot be convened within the 30 day time period, the violation may be heard when the fall semester begins. Appeals requested during this period will be heard by the Honor Court when the fall semester convenes.

6. Withdrawal from the Course
Students may withdraw from a course in which an Honor Code violation is currently being investigated. Withdrawal from a course in which an Honor Code violation is being investigated in no way precludes any part of the Honor Code process, nor does it void any resulting sanctions.

If the student withdraws from a course in which he/she is being accused and is later found guilty, the registrar can reverse the withdrawal. If the course has ended, the Honor Code violation investigation will continue until resolved. In the case where a student has been found guilty of an Honor Code violation and a course grade has already been assigned and the sanction involves the course grade, the registrar can reverse the course grade.

V. Rights and Responsibilities of the Student Reporters and Faculty Reporters

1. Student Reporters
   a. Rights of the Student Reporter
      i. To have any report of a violation acknowledged by the Faculty Reporter or an Academic Integrity Representative.
ii. To have his/her name kept confidential from any persons not involved in the Honor Code process.

iii. To be accompanied by a single advocate from the university, an employee or student, who is not a lawyer or a relative.

b. Responsibilities of the Student Reporter

   i. To follow and obey all policies and procedures of the Honor Code.

   ii. To cooperate with all investigations and proceedings related to the Honor Code.

   iii. To give honest and accurate testimony.

   iv. To report any threats, harassment, retaliation, or intimidation to the Office of Academic Affairs.

   v. To keep confidential all matters pertaining to the case.

2. Faculty Reporters

a. Rights of the Faculty Reporter

   i. To have any report of a violation acknowledged by an Academic Integrity Representative.

   ii. To be accompanied by a single advocate of his/her choice from the university who is not a lawyer or a relative.

   iii. To be involved in the Honor Code process and to receive notification of the outcome of an Honor Code violation.

   iv. To assign a grade of Incomplete (“I”), if applicable, to an accused student until a decision is rendered on the Honor Code violation.

   v. To approve and/or recommend sanction(s) and receive notification of any sanction(s) that have been modified by the Academic Integrity Representative or Honor Court.

b. Responsibilities of the Faculty Reporter

   i. To follow and obey the Honor Code policy.

   ii. To cooperate with all investigations and proceedings related to the Honor Code.

   iii. To report any threats, harassment, retaliation, or intimidation to the Office of Academic Affairs.

   iv. To keep confidential all matters pertaining to an Honor Code violation.

   v. To participate in the role of the Faculty Reporter, if also an Academic Integrity Representative, and to notify another Academic Integrity Representative that an alternate Academic Integrity Representative needs to be appointed for the hearing.
VI. Honor Code Procedures

I. Accused Student-Faculty Reporter Meeting

a. Initiation of the Accused Student-Faculty Reporter Meeting. The Faculty Reporter may handle the charge independently. Or, the Faculty Reporter may seek assistance to resolve an alleged violation through an Academic Integrity Meeting.

b. Procedure

i. Student Reporter - If a student has knowledge of an alleged Honor Code violation, then he/she must notify the faculty member/course coordinator/instructor of the course in which the violation occurred. Alternatively, the Student Reporter should contact one of the Academic Integrity Representative(s) if the alleged violation is related to more than one course or to the program of study.

ii. Faculty Reporter - If a faculty member has knowledge of an alleged violation of the Honor Code or is making an accusation on behalf of a Student Reporter, then the Faculty Reporter will conduct a private meeting with the accused student and present full evidence of the alleged violation. The Faculty Reporter may consult with an Academic Integrity Representative prior to a meeting with the accused student to discuss the incident and obtain advice. At the meeting with the Faculty Reporter, the Accused Student will be informed of his/her rights and the honor code process. The Accused Student will be given two (2) business days to respond to the accusation and evidence presented by the Faculty Reporter. Once all evidence has been disclosed and the Accused Student has responded to the accusation/evidence, a decision will be rendered by the faculty accuser.

c. Decision

i. Not Guilty: If the Faculty Reporter feels that an Honor Code violation did not occur or the evidence is not sufficient to support the alleged violation, the charges against the Accused Student will be dismissed. The Faculty Reporter will take no further action.

ii. Guilty: If the Faculty Reporter feels that an Honor Code violation did occur, he/she will propose appropriate sanction(s) related to the course based on the nature and severity of the violation. The student will have two (2) business days to accept or not accept the decision and/or sanction(s).

If the Accused Student ACCEPTS the decision and sanction(s), the Faculty Reporter and Accused Student will complete the Honor Code Violation Report Form. The Faculty Reporter will deliver all paperwork to the Office of Academic Affairs. The Faculty Reporter should not impose the sanction(s) until he/she receives notification of approval from the Office of Academic Affairs. Upon receipt of the paperwork, the Office of Academic Affairs will check if the Accused Student has previous violations of the Honor Code. If the Accused Student has no previous violations, the agreed upon sanctions related to the course will be confirmed with and imposed by the Faculty Reporter. The Office of Academic Affairs also will impose honor probation and decide if additional sanctions are necessary (e.g., notation on transcript). If the Accused Student does have a previous violation of the Honor Code, he/she will be required to attend an Honor Court hearing (see Article VI, Section 6.03).
If the Accused Student DOES NOT ACCEPT the decision and/or sanction(s), he/she will be informed that the case will be heard by an Academic Integrity Representative. The Faculty Reporter and Accused Student will complete and sign the Honor Code Violation Report Form, and the Faculty Reporter will deliver all paperwork to a designated Academic Integrity Representative. The Faculty Reporter should not impose the proposed sanction(s) until the case is resolved.

2. Academic Integrity Meeting
   a. Initiation of the Academic Integrity Meeting. The Faculty Reporter should contact one of the designated Academic Integrity Representatives for the college/school/program if the Accused Student does not accept the decision from the Accused Student-Faculty Reporter Meeting or the Faculty Reporter would like assistance with determination of sanction(s). No sanction should be imposed by the Faculty Reporter until the Office of Academic Affairs notifies him/her.

   b. Procedure
      i. The Faculty Reporter will provide the Academic Integrity Representative(s) with all evidence pertinent to the alleged violation. The Academic Integrity Representative(s) will contact the Office of Academic Affairs to determine if the Accused Student has been found guilty previously of an Honor Code violation. If the Accused Student has been found guilty of a previous Honor Code violation, then the Accused Student MUST go to the Honor Court (See Article VI, section 6.03) and the Office of Academic Affairs will notify the Accused Student and Faculty Reporter. If the Accused Student has not been found guilty previously, the Academic Integrity Representative(s) will set up a date, time, and location for the Academic Integrity Meeting and notify the Accused Student and Faculty Reporter with the information no later than two (2) business days prior to the meeting time.

      ii. Prior to the Academic Integrity Meeting, the Academic Integrity Representative(s) will investigate the violation, gather any pertinent information from witnesses, obtain testimony from the Accused Student, if applicable, and consider possible sanctions in consultation with the Faculty Reporter. The Academic Integrity Representative(s) will consider any requests by the Accused Student for individuals to testify on his/her behalf if notified prior to the scheduled meeting.

      iii. The Academic Integrity Meeting will involve the Academic Integrity Representative(s), Accused Student, Faculty Reporter and Student Reporter (if applicable). The Faculty Reporter must attend the meeting unless the Accused Student specifically requests that the Faculty Reporter not be present. Advocates for the Faculty Reporter; Student Reporter and Accused Student, witnesses, and others with pertinent information may be present. At the meeting, the Academic Integrity Representative(s) will review the Accused Student’s rights and present the alleged violation(s) and evidence, as well as the possible sanction(s). The Accused Student will be asked to submit a plea, guilty or not guilty, and have the opportunity to respond to the alleged charge(s) and evidence. The Academic Integrity Representative(s) will hear all of the evidence and determine if a violation has occurred, independent of the Accused Student, Faculty Reporter and Student Reporter (if applicable). When a decision has been made, the Academic Integrity Representative(s) will notify the Accused Student and Faculty Reporter.
1. Not Guilty: If the Academic Integrity Representative(s) feels that an honor code violation did not occur or the evidence is not sufficient to support the alleged violation, the charges against the Accused Student will be dismissed. The Academic Integrity Meeting Form should be completed and signed by the Academic Integrity Representative(s) and Accused Student. The Academic Integrity Representative(s) will deliver all paperwork to the Office of Academic Affairs.

2. Guilty: If the Academic Integrity Representative(s) find evidence supporting a violation, the Accused student will be notified of the sanction(s). If the sanction(s) proposed by the Faculty Reporter are modified, the Academic Integrity Representative will address these changes with the Faculty Reporter. The Accused Student will have two (2) business days to accept or not accept the decision and sanctions.

If the Accused Student ACCEPTS the decision and sanctions, the Academic Integrity Representative(s) and Accused Student will complete the Academic Integrity Meeting Form. The Academic Integrity Representative(s) will deliver all paperwork to the Office of Academic Affairs. The Faculty Reporter should not impose the proposed sanction(s) until notified by the Office of Academic Affairs. Upon receipt of the paperwork, the Office of Academic Affairs will confirm the decision and sanction(s) with the Faculty Reporter. The Faculty Reporter will impose the sanction(s) related to his/her course. The Office of Academic Affairs also will impose honor probation and decide if additional sanctions are necessary (e.g., notation on transcript).

If the Accused Student DOES NOT ACCEPT the decision and/or sanction(s), the Accused Student will be informed that the case will be resolved at an Honor Court hearing. The Academic Integrity Representative(s) and Accused Student will complete and sign the Academic Integrity Meeting Form. The Academic Integrity Representative(s) will deliver all paperwork to the Office of Academic Affairs. The Faculty Reporter should not impose the proposed sanction(s) until the Honor Court resolves the case. Upon receipt of the paperwork, the Office of Academic Affairs will select members of the Honor Court. The Office of Academic Affairs will contact the Accused Student and Faculty Reporter regarding their rights and responsibilities.

3. Honor Court Hearing
   a. Initiation of the Honor Court Process. When an Accused Student appeals a decision of the Academic Integrity Meeting or is required to attend an Honor Court hearing, the Office of Academic Affairs will randomly choose a Convening Officer and the student and faculty members of the Honor Court from pre-selected faculty and student pools. Once it has been determined that the Honor Court is required, a hearing will be scheduled. The Office of Academic Affairs will notify the Faculty Reporter and Accused Student of the scheduled date, time, location and membership of the Honor Court no later than two (2) business days prior to the scheduled meeting.

   b. Composition of the Honor Court. The Honor Court will be composed of the vice president for academic affairs (chair), the Convening Officer, one (1) faculty member from a pool of potential members of the Honor Court, and two (2) undergraduate or graduate students from a pool of potential members of the Honor Court.
Membership of the Honor Court will be chosen from the pool of faculty and students in the corresponding academic level (undergraduate or graduate). Individuals chosen for the Honor Court must recuse themselves from hearing a particular case if they feel that they cannot in good conscience act impartially.

i. The pool of potential members for faculty will be composed of two (2) faculty members from each School, Program, or Division, who are appointed by their Dean/Director for a three (3) year term.

ii. The pool of potential members for students will be composed of three (3) students from each School, Program, or Division. Undergraduate Schools, Programs, or Divisions will choose undergraduate students and graduate Schools, Programs, or Divisions will choose graduate students. Prospective students must have a G.P.A. of 3.0 or greater; be in good academic standing and have completed at least two (2) semesters at Shenandoah University in order to serve on the Honor Court.

iii. When there is a need to convene, undergraduate students and faculty will be chosen to participate in cases involving an undergraduate student, and graduate students and faculty will be selected to participate in cases involving a graduate student.

c. Procedure

i. Confirmation and Notification. The Office of Academic Affairs will prepare and send a notification letter to the Accused Student, which includes:

1. The date the alleged violation occurred, possible sanction(s), an explanation of the Accused Student's rights, and the right to have an advocate from within the university (see Article III, Section 3.01.c and Article IV, Section 4.01.b for description of advocate's role).

2. The date, time, and place of the Honor Court hearing, as well as the membership of the Honor Court.

3. Information as to when the Accused Student can receive a copy of the alleged violation and evidence pertaining to the allegation.

4. A statement that ignorance of the Honor Code is not a legitimate defense.

5. An explanation that the Honor Court will begin an inquiry phase consisting of an investigation and a contesting of the facts.

ii. Investigation

1. The Convening Officer will collect and review existing evidence and gather any additional evidence from the Accused Student, the Faculty Reporter, the Student Reporter (if applicable), and any other pertinent individuals.

2. The Convening Officer will compile a summation of the evidence and determine the individuals who may be called for testimony during Honor Court hearing. Copies of the summation of evidence and list of individuals who may be called for testimony will be made available to the accused student and faculty reporter no later than two (2) business days prior to the hearing.
3. When the investigation is concluded, no new evidence may be considered without the approval of the Convening Officer prior to the start of the Honor Court Hearing.

iii. Honor Court Hearing

1. The Honor Court hearing will occur in closed proceedings and will be recorded. During the hearing, all Honor Court members, the Faculty Reporter, the Accused Student, and any advocates will be present. Witnesses will be called for testimony only and will not remain present for the entire duration of the hearing.

2. Each Honor Court member will be given a copy of the evidence at the onset of the hearing. The vice president for academic affairs will first call the proceedings to order, officiate over the court and explain the rights of the Accused Student, the possible sanction(s) if found in violation of the honor code, and reconfirm the plea that has been entered by the Accused Student.

3. If the plea has not changed, the Faculty Reporter will first present his/her charge(s) against the Accused Student. Next, the Accused Student will have the opportunity to respond to the charge(s) and evidence. The Convening Officer will conduct and coordinate the presentation of all evidence and testimony before the court. No new evidence may be introduced during the hearing by the investigators or the Accused Student.

4. The Honor Court members may ask questions of each witness. In addition, the Accused Student or his/her advocate will have the right to question all witnesses as they are called by the Convening Officer, and will retain the right to recall any witnesses.

5. The Accused Student or his/her advocate will then present his/her defense. The Accused Student or his/her advocate may call witness(es), as identified by the Convening Officer during the investigation, that he/she feels will support his/her defense. The Accused Student or his/her advocate may also call into question any evidence introduced in the case. After the Accused Student or his/her advocate has presented his/her side, the Accused Student will rest his/her case.

6. The Honor Court members may ask questions of each witness and retain the right to recall any witnesses.

7. The vice president for academic affairs will ask for summation, which will be offered by the Convening Officer and followed by the Accused Student or his/her advocate.

8. After all statements are made, the recording of the hearing will be stopped and the vice president for academic affairs will dismiss the Faculty Reporter, the Accused Student, and any advocates. The Honor Court will then deliberate with only members of that Honor Court present.

9. The Honor Court will consider all of the available evidence to render a decision as to whether or not an Honor Code violation has occurred based on a preponderance of the evidence. A simple majority of the Honor Court must agree for a decision to be reached.
a. Not Guilty: If the Honor Court determines there is not enough evidence indicating that a violation occurred, then the Accused Student will be called back to hear the decision. If the Accused Student does not have any objections, the Faculty Reporter will be present for the decision; if he/she is not present, the Convening Officer will inform the Faculty Reporter of the outcome of the case. In situations where the Accused Student is found not guilty, a written record of the Honor Court process pertaining to that case will be kept in the Office of Academic Affairs. No record of the alleged violation will be placed in the Accused Student’s record.

b. Guilty: If the Honor Court determines there is sufficient evidence indicating that a violation occurred, then the Accused Student will be called back to hear the decision. The Accused Student will have the opportunity to present any information to the Honor Court, which may be considered when recommending sanction(s). If the Accused Student does not have any objections, the Faculty Reporter may be present for the decision; if he/she is not present, the Convening Officer will inform the Faculty Reporter of the outcome of the case. The Honor Court will then briefly retire to determine the sanction(s) appropriate to the honor code violation. Once the sanction(s) have been determined, the Honor Court will then reconvene and announce the sanction(s) to the Accused Student.

10. The Office of Academic Affairs will report the sanction(s) to the Faculty Reporter, who then will impose the sanction(s). If necessary, the Office of Academic Affairs also will contact other offices to ensure that the sanction(s) are imposed.

11. The findings of the Honor Court are final and the case will be considered closed.

12. If the Accused Student was found guilty, the recording of the hearing will be kept by the Office of Academic Affairs.

VII. Education of University Community

1. Students: The Division of Student Life, Office of Academic Affairs, and faculty are responsible for educating students about the Honor Code and its position in the academic environment at the university.

a. The Honor Code will be printed in the Academic Policies section of the undergraduate and graduate catalogs.

b. During orientation the Division of Student Life, Office of Academic Affairs, and faculty will meet with new students to explain the principles and procedures of the Honor Code. The Student Government Association (SGA), the administration, faculty, and staff of the university are also jointly responsible for further education.

c. The Executive Board of the SGA is responsible for having two (2) copies of this Honor Code on reserve in the library and copies available upon request for students and other members of the university community, including parents.
2. Faculty: Deans and directors, or their designees, are responsible for educating their respective faculty and staff of the Honor Code, its position in the academic environment, and the procedures for handling an Honor Code violation.

   a. This Honor Code will be printed in the Faculty Handbook and posted on the Office of Academic Affairs community Blackboard website.

   b. Faculty members or course coordinators/instructors should have a statement regarding academic integrity and the Honor Code in their course syllabi.

   c. Faculty members or course coordinators/instructors may insert a statement into course tests and assessments by which students can attest to their observance of the code.

Alleged Honor Code Violation

Accused Student-Faculty Reporter Meeting

Faculty Reporter meets with Accused Student to discuss evidence and allow Accused Student to respond. Faculty Reporter may consult an AIR to discuss incident and obtain advice prior to meeting with Accused Student. If Accused Student is found guilty, the Faculty Reporter proposes sanction(s). Faculty Reporter and Accused Student should complete and sign Violation Report Form. Accused Student has option to accept the decision and sanction(s) or to request an Academic Integrity Meeting.

Student Reporter

Student reporter informs course instructor or Academic Integrity Representative (AIR).

Accused Student accepts decision and sanction(s). Faculty Reporter delivers form to Office of Academic Affairs (OAA) and awaits confirmation.

Academic Integrity Meeting

Accused Student, Faculty Reporter (must attend unless Accused Student requests that they not attend) and at least 1 (one) AIR are present. Accused Student submits plea of guilty or not guilty and AIR(s) hears all relevant evidence and Accused Student response. In private, AIR(s) make decision of guilty or not guilty. If Accused Student found guilty, the Faculty Reporter, if present at the meeting, proposes sanction(s). Decision and sanction(s) are presented by AIR(s). Then AIR(s) and Accused Student should complete and sign Academic Integrity Meeting Form. Accused Student has option to accept decision and/or sanction(s) or to appeal to the Honor Court.

If previous violation, Accused Student MUST go to Honor Court. If no previous violation, sanction(s) imposed.

Sanction(s) imposed.

Accused Student does not accept decision and/or sanction(s) and appeals to Honor Court. AIR(s) deliver all forms to OAA.

Accused Student accepts decision and sanction(s). AIR(s) delivers all forms to OAA and awaits confirmation.
Sanction(s) imposed.

CO delivers all forms to OAA.

Accused Student does not accept decision and/or sanction(s)/requests Academic Integrity Meeting. Faculty Reporter should deliver form and evidence to designated AIR. Upon receipt, AIR checks with OAA for Accused Student’s previous violations. If previous violation, Accused Student MUST go to Honor Court. If no previous violation, AIR sets up Academic Integrity Meeting time and notifies participants.

Honor Court

Honor Court convenes to hear case. Accused Student submits plea of guilty or not guilty and Court members hear all relevant evidence and Accused Student’s response. In private, Honor Court makes decision of guilty or not guilty. If Accused Student is found guilty, Honor Court may consult with the Faculty Reporter to identify sanction(s). Decision and sanction(s) are presented. Convening Officer (CO) completes Honor Court Hearing Form.

SU Policy for Revocation of Admission, Degree or Credit

There may be situations in which a student obtains entry to the university through misrepresentation, or is awarded academic credentials even though he/she failed to complete the requirements for those credentials, or obtain his/her academic credentials by deceit, fraud or other academic misconduct. Such situations may not be discovered until the student has left the university or received a degree or credit. Whether or not the student remains enrolled, the university reserves the right to revoke admission or degrees, decertify credit and seek return of any Shenandoah University certification that suggests the student successfully completed course work or requirements for a degree.

Sexual Misconduct Policy

Shenandoah University is committed to sustaining an environment in which students, faculty and staff members may pursue their academic careers and assignments without being subject to verbal or physical harassment of any kind. Individuals who are in positions of authority with respect to students or other employees may not use their status to exploit others.

Recognizing that sexual misconduct impedes the educational process, SU is committed to investigating reports of sexual misconduct, to adjudicate them according to the policies of the university and to provide support to those who are involved.

All members of the Shenandoah University community, including guests and visitors, have a reasonable expectation to be free from sexual discrimination in the form of sexual misconduct by any other member of the university community. This policy applies to all Shenandoah University administration, faculty, staff, students, contractors and visitors. This policy is gender-neutral and applies equally to men and women.

Please refer to the Student Life Policies section of this catalog for comprehensive policy and procedures including definitions, the complaint policy and the appeals process.
Academic Appeals Policy

Purpose

The purpose of this process is to provide a means to resolve conflicts when students believe they have been treated improperly in a matter related to instruction, evaluation or other academic policy or practice. Misunderstandings or disagreements can often be settled informally. To this end, students are encouraged to attempt to resolve the issue directly with the member of the faculty, staff or administration involved as soon as possible. The appeals process described below is available in the event an information approach is unsuccessful.

Exclusions

This policy does not cover claims of ADA or Honor Code violations, charges of sexual harassment or an allegation that a student’s record is inaccurate or otherwise violates privacy rights. Any matters concerning ADA must be filed through the ADA officer.

Shenandoah University’s Honor Code Policy, Guidelines and Procedures are presented previously in this section. The Student Life Policies section of this catalog and the Faculty Handbook contain detailed information about SU’s sexual misconduct policy. Information concerning correction of academic records believed to be inaccurate, misleading or in violation of privacy rights are also covered earlier in this section under “Protecting Student’s Privacy Rights.”

Guidelines

Charges of procedural violations or claims of illegal, unethical or discriminatory practice must be supported by verifiable evidence. An appeal must state the incident alleged to be improper and what remedial action is requested.

Appeals of Academic Evaluation

Changing grades or otherwise modifying or reversing evaluative decision of the faculty will be done at the level of the vice president for academic affairs or Academic Review Board only in unusual circumstances. Evaluation of academic progress is rightly a matter of primary responsibility of the faculty member(s) involved and, at times and in certain programs, their colleagues. Any request to change a grade or other evaluation academic process must be supported by evidence the decision failed to follow proper procedure or was illegal, unethical or discriminatory.

Timely Response

It is in the interest of all concerned that conflicts involving academic issues be resolved quickly and as close to the source of conflict as possible. It is expected that each person involved in the process will expedite the process, normally within 10 class days. This is intended to provide sufficient time for thoughtful consideration of all pertinent information. However, this timeframe can be extended by mutual agreement between the student and the member of the faculty, staff or administration involved. (At each step cited below, if the person to whom the complaint is made is not available, he/she may designate another appropriate person to act in his/her stead.) If the matter comes up at the end of the semester, and it is not reasonable to contact the party(ies) involved at that time, the appeal must be presented no later than the end of the Drop/Add period of the following semester.
Grievance of a Grade
Students may grieve the misapplication of an instructor’s grading policy for a course. Students cannot grieve the evaluation of student work by the instructor.

Formal Academic Appeals Procedure
At each step in this process, the student may request to meet directly with the person hearing the appeal. The person hearing the appeal may meet with the student or seek the counsel of faculty members or others who may have pertinent information.

Step One
The student should make an appointment with the faculty of record to discuss the grievance and to seek resolution.

Step Two
If dissatisfied, the student should schedule an appointment with the appropriate department or division chair to seek a resolution.

Step Three
If dissatisfied, the student should schedule an appointment with the appropriate dean or director of the school to seek a resolution.

Step Four
If dissatisfied, the student should make a written grievance to the vice president for academic affairs. The written grievance must state the reason for the request and any other supporting documentation. If the vice president for academic affairs sees merit in the grievance, he will assemble the Academic Review Board for a hearing. If there is no merit, the student will be notified that this ruling is final.

Step Five
The Academic Review Board is a judicial hearing and has the ability to summon faculty, students, and staff for its hearing. The Academic Review Board’s decision is final.

Step Six
An appeal to the president can be made on procedural violations only.

Student Complaint Policy
Shenandoah University affirms the right of students to bring forth complaints and is committed to resolving these matters in a fair, equitable and timely manner, so as to protect the rights of both the individual and the community.

This Complaint Policy applies to student complaints that are not addressed by the Academic Appeals Procedure, Americans with Disabilities Act, Honor Code, Student Conduct Code, Sexual Harassment Policy, student records policies, or any other existing formal procedure under which a complaint may fall.

Students are encouraged to attempt to resolve the issue directly with the member of the faculty, staff or administration involved in an informal manner:
If a satisfactory resolution cannot be reached informally, a student complaint will be heard and resolved by, to all extent possible, the senior faculty or staff member responsible for the area under which the complaint falls.

If satisfactory resolution is not reached at that level, a student may submit his/her complaint in writing to the vice president responsible for the area under which the complaint falls.

If satisfactory resolution is still not reached, a student may submit his/her complaint in writing to the president of the university, whose decision will be final.

Similarly, those outside of the university wishing to make a complaint against one of Shenandoah’s students should attempt to resolve the issue directly with the student before moving to bring the issue to the attention of the appropriate dean/director or vice president.
TUITION AND FEES

Students who register at Shenandoah University obligate themselves to the terms and conditions, financial and otherwise, stated in this publication. In the event an account becomes delinquent, the student is responsible for all collection costs associated with collection including attorney fees according to laws enforced by the state of Virginia.

Fall term charges are due in full on or before August 15, 2013, and spring term charges are due in full on or before December 15, 2013, unless the student chooses to apply for the Shenandoah University Payment Plan. Students and/or parents must complete a Payment Plan application by July 1 to be eligible to participate. In addition, parents/students must meet acceptable credit standards.

Tuition and fees for the 2014-15 academic year will be announced when approved by the Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees reserves the right to alter the charge structure at any time.

Explanation of Charges
Full-time Students: Students registered for 12 or more credits, including applied music lessons, are considered full-time.

Part-time Students: Students registered for less than 12 credits, including applied music lessons, are considered part-time.

Residence Halls: The residence hall rates include housing and meals. Meals are served in the campus dining hall seven days a week except during published vacation periods. Students are responsible for their own linens. Refer to Shenandoah University’s website (www.su.edu) or the Student Handbook for more information.

Shenandoah University Payment Plan
Students/parents must complete an application and be approved to participate in the SU Payment Plan. Applications must be completed annually and returned to the Office of Student Accounts by July 1. Applications are available online at www.su.edu.

The SU Payment Plan consists of four equal payments per term. Fall term payments are due August 15 through November 15 and spring term payments are due December 15 through March 15. A two percent set up fee is assessed per term. All payments received five days after the payment due date or later will be assessed a $10 late payment fee.

The SU Payment Plan includes tuition, applicable curriculum/mandatory fees and residence hall fees only. Shenandoah University reserves the right to refuse any application. Participants whose accounts become delinquent will forfeit their eligibility to participate in the future. In addition, students/parents are responsible for all collection costs associated with collection of delinquent accounts including attorney fees according to laws enforced by the state of Virginia.
Deposits

Undergraduate Advance Tuition Deposit: $300
New students are required to remit an Advance Tuition Deposit by the date stipulated in the letter of acceptance from the Office of Admissions. This deposit is then credited to the student’s account. Advance Tuition Deposits are non-refundable unless requested on or before May 1. Refund requests must be made in writing to the executive director of recruitment and admissions.

Room Lottery Deposit: $100
Returning residential students are required to remit a room lottery deposit. Upon receipt of the room lottery deposit, a room reservation will be made on a space-available basis in order of receipt of deposit. Room lottery deposits are non-refundable.

Residence Hall Damage Deposit: $100
New residential students are required to pay a Residence Hall Damage Deposit. This deposit is a one-time charge and is fully refundable once the student graduates or moves off campus provided no damages occur and all financial obligations to the university have been satisfied.

Special Purpose Fees — Charged When Applicable

Application Fee for Degree/Certificate Seeking ($30): A non-refundable application fee is required for admission. This fee must be filed with the Admissions Office before official action can be taken on the application. In the event that the applicant does not enroll at Shenandoah University within 12 months after the date of application, and seeks admission thereafter, a new application must be filed accompanied by an additional application fee.

Late Registration Fee ($50): A late registration fee is assessed to any student registering on or after the first day of the term.

Parking Permit ($115/year): A parking permit is required of all students who plan to park a vehicle on university owned or leased property. Payment is due at the time the vehicle is registered. This fee applies to both residential and commuter students.

Withdrawal Fee ($100): Charged to all students who withdraw from the university after the add/drop period and within the first 60 percent of the term.

Returned Check Fee ($25): This fee is charged for any check returned to the university.

A complete list of Special Purpose Fees is available upon request.

Personal Expenses

Each student pays for his or her own personal expenses and books. Please note that students are not permitted to charge books to their student accounts.

Withdrawal from the University

To withdraw from Shenandoah University at any time during the academic year, a student is required to obtain a Withdrawal/Leave of Absence form from the Office of Enrollment Management and Student Success. This form must be completed and returned to that office in order for the withdrawal to be processed in an accurate and timely manner. A student who fails to withdraw properly may receive failing grades in all currently enrolled courses and may be ineligible for a proration of tuition and fees as described below.
Tuition and Fees • 85

Tuition Proration Policy
Students withdrawing from the university during the published add/drop period will be fully refunded tuition, fees and housing charges.

For students withdrawing after the add/drop period, tuition will be pro-rated accordingly. The amount of tuition will be calculated on a pro rata basis through the first 60 percent of the term. After 60 percent of the term has been completed, the student will be responsible for all tuition charges assessed. Tuition charges and awarded financial aid will be prorated based on the withdrawal date provided by the student on the withdrawal/leave of absence form or the last date of attendance as recorded in the Registrar’s Office.

The determination of the payment period attended by the student will be calculated as follows:

\frac{\text{Number of days completed}}{\text{Total number of days in term}} = \text{the % of term completed}

This percentage will determine the amount of tuition charges that the student is responsible for paying. If the percentage is 60 percent or higher, the student is responsible for 100 percent of tuition charges assessed.

Curriculum/Mandatory Fee Refund Policy
Curriculum/mandatory fees are refunded only to students who withdraw during the add/drop period. After the add/drop period, curriculum/mandatory fees are non-refundable.

Medical Withdrawals
Students withdrawing from the university for medical reasons will be dealt with on an individual basis. The student must first contact the Director of the Wilkins Wellness Center to discuss the reason for the medical withdrawal. If the reason meets the criteria per policy, a physician or psychiatrist must provide confidential written documentation in support of a medical withdrawal. The Director of the Wilkins Wellness Center or Director of Counseling Center will approve or disapprove a medical withdrawal based on the information provided, with final approval from the vice president for academic affairs.

Distribution of Financial Aid Funds
Financial aid funds applied to a student’s account will be returned to the appropriate program in accordance with mandatory federal, state, private organizations and Shenandoah University requirements. Any remaining amount of credit will then be applied to unpaid charges on the student’s account with any remaining funds being refunded to the student.

It is possible for students whose accounts were paid in full at the start of a term to owe payment for the balance of charges after the return of financial aid funds.

Residence Hall Proration Policy
Residence hall charges are refunded on a pro rata basis of 15 weeks per term when a student withdraws from the university. Students that vacate the residence hall without prior approval or are removed from the residence halls for disciplinary reasons will not be refunded. Residence hall damage deposits will be fully refunded provided no damages have occurred and all financial obligations to the university are satisfied.
Shenandoah University reserves the right to hold transcripts, diplomas and other pertinent information until all financial obligations to the university have been satisfied.
Shenandoah University maintains a strong financial aid program to help as many deserving students as possible. Financial aid is awarded according to an individual’s financial need and academic success in relation to college costs. Aid usually consists of a combination of scholarships, grants, loans and employment through the work-study or work-grant programs.

Application Procedure
Shenandoah University will send, upon request, a financial aid packet to prospective students. The packet contains the information needed to apply for federal, state and institutional programs.

Free Application for Student Aid (FAFSA): Students wishing to apply for financial aid are required to complete a FAFSA. The FAFSA should be completed as soon after January 1 as possible and must be filed each year. Include the federal code “003737” for Shenandoah University to ensure the university receives official FAFSA data. The FAFSA is submitted online at www.fafsa.gov.

Virginia Tuition Assistance Grant Application: Virginia residents must return to the Office of Financial Aid a completed Virginia Tuition Assistance Grant Application by July 31. The application needs to be filed only once as long as the student maintains full-time enrollment status in the same program of study.

When a student has been accepted for admission and the Office of Financial Aid has received the FAFSA and the Virginia Tuition Assistance Grant Application (see above), the Office of Financial Aid will make an award and notify the student in writing. Awards should be accepted in writing within 14 days.

Students applying for summer financial aid should complete all the financial aid paperwork for the current and the next academic years.

Satisfactory Progress
In order to receive federal, state, and most other forms of financial aid, students must maintain satisfactory progress in their course of study. Students are not making satisfactory progress if they:

• have been placed on academic suspension, or
• have been on academic probation for two consecutive semesters, or • receive only grades of “F,” “W” or “I” or any combination of these grades for a semester, or
• fail to successfully complete the following minimum credit hour requirements.

Full-time students must successfully complete:

16 credit hours after two semesters of study
36 credit hours after four semesters of study
60 credit hours after six semesters of study
90 credit hours after eight semesters of study
The baccalaureate degree in 10 semesters
The minimum credit hour requirements are prorated for students who attend less than full-time (i.e., 75 percent for 3/4 time; 50 percent for 1/2 time) or fail to maintain the following minimum cumulative grade point averages:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Credit Hours Graded*</th>
<th>Minimum Cumulative GPA</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1.00 - 23.99</td>
<td>1.6</td>

<tr>
<td>24.00 - 53.99</td>
<td>1.8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>54.00 and above</td>
<td>2.0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

*Credit Hours Graded includes transfer credit hours transferred into student’s program of study.

To continue to receive financial aid, students must complete their degree within 150 percent of the published program length. For example, if a program requires 100 hours to complete, students must complete their degree at the point 150 hours are attempted. For any hours attempted over 150 a student is not eligible for financial aid.

Reinstatement of Eligibility

Students may re-establish eligibility for financial aid by enrolling for classes at their expense until completing the minimum number of credit hours and achieving the minimum cumulative grade point average.

Appeal Process

A student who has been denied financial aid because of unsatisfactory progress may appeal the decision by written notification to the director of financial aid.

Semester Limits for Financial Aid

Students who intend to take longer than four years to complete a degree should realize that many federal, state and university financial aid programs limit assistance to eight semesters of full-time study. Students who do not take these limitations into consideration may find themselves unable to obtain aid for a fifth year of study. Please contact the Office of Financial Aid for more details if you will be attending more than four years.

Study Abroad

Students in a study-abroad program are eligible for aid if the program is approved for credit by the university. To receive aid, the student must be enrolled as a regular student at Shenandoah University, and there must be a contractual agreement between the university and the foreign college. The student will be charged at the university and upon being invoiced by the foreign college, like services (tuition and room and board) will be paid if equal to or less than SU services.

Federal Aid Programs

Federal Pell Grants: Generally, a Federal Pell Grant is awarded only to undergraduate students who have not earned a bachelor’s or professional degree. Eligibility for the Pell Grant is determined by the Office of Financial Aid based upon the results of the FAFSA in accordance with federal regulations.
Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG): These grants are awarded by the university from federal funds to students demonstrating exceptional financial need. Priority is given to Pell Grant recipients.

Federal Perkins Loan: Perkins is a low-interest loan funded by the federal government and administered by Shenandoah University. Preference is given to students with exceptional need. Students may borrow up to $4,000 per year if the student is enrolled in a program leading to a bachelor’s degree, or a total of $27,500 as an undergraduate. If a student is attending school at least half-time, they have nine months after they graduate, leave school or drop below half-time status before they must begin repayment. Students may have longer than nine months if they are on active duty in the military. At the end of the grace period, students must begin repaying their loans. Students may be allowed up to 10 years to repay.

Federal Work Study Program: This program is designed to provide assistance to students with financial need. Work-study students are employed in various departments on campus and are paid twice monthly, based on the number of hours worked.

Federal Community Service Work Study Program: This program allows students to work on campus or off campus at non-profit organizations such as the child care center and campus library that provide a service to the community.

Nursing Student Loan: These loans provide long-term, low-interest loans to help meet the cost of a nursing education for needy students. A bachelor degree-seeking nursing student may borrow $2,500 to $4,000 per academic year. If a student is attending school at least half-time, they have nine months after they graduate, leave school or drop below half-time status before they must begin repayment. Students may have longer than nine months if they are on active duty in the military. At the end of the grace period, students must begin repaying their loans. Students may be allowed up to 10 years to repay.

William D. Ford Federal Direct Stafford Loan: Federal Direct Stafford Loans are federal loans available to degree-seeking undergraduate students enrolled at least half-time. Stafford Loans may be subsidized and/or unsubsidized. A Subsidized Stafford Loan is awarded on the basis of financial need as determined by the FAFSA and SU. No interest will accumulate for the student while they are enrolled at least half-time or during authorized periods of deferment. The federal government will pay the interest during these periods. An Unsubsidized Stafford Loan is not awarded on the basis of financial need. Unlike a subsidized loan, interest will begin to accrue immediately from the time the loan is disbursed until it is paid in full. Students are permitted the option of paying the interest each quarter or deferring interest payments until they enter repayment. Stafford Loans are not credit-based and carry a current origination fee of 1.051 percent. The origination fee is deducted from the loan amount prior to its disbursal to the university.

After students graduate, leave school, or drop below half-time enrollment, they will have six months before they must begin repayment of their loans. This period of time is called a grace period. Students are granted one grace period. Students may have longer than six months if they are on active duty in the military. Borrowers may take up to 30 years to repay their Stafford Loan.

The award letter will notify students of the maximum Stafford Loan they are eligible to receive. If the student wishes to decline the loan or request a different amount, the student must notify the Office of Financial Aid within two weeks. The returned award letter is the confirmation of the loan.

William D. Ford Direct Federal Parent PLUS Program: Federal Parent PLUS Loans are federal loans parents can borrow to pay for their dependent student’s educational expenses. Students must be considered a dependent by the FAFSA, be a degree-seeking undergraduate and be enrolled at least half-time. Eligible parents who can borrow a PLUS Loan include a student’s biological parents – whether they were listed on the FAFSA or not – and stepparents whose income was reported on the FAFSA. Parents must also pass a credit check in order to be approved for this loan.

Parent PLUS Loans currently carry a fixed interest rate of 7.9 percent and an origination fee of 4.204 percent. The PLUS Loan is borrowed directly from the U.S. Department of Education as part of the William D. Ford Direct Loan Program. Parents may borrow for each year of their student’s undergraduate career; though subsequent credit checks will be required. Parents may take up to 25 years to repay their loan.

Commonwealth of Virginia Aid Programs

Virginia Tuition Assistance Grant: This program is a state-funded, non-need-based grant available to first-time undergraduate and graduate students who are Virginia residents and are enrolled full-time. Once awarded, it is not necessary to reapply for subsequent years. The application is due July 31 and is available at the Office of Financial Aid’s website and included in the financial aid award package.

Shenandoah University Aid Programs

Aid amounts vary by program; please contact the Office of Financial Aid for more details. All aid programs are awarded for tuition expenses and are renewable for a total of four years as long as the recipient maintains a 2.5 grade point average and is enrolled full-time each semester in a degree program.

Presidential Scholarship: The Presidential Scholarship is a highly selective, limited scholarship available to incoming freshmen. In order to be considered, a student must have a minimum high school GPA of 3.8 and a score of 1200 on the SAT or its ACT equivalent. Scholastic and community activities are also considered in the evaluation process. Students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.0 and enroll in at least 12 credit hours a semester. Students cannot receive both a Presidential Scholarship and an Academic Scholarship. No additional application is required to apply; eligibility is determined based upon a student’s application for admission to the university.

Academic Scholarship: The Academic Scholarship is available to incoming freshmen and transfer students. For incoming freshmen, eligibility is based on their high school GPA and SAT/ACT scores. For incoming transfer students, eligibility is determined by the student’s cumulative GPA. The scholarship may be renewed annually for a total of four years. To remain eligible, recipients are required to maintain full-time enrollment as an undergraduate student and maintain a GPA of at least 2.5 (on a 4.0 scale). In addition, recipients must meet the Satisfactory Academic Progress requirements as defined by the Office of Financial Aid and listed in the undergraduate catalog. No additional application is required to apply; eligibility is determined based upon a student’s application for admission to the university.
Shenandoah University Grant: The Shenandoah University Grant is a need-based grant awarded for tuition expenses. The amount of the grant will vary based upon a student’s financial need and academic success prior to enrolling at SU. Students must be full-time in order to be awarded.

Shenandoah University Conservatory Scholarship: The Conservatory Scholarship is available to students pursuing a degree within the Shenandoah Conservatory. The scholarship is awarded based upon a student’s application for admission to SU, their audition, and the needs of the Conservatory. The Conservatory Scholarship may be renewed annually for a total of four years. Recipients are required to maintain full-time enrollment as an undergraduate student, maintain a GPA of at least 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale), and meet requirements within the Conservatory to keep the award. This scholarship is awarded in place of the Academic Scholarship.

United Methodist Aid Programs

Virginia Conference United Methodist Scholarship: Shenandoah University offers a scholarship to full-time undergraduate students who are residents of Virginia and have been members in good standing of the Virginia Conference United Methodist Church for at least one year. Membership standing must be certified by their minister. This award is automatically renewed for up to four years for eligible students.

Ministerial Grants: Ministerial Grants are available to dependent children and spouses of Virginia Conference United Methodist ministers. Students must be a resident of Virginia and enrolled full-time to qualify. Recipients may receive the award for a maximum of four years. Ministerial Grant recipients are not eligible for other forms of SU aid.

Endowed Scholarships

Endowed scholarships are funds that are donated to help meet the financial needs of worthy and needy students. Individuals and corporations donate funds from which the interest is awarded as grants and scholarships while the principal is maintained as part of our endowment program. A Shenandoah University Grant or Academic Scholarship is awarded early in the year and is later replaced by the proper endowment funds when the donor and student are verified.

Withdrawing from the University

Shenandoah University will determine eligibility of financial aid for those students withdrawing from the university using the following procedure.

Return of Title IV Funds: If a student withdraws from the university, his/her federal financial aid may be adjusted based on the percentage of the semester completed before withdrawing. In some cases, Federal Return of Title IV Funds regulations may require that aid be returned to the federal government for students who completely withdraw from the university before 60 percent of a term (calendar days) has been completed. Financial aid is awarded for the entire term, which is generally a 15-week period. If students do not complete the entire 15 weeks, then the Return of Title IV Fund rules will determine how much financial aid has been earned, which is the amount that can be kept. The unearned portion must be immediately returned to the federal government. In some situations, this may leave a student with a balance owed to the university. Funds are returned to the federal government in the following order: Unsubsidized Stafford Loan, Subsidized Stafford Loan, Perkins Loan, Graduate PLUS Loan, Parent PLUS Loan, Pell Grant, and SEOG (grant).

The following are the basic steps to the formula used to calculate the amount of funds that must be returned to the Title IV programs:

1. Determination of date of withdrawal and percentage of payment period attended by the student.

2. Calculation of amount of Title IV aid earned by the student.

3. Comparison of amount earned and amount disbursed to determine amount unearned.

4. If amount earned is greater than the amount disbursed, determine late disbursement.

5. If amount earned is less than amount disbursed, determine amount of Title IV aid that must be returned.

Refund of State and Institutional Funds: State and institutional refunds will also be calculated using the percent of payment period attended by the student. The unearned amount will be returned to the source of the funds.

Refer to Student Expenses section for information on refunds, tuition, fees and room and board.
MILITARY BENEFITS

Education Benefits for Veterans, Active Duty Military Personnel and Dependents of Veterans

Shenandoah University provides support to students wishing to use education benefits administered by the US Department of Veterans Affairs and the Department of Defense. Students wishing to use their veteran’s benefits while pursuing their educational goals must:

1. Apply for their benefits using the Veterans Online Application (VONAPP) at http://www.gibill.va.gov/
   *Note – If a veteran is transferring benefits to a dependent or spouse, the transfer must be approved by the Department of Defense (DoD) prior to applying with VONAPP.

2. Apply for admission to SU.

3. Submit a copy of their Certificate of Eligibility (CoE) to SU’s VA Certifying Official. It may take up to 12 weeks after applying through VONAPP to receive your CoE.

4. Apply for financial aid to help with costs not covered by VA benefits.

Once Enrolled

Students using a GI Bill must complete and submit the Enrollment Certification Request (ECR) form every semester after the student is registered. Students will not be certified until this form has been completed and received by SU’s Certifying Official.

The VA Certifying Official is the liaison between Shenandoah University and the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs. Certifying Officials are responsible for reporting student enrollment information, such as term dates, credit loads, probation, graduation and tuition to the VA, so that benefit payments may be disbursed.

Students whose benefits come through the Department of Defense or directly through any of the military branches should see their military educational officer for information on how to obtain educational benefits.

Shenandoah University will submit invoices to Military Benefit Programs upon receipt of written authorization. Written authorization should be submitted to the Business Office.

For additional information, please contact the Registrar’s Office at (540) 665-5585 and ask to speak with a VA Certifying Official or by email to registrar@su.edu.

Veteran Advocates

Two faculty members serve as advocates for veterans and military students enrolled at SU. Areas of assistance include:

• Fielding questions about VA educational benefits
• Directing students to the right contact on campus
• Assisting students with completing VA forms
• Assisting students with contacting the VA with specific benefit-related issues

RETENTION OF STUDENT RECORDS

Official student academic records at Shenandoah University are defined as those records maintained and secured by the registrar:

Official Student Academic Transcript

Student SU transcripts are kept permanently. The official student academic transcript is now stored electronically. In the past, Shenandoah University maintained academic transcripts in hard copy for a period of 10 years after graduation or date of last attendance, after which time it was stored electronically. Files containing a hard copy may be retained for a period of up to 10 additional years, depending upon space availability, after which time it is destroyed by shredding or incineration.

Since 1986, permanent student records have been maintained in electronic or machine-readable format. Backups are done automatically on a daily basis by Institutional Computing. Permanent backup tapes are made at the end of each fall and spring semester. Copies retained on magnetic media are destroyed by magnetic erasure or incineration.

All hard copies of permanent student records are stored in a locked, fireproof vault in the Office of the Registrar or in fireproof filing cabinets in that office or at a secure off-campus location. Computer tapes and a duplicate copy of the micrographic forms are also stored in the vault.

Consent to Release Education Records and Request to Withhold Directory Information forms, if received, are also kept as part of the student’s permanent record.

Other documents germane to the official student academic record that are retained for a period of 10 years after graduation or the date of last attendance include:

- Academic actions authorizations (suspension, dismissal, course substitution/waiver approvals, dean’s list letters, etc.)
- Acceptance letters
- Address change authorizations
- Advanced placement records (AP, CLEP, IB, etc.)
- Application for Admission or Readmission
- Correspondence
- Credit by Examination forms
- Curriculum Change forms
- Degree Audit/Completion forms
- Entrance Examination Reports (SAT, ACT, CEEB, PRAXIS, TOEFL, etc.)
- Graduation Clearance Forms
- Name change authorizations
- Registration forms
Schedule Adjustment forms (Drop/Add, Withdrawal, etc.)
Student Enrollment Certifications/Verifications
Transcripts from high schools, other colleges and universities
Transfer credit evaluations
Withdrawal forms

Electronic Evaluations by PharmCAS, PTCAS, OTCAS and CASPA will be maintained in the Official Record minus the student essay and letters of recommendation, which will be shredded once the student is admitted.

Files related to military benefits are kept for a period of three years after the last term of completed coursework or graduation.

The following documents are maintained for a period of one year after receipt:

  - Student transcript requests

The following documents are maintained until a student is admitted:

  - Audition reports (top portion retained by Conservatory as required by accreditation agency with comment portion detached and shredded)
  - Letters of recommendation

In addition to the student records defined as permanent and maintained in the Office of the Registrar, the university offices listed below maintain and keep records specific to those offices from one year to infinity. The retention and disposal records of each of the offices are available and can be viewed in the Academic Enrichment Center.

STUDENT LIFE POLICIES

Student Code of Conduct

Introduction
Shenandoah University is an inviting, creative, high-energy, principled community where students are educated and inspired. As members of the Shenandoah community, students:

• develop an enduring passion for learning,
• commit themselves to self-reflection and personal development,
• respect diverse cultures, experiences and perspectives,
• celebrate creative performance, expression, teaching and discovery,
• cultivate leadership to advance positive change and growth and
• dedicate themselves to citizenship, professional service and global outreach.

Students who are fully engaged in the Shenandoah community become alumni who are:

• critical, reflective thinkers,
• lifelong learners and
• ethical, compassionate citizens committed to making responsible contributions within a community, a nation and the world.

To promote and protect the high standards of the Shenandoah University community, the Student Code of Conduct outlines every student’s rights and responsibilities and establishes just and compassionate procedures for resolving student conduct issues. The procedures have been developed for the benefit of the entire community. Students who choose not to abide by the Student Code of Conduct are accountable for their choices. The conduct resolution process and conduct sanctions are designed so students will learn from their mistakes and develop in their maturity. Serious or repeated violations – indicating a refusal to uphold university policies, contracts or regulations – will ultimately result in a student’s suspension or dismissal from Shenandoah University. Consistently upholding the expectations of the Student Code of Conduct results in graduates who live up to the name Shenandoah: sons and daughters of the stars.

General Guidelines
1. The Office of the Vice President for Student Life, through its various departments, is responsible for administering the Student Code of Conduct. The vice president for student life (or designee) may establish or amend procedural regulations governing the handling of disciplinary matters, and these regulations may be published online, in print or by other reasonable means of notification. The vice president for student life (or designee) has authority for any interpretation of the Student Code of Conduct and/or accompanying procedures as deemed necessary.

2. The university may initiate conduct proceedings with a student whose behavior does not conform to established standards regardless of whether such conduct occurred on or off campus. Being under the influence of alcohol or drugs, or both, or the existence of other mental impairment, does not alter the fact or excuse behavior that constitutes a violation of the Student Code of Conduct. The Student Code of Conduct is applicable immediately after a student is enrolled at Shenandoah University throughout his/her entire matriculation. The Student Code of Conduct is applicable for guests of students as well, and Shenandoah student hosts are accountable for the misconduct of their guests.

3. The university may initiate a complaint, serve as complainant and initiate conduct proceedings against a student at any time, even in the absence of a formal complaint by an alleged victim of misconduct.

4. An officially recognized student group or organization and its officers may be held responsible for violations of the Student Code of Conduct when particular misconduct received the tacit or explicit consent or encouragement of the club or organization, or of the club’s or organization’s leaders, officers or spokespersons. Under such circumstances, official recognition of the student club or organization may be temporarily or permanently rescinded by the university.

5. For student conduct matters, electronic mail (email) is the official method of communication and notification from university officials to members of the student body. As university students are responsible for viewing their email every day, all conduct notifications will be electronically communicated.

6. Conduct proceedings are internal to the university and are not an extension of any external conduct system. University conduct procedures are fundamentally fair to students, but are notably different from those used in a civil or criminal proceeding. In addition, the university may initiate conduct proceedings with a student regardless of pending civil or criminal action involving the same or a different set of factual circumstances. University conduct action may proceed before, simultaneous with, or after external investigative or judicial action, and university action is not bound, impeded or otherwise affected by any action taken by external authorities.

7. At Shenandoah University, the functions of the chief hearing officer are exercised by the director of residence life & student conduct. The vice president for student life serves as the chief judicial affairs officer. The function of the vice president for student life may be delegated to designees who are members of the university administration and who shall exercise the necessary functions on behalf of the director of residence life & student conduct and the vice president for student life. All references to director of residence life and student conduct and vice president for student life in these procedures include such designees. University conduct outcomes are determined by preponderance of evidence that it is more likely or more likely than not that a conduct violation occurred.

8. Students with complaints involving sexual misconduct and other forms of discriminatory harassment are encouraged to report their concerns to the university’s Title IX Coordinator. Please refer to the Sexual Misconduct Policy section of this catalog for comprehensive policy and procedures including definitions, the complaint policy and the appeals process.
Student's Rights

Students and student organizations reported for alleged violations of the Student Code of Conduct as outlined in this document have a right to the following:

1. written notice of allegation(s) citing the time and place of the alleged violation in the form of a charge letter;
2. resolution of allegation(s) in accordance with the Student Code of Conduct policies as herein outlined;
3. at least 48 hours notice of the time and place of a hearing;
4. review of the reported information that serves as the basis for the allegation(s);
5. assistance from an adviser (any faculty, staff or student currently affiliated with the university) and;
6. written notice of the hearings and appeals decision from the conduct official.

Additionally, students and student organizations have the right to appeal the conduct official’s ruling. All appeals should be delivered via email to the Office of the Director of Residence Life & Student Conduct (or designee) within 72 hours of written notification of the sanction.

Students and student organizations can expect confidentiality regarding the outcome of their hearing – except for the reporting party’s right to be informed of the conduct official’s decision – and any subsequent appeal.

The person reporting a violation of the Student Code of Conduct has the right to the following:

1. consult with a conduct official (other than the one assigned to hear the case) during preparation for a hearing,
2. at least 48 hours notice of the time and place of a hearing;
3. participation in the hearing in person or via telephone or video conference;
4. assistance from an adviser (any faculty, staff or student currently affiliated with the university) and;
5. notice of the hearings and appeals decision from the conduct official.

Additionally, the person who reported a violation has the right to appeal the conduct official's decision. All appeals should be delivered in writing to the Office of the Director of Residence Life & Student Conduct (or designee) within five (5) business days of written notification of the sanction.

Definitions of Inappropriate and Prohibited Conduct

The following behaviors and definitions constitute the official record of general Student Code of Conduct rules and regulations at Shenandoah University. All applicable housing and residence life policies and regulations (including the housing contract) also fall within action of this code. In an effort to reinforce accountability for one’s actions, individual students and student organizations are responsible for understanding and abiding by these rules and regulations as well as all federal, state and local laws.
academic dishonesty – For a complete understanding of the term “academic dishonesty,” read the Honor Code under Academic Policies. Academic dishonesty is actionable through the Honor Code.

accessory – Aiding another person or being involved in any violation of the Student Code of Conduct; being present or failing to immediately leave a situation in which a violation is occurring or is about to occur.

alcohol – Since alcohol and drug use are governed by national social policy as well as state and federal law, and as the use and abuse of such substances are frequently associated with harm to self and others, Shenandoah University takes alcohol and drug violations seriously. All known offenders face conduct charges and may be subject to arrest. All known violations of the alcohol and drug policies fall under Shenandoah University’s progressive discipline system in which succeeding violations entail more serious consequences, including possible suspension and dismissal from the university.

Possessing or using alcoholic beverages by any student (or guest of a student) under the age of 21 is prohibited; possessing or using alcoholic beverages by any student in areas where alcohol is not permitted is prohibited; and providing alcohol to anyone under the age of 21 is prohibited. Additionally, possessing common containers or implements – including but not limited to kegs, branded bottles and beer-pong balls – on university property; being intoxicated in public; having open containers of alcohol in an unlicensed public place; transporting unconcealed or open alcohol containers in public on Shenandoah University property; violating local and state alcohol laws; and serving alcohol to students on university property and/or at off-campus university-sponsored events without prior approval from the vice president for student life are prohibited.

animals/pets – Possessing any animal in university buildings – other than properly attended assistance animals for individuals with disabilities or fish in tanks holding 10 gallons of water or less – is prohibited. Authorized exceptions are made regarding animals contained for academic research. Outdoors, all pets are to be properly leashed and attended to while on campus, and all solid waste must be disposed of properly. Any type of animal abuse is prohibited – including but not limited to hurting or abandoning an animal and/or using an animal in a prank whether it be living or dead.

balconies/rooftops (unauthorized use of) – Climbing on or utilizing rooftops or the elevated balconies of campus property is prohibited.

bicycles, mopeds, skateboards, skates (inappropriate use of) – Bicycle racks are located at each residence hall and many academic buildings, therefore individuals may not secure bikes or mopeds to fire hydrants, light poles, street signs, etc., or any place where a chained bicycle obstructs or impedes pedestrian or vehicular traffic, including handrails, corridor railings, doorways and handicapped access ways. Motorized bicycles (mopeds) are not to be driven on lawns or sidewalks. Skateboards are permitted only on sidewalks and parking lots unless otherwise posted.

breaking the law – Violating any federal, state or local law will result in being charged by local law enforcement and under the terms of the university’s Code of Conduct.

building/facilities (unauthorized use of) – Using any university property or facility without authorization or permission is unacceptable.
bullying – Any repeated and pervasive written, verbal or electronic expression, physical act or gesture, or a pattern thereof, that is intended to cause distress to one or more individuals. Bullying includes, but is not limited to: hazing, harassment, intimidation or menacing acts that may, but not need be, based on the individual’s race, color, sex, ethnicity, national origin, religion, disability, age or sexual orientation.

criminal record (acknowledging one’s) – Failing to report one’s federal or state probation, felony criminal charges or conviction of a felony to the vice president for student life within 15 business days following registration throughout one’s duration as a student with Shenandoah University may result in expulsion from the institution.

disorderly conduct – Disrupting the normal functions of the Shenandoah University community on or off campus – including, but not limited to behavior that breaches the peace, violates the rights of others or constitutes a public nuisance – is prohibited.

endangering conduct – Acting in a way that imperils or jeopardizes the health or safety of one’s self or others is considered prohibited conduct.

event promotion (inappropriate and/or unauthorized) – Publicizing an event before scheduling confirmation has been completed and proper approval has been received is prohibited. Additionally, hanging advertisements, posters, etc., without receiving approval from the student life information coordinator in the Office of Student Life is unacceptable.

failure to comply – Disobeying or impeding the directions of university officials or those appointed to act on behalf of the university in the performance of their duties – including but not limited to failing to follow the guidelines of sanctioned programs, failure to show identification (I.D. card) or providing false information upon request of university official who identifies themselves, refusal to attend a disciplinary hearing – are “failure to comply.” Three charges of non-compliance become a Failure to Comply charge that may result in suspension. (See also non-compliance.)

failure to evacuate – Failing to immediately exit a university building when a fire alarm or other emergency sounds is a violation.

failure to inform guests – Failing to inform guests – both student and non-student – of university policies is unacceptable. Shenandoah University students are required to escort their guests at all times and are responsible for their guests’ actions while on campus.

failure to report health and/or safety violations – Failing to immediately report any serious health or safety risk to the Department of Public Safety, the Office of Student Life or, when the danger is immediate and severe, the Winchester City Police, is a violation.

fire and/or emergency threat – Starting a fire, arson, creating a fire hazard, setting off the fire alarm system, making a bomb threat or creating a false emergency of any kind are prohibited. Tampering with fire alarms, smoke detectors, extinguishers or any emergency equipment is prohibited.

fireworks and explosive devices – Possessing, storing or using fireworks or explosives of any kind on university property are prohibited; this includes hazardous chemicals that could pose a health risk either by themselves or in conjunction with other chemicals.

gambling – Gambling is against Virginia General Assembly legislation. A person or organization is guilty of illegal gambling if she/he operates, plays or bets at any game of chance at which any money, property or other thing of value is won.

harassment – Physical and verbal bullying, cyber-bullying and intimidation in any form – including but not limited to curses, epithets or slurs – that creates potential or present danger of violence and/or breach of the peace is prohibited. (See also verbal abuse.)

hazing – Encouraging, facilitating or allowing hazing by any organization or individual on behalf of an organization or group recognized or not by the university – is prohibited. “Hazing” is any action or situation requiring inappropriate behavior, creating an atmosphere of servitude or allowing potentially dangerous, demeaning, humiliating, ridiculing or degrading activities regardless of intent or consent of the participant(s), by a group(s) or a member of a group(s) on an individual as a part of membership or initiation.

illegal drugs – Possessing, using, distributing, sharing, manufacturing or selling any controlled substance or illegal drug as well as drug residue and/or possessing paraphernalia associated with drugs is prohibited. Distribution of any controlled substances, regardless of the exchange of money or services, typically results in dismissal from the institution.

infringing on the rights of others – All pranks and/or careless and irresponsible behavior that cause, or have the potential to cause, damage to university or personal property, cause personal injuries or infringe on the rights of others are unacceptable. Such behaviors include, but are not limited to: water fights, shaving cream fights or tampering with another’s property. No objects are permitted to be thrown or projected against the exterior of any university building.

invasion of privacy – Transmitting, recording or photographing the image or voice of another person without his/her knowledge or consent while in an environment that is considered private or where there is an expectation of privacy such as a residence hall or bathroom is prohibited.

lewd, obscene and/or indecent behavior – Conducting one’s self in any way that is offensive to accepted standards of decency is prohibited. Examples include, but are not limited to, indecent exposure, public nudity, public urination and defecation.

littering – Improperly disposing of trash of any kind – including tobacco products – is inappropriate.

lying – A misrepresentation or distortion of the truth that misleads another person(s) is inappropriate. Furnishing false information, verbally or in writing, to any university representative with the intent to deceive, or altering or misusing any official documents is violation of university policy. Dishonesty includes the transfer of an identification card to another person or the alteration of an I.D. card. Possession or presentation of a false I.D. card to a student or university official is also a violation.

noise – Violating the noise policy while on campus is prohibited. Please see the noise policy for additional information.

non-compliance – Failing to comply with the directions of university officials or those appointed to act on behalf of the university in the performance of their duties– including but not limited to failing to follow the guidelines of sanctioned programs, failure to show identification (I.D. card) or providing false information upon request of university official who identifies themselves, refusal to attend a disciplinary hearing – are “failure to comply.” Three charges of non-compliance become a Failure to Comply charge that may result in suspension. (See also failure to comply.)
objects dropped, thrown or propelled – Causing an object to fall from buildings or other elevated areas is prohibited.

parking – Detailed parking regulations can be found online at www.su.edu. Use the search bar and enter “parking.”

physical abuse – Any action that causes physical injury or physical discomfort to another is prohibited, including threats of violence, which are actions or speech used to express or suggest intent to physically injure an individual or cause a person to have a reasonable belief harm may occur.

property damage – Damaging or destroying university property or the property of others is prohibited.

sexual misconduct – Engaging in any sexual behavior without consent – including sexual conduct that occurs after consent has been withdrawn – is prohibited. Sexual misconduct encompasses a wide scope of behavior that includes, but is not limited to, non-consensual sexual intercourse (or attempts to commit the same), non-consensual sexual contact (or attempts to commit the same), sexual exploitation, sexual harassment, relationship violence and stalking. Sexual harassment can also include making unwelcomed sexual advances, requesting sexual favors or engaging in other verbal and physical conduct of a sexual nature exists when at least one of the following conditions is met:

1. Submission to such conduct is made explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual’s employment or academic status in a course, program or activity; or verbal misconduct, without accompanying physical contact as described above may constitute sexual harassment, which is also prohibited under university regulations.
2. Submission to, or rejection of, such conduct by an individual is used as a basis for employment or academic decisions affecting such individual; or
3. Such conduct that creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive environment that substantially interferes with an employee’s work performance or a student’s ability to participate in or benefit from the university’s programs or activities.

Students with complaints involving sexual misconduct are encouraged to report their concerns to the university’s Title IX Coordinator. Please refer to the Sexual Misconduct Policy section for comprehensive policy and procedures including definitions, the complaint policy and the appeals process.

smoking – Smoking in any university buildings – including restrooms, residence halls and residence hall rooms or within 30 feet of any entrance or window where smoke can enter a building – is prohibited. Smoking is defined as the lighting or burning of any pipe, cigar, cigarette, or other tobacco product. Shenandoah University is committed to providing a safe, healthy and pleasant learning and work environment for its students and employees.

solicitation – Any type of door-to-door sale, solicitation or distribution that inconveniences, harasses or annoys other members of the university community is prohibited. Solicitations not in accordance with federal, state or local law or without the permission of the director of student engagement or the director of residence life & student conduct may not be conducted. Organizations and/or individuals who are not affiliated with the university may not conduct solicitations or distribute information on campus or in any Shenandoah University building without permission from the Director of Student Engagement.
stealing and/or possessing unauthorized material – Taking property belonging to another person(s) without authorization or through unlawful appropriation or possession is prohibited. No student shall steal, attempt to steal, or assist in the theft of any service, money, property, or item of value not belonging to him or her. No student will illegally use or appropriate any property not belonging to him or her. Possession of the property of another, of the university, or of any organization or institution without proper authorization is a violation of this policy.

student I.D. (failure to carry) – Failing to carry a valid Shenandoah University I.D. card at all times when on university property is unacceptable. Transferring and or duplicating a university I.D. card is prohibited. Additionally, an I.D. card must be provided upon request to any individual acting on behalf of the university in the performance of his/her official duties. (See failure to comply.)

trespassing – Refusing to leave an area as directed by an authorized university official is considered trespassing. Any unauthorized individual entering a university-operated building which has been closed or locked shall be guilty of trespassing. No student shall enter or remain in a private room, office, or restricted area under the control of another student, faculty member, or university official, except by permission or invitation of the resident student or the appropriate Shenandoah official or faculty member.

vandalism – Graffiti, cutting, defacing or other damages to personal or university property is prohibited.

vehicles (inappropriate use of) – Driving motorized vehicles is restricted to roads and parking lots on campus unless authorized by the Department of Public Safety to be on sidewalks or landscaped areas. Keeping an unregistered motor vehicle on campus is prohibited.

verbal abuse – Directing obscene, profane language or abusive verbal conduct toward another person or group of people is prohibited. (See also harassment.)

violating other university regulations – Violating the rules or regulations of any Shenandoah University department or program – including but not limited to athletic events, computer technology, conservatory events and residence life – is prohibited.

violence/attempted violence – No student shall engage in any form of violence directed towards another person or group of people. Responding to violence with violence is a violation of this policy. A violation of this policy is defined as a Class 1 misdemeanor punishable by up to 1 year in jail and/or a fine of up to $2,500. Attempting to cause injury to an individual is also prohibited.

weapons – Possessing, storing or using firearms, ammunition, projectiles, sharp tools such as knives, axes and hatchets as well as objects designed to cause physical harm and replicas of weapons on Shenandoah University property is prohibited. Weapon is defined as any object or substance designed or used to inflict a wound or with the potential to cause injury or incapacitate another person.
Conduct Procedures

Although most alleged violations are documented by the members of the Department of Public Safety and/or members of the Office of Residence Life & Student Conduct, any individual who is aware of a violation of the Student Code of Conduct may submit a report to the Office of the Vice President for Student Life, the Office of Residence Life & Student Conduct and/or the Department of Public Safety. Reports should be submitted as soon as possible, but preferably within five (5) days of the incident.

Reports should contain a complete description of the incident with the names of all parties involved as participants or witnesses. The university may pursue a complaint when a violation of the Student Code of Conduct harms salaried employees, university guests or neighbors or if witnesses are unwilling to pursue the matter.

The Student Code of Conduct applies to student organizations as well as to individual students. Whenever a complaint is filed, the director of residence life & student conduct (or designee) will review the complaint to determine the degree to which a group or individual may be responsible for the actions leading to the complaint. If it is determined an organization is responsible for a violation of the Student Code of Conduct, the Director of Residence Life & Student Conduct (or designee) will take appropriate actions with respect to the organization as well as the individuals involved.

Interim Suspension:
If a student’s continued presence in class or on campus endangers university property, the physical safety or well being of other members of the campus community, affects his/her physical or emotional safety or well-being or disrupts the educational process of the community, the vice president for student life (or designee) may invoke an interim suspension. An interim suspension is an immediate temporary suspension from the university pending a hearing.

Notification of Charges
A student will receive written notification of alleged violations of the Student Code of Conduct. The student must respond to the notice of charges within the time frame outlined in the notification. Note: The university’s primary means of communication with students is through Shenandoah University email accounts. Students are responsible for reading and responding to email from university officials. Failure to respond, and/or attend the scheduled meeting will result in an additional charge of non-compliance. Three or more non-compliance charges may result in suspension as it is then considered failure to comply (The definition section of this document explains non-compliance and failure to comply.)

Methods of Resolution
The director of residence life & student conduct (or designee) will review cases submitted for the conduct resolution procedures. If the director of residence life & student conduct (or designee) determines charges are appropriate, the student will be notified of the alleged violation and the appropriate resolution procedure. There are several resolution procedures outlined below:
1. Conduct Conversation
A Conduct Conversation may be offered for first-time minor offenses for which one-on-one mediation is feasible. The alleged violations will be referred to the appropriate conduct official, who will contact the accused student(s) and attempt to resolve the case via a Conduct Conversation. During the Conduct Conversation, the accused student(s) and the conduct official will discuss the incident and alleged violations. If a student accepts responsibility, a verbal warning is the typical outcome. The case may be expunged upon graduation.

If, during the course of the Conduct Conversation, the conduct official determines the nature of the violation(s) is more serious than anticipated, the conduct official may either hear the case – with the permission of the accused student – or refer the case to the director of residence life & student conduct (or designee) for a Conduct Hearing.

2. Conduct Hearing
A Conduct Hearing is the basic method of resolution for all offenses that warrant sanctions. Typical sanctions include formal warnings, probation, fines, community service, community restitution, referral for counseling and/or educational tasks.

If, during the course of a Conduct Hearing, the conduct official determines the nature of the violation is more serious than anticipated, the case may be referred in favor of a hearing before the Community Conduct Council.

Students have the right to appeal decisions made during a Conduct Hearing via the director of residence life & student conduct, who will serve as the appellate officer. In certain instances, the case may be referred to the Community Conduct Council by appellate officer. (See the Appeal Process for more details.)

3. Community Conduct Council
In some cases, the director of residence life & student conduct (or designee) may determine the most appropriate process is a Community Conduct Council, which consists of three students, one staff member, and the assistant director of residence life & student conduct (or designee) serving as the adviser. A full range of sanctions is available in this procedure, including recommendations for suspension and/or dismissal. (See the Community Conduct Council Process for more details.)

Students have the right to appeal decisions made by the Community Conduct Council. (See the Appeal Process for more details.)

4. Expedited Hearing
If a student’s continued presence on campus endangers university property, the physical safety or well-being of other members of the campus community, affects his/her physical or emotional safety or well-being or disrupts the educational process of the community, the director of residence life & student conduct (or designee) may request an expedited hearing. An expedited hearing convenes immediately, usually within 48 hours.

5. Alternative Resolution
Students may be given the option of entering into an alternative dispute resolution processes. The director of residence life & student conduct typically utilizes Alternative Resolution when the case is well suited for rich educational outcomes and/or when parties have vested interest or need to restore the relationship. Information on the process, how it works, what it can and cannot do and how to initiate mediation is available through the director of residence life & student conduct.
Community Conduct Council Procedures

1. All parties involved in a hearing may review available written evidence in the case file before the hearing at a pre-hearing meeting with the presiding Conduct Official.

2. The Community Conduct Council chair will conduct the hearing according to the following procedures:
   a. The chair will inform the accused student(s) of the alleged violation(s).
   b. The accused student(s) will acknowledge whether they are responsible or not responsible for the violation(s).
   c. The person(s) reporting the violation(s) and witnesses (if any) will have the opportunity to make opening statements and offer their account of the incident.
   d. The accused student(s) and their witnesses (if any) will have the opportunity to make opening statements and offer their account of the incident.
   e. The reporting person(s) and the accused student(s) may question each other and any witnesses.
   f. The chair and Community Conduct Council members may question the reporting person(s), the accused student(s) and/or any witnesses.
   g. The reporting person(s) and the accused student(s) may make closing statements. In cases in which the reporting person(s) or accused student(s) fail to appear, the chair may modify these procedures.

3. All Community Conduct Councils shall be conducted in accordance with the standards of fair process. Specifically, the accused student(s) should be informed of the nature of the charges against him/her be given a fair opportunity to refute the charges and the opportunity to appeal the decision. Any conduct official who feels he/she cannot be impartial in a given case shall recuse himself/herself and shall be replaced by another Community Conduct Council member.

4. The assistant director of residence life & student conduct (or designee) may require the cooperation of any member of the university community in furnishing testimony or evidence directly related to the resolution of a case. However, no member of the university staff with whom an accused student has entered into a confidential relationship can be required to give information arising from that relationship without the permission of the accused student. Furthermore, the conduct official shall excuse a witness if the conduct official concludes that by giving testimony the witness may be endangered.

5. The assistant director of residence life & student conduct (or designee) will generate a written summary of findings for all hearings. Full hearings will also be tape-recorded. Written summaries of findings will be maintained with the case file. Tape recordings of the hearing are to be used by the board during deliberations and/or an appellate review. Tape recordings may be destroyed after the appeal process is complete.

6. Student conduct records are confidential and are available only to persons who have permission from the student. Limited conduct information may be shared with other Shenandoah University administrators and faculty members who have a legitimate need to know.
7. All hearings are closed to the general public.

8. If an accused student fails to appear for a scheduled hearing, the hearing may be decided in his/her absence. The director of residence life & student conduct (or designee) will hear the case based on the available information. The university will not necessarily drop charges of misconduct if an accused student leaves Shenandoah University for any reason (e.g., voluntary withdrawal, required resignation, separation or dismissal).

9. An accused student may bring an adviser to a hearing. The adviser must be a member of the university community and can include a student, a faculty member or a university administrator. During the hearing, the adviser may only advise during recesses granted by the conduct official and may clarify procedural questions before, during or after the hearing.

10. The conduct official will make decisions about responsibility and sanction(s). The decisions regarding responsibility shall be based on the evidentiary standard of “preponderance of evidence,” meaning the conduct official determines if it is more likely than not the alleged violation occurred.

11. The university requires the conduct official(s), Community Conduct Council members and administrative staff maintain confidentiality regarding conduct matters. Individual(s) who report the alleged violation(s) may be informed of the conduct official’s decision. Information about assigned sanctions will be shared with reporting parties as deemed appropriate by the director of residence life & student conduct (or designee). The vice president for student life may share information about conduct charges, findings and sanctions with university personnel who, at the discretion of the director of residence life & student conduct or vice president for student life, have a legitimate need to know.

Appeal Process

A student found responsible for a violation of university policy during a Student Conduct Hearing or through a Community Conduct Council may request an appeal for one of the following reasons:

a. insufficient information that a policy was violated;

b. a serious procedural error in resolving the case and/or;

c. sanction inappropriate for the violation.

A request for an appeal to the director of residence life & student conduct (or designee) must be made in writing within 72 hours of receipt of the original written decision. A decision typically will be rendered within 10 business days, unless the sanction includes suspension or dismissal. After review, the director of residence life and student conduct (or designee) may either:

a. affirm the finding(s) of the original hearing authority;

b. reverse the finding(s) of the original hearing authority;

c. alter the sanction(s) of the original hearing authority (and, if altered, sanctions may be made more or less severe); or

d. refer the case to an appeal hearing.
A subsequent appeal, which is permitted only in cases in which suspension or dismissal are assigned in a Conduct Hearing, must be submitted to the vice president for student life (or designee) within 48 hours of the alleged violator receiving the previous appeal decision in writing. The vice president for student life (or designee) may either:

a. affirm the finding(s) of the original hearing authority;
b. reverse the finding(s) of the original hearing authority;
c. alter the sanction(s) of the original hearing authority (and, if altered, sanctions may be made more or less severe); or
d. uphold the appeal decision made by the director of residence life and student conduct (or designee).

The decision of the vice president for student life (or designee) on all hearing appeals resulting in suspension or dismissal is the final decision for Shenandoah University. The decision of the director of residence life & student conduct (or designee) on all other appeals is the final decision for Shenandoah University.

Conduct Findings

Found Responsible
The accused student is responsible for a violation of the Student Code of Conduct as charged.

Found Not Responsible
The accused student is not responsible for a violation of the Student Code of Conduct.

Conduct Sanctions

Reasons for Sanctioning
A sanction is a consequence placed upon a student for violating the Student Code of Conduct. The purposes of imposing sanctions are twofold: to protect the university community from behavior that is detrimental to the health, safety and educational mission; and to assist students in understanding what it means to be accountable for their actions and/or what the consequences may be for future behavior.

All students who are sanctioned will be treated with equal consideration, and all circumstances involved in an incident will be considered in sanctioning, as each individual case is unique. In addition, a student charged as an accessory may be subject to the same sanction(s) as a perpetrator of the actual violation.

Repeat Violations
Shenandoah University employs a progressive discipline system in which succeeding violations may entail more serious consequences, including possible suspension and dismissal from the university.
Sanctions Related to Group Behavior

In addition to recommending other sanctions such as educational assignments, community restitution, fines, etc., the vice president for student life, director of residence life & student conduct (or designee) may recommend the imposition of the following sanctions:

a. a written disciplinary warning with a copy maintained in the conduct file. The warning may specify corrective measures that can help the group avoid similar issues in the future;

b. disciplinary probation for a period to be established by the conduct official, implying the group’s standing within the university is in jeopardy and that further negligent or willful violations will normally result in suspension of university recognition. Disciplinary probation may include restrictions on the group’s functions during the probationary period. The group should also be informed of corrective measures that must be undertaken during the probationary period and maintained after its conclusion and/or;

c. suspension of university recognition – a group desiring to reestablish a relationship with Shenandoah University must re-apply for recognition by the university through the vice president for student life.

Possible Sanctions

A student may be sanctioned to one or more of the following depending on the seriousness of the violation. Sanctions are determined by a conduct official or Community Conduct Council.

additional stipulations: additional stipulations added to sanctions a student must complete and/or follow.

campus ban: student becomes persona non grata and is banned from being present on either the entire campus or specified areas of the campus.

community restitution project: includes work projects on or off campus.

conduct probation: period of self reflection during which a student is on official warning that subsequent violations of university rules, regulations or policies are likely to result in more severe sanctions, including suspension or dismissal from the university.

conduct suspension: temporarily canceling a student’s enrollment at Shenandoah University – with approval from the vice president for student life (or designee). A student cannot graduate while suspended. Once assigned this sanction, a student is immediately removed from classes and banned from university property. A student cannot enter university property during his/her term of suspension without prior permission from the vice president for student life (or designee). Any classes taken at another institution during this period of suspension cannot be transferred to Shenandoah University.

dismissal from the university: permanently canceling a student’s enrollment at Shenandoah University – with approval from the vice president for student life (or designee). The student cannot re-enroll or graduate from Shenandoah University. Once assigned this sanction, students are immediately removed from classes and banned from university property. A student cannot enter university property once dismissed without prior permission from the vice president for student life (or designee).

educational task: student must complete a task that benefits self, campus or community.
fines: monetary sanctions, although community service programs may be substituted for fines if approved by an appropriate administrator.

no-contact order: student is prohibited from having any direct or indirect contact or contact via a third-party with a particular person; violation may result in suspension.

other appropriate alternative sanction(s).

referral: mandates the student seek appropriate counseling or guidance.

relegation to final room selection: student loses the opportunity to participate in the annual room selection (lottery) process.

removal from university housing: required removal from university housing – with final approval from the director of residence life & student conduct (or designee) – and without the refund of room fees. Once assigned this sanction, a student must move within a designated time frame (usually 48 hours unless otherwise permitted by the director of residence life & student conduct), after which the removed student cannot enter university housing without permission from the director of residence life & student conduct (or designee).

removal of property: required removal of property.

restitution: reimbursement by the student to cover the cost of repair or replacement of damaged or misappropriated property.

restriction of activities or privileges: participation in any and/or all organized university activities other than required academic endeavors are restricted for a designated period of time.

university housing relocation: requires movement to another room, hall or quad – with approval from the director of residence life & student conduct (or designee) – and student must relocate in within 24 hours, after which the relocated student cannot enter the building from which he/she was removed throughout his/her term of probation without permission from the director of residence life & student conduct (or designee).

written warning: official record that a student has been warned about behavior.

Student Conduct Records
A record of conduct sanctions may have an impact upon a student’s ability to be elected to or participate in university leadership roles. Any student placed on conduct probation will be prohibited from participating in international study programs at least throughout the term of his/her probation. A student record must be reported on most law school applications, state bar examiner reports, medical school applications, some graduate school forms, some university transfer forms and, in some instances, job applications, particularly those for federal or state positions.

Retaining Records
Conduct records will be kept on file for 10 years from the date of the last case resolution or two years post-graduation, whichever comes later. Any student record with an outstanding sanction, suspension or dismissal will be kept indefinitely.
Release of Records

External release of records will occur in accordance with federal law.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, pertains to student educational records maintained by Shenandoah University. The Act allows students and parents of dependent students access to their educational records while also protecting their right to privacy by limiting the transferability of records without the students’ consent. The following guidelines are meant to assist all members of the Shenandoah community in understanding the provisions of the Act as they apply to Shenandoah University. FERPA rules are covered in greater depth under Academic Policies.

Release of Confidential Records

The university will not release educational records of current or former students unless a written statement authorizing such a release is received from the student. Exceptions to this policy include the following:

1. Faculty and staff members having a legitimate educational interest in the record.
2. Authorized federal and state officials in the process of administering educational programs.
3. Requirements in the administration of the Financial Aid Program.
4. Accrediting organizations carrying out their accrediting function.
5. Parents of a dependent student. Each student is considered financially dependent upon his/her parents if claimed as a dependent for federal income tax purposes. A certified copy of the parents’ most recent federal income tax return verifying the student’s dependency status must be provided to the Registrar’s Office annually.
6. Directory information. (See Academic Policies section.)
7. Organizations conducting studies on educational programs, provided the identity of the student is not revealed.
8. An emergency situation involving the health or safety of the student or other persons.
9. The university is in compliance with the Patriot Act.
10. The university will advise all recipients of student records that only authorized persons may view the records. Each university office will keep a record of all individuals requesting or receiving student records except as noted in Item 1 above.

Under FERPA, students control access to their academic records and grant access to those records to their parents and other third parties through written permission. Many students grant this access with general permission; others sign individual forms or written documents on a case-by-case basis. Under Virginia Law (Code of Virginia §23-9.2:3, amended July 2008), parents of students who are defined as “dependent” under U.S. Tax Code may be granted access to certain records by providing evidence of tax dependency and making a specific written request.
Should a parent need to view some part of his/her student’s academic record, the best approach is to talk with the student first. In most cases, he/she can show parents what they need to know. Another option is to ask the student to file blanket permission with the Registrar’s Office. This allows the university to talk with a parent about their student’s academic, financial and/or student conduct records.

As a last resort, a parent may use a Request for Release of Student Education Record to Parent form to request access to specific records with proof of tax dependency.

In case of a health and/or safety emergency, parents should contact the vice president for student life at (540) 665-4862 for immediate assistance, as different protocols apply to the release of student information in emergency situations.

For more detailed information concerning FERPA, please refer to “Protecting Student’s Privacy Rights” in the Academic Policies section.

Non-Academic Policies

Alcohol and Other Drugs Policy

Since alcohol and drug use are governed by national social policy as well as state and federal law, and as the use and abuse of such substances are frequently associated with harm to self and others, Shenandoah University takes alcohol and drug violations seriously. All known offenders face conduct charges and may be subject to arrest. All known violations of the alcohol and drug policies fall under Shenandoah University’s progressive discipline system in which succeeding violations entail more serious consequences, including possible suspension and dismissal from the university.

Possessing or using alcoholic beverages by any student (or guest of a student) under the age of 21 is prohibited; possessing or using alcoholic beverages by any student in areas where alcohol is not permitted is prohibited; and providing alcohol to anyone under the age of 21 is prohibited. Additionally, possessing common containers or implements – including but not limited to kegs, branded bottles and beer-pong balls – on university property; being intoxicated in public; having open containers of alcohol in an unlicensed public place; transporting unconcealed or open alcohol containers in public on Shenandoah University property; violating local and state alcohol laws; and serving alcohol to students on university property and/or at off-campus university-sponsored events without prior approval from the vice president for student life are prohibited.

Enforcement Practices

The use of alcoholic beverages on campus shall be in compliance with federal, Commonwealth and local laws. By law, violators of these and all laws concerning drug and alcohol use are subject to attest. Members of the Shenandoah community are responsible for knowing the laws governing their actions. Penalties determined by the courts for these violations include suspension of driver’s license, fines and imprisonment. The following regulations apply to the legal use of alcoholic beverages on campus by individuals and for approved social events:
A. Virginia Alcohol Regulations

1. The Commonwealth of Virginia prohibits the purchase, possession or consumption of all alcoholic beverages by persons under the age of 21. This is a Class I misdemeanor in which anyone found in violation would pay a fine of between $500 and $2,500 and/or perform a minimum of 50 hours of community work. The person’s driver’s license may be suspended for up to a year and he/she may be confined in jail for not more than 12 months.

2. It is a violation of state and federal law to purchase alcoholic beverages for, or to serve alcoholic beverages to a person under the age of 21. This is also a Class I misdemeanor. (See possible punishments above.)

3. Intoxication and/or damage to public or private property are against the laws of the Commonwealth and the regulations of Shenandoah. Intoxication is defined as a blood alcohol content of .08 percent or more and/or offensive, disruptive, destructive, hazardous and/or vulgar conduct during or following the consumption of alcohol.

4. It is unlawful to present false identification in order to purchase or consume alcohol and to give or permit to sell alcohol to persons under 21. Possible penalties include a $1,000 fine and/or 12 months in jail.

5. State of Virginia law prohibits the consumption of alcoholic beverages in unlicensed public places. One possible penalty is a fine of $100.

6. Virginia statutes prohibit public drunkenness and provide for the transporting of public inebriates to detoxification centers. Purchasing or possessing alcoholic beverages while intoxicated can result in a fine of $1,000 and/or 12 months in jail.

7. It is against Virginia law for anyone under the age of 21 to operate any motor vehicle after illegally consuming alcohol. Any such person with a blood alcohol concentration of 0.02 or more shall be punishable by forfeiture of the person’s driver’s license for a period of 6 months and a fine of up to $500.

8. Virginia law prohibits operation of motor vehicles while the operator has a blood alcohol concentration of 0.08 percent or more or while such a person is under the influence of any narcotic drug. Penalties for driving while intoxicated include fines, license revocation and jail sentences.

B. Virginia Drug Regulations

1. Under local, state and federal laws, it is unlawful to possess, use, manufacture, sell, give or distribute a controlled substance or an imitation controlled substance. Any person in violation with respect to a Schedule I or II controlled substance will be subject to fines and imprisonment.

2. It is against Virginia law to have drug paraphernalia. Drug paraphernalia is defined as all equipment, products and materials of any kind that are either designed for use or are intended by the person charged for use in planting, propagating, manufacturing, producing, processing, preparing, packaging, storing, concealing, injecting, inhaling, etc.
Regulations for Social Events

1. Social events where alcoholic beverages will be served must be approved in writing 72 hours in advance by the vice president for student life (or designee) and must be sponsored by recognized clubs or organizations. All such social events shall be closed to all but members of the Shenandoah community and their personally escorted guests.

2. Common source alcoholic beverage containers (e.g. kegs, beer balls, pony kegs, box wines and mixed alcohol punch in containers greater than 750 ml) or the amount of alcohol equivalent to a common source alcohol beverage container; whether empty or full are not permitted in any residence or any university owned or operated property without prior approval from the Division of Student Life.

3. The consumption of alcoholic beverages at social functions is limited to areas specifically approved by the vice president for student life (or designee).

4. Alternative nonalcoholic beverages must be available in sufficient quantity for those who choose not to consume alcohol. Food must also be available for the entire event.

5. The sponsoring organization (i.e., its members and officers) will be held responsible for violations of Shenandoah’s drug and alcohol policy and thus subject to disciplinary and/or civil action.

6. Alcohol service must be consistent with the Virginia ABC regulations.

Consequences

Shenandoah recognizes that drug or alcohol abuse may be symptomatic of a serious addiction and for this reason the sanctions and consequences of abuse may include assessment and the opportunity for counseling as part of the disciplinary action. Failure to comply with a recommended treatment program may result in dismissal from Shenandoah. Infractions of this drug and alcohol policy will be reported to the Office of Student Life for action.

Parent Notification Policy: Alcohol and Other Drugs

The Shenandoah University Alcohol and Other Drug policies and practices strive to educate and inspire students to be critical, reflective thinkers and empowers them to be ethical decision makers with attention to their own safety and the safety of the community. In keeping with its mission, Shenandoah informs and empowers students regarding the dangers associated with substance abuse and the improper or illegal use of alcohol or other drugs. In addition, the university intervenes to engage students who commit alcohol or drug-related infractions or who demonstrate a pattern of substance abuse.

In an effort to empower students and their families regarding decision making, Shenandoah has adopted this Parental Notification Policy pertaining to the illegal or improper use of alcohol or other drugs. Shenandoah will partner with parents – and other family members as appropriate – toward the goal of student success and community safety.

Minor First Offenses

Minor first alcohol offenses do not necessarily trigger notification. Minor infractions include but are not limited to:

- underage possession of alcohol underage consumption of alcohol open container of alcohol

In the case of a first offense for these minor violations, Shenandoah provides students educational resources and opportunities to change their behavior on their own. Most grow through the experience and change their behavior. The few who have subsequent violations deserve and require the shared attention of university and family.

Major or Subsequent Offenses
Behaviors that trigger parental notification are 1) major violations and 2) patterns of behavior.

The following parental notification practices apply when a student is claimed as a dependent by a parent for federal tax purposes or is under 21 years of age.

1) Major Violations
Whenever the Division of Student Life finds a Shenandoah student responsible for a major alcohol- or drug-related violation, the Division of Student Life will notify that student’s parent(s) or guardian(s).

Violations that trigger notifications under this major violation category include but are not limited to:
- arrest
- hospitalization
- driving under the influence
- public drunkenness
- supplying alcohol to those who are under age
- drug distribution
- unauthorized possession or use of controlled substances

2) Pattern of Behavior
Whenever the Division of the Student Life becomes aware that a Shenandoah student has engaged in a pattern of behavior involving the use of alcohol and/or drugs, the Division of Student Life will notify that student’s parent(s) or guardian(s). Violations that trigger notification under the pattern of behavior category include but are not limited to:
- frequent or severe episodes of alcohol use
- repeated drunkenness
- binge drinking

The Division of Student Life will make notifications under this policy unless the university, family or other circumstances make such notifications incompatible with the student’s best interests. The university relies on the professional judgment of its faculty and administrators when assessing each student’s situation. Students whose families or other circumstances make notification under this policy inappropriate will be immediately referred to the university’s professional counseling resources and its Behavioral Consultation Team.
When making a notification under this policy—time and circumstances permitting—the Student Life staff member will ordinarily encourage the student to participate in or make the initial call to his or her parent(s) or guardian(s). The staff member will follow through with a call directly to the student’s parent(s) or guardian(s).

Parental notification under this policy will be in addition to the intervention and education programs already offered to students when such violations are brought to the university’s attention. Intervention may include one or more of the following:

- substance abuse assessment by a trained clinician
- psychological assessment by a trained clinician
- substance abuse counseling
- enrollment in educational programs
- sanctions imposed for violations of Shenandoah University’s Code of Conduct.

A notification under this policy is authorized by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, 20 U.S.C. 1232g (FERPA), which permits the disclosure of information from education records to parents of dependent students. Shenandoah University reserves the right in its sole discretion to notify parents of alcohol- or drug-related incidents falling outside this policy to the extent permitted by FERPA or other applicable law.

Automobile Regulations

All automobiles and other vehicles must be registered with the Department of Public Safety in accordance with the university’s Parking Policy. All vehicles registered and parked on Shenandoah-owned or operated properties must display a current state license plate, inspection decal and a current Shenandoah University decal.

The privilege of having an automobile on campus may be revoked at any time by the vice president for student life (or designee) when it is determined this privilege is being abused.

Read the detailed Parking Policy at the Department of Public Safety’s website or pick up a copy from that office.

Bicycles and Motorized Bicycles

Motorized bicycles, commonly referred to as mopeds, shall not be parked in buildings or parked so as to block entranceways, and may not be driven on lawns or sidewalks. A person may not secure a bicycle to a fire hydrant, a pole, light pole or a device on which notice has been posted by the appropriate authorities forbidding the securing of bicycles.

Bicycles cannot be locked in any place where the securing of a bicycle would obstruct or impede vehicular traffic or pedestrian movement, including handrails, exit discharge areas and handicapped ramps or access ways. Violation of this policy may result in a fine of $20. When a bicycle is found parked in a manner that restricts emergency egress or handicapped access, it may be impounded or immobilized pending the identification of the owner and the issuance of a parking violation notice. Abandoned bicycles will be removed and discarded.
Camping and Shelter Construction

Construction of shelters, camping or sleeping out on Shenandoah-owned or operated properties is prohibited unless approved in writing by the vice president for student life.

Computer Misuse

A student who is found responsible of misusing a Shenandoah-owned computer or the Shenandoah-owned computer network shall be subject to the maximum sanction of dismissal or any lesser sanction deemed appropriate. This includes student using privately owned computers or equipment that accesses the university-owned network either on or off campus.

Below is a partial list of acts that would violate this policy:

• Committing computer fraud, creating false identities, forgery, harassment, personal abuse, trespassing, theft, embezzlement or invasion of privacy.

• Using the computer to examine, modify or copy programs or data other than one’s own without proper authorization.

• Distribution or interference with the normal use of the computers, computer-related equipment, data and programs of individuals, the network or the university.

• Attempts to breach security in any manner.

• Sending or displaying harassing messages through email, Facebook, text messaging or other electronic media. A harassing message is any message that is unsolicited, inappropriate or deemed harmful to the recipient.

• Use of computer account for any purpose other than which it was assigned.

For a complete list and full policy, contact the Institutional Computing Department.

Hazing (Virginia Law)

Pursuant to Section 18.2-56 of the Code of Virginia, voluntarily participation by members will not be admissible as defense against a charge of hazing.

Any person found guilty thereof shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor, unless the injury would be such as to constitute a felony, and in that event the punishment shall be inflicted as is otherwise provided by law for the punishment of such a felony. Any person receiving bodily injury by hazing or mistreatment shall have a right to sue, civilly, the person or persons guilty thereof, whether adults or infants.

Public Postings and Advertisements on Campus

Individuals, organizations and businesses that want to post printed material of any kind on Shenandoah University property or within Shenandoah-operated buildings must first obtain written approval from the student life information coordinator in the Brandt Student Center.
Religious Groups Policies and Guidelines

Guidelines for religious groups at Shenandoah are as follows:

1. The dean of spiritual life has responsibility for coordinating religious activities at Shenandoah. Religious groups that want to invite an off-campus religious leader to speak or minister on campus need to clear the visit with the Office of Spiritual Life.

2. Religious groups seeking formal recognition should notify, and receive permission from, the dean of spiritual life and follow established procedures for organizational recognition and registration.

Smoking

Smoking is prohibited in all university buildings, including residence halls and rooms. Smoking is defined as the lighting or burning of any pipe, cigar, cigarette or other tobacco product. Shenandoah University is committed to providing a safe, healthy and pleasant learning and work environment for its students and employees.

Smoking is prohibited within 30 feet of all building entrances.

Sales, Solicitation and Fundraisers

Individuals and student organizations planning to conduct sales, solicitations and fundraising activities on or off campus and/or requiring a contractual agreement with non-Shenandoah agencies, must obtain the written approval of the director of student engagement. Non-student and non-Shenandoah related individuals and organizations may not sell or solicit on Shenandoah University property without written authorization from the director of student engagement. No door-to-door solicitation is permitted.

Any authorized sales, solicitations and fundraising activities are subject to applicable Shenandoah University regulations and local, state and federal laws. Requests may be approved for a specific area on campus or for pre-approved off-campus-locations. No solicitation shall interfere or conflict with the mission of the Shenandoah University. Any profits derived from sales, solicitations and fundraising activities on and off campus must be used for a purpose consistent with Shenandoah University policy and with the purpose of the sponsoring student organization.

Sound Amplification Equipment

Various student-organized programs require the use of sound amplification equipment. Shenandoah reserves the right to specify where and when such amplification equipment may be used. Permission and specification for use of sound amplification equipment on campus must be obtained from the Office of Student Engagement.

Unauthorized Use of University Property or Documents

No student shall use, possess, or sell any parking permit, student I.D., keys or official Shenandoah documents that were issued by Shenandoah to another individual.
Non-Discrimination Statement
Shenandoah University values the unique and diverse perspectives of individuals and communities locally and globally and seeks to foster mutual understanding in an inviting community where individuals are welcome and respected. The university does not discriminate on the basis of sex, race, color, religion, national or ethnic origin, age, physical or mental disability, veteran status or sexual orientation.

As a recipient of federal funds, the university complies with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (Title IX). Title IX provides that “No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving federal financial assistance.”

The university is committed to educating, preventing and responding to behavior that violates its non-discrimination policy. Any individual whose conduct violates this policy will be subject to disciplinary action in accordance with Student Code of Conduct and other university regulations and policies.

Sexual Misconduct Policy
All members of the Shenandoah University community including guests and visitors have a reasonable expectation to be free from sexual discrimination in the form of sexual misconduct by any other member of the university community. Sexual misconduct encompasses a wide scope of behavior that includes but is not limited to non-consensual sexual intercourse, non-consensual sexual contact, sexual exploitation, sexual harassment, relationship violence and stalking.

Shenandoah University is committed to sustaining an environment in which students, faculty and staff members may pursue their academic careers and assignments without being subject to verbal or physical harassment of any kind. Individuals who are in positions of authority with respect to students or other employees may not use their status to exploit others.

Shenandoah University is committed to investigating reports of sexual misconduct, to adjudicate them according to the policies of the university, and to provide support to those who are involved.

Definitions
Consent is defined as the voluntary willingness between both parties to engage in mutually-agreed upon sexual activity without coercion, force or taking advantage of a person’s incapacitation. Both parties have the obligation to communicate consent or the lack of consent. A verbal “no” (no matter how indecisive) or resistance (no matter how passive) constitutes the lack of consent. Silence or lack of resistance does not infer consent. Consent to sexual activity may be withdrawn at any time through clear communication and at that time, if consent is withdrawn, all sexual activity must cease. Consenting to one sexual act does not automatically provide consent for additional sexual acts. Likewise, previous consent to sexual behaviors does not imply consent for future sexual acts.

Consent cannot be given by the following persons:

- Individuals who are mentally incapacitated at the time of the sexual contact in a manner that prevents them from understanding the nature or consequences of the sexual act involved

- Individuals who are unconscious or physically incapacitated
- Minors

Incapacitation is defined as the physical and/or mental inability to make informed, rational decisions that voids an individual’s ability to give consent. Incapacitation may be caused by a permanent or temporary physical or mental impairment. Incapacitation may also result from the consumption of alcohol or the use of both illegal and prescribed substances.

- The use of alcohol or drugs may, but does not automatically, affect a person’s ability to consent to sexual contact. The consumption of alcohol or drugs may create a mental incapacity if the nature and degree of the intoxication go beyond the stage of merely reduced inhibition and reach a point in which the victim does not understand the nature and consequences of the sexual act. In this event, the person cannot give consent.

- A violation of the Sexual Misconduct Policy includes having sexual contact with someone who is mentally incapacitated or has reached incapacitation due to the consumption of drugs or alcohol. A guideline to gauge another individual’s incapacitation is if another reasonable, sober person would know the individual in question’s incapacitation.

- The use of alcohol, drugs or other impairment does not minimize or excuse an accused individual’s responsibility or involvement in cases of sexual misconduct.

Coercion is defined as an unreasonable amount of pressure to engage in sexual activity. Coercive behavior is not the same as seduction. Coercion begins when a person continues to pressure another individual into sexual acts when it is clear that the person does not want to be seduced or convinced into engaging in sexual activity.

Force is defined as the use physical violence and/or imposing on someone physically to gain sexual access. Force can include, but is not limited to, threats, intimidation, implied threats, and coercion that overcome resistance or produce consent.

Intimidation is defined as intentional behavior that implies a threat. The threat could be both positive or negative. An example of a positive threat is, “If you sleep with me, I will invite you to a party.” An example of a negative threat is, “If you don’t sleep with me, I will ruin your reputation.”

Non-Consensual Sexual Contact involves any intentional sexual touching, however slight, with any object by a man or woman upon a man or a woman that is without consent and/or is by force.

Non-Consensual Sexual Intercourse involves any sexual intercourse, however slight, with any object by a man or woman upon a man or woman that is without consent and/or is by force. Intercourse is defined by penetration (anal, oral, vaginal) by a penis, tongue, finger or inanimate object.

Relationship Violence is the use of physical, emotional or sexually abusive behaviors to gain power or control in an intimate relationship.

Sexual Exploitation occurs when an individual takes sexual advantage of another person without consent. This includes but is not limited to causing or attempting to cause incapacitation of another individual for sexual purposes; prostitution of another person; videotaping, recording, photographing or transmitting, including electronically, intimate or sexual sounds or images of another person; allowing third parties to observe sexual acts; engaging in voyeurism; distributing intimate or sexual information about another person; invasion of sexual privacy; and knowingly transmitting a sexually transmitted infection, including HIV, to another person.

Sexual Harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when at least one of the following conditions are met:

1. Submission to such conduct is made explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual’s employment or academic status in a course, program or activity; or verbal misconduct, without accompanying physical contact as described above may constitute sexual harassment, which is also prohibited under university regulations.

2. Submission to, or rejection of, such conduct by an individual is used as a basis for employment or academic decisions affecting such individual; or

3. Such conduct that creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment that substantially interferes with an employee’s work performance or a student’s ability to participate in or benefit from the university’s programs or activities.

Examples of Sexual Harassment
Examples of physical and verbal conduct that may constitute sexual harassment may include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. A direct or implied threat that submission to sexual advances will be a condition of employment, promotion or grades.

2. A direct and unwanted proposal or subtle unwanted pressure to engage in sexual activity.

3. A pattern of conduct causing discomfort or humiliation, such as unnecessary touching, gestures of a sexual nature or remarks of a sexual nature, including comments about dress, jokes or anecdotes.

Sexual harassment does not include personal compliments, social interaction or relationships freely entered into by students, employees or prospective employees. However, the potential for sexual harassment, even in consensual relationships, must be recognized, especially in situations where a professional power differential exists (such as administrator/student, faculty/student, supervisor/employee). Sexual harassment does not include behavior that is considered to be appropriate to an academic discipline for the purpose of instruction or individual safety.

Sexual Misconduct is engaging in any sexual behavior without consent — including sexual conduct that occurs after consent has been withdrawn — which causes physical or emotional discomfort to the other person and is prohibited. Sexual misconduct can include, but is not limited to, incidents of sexual harassment, non-consensual sexual contact (or attempts to commit same), non-consensual intercourse (or attempts to commit same) and sexual exploitation.

To constitute sexual misconduct, the sexual behavior must meet one of the following criteria:
1. The sexual behavior is non-consensual;

2. The sexual behavior includes force, threat(s) or intimidation, or

3. The sexual behavior occurs when one person is a minor, is mentally or physically helpless including, but not limited to, being under the influence of alcohol or other drugs.

Stalking is repeatedly contacting another person when the contact is unwanted. This behavior can cause the other person to be concerned for his/her physical safety or causes apprehension of the abilities to perform the activities of daily life. This behavior can include: communication (in person, phone, electronic, social media), following a person, watching or remaining in the physical presence of the other person.

Threats are defined as taking action to cause a person to do something he/she would not have done without the threat. Example: “If you do not have sex with me, I will harm your reputation” or, “If you do not have sex with me, I will cause harm to someone you are close to.”

Resources for Victims of Sexual Misconduct

Shenandoah University encourages all members of the university community to be aware of both the consequences of sexual misconduct and the options available to those who have experienced sexual misconduct.

Students who believe they have been subjected to incidents of sexual misconduct are encouraged to seek assistance from their choice of available support services. On campus resources include: the health and counseling services staff (Wilkins Wellness Center 540-665-4530), Department of Public Safety (540-665-4614), the Title IX Coordinator (540-665-4921), Residence Life (540-665-4611), the vice president for student life (540-665-4863) and the [Not Just] Women’s Center (asarch@su.edu).

Community Resources include: the Winchester Medical Center (540-536-8000), Winchester Police Department (540-662-4131), Frederick County Police Department (540-662-6168), Concern Hotline (540-667-0145), Free Medical Clinic of Northern Shenandoah Valley (540-536-1680) and the Laurel Center (540-667-6466).

Adjudication and Sanction

Any student or employee charged with sexual misconduct can be disciplined under the university’s conduct code and may be prosecuted under Virginia criminal statutes. Even if the criminal justice authorities choose not to prosecute, university officials can pursue disciplinary action which may result in dismissal from the university.

Retaliation

Retaliation is prohibited. The Title IX Coordinator will investigate any reported acts of harassment or intimidation, including any act of reprisal, interference, restraint or penalty — overt or covert — against any student, faculty or staff who is a party to a complaint or associated with the proceedings described in this policy, including witnesses and members of the Hearing Panel.
Reporting an Incident of Sexual Misconduct
Shenandoah University strongly encourages and supports prompt reporting of sexual misconduct. Prompt reporting allows victims to be provided resources and helps contribute to a safe campus environment. Instances of sexual misconduct may be a violation of both university policy and the law. Victims are encouraged to report complaints of sexual misconduct to university officials and local law enforcement. Law enforcement officials can explain the procedures for pursuing a criminal investigation of sexual misconduct.

Reporting Sexual Misconduct to University Officials
If you or someone you know has been the victim of sexual misconduct, please contact the Shenandoah University Title IX Coordinator, the Department of Public Safety, a resident assistant, or the vice president for student life. In all cases, the Title IX Coordinator will complete an investigation of each complaint.

If a complainant does not wish to pursue Formal Resolution or Informal Resolution, or requests that his/her complaint remain confidential, the university will take reasonable action in response to the complainant’s information. The Title IX Coordinator will inform complainant that the university’s ability to respond is limited by adherence to these wishes.

Sexual misconduct reports are promptly investigated. Investigations take no more than 60 calendar days following receipt of the complaint to complete. Factors that could impair the timing of the investigation include the complexity and severity of the sexual misconduct, the number and availability of witnesses, or the need to identify and acquire physical or other evidence. Individuals who feel they have experienced sexual misconduct may file criminal charges through the criminal justice system.

Responding to an Incident: Complaint Procedures
The Assistant Director of Student Conduct serves as the Shenandoah University Title IX Coordinator. Faculty, staff or students who believe they have been victims of sexual misconduct should contact the Title IX Coordinator as soon as possible and within six months following the alleged sexual misconduct. If the complainant determines that he/she wishes to take action, a verbal or written complaint is to be presented to the Title IX Coordinator.

The Title IX Coordinator and the complainant will hold a confidential interview to discuss the alleged sexual misconduct. The Title IX Coordinator will share information regarding the definition of sexual misconduct and possible action that may be taken in response to the alleged sexual misconduct. Student complainants will have the option for a formal or informal resolution procedure. Complainants are also provided on-campus and off-campus resources for care.

The Shenandoah University sexual misconduct investigation and hearing process is intended to protect the privacy of all involved. Information is only shared with those who are in a position to help. Complainants who requests anonymity should be aware that while health care professionals can guarantee confidentiality by law, other university employees cannot guarantee complete confidentiality. Information is disclosed only to select officials who have an essential need to know in order to carry out their university responsibilities. As is the case with any educational institution, the university is herein governed by FERPA regulations. While the university official will make every effort to adhere to the wishes of the complainant in proceeding with the complaint, officials must balance the needs of the individual student with its obligation to protect the safety and well being of the community at large. Therefore, depending on the seriousness of the alleged incident, further action may be necessary.

The Title IX Coordinator, Department of Public Safety or other Shenandoah University officials may take immediate interim actions to protect the safety of the university community, to enable students with complaints and witnesses to continue studies, and to ensure the integrity of an investigation. These actions may include:

- Interim suspension of the accused student
- “No Contact” orders
- Modifying class or work schedules
- Making alternative housing arrangements
- Addressing other academic concerns (e.g., absences, assignments, grades, leaves of absence, withdrawal)

Informal Resolution

Within 30 days, the Title IX Coordinator will meet separately with the complainant, the accused individual, and other persons deemed necessary to determine if there is reasonable cause for the complaint. In general, the investigation will take no longer than 60 days, unless extenuating circumstances create a need for a longer period of time.

If the results of the investigation indicate the likelihood that sexual misconduct occurred, the Title IX Coordinator will present resolution strategies separately to the complainant and the accused. The Title IX Coordinator may conclude the case needs to go through the formal resolution process. However, if an informal resolution can be reached, resolution strategies may range from the disposing of the case due to insufficient evidence, to action as may be warranted by the circumstances of the case. Ultimately, a mutually satisfactory resolution will be sought between the Title IX Coordinator, the complainant, and the accused individual. To the extent that all three parties are able to achieve a satisfactory resolution of the problem or issue the complaint will be considered resolved. In the event of a mutually agreed upon resolution no additional hearing or appeal will be permitted. If a mutually satisfactory resolution cannot be achieved, either:

1. The complaint will be advanced to the formal procedure described below, or
2. Upon the request of the complainant, the process may be concluded.

The fact that a complaint of sexual misconduct may be concluded at the request of the accusing party does not preclude the filing of a formal complaint by others, including appropriate university officials.

Formal Resolution

Formal complaints of sexual misconduct should be filed in writing by the Shenandoah University Title IX Coordinator under the following conditions:

1. Mutually satisfactory conflict resolution was not achieved by complainant or accused individual,
2. The complainant requests that the case go directly to a formal process.

3. The Title IX Coordinator may exercise the option of moving directly to a formal process.

Upon receipt of a formal, written complaint, the Title IX Coordinator will, within 10 working days, inform the accused individual in writing of the following:

• A formal complaint of sexual misconduct has been filed.
• The nature of the complaint.
• Notice that a formal hearing is to be convened regarding the charges, the maximum disciplinary action that may be taken, and conditions and procedures by which an appeal may be filed.

Within 30 calendar days from the day in which the accused was formally notified of the complaint against him/her, a Panel will be convened for the purpose of hearing the alleged charges.

The Hearing Panel consists of three (3) members: two (2) faculty/staff members and one (1) deputy title IX coordinator from either athletics or human resources. In addition, the Title IX Coordinator will designate a hearing panel chair.

Pre-Hearing Procedures:

1. Pre-hearing submissions. The parties will provide the Title IX Coordinator with a list of witnesses they propose to call and copies of all documents and information they wish to present at the hearing process on or before the date set by the Title IX Coordinator. Evidence of the complainant’s past sexual conduct history will not be permitted unless it is relevant to the complaint. The Title IX Coordinator will provide each party with a copy of the list of witnesses, identification or copies of documents or information submitted by each party.

2. Pre-hearing meetings. The Title IX Coordinator will schedule pre-hearing meetings with all parties separately. At the meeting the Title IX Coordinator will review hearing procedures, complaint of alleged sexual misconduct, and will review the list of witnesses and pre-hearing submissions.

3. To ensure an impartial hearing, no panel member may have had prior involvement in the investigation of the complaint or be in a direct or indirect subordinate position to either party. Also, a panel member may remove him/herself from the panel for a particular case if he or she feels rendering of an objective decision is not possible due to a personal relationships with any of the parties involved. In such an event, the Title IX Coordinator shall appoint an appropriate member to the panel for hearing that particular complaint. Any panel member who cannot attend a particular hearing for a compelling reason must be replaced for that hearing by an appropriate member appointed by the Title IX Coordinator.

4. Hearings involving charges of sexual misconduct will be closed to the university community-at-large and the public. In addition to the Hearing Panel, the complainant and the accused individual, others present at the hearing may include: a) one advisor each for the complainant and accused individual, b) witnesses called by the complainant and the accused individual, c) witnesses called by the Hearing Panel, and d) legal counsel for either party. Legal counsel may not address the Hearing Panel but may offer private consultation as the hearings proceed. Should the legal counsel for either party attempt to address the Hearing Panel, the process described herein is suspended. Ultimately, each party involved in the formal process has the right to bring an advisor; to call a reasonable number of witnesses, and to be present during the entire hearing. All persons attending are expected to keep information shared during the meeting private.

5. The Title IX Coordinator or investigator for the case will provide the Hearing Panel the investigation report prior to the hearing. At the hearing, the Title IX Coordinator or investigator will present the report to the Hearing Panel. The Title IX Coordinator or investigator will review the report, identify the undisputed facts and identify the disputed facts. The Title IX Coordinator or investigator will ask the complainant then the accused if they would like to provide any additional information or statements. The testimony of witnesses offered by the complainant and the accused individual will also be accepted.
The Hearing Panel may hear testimony from parties who have relevant information for the case, but only after notifying the complainant and the accused individual at least three business days prior to the scheduled hearing as to the names of such parties. The Hearing Panel will then ask questions to the Title IX Coordinator or investigator and if necessary, to the complainant and the accused individual. At the conclusion of the questioning, the complainant and the accused individual will be asked if they have any final statements that have not been discussed during the hearing.

6. Evidence of prior disciplinary action involving allegations of sexual misconduct of the accused individual may be considered by the Panel, but the prior sexual activities of either the complainant and the accused individual which are not relevant to the issue before the Panel as determined by the Title IX Coordinator, will not be admissible.

7. In the absence of good cause, as determined by the Chair in his or her sole discretion, the parties may not introduce witnesses, documents, or other evidence at the hearing that were not provided to the Chair on or before a date determined by the Chair. The parties are also responsible for the attendance of their witnesses at the hearing.

8. If, at any time prior to the hearing, the accused student elects to acknowledge his/her actions and take responsibility for the alleged sexual misconduct, he/she may request the Chair propose a resolution to the charges and a sanction and, with the consent of the complainant, resolve the complaint without a hearing.

Hearings:

1. Upon request from either party, the university will arrange for hearing processes in which complainants and accused individual can be separated from each other during the hearing.

2. The accused student shall not be permitted to directly question the complainant. The accused student must direct questions to hearing panel Chair; who will repeat the questions to the complainant. If complainant is participating in the process via video conferencing, the Title IX Coordinator will request questions in advance of the accused student entering the hearing room process.

3. Pre-Hearing Discussion: Once a hearing panel member has been named to the panel, he/she may not discuss the merits of the complaint. The Chair will provide the hearing panel with a copy of the Notice of Hearing, the investigation report, and the list of witnesses submitted by the parties with an instruction to avoid discussion of the merits of the complaint.
4. The hearing will not follow a courtroom model, and formal rules of evidence will not be observed. The Chair will determine the order of the witnesses and resolve any questions of procedure arising during the hearing. The parties are responsible for ensuring their proposed witnesses are present. The Board will review in advance of the hearing all the written materials provided to it by the Chair. The parties will have received or been provided the opportunity to review these materials prior to the hearing. The parties will be expected not to repeat undisputed details or non-material circumstances that would merely duplicate the written materials. If the panel determines that unresolved issues exist that would be clarified by the presentation of additional evidence, the Chair may recess the hearing and reconvene it in a timely manner to receive such evidence. A recess may not be based on the failure of witnesses to appear.

5. The accused student has the option not to testify. However, the exercise of that option will not preclude the panel from the hearing process and determining the complaint on the basis of the evidence presented.

6. The evidence of alleged sexual misconduct will be evaluated under a “preponderance of the evidence” standard, meaning that the evidence shows it is “more likely than not” the accused student violated this policy.

Hearing Findings:

Findings, conclusions and recommendations of the Hearing Panel must be based on a preponderance of the evidence presented and shall be the result of a majority vote of the Hearing Panel. In determining whether alleged conduct constitutes sexual misconduct, the Hearing Panel will look at the facts and records of the case as a whole and at the totality of the circumstance, such as the nature of the sexual misconduct and the context in which the alleged incident or incidents occurred.

If the accused is a student, FERPA regulations prevent disclosure of any discipline or penalty imposed; however, the complainant will receive notice of findings and any applicable sanctions of the accused student. If evidence supports the finding that sexual misconduct has taken place, the recommended disposition is to be appropriate and reasonable according to the merits of the case, and may include censure, probation, educational experience, separation (suspension) and/or dismissal.

Following review of the Hearing Panel, the Chair will communicate findings and sanctions in writing to the complainant and the accused individual concurrently within 10 days following the conclusion of the hearing (or a longer time if the chair determines that circumstances dictate the need). Communication of the final outcome will be copied to the Title IX Coordinator and the Office of Residence Life & Student Conduct.

Appeal Process

The written request for an appeal by either the accused or complainant must be submitted to the Vice President of Student Life within five business days following notification of the findings of the Hearing Panel. An appeal may be requested for one of the following reasons:

- insufficient information that a policy was violated,
- a serious procedural error in resolving the case, and/or
- sanction or sanctions are inappropriate for the violation.
Within seven business days of the appeal hearing, the Vice President for Student Life will provide to both parties, concurrently, and to the Title IX coordinator a written decision. The decision of the Vice President of Student Life is final, and there is no further appeal following the Vice President of Student Life’s decision.

Sanctions imposed by the Hearing Panel are not effective until any timely appeal of the decision is resolved. However, if it is advisable to protect the welfare of the complainant or the campus community, the Hearing Panel may include in its findings letter that any probation, suspension, expulsion or appropriate sanctions be effective immediately and continue in effect until such time as the Vice President of Student Life may otherwise determine. The Vice President of Student Life also may allow the student to attend classes or other activities on a supervised or monitored basis, or make such other modifications to the sanctions during the appeal evaluation.

Records
Informal and formal sexual misconduct case records will be kept for a period of seven years. Sexual misconduct case records involving faculty members or staff employees will be kept in the Personnel Office and sexual misconduct case records involving students will be kept in the Office of Student Conduct.

Housing and Residence Life Policies
Introduction
All Shenandoah University students have rights and responsibilities when living on campus. Shenandoah University believes living on campus provides a unique opportunity to be part of a diverse community with an emphasis on personal growth and development. Each residence hall is staffed with residence life personnel who are trained in peer counseling, programming and policy enforcement. Their role is to assist residents in developing community standards that respect individual and community rights and responsibilities. Resident assistants (RAs) are supervised by resident directors (RDs) who are live-in, trained central staff members. Resident directors are charged with developing programs and administering policies and procedures.

Alcohol
Please see Alcohol and Other Drugs Policy in the Student Code of Conduct.

Breaks (Fall, Winter and Spring)
Students may occupy their rooms on the dates specified by Shenandoah University and are expected to vacate them during fall break, Thanksgiving break, winter break and spring break, and within 24 hours of their final examinations at the end of each semester. Residents who demonstrate a need (as determined by the director of residence life & student conduct) to occupy their rooms during any of the above vacations must request and receive permission from the Office of Residence Life & Student Conduct. Residents who request and are approved to remain on campus during breaks will be charged a fee.
Students who have significant conduct history as determined by the director of residence life & student conduct (or designee) may be denied the privilege of remaining on campus over breaks. Residents are not permitted to have overnight guests during university breaks. Please note: Dining halls are closed during breaks, and residents who are approved to remain on campus are responsible for providing their own meals.

Entering a residence hall during these vacation periods without the express permission from the Office of Residence Life & Student Conduct or the Division of Student Life is prohibited and a minimum fine of $50 will be assessed. This precaution is for the safety and protection of those students authorized to remain on campus and other students’ possessions left in their residence hall rooms.

Bulletin Board Damage

Bulletin boards are located in all residence halls. Resident assistants are responsible for the content of these boards. All notices/fliers must be approved by the resident assistant prior to being posted. The Office of Residence Life & Student Conduct reserves the right to determine what is approved for posting. Unapproved notices/fliers will be removed and discarded. Students found responsible for writing graffiti on, tampering with, or removing, damaging or destroying information on the bulletin boards will receive disciplinary sanctions that include working with RAs to restore the bulletin board put up a new bulletin board and be assessed a minimum $50 fine.

Check-In and Check-Out Procedures

Check-In

Each residence hall is inspected by the staff before new residents move in at the beginning of each semester. Students are required to fill out Room Condition Forms. Any damages or missing items should be noted on the Room Condition Form to avoid being charged when residents check out. Any damage not attributed to a single student will be split between roommates. Residence life staff members will inspect all rooms for damage and will assign charges. Damages will be billed to the resident(s).

Early Check-In

Residents must abide by the appointed schedule for arrival. Early arrivals will be limited to those student leaders, athletes and groups designated essential to university activities in advance of the official Move-In Day and must have prior approval of the director of residence life & student conduct. Students will not be permitted to move in early if they do not have prior authorization.

Check-Out

Residents must also checkout of their rooms before leaving school or changing rooms. Residence life staff members should be present at check-out unless other arrangements are made. The resident is responsible for leaving the room in the same condition in which it was found. This includes thoroughly cleaning the room, emptying trash and removing all non-university furniture and belongings. The room key must be turned in at this time and noted on the resident’s Room Condition Form. All expenses incurred as a result of damages are the responsibility of the resident. Charges will not be assessed to one roommate based solely on one roommate’s claiming another responsible. A written statement signed by all residents of the room indicating who specifically should be charged can be submitted to the residence director. Room cleaning charges will start at $25/student.
Abandoned Property
Anything left on campus at the end of the academic year or after a student leaves Shenandoah will be forfeited and disposed of if it is not claimed within 24 hours. A minimum $50 room clearing charge will be assessed against any student who fails to remove his/her items of personal property within 24 hours of withdrawal or separation from the university.

Express Checkout
Express Checkout is designed to allow greater flexibility for residential students. Residents need to pick up key envelopes, sign the “express checkout” section of the Express Checkout Envelope, put the key inside the envelope, and hand it to a residence life staff member. Damages will be assigned as determined by the staff member who inspects the room after the resident(s) have departed. Residents will not be able to appeal fines if they do an express checkout.

Cleanliness
Custodians are responsible for routine cleaning of public areas, including stairways, halls, laundry rooms, public bathrooms and lounges. However, students are expected to maintain their rooms in orderly and sanitary conditions; this includes removal of personal trash to university trash cans. Anything left in the laundry room for more than 24 hours will be disposed of.

Common Areas
Residential students are responsible for damage done to the common areas of their residence halls. Common areas are generally used by, and available to, all residents of the hall (i.e. lounges, bathrooms, hallways, laundry rooms and stairways). If damage occurs to property located in a common area, the residence life staff will determine who is responsible for the damage. In the event an individual(s) cannot be identified, costs of repair/replacement will be assessed to all the residents of the floor and/or building where the damage occurred.

Any student, organization or university representative interested in using a residence hall common area should make a reservation request through that hall’s residence director at least 48 hours in advance.

Conduct Infringing on Others
All pranks and/or careless and irresponsible behavior that cause or have the potential to cause damage to university or personal property, cause personal injuries or infringe on the rights of others are unacceptable. Such behaviors include, but are not limited to, water fights, shaving cream fights and throwing, kicking or bouncing balls, Frisbees and other similar items within or against the residence halls. No objects are permitted to be thrown or projected against the exterior of any university building.

Damage Deposit
The $100 Residence Hall Damage Deposit will be held until a student terminates residency. This deposit covers unpaid bills and is refundable through the Business Office upon graduation or moving off campus after the second year residency requirement has been fulfilled.
Electrical Receptacle Safety Guidelines

The Residence Hall policy for electrical receptacles is as follows:

Major Appliances
A major appliance is defined as any appliance that draws 4 or more amps of electricity when in use. Normally, the amount of amperage is stated on the appliance. If there are questions regarding the amperage of an appliance, check with the residence director. All major appliances such as coffee pots, mini-refrigerators (3.1 cubic feet or less), hair dryers, curling irons, curlers, etc., must be plugged directly into wall receptacles. Extension cords may not be used.

The following appliances are not permitted in residence halls because of high voltage and/or exposed heating elements: halogen lamps, hot plates, toaster ovens, crock pots, electric fry pans, bread machines, George Foreman grills, window air conditioner units, portable heaters and open burners. Irons may be used only on ironing boards.

Extension Cords and Multi-Plug Adaptors
The use of extension cords is prohibited.

1. Only one (1) power-bar adapter with surge protectors and multi-plug adaptors with six (6) or less plug in receptacles may be used.

2. Power-bar adaptors with surge protectors may not exceed six (6) feet in length and must be the heavy duty type. Heavy duty is defined as a cord with no less than 14-gauge wire.

3. No more than one major appliance may be plugged into any wall-type multi-plug-in adapter.

4. Extension cords may not run through doorways, windows, holes in the floors, ceiling or walls. The wiring may not be nailed or tacked to any surfaces.

5. Electrical wiring may not run around or under bed frames, mattresses, furniture, carpeting, file cabinets or any other fixtures which would conceal or damage the cords. The wiring must be protected from any physical damage during use.

General
1. Electronics should be evenly distributed around the room.

2. All wires must be clear of traffic routes in the room and around beds and around or under furniture or other items.

3. Wires should never be taped to metal beds.

4. Frayed cords or lamps without shades should not be used.

False Fire Alarms
Virginia state law strictly prohibits anyone from tampering with fire and safety equipment. Falsely pulling fire alarms, discharging fire extinguishers, removing exit signs and fire procedure signs, etc., will lead to disciplinary action and possible criminal prosecution. Any student who knows a false fire alarm has been sounded should immediately notify the residence life staff and/or the Department of Public Safety. Any student found responsible for falsely pulling a fire alarm will face severe conduct sanctions, hall re-location and a $100 fine.
Fire Drills
Fire drills are scheduled throughout the school year as required by state law. Participation in drills is mandatory. All fire alarms should be considered as fire alerts, and the building must be evacuated immediately. Refusing to evacuate constitutes a hazard to fire officials and will result in disciplinary and/or legal action, including a minimum $25 fine and an educational sanction.

Fire Safety Regulations
The residence life staff is fully prepared to support and encourage all students in promoting fire safety. Students should feel free to present their concerns or ideas that could result in safer residence halls. The following regulations are in effect for student safety:

1. The use of or possession of any dangerous chemical or explosive materials such as fireworks, incendiary devices, gun powder or gasoline is strictly prohibited.
2. Tampering with or setting off fire alarms, smoke detectors, fire extinguishers or intentionally lighting a fire in a Shenandoah building is prohibited.
3. The possession of hookahs, candles, oil lamps, incense or other open-flame items is prohibited as well as substances that result in producing an offensive odor.
4. Motorcycles and bicycles may not be kept in hallways, stairwells, attached to fire equipment or placed in any manner that interferes with exit from a building.
5. Parachutes, sheets, fish nets, tapestries and other large flammable items are not permitted to be suspended from residence hall ceilings.

Furniture (University-owned)
University-owned lounge furniture should never be placed in a student’s room. Residents of a room in which lounge furniture is found will face disciplinary action, including a minimum fine of $50. Residence hall room furniture and other items belonging to Shenandoah University may not be moved out of the room. Missing furniture will be charged to the residents at full-replacement cost.

Guests of Residents
Residents may host overnight guests. Guests may not reside on campus for more than three nights per semester unless special permission is granted by the resident director. Guests also include other Shenandoah University students that do not reside in the room. Parking permits for guests can be obtained from the Department of Public Safety. Guests are expected to adhere to Shenandoah regulations while visiting campus. The resident of the room the guest is visiting must escort that guest through the residence hall. Guests may not be left in a room without the resident present. Residents are responsible for the conduct of their guests, whether or not they stay overnight. A resident must have permission from his/her roommate to have an overnight guest.

Holiday Decorations
1. All decorations must be made of fire-resistant materials.
2. No live Christmas trees or greenery are permitted in residence hall rooms or hallways.
3. No holiday lights are permitted in residence hall rooms or hallways.
4. Decorations must be removed before leaving for winter break. Artificial snow must be removed thoroughly. Decorations left during winter break will be removed and discarded and the hall/group responsible for the decorations will be billed.

5. All decorations on the exterior of residence halls will be left to the discretion of the residence life staff.

6. Residence life staff will inspect rooms to insure that decorations are safe.

Housing Agreement

Students who want to live on campus will be provided housing if (1) they are an admitted student and (2) have submitted both a housing application and housing contract by June 1 for the next fall semester and by Dec. 1 for the spring semester.

Students who cease to be full-time (minimum of 12 credits undergraduate and 9 credits graduate) and/or who for all practical purposes drop out of school (i.e. do not attend class) will be required to leave the residence hall within 48 hours.

Students removed from residence halls for violations of university conduct policies will still be held to the financial obligations for the housing contract for the remainder of the current academic semester.

Shenandoah University reserves the right to change or cancel any room assignment in situations in which the health, community and/or good order is jeopardized, as deemed by the director of residence life & student conduct.

When residence hall rooms are only occupied by one person, consolidation will be required. If a space becomes available in a room because a roommate has not been assigned or a roommate has moved out, the Office of Residence Life & Student Conduct reserves the right to fill the vacancy. Residents who engage in conduct designed or intended to dissuade or intimidate other students from moving into a room or who otherwise attempt to manipulate the housing assignment process will face disciplinary action.

Shenandoah University is not liable for loss of or damage to the personal property of students. The university’s property insurance does not cover the personal effects of residential students (i.e. stereo and computer equipment, clothes, etc.). It is each student’s responsibility to obtain personal property insurance. Students should consult with their parent(s) or guardian(s) regarding the availability of coverage under the parent’s/guardian’s homeowners or tenants policy. If parents or guardians have no insurance coverage, but coverage is desired, students are encouraged to purchase personal effects coverage.

All students are responsible for damages in the residence halls or other rented or leased areas in which they live. Costs of repairs and/or replacement of damaged property and/or restitution will be charged to the student(s) responsible along with judicial action where applicable.
Housing Policy

Full-time undergraduate students are required to live in Shenandoah University residence halls during their first two years as students. Exceptions include students who are married, living at their parents’ or guardians’ homes, and/or over the age of 22. These students must complete an Off-Campus Housing Request form in order to gain approval to live off campus. This form can be picked up and returned to the Office of Residence Life. All students are required to live in a residence hall for the full academic year; the housing contract is in effect for the entire academic year. Upperclass students have until June 30 to cancel their housing contracts. Students breaking their contracts after June 30 will be charged a fee of at least $500 to be released from their contracts. Any sophomore student who does not apply for housing will be randomly assigned and billed for a 15-meal plan for the entire academic year.

Key Duplication, Lock-Outs and Possession of Master Key

Shenandoah prohibits key duplication. Students who lose keys should immediately contact a member of the residence life staff for replacements. When a student loses his/her residence hall room key, the lock cylinder will be re-cored and a new key issued as soon as possible. The cost to the student is $55.

Any student who needs access to his/her room after two previous lock-outs will be charged $10 for each additional lockout.

Any student found with an unauthorized master or building key will be subject to fines as well as disciplinary action. Any student who uses a master key to enter another student's room or Shenandoah University office or other facilities will be subject to disciplinary action.

Lofts

When available, university beds may be bunked. The university does not permit lofts.

Maintenance

While the university is responsible for routine maintenance, the residential student is responsible for reporting maintenance concerns to his/her RA or submitting a work order electronically. If a repair is not made within 48 hours, contact the RA to submit a second request. If a repair is still not made, contact the resident director to resolve the situation.

The university will provide electrical power, heat and water and maintain these utilities under controllable conditions. Residents must understand that, as a condition of this policy, the university shall not be responsible or liable for any damage or loss to student personal property caused by the cessation or failure of such utilities, no matter the reason. Moreover, Shenandoah University will not be in breach of this policy if such utility service is suspended for any reason. If the premises are rendered unsafe or unfit for occupancy, the university will offer alternate housing if it is available on campus.
Noise Policy
Residents are expected to use discretion in and around residence halls regarding noise. Consideration of others is expected at all times. Stereos, TVs and radios must be kept at a volume that cannot be clearly heard outside a student's room. In general, musical instruments may not be played inside residence halls. Exceptions to the rule are instruments that can be played with the use of earphones. Practice rooms are available in Conservatory buildings for the practice of voice, piano, percussion and other instruments.

Quiet Hours ensure an environment conducive to student learning. Quiet Hours are set up within the following minimum guidelines.

• Sunday through Friday morning: 10 p.m. to 8 a.m.
• Saturday and Sunday: midnight to 10 a.m.

A violation of Quiet Hours is cause for disciplinary action. Whenever Quiet Hours are not in effect, a policy of Courtesy Hours will be enforced in each residence hall. The purpose of Courtesy Hours is to encourage each student to be responsible for his/her surrounding community. Consideration for one another is essential to maintaining a positive learning environment. Violation of Courtesy Hours is cause for disciplinary action. From the last day of classes until the last day of exams, Quiet Hours are in effect 24 hours each day.

Room Changes
Students may request approval to change roommates after the second week of each semester. Room Change Forms are available through the Office of Residence Life & Student Conduct. Each student is required to obtain permission prior to the change. Students may not request room changes during mid-term and finals exams. Once a room change is approved, the move must occur within 48 hours unless special permission is granted by the assistant director of residence life. A minimum fine of $50 will be levied against any student who changes rooms without receiving proper approval.

Room Entry, Inspection and Search Policy
Shenandoah University reserves the right of entry by authorized personnel to protect the health and welfare of the student and the Shenandoah community. University officials will exercise this right when there is probable cause that Shenandoah University or civil laws are being broken or in any emergent situation.

Health and Safety Inspections
Health and safety inspections are periodically held by resident assistants and/or resident directors. These inspections will be announced either by email or flyers at least 48 hours in advance. The main objective of inspections is to maintain a safe and healthy living environment. When health or safety risks are discovered or prohibited items are found, these items will be removed. Confiscated items will not be returned to the student or his/her guest. Resident assistants will attempt to educate residents by showing the proper method to correct a potential problem situation. If the resident is not present, the situation will be corrected and a note left for the resident. Health and safety inspections also give the residents an additional chance to make the staff aware of repairs that are needed in individual rooms.
Custodial and Maintenance Room Entry
Shenandoah reserves the right of entry by custodial and maintenance personnel in performance of necessary repairs and/or improvement to the residence facility in the student’s absence. Custodial and maintenance staff will leave hang tags advising that they have performed work in the room if no residents are present.

Emergency Entry
A residence life staff member may, without verbal or written authorization from a higher authority, enter a student’s room either forcibly or with a building master key in cases of fire, explosion, bomb threat, attempted or suspected suicide or other situations that call for immediate entry in issues of imminent threat to either residents of the room or residents of the hall community.

Any authorized or illegal items observed in student rooms during an emergency entry may result in future investigation after the emergency has passed. In the event of suspected vandalism, arson, assault or other violations of Shenandoah policy that may have occurred in a room, appropriate Shenandoah officials may be called in to conduct an investigation. The results of such an investigation may result in disciplinary action and/or criminal prosecution.

Room Search
The university has a right to enter and search rooms with just cause, as long as the entry and search are not done in an arbitrary and capricious manner that unnecessarily deprives a student of fundamental fairness. The intent of this policy is to provide protection for the rights of each Shenandoah student, while at the same time providing residence life staff members and Shenandoah officials the means to maintain and protect the educational environment necessary for the university to fulfill its primary purpose.

Authorized Entry and Search
When an individual has reasonable cause to believe a student has violated a Shenandoah policy and relevant or prohibited materials remain in a room or suite, a request may be made for an authorized entry and search. The request should be directed to the appropriate Student Life staff member who will inform the vice president for student life (or designee). After considering the request, the vice president for student life (or designee) may give authorization to conduct an authorized entry and search of a student’s room for specified items.

Single Rooms
For the first two years, most residence hall rooms are double occupancy. Single occupancy rooms are available on a limited basis. When available, they are apportioned first by need (i.e., documented disability or resident assistant), and then as determined by the Office of Residence Life & Student Conduct. In instances in which a student does not have a roommate, Shenandoah University reserves the right to assign a second student to that space at any time during the year.
Smoking
Smoking is prohibited in all university buildings, including residence halls and rooms. Smoking is defined as the lighting or burning of any pipe, cigar, cigarette or other tobacco product. Shenandoah University is committed to providing a safe, healthy and pleasant learning and work environment for its students and employees. Smoking is prohibited within 30 feet of all building entrances.

Storage
Storage space is not available for residential students. All personal possessions must be removed when students leave the residence halls at the end of the academic year.

Visitation Guidelines
Visitation is permitted only when both residents agree to the visitor and the length of the visit. If visitation privileges are abused, the resident may lose this privilege and no longer be permitted to have any guests in his/her room.

Student Organizations
Forming a Student Organization
The Office of Student Engagement (OSE) supports a variety of student organizations, and these groups provide opportunities for social, professional, humanitarian as well as academic development for students. OSE encourages students to take active roles in campus organizations. Being involved with an existing organization or starting a new one is a great way to meet new people and can quickly connect a student to the Shenandoah community and beyond.

OSE welcomes the formation of new organizations at any point during the academic year. New organizations keep the campus alive with student interest and innovation. To register an organization, visit su.collegiatelink.net. For a comprehensive guide for student organizations or for general questions and concerns, contact the director of student engagement.

Definition of Student Organization
A student organization is any club or group committed to serving as an integral part of the co-curricular experience at Shenandoah University. Every organization should be primarily composed of current students. The organization must serve a purpose unique from that of other existing organizations and/or academic departments.

Step-by-Step: Becoming a Registered Student Organization
To form a new organization, student(s) must:

1. meet with an Office of Student Engagement staff member to discuss the purpose and goals of the proposed organization,
2. complete the registration application and submit a roster sheet with at least 10 interested students to the Director of Student Engagement,
3. designate a student leader who will be responsible for the student organization, and
4. identify a Shenandoah University faculty or staff member to serve as the adviser for the new organization.

Step-by-Step: Becoming a Student Government Association Approved Organization

To receive SGA funds, have an SGA vote and have access to extra benefits, the group must:

1. be a registered student organization for at least one year prior to applying for Student Government Association approval,
2. complete an application for SGA recognition and submit a membership roster sheet with at least 25 interested students,
3. create a constitution for the new organization,
4. elect officers (president, vice president, treasurer, secretary and SGA representative),
5. meet with the SGA Commission for Student Organizations for review of the organization, and
6. identify a Shenandoah University faculty or staff member to serve as the adviser for the organization.

Categories of Student Organizations

A Registered Student Organization is a voluntary association of Shenandoah University students that has no direct relationship to the university but, upon completion of registration documents, is entitled to certain privileges to include operating, meeting, advertising and participating in activities on campus. To register, an application must be submitted to the Director of Student Engagement.

An SGA Approved Student Organization is an organization comprised primarily of students who have specifically established direct relationship to the university or are affiliated beyond Shenandoah University through other regional or national memberships. This relationship includes but is not limited to policy review, special programs, governance and a faculty/staff adviser who does not receive specific compensation relative to their advising of the organization.

A Student Life Sponsored Organization is an organization comprised primarily or exclusively of students whose activities, operations and decision-making processes are directly governed by academic or administrative departments and for which the university is ultimately responsible. These organizations receive a faculty/staff adviser who receives specific compensation relative to their advising of the organization. The university’s Vice President for Student Life must grant approval in order to be considered a Student Life sponsored organization.

Types of Student Organizations

- academic/professional (national and local)
- agency (student organizations that are umbrella organizations, oversees other student groups)
- fine or creative arts
• media
• inter-cultural/international
• honorary (membership by invitation based on specific standards)
• sports/recreation
• religious
• special interest

Living on campus helps students build foundations for academic and social success. Residential students develop support systems, forge lifelong friendships, meet people from diverse backgrounds and integrate into the campus community. Through immersion in the academic, cultural and social life of the institution, residential students develop skills and tools that lead to student success. For this reason, first and second-year students are required to live on campus, taking advantage of the graduated living options that facilitate students’ development.

Shenandoah University stands by the belief that personal safety is the responsibility of the individual, who must be aware of his/her surroundings and use good judgment. The Department of Public Safety is staffed 24/7, and its officers are trained to respond and assist students, employees and guests on campus. Officers routinely patrol campus on foot and in vehicles. Emergency phones are located across campus and are also connected to the Winchester Police Department. Officers also work to educate students and employees about appropriate behavior that increases the safety of the individual as well as the entire campus community.

Spiritual Life
Goodson Chapel Recital Hall, lower level

The great diversity of faith traditions among Shenandoah’s students enriches the cultural life on campus. Shenandoah encourages mutual respect for various religious perspectives while offering programs that support and nurture spiritual growth. The Spiritual Life staff incorporates a wide variety of opportunities for worship, study, service and spiritual growth. It seeks to weave together spiritual and intellectual journeys. The office sponsors a number of programmatic initiatives that meet students’ desires for prayer, study, ethical reflection, fellowship and service. Weekly Sunday worship is at University Chapel at noon and Wednesday Night Live service is held weekly at 10 p.m.

Monday through Friday: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. closed noon to 1 p.m.

The Mary B. Wilkins Wellness Center is an ambulatory health clinic providing acute care for students as well as health education, physical examinations and preventive health services such as immunizations. The staff includes registered nurses and a part-time family nurse practitioner (FNP). The nurses assess illnesses and injuries and treats according to standard protocols. It is beneficial for students to take advantage of the Wellness Center services whenever possible. Most services are free to all students. Physical examination, pap and immunizations can be obtained at the Center for a nominal charge. However, in the event of a complicated illness or injury, the student may be referred to a local physician or Urgent Care. In the event of an emergency, the student will be referred to Winchester Medical Center emergency department.

Counseling Center

Cooley Hall, Room 301
Director Nancy Schulte
(540) 665-4530
nschulte@su.edu

The Counseling Center offers short-term personal counseling for a wide variety of mental health and substance-use issues. The Center provides a comfortable, safe and confidential environment that allows students to explore personal concerns. It is in this nurturing setting students can practice strategies for improving decision-making skills, learn healthy coping methods and find support for appropriate resources. Free individual and group therapy is available only to students, however consultation with faculty, staff and parents is also available. The Counseling Center has a relaxation room that features a massage chair, biofeedback, light and aroma therapy, pamphlets and online assessments. The Counseling Center assumes no obligation for long-term therapy and is subject to session limits, but maintains a referral network to a variety of agencies and qualified practitioners in the community.

Friday: 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

HPB and at NVC hours are posted at www.su.edu/writing_center

The Shenandoah University Writing Center takes as its primary mission one-to-one instruction in writing for all students. The conferences between students and Writing Center staff, either face-to-face or online, work to enable students to learn productive habits in pre-writing, drafting, revising, and editing. Using directive and non-directive instructional techniques, the Center’s staff encourages students to do their own work but to value consultation as a valuable part of composing. The ultimate goal of the Center is to develop more able student writers.
Statement of Purpose

The College of Arts & Sciences supports the university’s mission to prepare individuals to be critical, reflective thinkers; lifelong learners; and ethical, compassionate citizens who are committed to making responsible contributions within a community, a nation and the world. In order to accomplish this mission, the college has adopted the following learning objectives.

1. Knowledge: Students will acquire in-depth knowledge in a major field of study and knowledge in one field outside their major area of study.

2. Critical Thinking: Students will be able to pose, assess, and solve complex and diverse problems using a variety of approaches and methods.

3. Information Literacy: Students will be able to obtain, and assess the veracity of, information pertaining to any topic of interest. Furthermore, students will have the ability to synthesize information from multiple sources and perspectives.

4. Communication Skills: Students will be able to communicate in writing and orally in a manner and at a level commensurate with their field of study and undergraduate education. Students will be able to communicate in a second language.

5. Technology: Students will be able to work effectively with current technology as it pertains to their particular field of study.

Degree Requirements

1. The minimum number of credit hours required for an Arts & Sciences baccalaureate degree is 120, with 36 of those hours at or above the 300 level. No more than 8 one-hour activities credits or 42 hours in a single prefix may count toward the 120-hour graduation requirement.

2. A student must complete at least 12 credit hours of 300-400 level major course requirements while in residence at Shenandoah University.

3. A student must demonstrate competency in a second language. This competency is defined as completion through the fourth semester of a second language or higher. The following exemptions apply:
   a. native speakers of languages other than English,
   b. completion of four years of a single second language in high school,
c. completion of at least one semester of study abroad in a non-English speaking country,
d. a score in the 80th percentile (based on the SU norm) and above on the foreign language placement exam.

4. A student must complete the requirements for a major: Students must also complete a second major, a minor or the Teacher Education Professional Studies Certificate program. A grade of “C” or better is required of each course counted toward a major, minor or certificate.

Attendance
It is the policy of the College of Arts & Sciences that if a student misses more than 20 percent of the contact hours in a course, for any reason, the student will have to withdraw from the course before the withdrawal deadline or receive an “F” as a final grade. The instructor may modify this policy according to the nature of the course.

Academic Programs
Core Studies Program
Students are not required to declare a major but may choose to enter the Core Studies Program. This program has three main thrusts: to help students identify their academic strengths and interests through coursework in different disciplines; to help students identify the careers for which their strengths and interests best suit them; and to guide them toward completion of the general education and College of Arts & Sciences degree requirements.

Core Studies students will remain in close contact with an academic advisor who is familiar with the range of academic programs and support services available at Shenandoah University. These students will be encouraged to take courses from a wide range of disciplines. They will be encouraged to take advantage of the help provided by Career Services and the Academic Enrichment Center. Core Studies students are invited to special events designed to stimulate exploration of various areas of study and work and to create a sense of community among those weighing their options.

Students in the Core Studies Program may declare a major at any time but must do so by the end of the sophomore year.

Honors Courses
The College of Arts & Sciences seeks to address the individual academic needs of students with a wide range of skills and interests. In keeping with this goal, the College of Arts & Sciences provides enhanced course offerings for those students with above average ability or special interests in a particular course or discipline. This might be in the form of specifically designated honors sections of courses but may also take the form of an individually directed program within the context of a regular course offering. Subject to the approval of the instructor, all College of Arts & Sciences courses are eligible for honors designation. A student desiring to undertake the honors curriculum in a particular course will, with the approval of and in cooperation with the faculty member for that course, complete an honors contract spelling out the specific requirements. These requirements must be both quantitatively (representing approximately one credit hour additional effort) and qualitatively more rigorous than the normal requirements for the course. The completed contract will be reviewed and approved by the appropriate department chair. Copies of all honors contracts (whether approved or not) will be forwarded to the dean of the College of Arts & Sciences. The contract must be completed before the conclusion of the university's course addition deadline to ensure proper registration. In the event that either the faculty member or student believes that the terms of the contract are not being or cannot be met, the honors contract can be broken and the student returned to regular enrollment status for the course. Successful completion of the honors course requires that the student fulfill all terms of the honors contract and earn either an “A” or “B” for the course. Courses for which a student earns honors designation will be so indicated on the student’s transcript.

Pre-Health Professions Programs

Students wishing to qualify for admissions to health professions such as medicine, physical therapy, occupational therapy, pharmacy, veterinary medicine, physician assistant, etc., generally complete an undergraduate major that includes strong preparation in the basic sciences or psychology. Typical majors for such fields are biology, chemistry, kinesiology and psychology.

Students planning on applying for admission to professional-level programs should work closely with the appropriate academic advisor to plan a sequence of courses that will meet the prerequisites of the institutions in which they are interested. Information concerning alternatives is available in the dean's office, College of Arts & Sciences.

Pre-Law Study

William Shendow, Director
Davis Hall, Room 208, (540) 665-4697, wshendow@su.edu

The College of Arts & Sciences offers a pre-law program for students considering law school admissions and a career in the law. No separate curriculum is prescribed, but pre-law students major in the field of their choice and take electives in those areas that develop communication skills, reasoning ability and an understanding of the social context of American law and legal practice. As its philosophy, the Shenandoah University pre-law program holds that the best preparation for the study and practice of law lies in mastering the skills of writing, critical thinking and cultural understanding inherent in a liberal arts education.

The pre-law program is administered through a pre-law advisor, who counsels students on appropriate courses, law school admissions procedures and preparation for law school admissions tests.
Degree Programs in the College of Arts & Sciences

Through the College of Arts & Sciences, Shenandoah offers 17 baccalaureate majors and 21 minors. In addition, courses leading to Virginia teacher certification in elementary and secondary education are offered. The majors and minors in the degree programs have been developed to serve the needs of students with immediate career objectives as well as those who plan to go on to professional and graduate schools. Unless a specific degree program is highly structured, students are given considerable latitude to select specific elective courses. Those students who wish to design their own multidisciplinary major may do so through the University Interdisciplinary Studies (B.A.) program.

Students planning to continue their education after graduation should consult graduate or professional school catalogs to determine admissions requirements at those institutions. They should also discuss these requirements with their advisors at Shenandoah University.

Degree programs available within the College of Arts & Sciences are listed under their appropriate divisions.
Biology (B.S.)
Laura Haubrick, Assistant Professor of Biology
Gregory Hall, Room 113, (540) 535-3409, lhaubric@su.edu

The Biology major offers a wide variety of opportunities for students to develop both fundamental and in-depth knowledge within the disciplines of the biological sciences. Students will participate in comprehensive hands-on laboratory-based activities that will promote the development of technical skills used in biological science investigations. The Biology major has been designed to allow students to pursue specialized interests in secondary biology education, field biology and the health-related professions including medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, physician assistant, physical therapy, occupational therapy and athletic training, and all related fields of study at the graduate level.

Courses Required for the Biology Minor

The Biology minor is intended to provide students with a foundational knowledge of biological sciences. Students may choose elective courses pertaining to specialized interests such as field biology, microbiology and clinical laboratory sciences, biology teacher licensure, or health-related professions. The minimum total number of credits for the biology minor is 18. This may include BIO 121 (4 credits) and/or BIO 122 (4 credits), but not BIO 105. For the remaining credits, at least one course (2-4 credits) must be at the 300 or 400 level.

The following courses are acceptable as Biology electives:
- CHEM 331 Biochemistry I
- ES 101 Introduction to Environmental Studies
- ES 421 Environmental Measurement Methods
- PSY 360 Biopsychology

Or any courses approved by the department chair.

The following course maps are provided to help you plan your progress to a degree in Biology. It is important that you always bear in mind what your goals are post-graduation and factor in the course requirements that you may need to fulfill to meet those goals. Specific prerequisite courses can vary between different programs at different universities. It is important to check and plan accordingly in consultation with your advisor.

Chemistry (B.S.)
Brett Kite, Assistant Professor of Chemistry
Gregory Hall, Room 216, (540) 535-3401, bkite@su.edu

The Chemistry program prepares students for graduate study in chemistry; further studies in health-related occupations such as pharmacy, medicine, and dentistry; teaching in secondary schools; and for a wide variety of chemistry-related positions in industry and government, including quality control, environmental control, production supervision and research and development. The program also provides necessary experience and background for students studying biological or environmental science. Development of comprehension, expertise and hands-on skills occur in a supportive laboratory-based environment.

The Criminal Justice major provides a broad understanding of criminal justice principles and issues in the framework of contemporary society. The major equips students with the breadth of knowledge expected of a liberal arts education. Students majoring in Criminal Justice will be prepared to work in entry-level positions in law enforcement, courts or corrections agencies at the local, state or federal levels or to continue their studies at the graduate level.

The English major is designed to help students become critical thinkers, perceptive readers and skilled writers. Through study of great works of Western and world literatures, English majors develop a deep understanding of humankind's artistic heritage, which reflects and shapes humankind's historical, intellectual, psychological and spiritual dimensions. English majors are prepared for a wide variety of careers — including teaching (with appropriate certification), librarianship, academic administration, business, writing, editing, advertising, public relations and civil service — and graduate and professional schools.

English as a Second Language (Certificate only)

Steven Humphries, Assistant Professor of TESOL
Bowman Building, B213A, (540) 665-3574, shumphri@su.edu

All international students for whom English is not their first language and who have been admitted to the university on a provisional basis or as a visiting student are expected to enroll in ESL academic support classes until they have met the English Language Proficiency standards. Students are placed in appropriate ESL classes based upon TOEFL or IELTS scores, recent writing samples and individual conferences with ESL and academic program faculty members.

ESL students are prepared for the academic classroom through a series of courses that emphasize the integration of speaking, listening, reading and writing skills, and incorporating the use of information systems. International students who are able to demonstrate a basic understanding of English may take academic classes while enrolled in ESL with the approval of the instructors of both the ESL and academic classes. This enables the international student to have direct experience in taking academic classes while receiving individualized support in English from ESL instructors and teaching assistants.

Students who demonstrate proficiency in English, through either passing a course at the 109 level or above with a grade of “B” or higher, or through earning a passing score on the TOEFL, are released from ESL requirements. After gaining ESL proficiency, students may elect to continue improving their English through advanced courses.

Students enrolled in the English as a Second Language Certificate program will be eligible to receive the certificate when they complete two courses at the Intermediate Level and two courses at the Advanced Level with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher for a total of twelve credits.

Intermediate Level
- ESL 106 Intermediate Reading and Writing 3
- ESL 108 Intermediate Listening Comprehension 3
- ESL 109 Intermediate Speech Communication 3

Advanced Level
- ESL 121 Advanced English as a Second Language Composition 3
- ESL 122 Advanced English as a Second Language Speech Communication 3
- ESL 195 Topics 3
Environmental Studies (B.S.)
Joshua Kincaid, Associate Professor of Environmental Studies
Gregory Hall, Room 206, (540) 665-4909, jkincaid@su.edu

Environmental Studies combines perspectives from the natural and social sciences with applied experiences in the laboratory, field sites and community settings. The major consists of required courses and projects that provide an interdisciplinary understanding of environmental concepts, issues and methods for resolving problems. Additional courses enable the student to develop selected competencies in greater depth as preparation for graduate study and/or a professional career.

Exercise Science  (B.S.)
Bruce Elmore, Assistant Professor of Kinesiology
Gregory Hall, Room 155, (540) 665-3412, belmore@su.edu

Exercise Science (EXSC) provides students with a strong scientific and practical understanding of the acute and chronic effects of physical activity and exercise on the human body. Students learn to assess, design, and implement individual and group exercise, physical fitness, and/or sports performance programs for healthy and managed disease state individuals, and athletic populations. Students learn to evaluate health and performance status, conduct fitness and conditioning assessments, write exercise/training prescriptions, and motivate individuals to establish healthy lifestyle behaviors or pursue peak performance.

The Exercise Science program prepares students for careers in health, fitness, and/or competitive athletic performance programs that service a wide audience, including individuals in corporate, community, university, or private settings. Students engage in experiential learning by working under a credentialed, practicing professional in their area of interest. The program can lead to certification by the National Strength and Conditioning Association and the American College of Sports Medicine. Exercise Science is an attractive option for pre-health profession studies for physical or occupational therapy and athletic training.

Qualified EXSC students may enter matriculation agreements with graduate SU Athletic Training and/or SU Physical Therapy through high school pre-admittance. SU Athletic Training also offers early entry through a 3 + 2 model. Students will complete a minimum of 90 undergraduate hours prior to entering the graduate program/s, satisfy the EXSC major (this may include internship course requirements to be completed after entering graduate program/s), fulfill requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences (GE, language and minor), and achieve graduate program prerequisites. Upon completion of the first year of the graduate program, students will be eligible for the bachelor’s degree in Exercise Science.

The Geography minor is a program intended to provide students with a multidisciplinary, geographical perspective on people and places in a globalized world. This program provides students with the opportunity to examine environmental issues, cultural dynamics, political and economic forces that influence our lives, communities, and world affairs. Students will be challenged to think critically and reflectively about the physical and human aspects of the globalized world around them.

History (B.S.)

Julie Hofmann, Associate Professor of History
Davis Hall, Room 207, (540) 665-4792, jhofmann@su.edu

The major in History is designed to increase an understanding of the present and future by studying and interpreting the past. The content and methodology of historical studies is basic to a liberal arts education in the 21st century and to an understanding of the world and the dynamics of change. History also provides a firm foundation for many careers. Recent graduates have found their way into various professions, such as museum and curatorial positions, law, journalism, teaching, government service, foreign service, as well as admission to graduate study in a specialized field.

Required courses in the History major provide introductions to the primary historical traditions of world and U.S. history, political theory, methods of historical research and writing and other disciplines such as economics, literature and art, which bear on the historical process. Students are encouraged to use elective hours to develop depth in an area of emphasis such as American or European political and cultural histories or historic preservation. Students may also prepare for the teaching profession at the elementary, middle and secondary levels.

Public History Certificate Program

Ann Denkler, Assistant Professor of History
Davis Hall, Room 204, (540) 678-4334, adenkler@su.edu

Public History is the study and application of history outside the academic setting. Public historians use professional expertise and skills to document the past and to present it to the public in these settings. They curate and interpret museum collections, uncover and process archival materials and other primary sources, document an area’s historic structures, conduct oral histories, create documentary films, work in tourism development and help preserve historic buildings and sites. Most importantly, they possess unparalleled investigative, critical and analytical capabilities, and they apply the tools of their craft in a broad spectrum of work environments.

The Public History Certificate Program at Shenandoah University trains students to work as professionals in these types of endeavors. Students have the unique opportunity to take advantage of cutting-edge programs through coursework, internships and classes within the History Department and other departments on campus.

Students must have completed the United States History Survey HIST 103, HIST 104 sequence prior to enrollment in this program. Students must take HIST 341 Introduction to Public History (3 credits), complete a 3-credit hour internship and take a minimum of 12 credits from the following courses:

International Studies (Minor)
Eric Leonard, Professor of Political Science
Davis Hall, Room 205, (540) 545-7326, eleonard@su.edu

The International Studies minor is a multi-disciplinary program that is intended to provide students with a foundational knowledge of an increasingly interdependent world. The curriculum provides students with the opportunity to study different cultures, societies and international issues, along with reflecting on the role they play in a globalized community.

Kinesiology (B.S.)
Cynthia Schendel, Assistant Professor of Kinesiology
Davis Hall, (540) 665-5463, cschende@su.edu

The Kinesiology Department offers a Bachelor of Science degree in Kinesiology. This major requires the completion of the Professional Studies Certificate in Health and Physical Education PK-12 and the Kinesiology content courses. Completion of this program meets the professional studies required by the Virginia Department of Licensure Regulations for health and physical education teachers. Students who complete the Kinesiology major also complete the professional education courses listed below, in addition to specific general studies requirements, may qualify for licensure in the area of Health and Physical Education PK-12.

Mass Communication (B.A.)
Kelley Crowley, Assistant Professor of Mass Communication
Henkel Hall, Room 215, (540) 665-3494, kcrowley@su.edu

The Mass Communication major is designed to provide a foundation of knowledge and skills to prepare students for the communication challenges of the 21st century. All majors complete a common core of courses in media history, theory, writing, research, law and ethics. Students can then select from an array of elective courses in the areas of journalism, digital media, public relations, and media studies to cultivate their individual talents and professional objectives. All students in the program are required to complete at least one campus or field internship.

Mass communication majors learn marketable skills such as presentational and public speaking, news writing and reporting, video production and editing, public relations writing and research, digital graphics and design, among others. SU alumni are employed in the fields of newspaper reporting, radio operations, television sports reporting, university public relations, arts and non-profit management, museum operations and network television news. The curriculum also provides students with a solid foundation for acceptance into graduate programs in mass communication, journalism, education or political science.

Courses Required for the Mass Communication Major

I. MCOM Core: Required of all majors, in addition to general education and a minor. Transfer students must fulfill the A&S foreign language requirement.

Mathematics (B.S.)
Cindia Stewart, Associate Professor of Mathematics
Gregory Hall, Room 212, (540) 665-5440, cstewart@su.edu

The Mathematics Program at Shenandoah is designed to offer students a fundamental background in mathematics within a strong liberal arts environment. A student who majors in mathematics may prepare for a position in business, government, industry or teaching where there is growing demand at all levels. Students may also prepare to continue their study of mathematics at the graduate level.

Outdoor Leadership and Education
T. Grant Lewis, Assistant Professor of Outdoor Leadership and Education
Gregory Hall, Room 115A, (540) 535-4840, tlewis2@su.edu

The Outdoor Leadership and Education (OLED) program at Shenandoah University affords students the opportunity to develop a foundation in the skills, abilities, and knowledge necessary for including and incorporating outdoor and adventure programming into the regular scope of professional practice. The major will provide students with a unique mix of models that are grounded in the outdoor recreation, and environmental education concepts. Students are afforded an opportunity to examine and explore pedagogy, philosophical theory, and ‘hard skill’ development, which is cultivated through experiential opportunities in leadership, field, and service experiences. Through direct experience with members of the learning community, including peers, faculty and community members, and immersion in the natural and cultural settings in which outdoor leaders and educators operate, students will develop into ethical, compassionate citizens who are committed to making responsible contributions within the community, nation, and world in which they live. Upon completion of the program, students may pursue front-line and leadership positions in outdoor education and/or adventure centers, guiding/outfitting companies, not-for-profit and private camps, resorts, spas and wellness centers, state and national parks, campus recreation, therapeutic programs, youth development programs, public and private education and traditional municipal recreation organizations.

Physics (Minor)
Darren Bly, Assistant Professor of Physics
Gregory Hall, Room 211, (540) 678-4477, dbly@su.edu

Physics provides a framework for understanding the fundamental nature of the universe from a scientific basis. The minor in physics, which incorporates study of all the major areas of contemporary physics, equips the student with the rudiments of the physicist’s perspective.

Either the algebra-based (PHYS 111 and PHYS 112) or calculus-based (PHYS 121 and PHYS 122) introductory sequence may be used in partial fulfillment of the minor requirements.

Political Science (B.S.)

Eric Leonard, Professor of Political Science
Davis Hall, Room 205, (540) 545-7326, eleonard@su.edu

The aim of the study of Political Science is to understand the way in which, for a society, policy is formulated and executed, and to understand the moral and legal authority by which policy is or ought to be set. The center of interest for this program is the study of power, government institutions, bureaucracy, and the state of human relations in their political context, both domestically and internationally. Emphasis is placed on enhancing the student’s overall comprehension of democracy and the administration of government so that he/she can become an effective citizen, and appropriately consider career options in political science related fields.

Elective Courses

Choose at least seven from list below. Five of the seven elective courses required for the major must be at the 300 or 400 level and six of the seven must have a PSCI prefix. The student’s choice of elective courses should be made in consultation with his/her advisor in order to provide an educational track that will accord with his/her post-graduation plans.

Psychology (B.S.)
Rodney Bragdon, Assistant Professor of Psychology
Halpin-Harrison Hall, Room 119, (540) 678-4328, rbragdon@su.edu

The major in Psychology is designed to give the student a fundamental knowledge of psychological principles, theories and research. In addition, the psychology department prepares students to apply psychological principles to personal, social and organizational issues. Students majoring in psychology will be prepared to enter a career in human services or continue study at the graduate level.

Bachelor of Science in Psychology (B.S.)
(Guaranteed Admission in Occupational Therapy specialization)
Krista Zimmermann, Professor of Psychology
Halpin-Harrison Hall, Room 118, (540) 665-4339, lzimmerm@su.edu

The B.S. in Psychology (guaranteed admission in Occupational Therapy specialization) is an accelerated program designed to provide students pre-admitted to the occupational therapy program with a concentration of coursework that emphasizes the development, biological, and applied dimensions of psychology. Students gaining early admission to the Occupational Therapy Master’s Program as incoming freshmen may earn their Bachelor of Science degree in Psychology by completing a total of 90 undergraduate credit hours including all university general education and College of Arts & Sciences requirements as well as the Occupational Therapy prerequisites, 36 hours of designated psychology courses, and one full year (30 credit hours) in the Occupational Therapy Master's Program. To remain in this program students must maintain a 3.2 GPA and complete a total of 40 observation hours with a licensed occupational therapist before application to the Occupational Therapy Master's Program in their junior year.

Religion (B.A.)

Barry Penn-Hollar, Professor of Religion and Philosophy
Goodson Chapel, Room 9, (540) 665-5467, bpennhol@su.edu

The Religion major provides students with a comprehensive understanding of the religious traditions of the world with a particular emphasis on the Christian tradition. It enables students to think clearly and critically about religious ideas. Through the comparative study of philosophy, sacred texts, religious history, spirituality, theology and ethics, students learn to think across disciplines and cultures. The major provides a rich encounter with the liberal arts and prepares students for the graduate study of religion. Along with the JustFaith Leadership Certificate Program, the Religion major prepares students for seminary and for leadership in the 21st century church.

Capstone project: Every major will be required to complete a capstone project in a 300 or 400 level course taken during the last nine hours of the student’s program. That project will require students to apply ideas critically and comparatively from various perspectives and/or traditions (possibly non-Christian ones) to a theme, topic, or problem related to the subject matter of that course. For students doing the capstone project in REL 421, the project may involve a practical problem or issue related to the context in which students fulfill requirements for REL 421 Practicum in Ministry.

Minor in Religion
Students may create their own minor in religion. The possibilities include a minor with a concentration in the following subjects: World Religion, Ethics, Christian Studies and Christian Leadership.

Students must take 18 hours in religion and philosophy with at least 6 hours at the 300 level or above.

The JustFaith – Christian Leadership Certificate Program is a three-year cohort program that integrates knowing, being and doing. Its aim is to prepare and empower leaders for the 21st century church who are committed to spiritual depth and social justice as integral aspects of the church’s ministry in a global context. The curricular component involves six religion courses (one each semester) which will fulfill requirements for a minor in religion. In addition to curricular requirements, students in the cohort will be part of a covenant group, have a professional and spiritual mentor, and participate in service and/or ministry activities.

Courses Required for the JustFaith – Christian Leadership Certificate Program
These six courses will be taken as part of a cohort over six consecutive semesters. Students completing these requirements will have fulfilled requirements for the Religion Minor.

Spanish (B.A.)
Bryan Pearce-Gonzales, Assistant Professor of Foreign Languages
Henkel Hall, Room 217, (540) 665-6202, bpearceg@su.edu

The major in Spanish is intended for students interested in teaching Spanish as well as for those preparing to integrate Hispanic studies into their chosen careers. The program includes courses designed to help students develop their skills in speaking, listening comprehension, reading and writing. Students will gain an understanding of Hispanic culture in Spain and Latin America, as well as in the United States. A distinguishing feature of the program is the requirement that all majors do internships working among Hispanics in the Winchester-Frederick County community.

University Interdisciplinary Studies (B.A.)

Calvin Allen, Dean, College of Arts & Sciences
Gregory Hall, Room 157, (540) 665-4587, callen@su.edu

The University Interdisciplinary Studies program provides a framework within which interdisciplinary or multidisciplinary study can be undertaken at Shenandoah University. The Bachelor of Arts degree allows students with unique or non-traditional education goals to undertake an individually designed major.

The Bachelor of Arts in University Interdisciplinary Studies requires a proposed degree plan that describes the student’s academic and professional goals and lists the course of study to be taken to fulfill those goals. This proposal must be reviewed and approved by a faculty committee representing at least two disciplines from any participating undergraduate programs and a representative appointed by the vice president of academic affairs.

Course Requirements for the University Interdisciplinary Studies Major

The course of study will incorporate the following:

1. At least 36 credit hours, apportioned between at least two disciplines, that support the student’s academic and professional goals. Study in each discipline must include work in both the theory and the methodology of that field. At least 24 hours must be at the 300 or 400 level. No more than 12 hours of university general education hours may be counted toward this requirement.

2. Core requirements of each of the academic units included. This shall include:
   a. Foreign language requirement in the College of Arts & Sciences.
   b. Courses specified for either the minor in Business or the minor in Entrepreneurship in the Harry F. Byrd, Jr. School of Business.
   c. Conservatory students will create an academic plan in the discipline area of Music, Theatre, Dance, Arts Management or Music Production and Recording Technology. The proposal must be reviewed and approved by the appropriate discipline area faculty and the associate dean for undergraduate studies.
   d. This program does not include the School of Nursing or Division of Respiratory Care.

3. A 3-credit senior research study, creative project or essay that reflects the integration of disciplines and experiences in the student’s self-designed degree plan.

4. A senior comprehensive examination that integrates the disciplines of specialization. (No credit)

The faculty committee evaluates the senior project and designs and administers the senior comprehensive exam.
University Studies (B.S.)

The University Studies program provides a strong liberal arts background within interdisciplinary or multidisciplinary and pre-professional study for students.

The Bachelor of Science in University Studies is a more prescribed, pre-professional course of study that meets the requirements for Virginia Teacher Licensure for grades PK-6 and 6-8. All Shenandoah University general education and College of Arts & Sciences Core Curriculum requirements are fulfilled by the B.S. in University Studies degree requirements listed below.

Bachelor of Science in University Studies Degree
Teacher Education Programs
Office of Professional Licensure
Mary E. Bowser, Director
Henkel Hall, Room 204, (540) 665-4590, mbowser@su.edu

Students in the College of Arts & Sciences seeking to become licensed as teachers take courses in Arts & Sciences as the predominant part of their first two years at the university. Courses that relate to teaching, children and schools are the predominant part of the third and fourth years in the program. Students in the programs seeking endorsement in elementary or secondary education will be required to declare a major in one of the following liberal arts areas: Biology, Chemistry, English, History, Mathematics, Kinesiology (PK-12) or University Studies (PK-8). As part of the degree requirements, students also must complete the requirements of the core curriculum in the College of Arts & Sciences.

Admission Requirements for All Candidates for Teacher Licensure
State Requirements for Teacher Licensure

Students preparing to be teachers are expected to meet the requirements for teacher licensure currently in effect in the Commonwealth of Virginia. Most states grant teaching licensure on a reciprocal basis when the educating institution is approved by its own state department of education or when graduates of an institution are eligible for teaching licensure in the state in which they were educated. Teacher education programs at Shenandoah University are approved programs of the Virginia State Board of Education, and graduates will have met all educational requirements for Virginia licensure.

Statement Regarding Professional Assessments

All initial licensure teacher education programs at Shenandoah University require that 1) the PRAXIS I exam must be taken before admission to candidacy in teacher education programs; 2) the PRAXIS II exam must be taken in the student’s last year prior to student teaching; and 3) VCLA must be taken before student teaching. In addition, PK-6 elementary education candidates must take the Virginia Reading Assessment (VRA) before student teaching.

The university’s Academic Enrichment Center assists students with preparation for PRAXIS exams by providing study materials, help sessions and access to a computer tutorial software program. This assistance is also extended to Shenandoah University alumni.
The Teacher Education Program Application also requires the following for an applicant to be considered for acceptance into the Teacher Education Program:

1. Submit two recommendation checklists (professional attitude, punctuality, attendance, communication skills, scholarship, cooperativeness, etc.); one from a professional in the major field and one from a professional outside the major field.

2. Submit official transcripts showing a grade point average of at least 2.9 in the area of the major and an overall grade point average of at least 2.5.

3. PRAXIS I scores – passing by Virginia Standards or substitute appropriate SAT or ACT score or VCLA plus PRAXIS I mathematics test. See Admissions section of this catalog for specific score requirement.

Score reports must be sent to Shenandoah University’s Office of Admissions. Students must receive satisfactory ratings on the checklists in order to be approved by the Teacher Education Faculty Advisory Board prior to admission into the education program and prior to student teaching. A minimum grade point average of 2.9 in the academic major is required. Prior to student teaching, all students must successfully complete Praxis II in their subject areas, VCLA, and elementary (PK-6) education students must also pass the Virginia Reading Assessment. Shenandoah University reserves the right to determine the fitness of an individual to student teach.

Bachelor of Science in University Studies Degree
Elementary and Middle School Education Track (PK-6, 6-8)

This program is designed to meet state licensure requirements for PK-6 and 6-8. Licensure at the middle school level (6-8) requires a minimum of 21 hours in two areas of concentration. This program provides the first concentration in history/social science. The student must select one additional concentration from English, mathematics or science by adding an additional six hours in one area.

Women’s Studies (Minor)

Amy Sarch, Director of General Education
Smith Library, Room 322, (540) 542-6534, asarch@su.edu

The Women’s Studies program at Shenandoah University offers students an interdisciplinary minor that crosses traditional academic boundaries, pedagogical perspectives, and personal experiences. The program places women at the center of its curriculum and includes courses grounded in feminist inquiry, theory and practice. The minor is open to all undergraduates in the arts & sciences, business, health professions and conservatory areas. A minor in Women’s Studies complements any major by expanding students’ knowledge and understanding of the human experience. Students who minor in Women’s Studies will be well prepared for careers in the arts, education, communication, politics, law, business, health, human services, counseling, community advocacy and affirmative action programs.

Statement of Purpose
The School of Education & Human Development at Shenandoah University prepares exemplary professionals in education and human development within a student-centered, inquiry-driven environment that places high value on the diverse cultures, experiences and perspectives that are the strengths of the university. Its mission is to educate current and aspiring professionals for success in their chosen vocations; integrate theory, research and practice; promote academic rigor; and nurture reflection, a caring approach to the professions, and collaboration across and within the communities served by the university.

Through commitment to quality academic programs and institutes, extensive opportunities for continued personal and professional growth through all stages of life and community and global outreach, promotes an educational system that is responsive to the challenges of a modern, ever-changing society that seeks to instill and sustain a passion for lifelong service and scholarship.

Attendance Policy
Syllabi for all courses in the School of Education & Human Development will contain the attendance policy (or appropriate policy governing participation, as in distance learning courses). Active and informed participation is necessary for effective learning. The instructor’s policy in this regard, in a given course, will reflect good practice as it relates to the content and the delivery system. Penalties for violations of this policy will be specified in the syllabus.

Mission
The mission of the Harry F. Byrd, Jr: School of Business is to educate its students to become successful, principled leaders with a global perspective.

Students in the Byrd School will graduate with confidence in their ability to solve problems, be effective communicators and work successfully as individuals and team members. The undergraduate curriculum prepares students to operate in a dynamic global business environment.

It provides a broad-based study in the liberal arts, which marks the educated citizen. In addition, working toward the Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) degree will provide students with knowledge in the fields of accounting, finance, information systems and technologies, global business, economics, management and marketing.

This academic preparation, linked with communications skills, ethical decision making, entrepreneurship, and understanding the importance of working with a diverse workforce, will make the graduate a valued member of any organization. Students will have the opportunity for study-abroad experiences, internships, participation in student organizations and other activities, including active management of a student investment fund. The BBA is a part of a lifelong learning process for students that will lead to a better society, a better citizen and a better business leader.

Vision
The Harry F. Byrd, Jr: School of Business will become recognized as a provider of individualized business education driven by entrepreneurial thinking, global understanding and ethical practice.

Guiding Principles
The Harry F. Byrd, Jr: School of Business carries out its mission through its commitment to four guiding principles — learning, integrity, recognizing the contributions of others and continuous improvement.

Undergraduate Degree Program Learning Goals

The learning goals for the BBA program are driven by the business school’s mission statement, which is to “educate its students to become successful, principled leaders with a global perspective.” It includes the following concepts:

1. Successful: to be able to make and communicate effective decisions.
   a. To be able to identify the objectives and constraints in making a decision. [Knowledge]
   b. To be able to interpret causes and potential effects of elements pertaining to a decision in order to identify key decision drivers. [Understanding]
   c. To be able to gather, validate, structure and communicate information in support of decision making. [Application]

2. Principled: to be able to act ethically.
   a. To be able to define and distinguish among the philosophical theories that represent the principles of ethical decision making. [Knowledge]
   b. To be able to understand concepts associated with business ethics. [Comprehension]
   c. To be able to apply ethical foundations to the role of business professionals with respect to governance issues and social responsibility. [Application] [Analysis] [Synthesis]

3. Leaders: to be able to demonstrate leadership qualities.
   a. To recognize and comprehend common leadership models. [Knowledge] [Comprehension]
   b. To recognize how leadership skills are developed. [Comprehension]
   c. To be able to create an action plan for developing leadership skills. [Application] [Analysis] [Synthesis]

4. Global Perspective: to be able to function effectively in a global business environment.
   a. To be able to identify and describe the elements that distinguish global business from domestic business. [Knowledge]
   b. To be able to analyze the opportunities and challenges associated with global business expansion. [Understanding]
   c. To be able to demonstrate the ability to adjust business goals to global changes [Application]
Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) Degree Program

The undergraduate degree program in Business Administration is called the BBA. The BBA offers four majors: General Business Administration, Entrepreneurship, Healthcare Management and Sport Management.

Four elements compose the 120 credit hour degree program:

Requirements for the General Business Administration Major

General Education Requirement (30 hours)

Students must conform to the general education requirements of the university that specify coursework over seven domains of knowledge. The following general education courses will be taken by all business students and will fulfill 18 of the required 30 hours of coursework. Students should work closely with their mentor to ensure they complete the general education requirements in a timely fashion.

BBA Supporting Electives (24 hours)
The BBA Supporting Electives consist of Business Administration (BA), Economics (EC) and/or Information Systems & Technologies (IST) courses out of which:

• Minimum 18 credit hours are at the 300 or 400 level.
• No more than 6 credit hours are at the 100- and 200-level in total.
• At least one course is from the following restricted elective courses that satisfy the experiential learning requirement:

Alternatively, the experiential learning requirement can be met through participation in experiential learning activities approved in advance by the dean or the program director.

A BBA student in the General Business Administration Major can choose BBA supporting electives to concentrate in one or more of several business disciplines, subject to the availability of elective courses in those disciplines, or design an individualized program of study.

BBA Supporting Electives for the Accounting Concentration
The Accounting concentration provides a framework for careers as public or management accountants. This concentration meets all of the educational requirements of the Commonwealth of Virginia to take the CPA exam. Educational requirements differ in other jurisdictions. Students desiring certification should consult with their academic advisor.

In addition to the BBA supporting electives, students who choose a concentration in Accounting, also have to take one non-business elective or General Education course that satisfies the BSB Experiential Learning requirement. EC 340 Moral Foundations of Free Enterprise meets the experiential learning requirement and satisfies General Education Domain 5 Moral Reasoning.
BBA Supporting Electives for the Management Concentration

The Management curriculum develops student awareness of management functions, theory and skills within local and global environments. Students learn to use both quantitative and behavioral methods to achieve organizational goals through effective utilization of human and material resources. Individual courses engage the students in problem solving through case analysis, simulation and experiential methods to foster an appreciation of different management approaches in a variety of systems.

BBA Supporting Electives for the Marketing Concentration

The Marketing curriculum is aligned with contemporary marketing trends, industrial needs and marketing management skills practiced today. The purpose of a course in this area is to educate the student in terminology and concepts of the highly sophisticated areas of marketing management. The school strives to provide an opportunity for students to participate in actual marketing problems as they are confronted by various types of organizations.

The Individualized Program of Study (iBBA)

In an individualized program of study in business administration, students do not select a pre-determined concentration, but rather are able to choose a series of courses corresponding to individual interests, goals, and career aspirations. This individualized program may consist of up to 24 semester hours, providing the student the flexibility needed to pursue career and life goals.

The individualized nature of the program provides the student with a faculty mentor. The mentor will be available to advise and counsel the student on an appropriate program of study to meet individual career aspirations within the multi-faceted business environment. With the guidance of a faculty mentor, students will choose electives supporting an individualized BBA program consisting of a minimum of 18 hours of iBBA Supporting Electives that must be taken in the business school at the 300/400 level in Business Administration (BA), Economics (EC) and/or Information Systems & Technologies (IST). By advance permission of the dean, a BBA student may substitute an alternative coherent program of study that includes no fewer than 12 credit hours at the 300- and 400-level and no more than 6 credit hours at the 100- and 200-level in total.

Explanation of Notes:

1. BA 103 and BA 112 are suggested BBA elective courses for freshmen. A student can instead take other (higher level) BBA electives in his/her junior or senior year. Those who are interested in accounting should consult with their advisor prior to their registration for their first semester.

2. ENG 102 is suggested in General Education Domain 2. A student can instead take another course in the same domain.

Requirements for the Entrepreneurship Major in the BBA Degree Program

Entrepreneurship is what powers the economy, and the entrepreneurship major provides students with the knowledge and tools to make ideas real.

The entrepreneurship major offers a wide variety of opportunities for students to develop both fundamental and in-depth knowledge within the disciplines of management, marketing, finance, accounting, business law, information systems and technologies and organizational behavior to be effective entrepreneurs. Students will participate in comprehensive hands-on simulations and learning opportunities that will promote the development of the knowledge, skills and abilities required to launch or assume leadership roles in entrepreneurial organizations.

An Entrepreneurship major can prepare graduates for any of four types of work:

• Corporate entrepreneurship (also known as intrapreneurship), where graduates work to develop new operations or products for existing corporations;

• Independent entrepreneurship, where graduates start their own for-profit firms;

• Family business where graduates go into the family firm as new or future management; and

• Social entrepreneurship where graduates start new or develop existing not-for-profit or community service oriented firms.

General Education Requirement (30 hours)

Students must conform to the general education requirements of the university that specify course work over seven domains of knowledge. The following general education courses will be taken by all business students and will fulfill 18 of the required 30 hours of course work. Students should work closely with their mentor to ensure they complete the general education requirements in a timely fashion.

Requirements for the Healthcare Management Major

The BBA Healthcare Management major is a distinctive, interdisciplinary program with a business focus and a strong biological component. In addition to the BBA business core and electives, the curriculum requires courses in biological sciences and other disciplines. The required biology course component of the curriculum is sufficient to earn a minor in biology. Unlike the General Business major, because of its interdisciplinary nature, a Healthcare Management major student’s program of study is almost completely pre-specified.

Schedule of Course Offerings

Students are advised to remember that not all courses are offered on a yearly basis, nor are all courses offered every semester. Core business courses are offered on a yearly basis, but not necessarily in each semester. Business elective courses generally follow a two-year cycle. Students should work closely with their mentors to ensure they are enrolled in the proper courses in the proper sequencing so that they can proceed without difficulty in completing their BBA degree program. The student is ultimately responsible for fulfilling all the requirements — both school and university — of the degree program.
BSB Junior Level Standing
A BBA student has BSB junior-level standing upon meeting all of the following requirements:

1. Complete a minimum of 54 credits with a minimum overall GPA of 2.00
2. Complete the following six courses with a minimum GPA of 2.00:
   - BA 203 Statistics and Data Analysis for Business
   - BA 211 Principles of Accounting I
   - BA 212 Principles of Accounting II
   - EC 211 Principles of Macroeconomics
   - EC 212 Principles of Microeconomics
   - IST 204 Computer Applications in Business Analysis

BSB Senior Level Standing
A BBA student has BSB senior-level standing upon meeting all of the following requirements:

1. Complete a minimum of 84 credits with a minimum overall GPA of 2.00
2. Complete the six courses identified for BSB junior-level standing
3. Complete the following six courses with a minimum GPA of 2.00
   - BA 302 Quantitative Methods
   - BA 303 Legal Environment of Business
   - BA 307 Introduction to Management and Organizational Behavior
   - BA 310 Introduction to MIS and E-Commerce
   - BA 330 Introduction to Finance
   - BA 360 Introduction to Marketing

Minor in Business Administration
18 hours
The minor in Business Administration consists of a sequence of six required courses designed to provide the foundation courses for the degree-seeking student desiring a business supplement to a non-business degree program. In addition to providing a general knowledge of business practices and terminology, this program prepares a student to take additional business courses either at the undergraduate or graduate level. Faculty members from the Harry F. Byrd, Jr. School of Business are available to advise students about career opportunities and further study beyond the requirements for the minor in Business Administration.

All courses are three credit-hour courses.

   - BA 203 Statistics and Data Analysis for Business
   - BA 211 Principles of Accounting I
   - BA 212 Principles of Accounting II
   - BA 307 Introduction to Management and Organizational Behavior
   - EC 211 Principles of Macroeconomics
   - EC 212 Principles of Microeconomics
Minor in Economics
18 hours

The Economics Minor enables students to conduct a systematic study of economics as part of their undergraduate education and/or prepare themselves for graduate studies in economics. If students are interested in graduate studies in economics, it is strongly recommended that they take additional coursework in Calculus and Statistics.

All courses are three credit-hour courses.

Minor in Entrepreneurship
18 hours

The Minor in Entrepreneurship enables students across the curriculum to prepare themselves to be founders, owners and managers of new, small and family-based businesses. The program of study explores the mind of the entrepreneur as well as develops the knowledge and skills needed to have a reasonable prospect of success as an entrepreneur. Completion of the program requires experience-based learning through an internship.

All courses are three credit-hour courses.

Internships

The internship program provides a hands-on bridge for students to enter into the business world as they work simultaneously to complete their academic work. The program works to augment and expand available internship options for undergraduate and graduate business students. International and domestic internships are available to students attending the business school.

The Global Experiential Learning (GEL) Program

The GEL program provides students with the opportunity to study and travel abroad in faculty-guided, credit-bearing educational experiences. GEL destinations change each year, but previously included Russia, China, Spain, Ireland, Thailand, England, France, Argentina and Chile.
Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM)
The Society for Human Resource Management’s student program was created to promote mutually beneficial interaction between Human Resource Management (HRM) students and practitioners. Membership offers students the opportunity to supplement their classroom education with real-world knowledge and hands-on experience. The SHRM chapter in the Harry F. Byrd, Jr. School of Business has regular meetings with scheduled programs designed to help members learn more about current developments in the business world and how they will impact future workers. Additional activities allow students to learn more about HRM while building relationships with local professionals and other students.

Student Advisory Board
The business school’s Student Advisory Board offers the dean advice on one basic topic: how to build a higher quality business school. Regular meetings take place during the fall and spring semesters with approximately 20 students participating in these discussions. The board promotes the mission of the school and serves as an important liaison between the student body and the office of the dean.

Student Investment Fund
Several years ago, a businessman provided initial funding to establish a Student Investment Fund in the Harry F. Byrd, Jr. School of Business. The objective of the fund was to provide students with hands-on experiences managing an investment portfolio that would yield a rate of return greater than that achieved by a broadly diversified portfolio of common stocks. The current market value of the fund is more than $250,000. Through this experiential learning opportunity, students meet throughout the academic year to learn about advancing career opportunities and employment options in the investment field.

Beta Gamma Sigma
Beta Gamma Sigma is the honor society serving business programs accredited by AACSB International – The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business. Membership in Beta Gamma Sigma is the highest recognition a business student anywhere in the world can receive in a business program accredited by AACSB International. The mission of Beta Gamma Sigma is to encourage and honor academic achievement in the study of business, to honor personal and professional excellence, to advance the values of society and to serve its lifelong members.

Students in Free Enterprise (SIFE)
Students in Free Enterprise is an integral part of the Harry F. Byrd, Jr. School of Business. The annual SIFE teams learn, teach and practice free enterprise in order to better themselves, their communities and the world. SIFE’s mission is to build teams of students that teach others a better understanding of how the free enterprise system works. SIFE’S purpose is accomplished through outreach projects, providing the students an opportunity to teach others what they have learned. By accepting the responsibility of teaching others about free enterprise, SIFE students gain a deeper knowledge of how the free enterprise system works. Each year SIFE teams have the opportunity to share their successes with other teams from across the country in regional and national competitions.
Byrd Distinguished Lecture Series
The Byrd Distinguished Lecture Series was established in 1983 to provide a forum for the presentation, consideration and discussion of critical issues on the local, regional, national and international scene. This series provides students in the Harry F. Byrd, Jr. School of Business the opportunity to hear and question some of the most interesting business, social, educational and governmental leaders of the day.

Institute for Entrepreneurship Distinguished Speaker Series
The Institute for Entrepreneurship in the Byrd School sponsors the Distinguished Speaker Series. Successful entrepreneurs are brought to campus to share their experiences, lessons learned and expertise with students, faculty and the business community. Innovative business leaders provide enriching conversations for the student body during both the fall and spring semesters of the academic year.

Executive-in-Residence and Senior Executive Counselor Programs
The mission of these programs is to enhance the academic excellence of the Byrd School of Business through the practical experience of veteran business executives. Executives provide mentoring and counseling services for students, deliver classroom lectures and provide students with job-search advice as well as career and job-performance counseling.
Mission Statement
Shenandoah Conservatory unites aspiring artists and scholars with distinguished and caring faculty in a community that prepares individuals for meaningful, satisfying careers in the arts.

Conservatory Entrance Requirements
Conservatory applicants must satisfactorily complete an audition, interview, music theory diagnostic skills testing and portfolio review as outlined in the admissions requirements. For specific requirements visit www.su.edu/admission. See “Conservatory Admissions Requirements” in the Admissions Entrance Requirements section of this catalog.

Requirements for Certificates and Degrees
Candidates for certificates and baccalaureate degrees must complete the requirements for their majors, concentrations and emphases in addition to successfully meeting all university-wide requirements. Detailed information regarding study at Shenandoah Conservatory may be found online at www.su.edu/conservatory.

Ensemble Requirements and Procedures
General Ensemble Participation
Music
Ensemble participation requirements for undergraduate students are stated in terms of duration and credit and further specified as large or small ensemble requirements. Specific requirements are published with each curriculum description in the current catalog.

Ensemble participation is required every semester of full-time enrollment up to a maximum of eight semesters. Students are placed in ensembles by audition. Music students must fulfill requirements by performing in ensembles in their major applied music area.

When a student completes a degree in less than eight semesters and has been enrolled in an ensemble for every semester of full-time enrollment, the student is exempt from the eighth semester of ensemble participation, but must still fulfill the total number of ensemble credits required in the degree.

When a student is enrolled in a degree program for more than eight semesters, and all ensemble duration and credit requirements have been met, no further ensemble participation is required. Every student who participates in an ensemble must be enrolled through the university.
Students placed in an additional ensemble, beyond two, must be approved by the division chair and the associate dean for undergraduate studies. This policy ensures that involvement in more than two ensembles does not jeopardize the student’s academic work, the quality of preparation and performance in the ensemble and their capacity to contribute at an expected high level within the performing ensembles. Students who wish to participate in additional ensembles may register in one of two ways:

- as a regular credited student
- without credit through the Shenandoah Conservatory Arts Academy

Any ensemble registration placing the student in excess of 18.5 credits, the maximum number of full-time credits, will be at the full expense of the student. Any deviations or exceptions to the above must be approved and documented by the associate dean for undergraduate studies.

Choral Ensembles
Voice students are auditioned by the choral ensemble directors for ensemble placement. Students are assigned to a single large choral ensemble; however, Conservatory award recipients may be required to register for the maximum of four credits of large ensemble per semester, and these responsibilities are considered when students are placed. Choral ensembles are open, by audition, to students from all curricula and all schools.

Instrumental Ensembles
Instrumental students are auditioned by ensemble directors for large and small ensemble placement. Conservatory award recipients may be required to register for the maximum of four credits of large ensemble per semester, and these responsibilities are considered when students are placed. Instrumental ensembles are open, by audition, to students from all curricula and all schools.

Dance
Dance majors are placed in ensembles as auditioned by the dance faculty. Participation is normally limited to dance majors. Students in other curricula are considered on an individual basis by audition.

Theatre
Specific requirements for theatre productions and performances are published in the Theatre Division Handbook.

Applied Music Study

Description
All students enrolled in Music and Musical Theatre curricula are required to complete both an applied music major and an applied music minor. Students must be continuously enrolled in applied music until curricular requirements are fulfilled. For specific duration of study and credit requirements, see the requirements for each degree program within this catalog.

Overall Content
The content of each applied music area is outlined for each semester of study. Minimum requirements in technique, sightreading, memorization, repertoire, performance, etc. are provided by each division of the Conservatory, and may be obtained from the individual instructor or division chair.
Studio Assignment

Students are assigned to studios by the chair of the division that offers the applied major. Students’ requests are honored when space and balance in studios permits.

Development in applied music is best supported by stability of instruction. Studio changes occur only at the end of the academic year. Information about appropriate studio change procedures is available in the division handbooks and in the Conservatory Office.

Evaluation

The student performs an end-of-semester jury for evaluation by a panel of applied music faculty.

If a student fails to perform the jury, the instructor must report a grade of “F” for the semester’s study. Incomplete grades will only be considered upon submission of the appropriate medical documentation; the missed jury must be completed during the drop/add period of the next semester.

Screening Juries

The screening jury, conducted at the end of the fourth semester of applied major study (or for composition students the end of the second semester), examines the student’s progress in applied music and leads to decisions regarding the student’s future applied study.

The screening jury determines if the student has made sufficient progress in the applied area to warrant the recommendation to proceed with the curricular applied major. A minimum average grade for the jury is “C.” If the jurors do not recommend proceeding and the average grade for the jury is less than “C,” the student may repeat the work of the fourth semester of applied study or successfully audition for and enter a new applied area.

Permission to enter performance certificate study is granted at the screening jury. Musical Theatre majors are required to complete a screening jury only if they wish to be considered for performance certificate study.

Recital Requirements

Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Music in Performance, Bachelor of Music in Jazz Studies and Bachelor of Music in Collaborative Piano degrees are required to present a half and full recital. All half and full recitals must be presented for credit and included in the student’s course load for the semester in which the recital is given. Students presenting a half or full recital must be concurrently registered for applied study in the area involved. Pre-recital hearings are required of all keyboard majors, and may be required of other students at the applied music instructor’s discretion.

After four semesters of applied music study and 200-level study is completed, the student may present a half recital, which consists of 25 minutes of music. A full recital consists of 50 minutes of music. For detailed requirements, refer to the division handbook.

Performance Certificates

A Music or Musical Theatre student whose major curriculum does not require a half or full recital, may earn a Performance Certificate in recognition of achievement beyond curricular minimums.
The performance certificate is awarded when the student completes the repertoire requirements for the Bachelor of Music in Performance curriculum and performs a full recital. The additional repertoire and the recital must be completed while the student is enrolled in a baccalaureate-level degree program. The grade point average for the final four semesters of applied study (AP 302 through AP402), plus the full recital, must be at least a 3.5.

Permission to enter performance certificate study is given as part of the screening jury process. Information on timing, content, and required level of achievement for these juries is available from the individual applied music instructor, division chair, or from the division handbook.

Transfer Students

Application of Transfer Credit in Applied Music
Transfer students are initially placed in the lowest number used in their curriculum. At the first jury, the faculty jurors place the student at an appropriate level based on the amount of credit transferred in and the level of performance ability. Occasionally, the placement decision is deferred to the second jury.

Applied Conducting Policies
Applied conducting is available only after MUCO 361 Beginning Choral and Instrumental Conducting and MUCO 363 Choral Conducting or MUCO 364 Instrumental Conducting have been completed successfully.

All applied conducting study is at the elective level and approved based on faculty availability. Students enrolled in elective study do not have access to Conservatory ensembles as laboratory conducting settings.

Conducting study will not fulfill requirements for an applied minor:

Applied choral conducting instruction is registered through the chair of the Vocal/Choral Division.

Applied instrumental conducting instruction is registered through the chair of the Instrumental Division.

Participation in Commencement – Shenandoah Conservatory Procedures
The university policy on student participation in commencement ceremonies, colloquially termed “walking,” appears in the Academic Policies section of this catalog.

Specific implementation for Conservatory students:
Permission to walk must be requested in writing and submitted to the associate dean for undergraduate studies. Official Permission to Walk forms are available in the Conservatory Office. See “Student Participation in Commencement Ceremony” in the Academic Policies section of this catalog.
Curriculum Requirements

The following curriculum requirements are stated in terms of minimum requirements for graduation. Additional courses may be elected in any semester in accordance with regulations concerning student load. Course substitutions are possible only when approved in advance by the associate dean for undergraduate studies.

Advanced Placement Credit Policy

The Conservatory accepts advanced placement credits for music courses according to the following guidelines:

Music Theory:
A score of 4 or 5 enables the student to take the final examination for MUTC 101 Introduction to Music Theory or MUTC 121 Music Theory for Musical Theatre I. If a minimum score of 90 percent is achieved, transfer credit for MUTC 101/121 will be awarded and the student may advance to MUTC 102 Diatonic Harmony and Simple Forms or MUTC 122 Music Theory for Musical Theatre II.

Sequence of Courses

As students must complete all required courses for graduation, they should carefully follow the advice of their advisor and should consult the program tracking sheet and their Degree Audit available through WebAdvisor. All courses are not offered every year and it is the student’s responsibility to ensure that all degree requirements are being met in a manner that allows for an on-time graduation. Failure to follow the prescribed sequence of courses or the advice of the advisor may result in a delayed graduation until all degree requirements are met.

Upon completion of MUTC 101 Introduction to Music Theory, students enrolled in all music curricula must remain continuously registered each fall and spring semester until the music theory sequence of MUTC 101, 102, 201 and 202 is completed.

General Education

Conservatory students must consult with their advisors and the undergraduate catalog when selecting courses to fulfill the university-wide general education curriculum. Transfer students are exempt from FYS 101 Going Global: First-Year Seminar, but must still complete the General Education requirements with an approved three-credit course from Domain 7.

Course Overloads

Students who wish to register for more than 18.5 credits per semester must secure permission from the associate dean for undergraduate studies. Students enrolled in their first semester of study may not register in overload. Thereafter, permission is granted only when the student has earned a grade point average of 3.0 or higher the previous semester.
Bachelor of Arts in Dance

Erica Helm, Associate Professor of Dance
Shingleton Hall, Room 26, (540) 665-4647, ehelm@su.edu

The Bachelor of Arts in Dance degree is designed for students who are interested in a broad general education while continuing to pursue their dance studies. It is suitable for students preparing for careers in dance history, therapy, kinesiology and library science. An audition is required for entrance into the program.

Program Objectives

Students completing the Bachelor of Arts in Dance will be able to:

• demonstrate technical skill and artistry in a variety of styles and performance settings;
• improvise and compose dance in a variety of forms, employing a variety of methods and technologies;
• demonstrate knowledge of dance history, aesthetics, production and science; and
• demonstrate research, writing, presentation, entrepreneurial and advocacy skills appropriate to furthering a professional career in dance or a related field.

Course and Credit Requirements for the Bachelor of Arts in Dance Degree

Dance majors must enroll in both ballet and modern dance technique during their first two semesters in residence at Shenandoah University.

Bachelor of Music in Composition
David T. Little, Assistant Professor of Music
Ruebush Hall, Room 139, (540) 665-4630, dlittle@su.edu

The Bachelor of Music in Composition curriculum is designed for the student who wishes to pursue a career as a professional composer or as a college teacher of theory and composition. The student’s creative skills are guided and developed through intense study in and the practical application of 20th century art music; the curriculum does not include work in popular idioms or jazz. The prospective student must be aware of the rigorous competition in the field, and should realize that continued study at the graduate level constitutes the minimum standard of professional status.

Program Objectives
Students completing the Bachelor of Music in Composition will be able to:

• demonstrate a variety of techniques in the composition of original music;
• compose in a variety of genres;
• have scores performed in a variety of settings;
• demonstrate musicianship in solo and ensemble performance;
• demonstrate knowledge of music theory, music history, world music and music technology;
• demonstrate the ability to express ideas orally and in writing; and
• attend a variety of public performances and events.

Bachelor of Music in Jazz Studies

Robert Larson, Associate Professor of Music
Armstrong Hall, Room 18-E, (540) 665-4557, rlarson@su.edu

The focus of the Jazz Studies program at Shenandoah University is on the preparation of musicians as performers and arrangers in the broad field of contemporary music, which includes jazz, popular, commercial, classical and studio music. Students are also trained in areas of technology, as well as in jazz teaching techniques, in preparation for a career of evolving opportunities. The philosophy of the Shenandoah University Jazz Studies program is grounded in the belief that 21st century artists will work in a variety of settings, where performing, composing, studio work, and teaching are important components of a successful musician’s overall career.

Program Objectives

Students completing the Bachelor of Music in Jazz Studies will be able to:

• demonstrate musicianship in solo and ensemble performance;
• perform a variety of repertoire;
• perform in a variety of settings;
• demonstrate knowledge of jazz music repertoire, history and style;
• demonstrate the ability to improvise, compose and arrange jazz music;
• demonstrate knowledge of music theory, music history, world music and music technology;
• lead a rehearsal, class or ensemble;
• demonstrate the ability to express ideas orally and in writing; and
• attend a variety of public performances and events.

Course and Credit Requirements for the Bachelor of Music in Jazz Studies Degree

Bachelor of Music in Music Education

Jeffrey Marlatt, Associate Professor of Music
Ruebush Hall, Room 216, (540) 545-7349, jmarlatt@su.edu

The Bachelor of Music in Music Education degree is designed for students who plan to teach music in the public schools and seek licensure as a qualified music teacher by a state department of public instruction. Students complete courses in music, music teaching techniques, and general education studies to fulfill requirements for the K-12 Virginia music teaching license. The undergraduate program includes a balanced and sequential combination of courses and performance experiences designed to foster and develop skills as musicians and teachers, and prepare students for successful careers in teaching.

Students who complete the undergraduate curriculum and state-prescribed tests select either choral/general music or instrumental music to qualify for the K-12 Virginia music teaching license. Dual licensure (both choral/general and instrumental) is available for students who complete additional music education coursework. Licensure in other states is available through reciprocity agreements.

Program Objectives

Students completing the Bachelor of Music in Music Education will be able to:

• demonstrate musicianship in solo and ensemble performance;
• demonstrate the ability to write lesson plans and create learning experiences for students;
• demonstrate a variety of teaching techniques for the elementary and secondary music classrooms;
• demonstrate the ability to lead a class or ensemble;
• demonstrate knowledge of music theory, music history, world music and music technology;
• demonstrate the ability to express ideas orally and in writing; and
• attend a variety of public performances and events.

Admission

Students are admitted to the Bachelor of Music in Music Education degree program based on the entrance criteria established by the university and Conservatory. Students follow the course of study published in the Shenandoah University Undergraduate Catalog for the year of entrance to the university.

All initial licensure teaching education programs at Shenandoah University require that the Praxis I, Math Exam must be passed before admission to candidacy in teacher education programs. BME students who do not pass the Praxis I, Math Exam may be granted permission to pursue alternate routes to candidacy as stated in the Bachelor of Music in Music Education Handbook. Students are admitted to candidacy following successful completion of the screening interview conducted at the end of the sophomore year. These screening interviews assess academic, personal and professional progress. BME students must pass the Virginia Literacy Communication Assessment (VCLA) prior to the screening interview. Specific requirements for the screening interview are found in the Bachelor of Music in Music Education Handbook. Upon successful completion of the screening interview, BME students are admitted as candidates to the teacher education licensure program. Students who do not satisfy the screening interview requirements are not admitted into 300- or 400-level music education (MUED) courses.

Statement of Purpose

The purpose of the Bachelor of Music in Music Education program is to provide professional preparation and educational experiences that culminate in directed teaching and the awarding of the baccalaureate degree. The curriculum is designed to develop the musician and educator in the distinctive Conservatory setting while meeting the standards for teacher licensure established by the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Areas of Concentration

The Bachelor of Music in Music Education curriculum is offered with instrumental or choral/general concentrations. Students wishing to be licensed in both the instrumental and choral/general areas must complete additional credit hours in the second area of concentration.

Areas of concentration are based on the student’s applied major. Students with applied majors in traditional band and orchestral instruments enroll in the instrumental concentration, and students with an applied major of voice enroll in the choral/general concentration. Applied piano and guitar majors may choose the instrumental or choral/general concentration depending on their previous musical experience and career goals.

A student majoring in choral/general music education, who wants to receive additional licensure endorsement in instrumental music education, will be required to take

- 10 credit hours in instrumental methods and materials (MUED 329, MUED 330, MUPP 313, MUPP 314, MUPP 316 and MUPP 318);
- four credit hours of major instrumental ensemble; and
- either MUED 324 Marching Band Techniques or MUCO 364 Instrumental Conducting.

A student majoring in instrumental music education who wants to receive additional licensure endorsement in choral/general music education, is required to take

- 10 credit hours in choral/general methods and materials (MUED 321, MUED 322, MUED 323, MUED 333);
- four credit hours of major choral ensemble; and
- four credit hours selected from MUPP 260 Introduction to Lyric Diction, MUCO 363 Choral Conducting, MUED 325 Jazz and Show Choir Methods or MUPP 304 American Orff and Folk Instruments.

Students seeking dual licensure must participate in an ensemble which represents the secondary area of licensure for at least two semesters. During semesters of additional licensure-required courses, additional fees may apply.
Directed Teaching in Music

Directed Teaching in Music is required during the final year of the Bachelor of Music in Music Education curriculum. Students must apply through the Director of Music Education during the semester preceding the anticipated directed teaching experience. To be accepted for directed teaching, the student must have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.5 and submit passing Praxis II scores.

In addition, all courses that are prerequisite to directed teaching (see degree requirements) must be passed with a minimum grade of “C” or repeated until a grade of “C” has been earned. Note university policy states that a student may attempt a course a maximum of three times. See “Repeating Courses” under Academic Policies in this catalog. The content of each prerequisite course is stated in course syllabi and is evaluated and graded so a grade of “C” certifies the student has mastered the minimum skills necessary to succeed in teaching.

Instrumental concentration students must complete MUED 329 Instrumental Music Methods and Materials I and MUED 330 Instrumental Music Methods and Materials II at Shenandoah University prior to directed teaching. Choral/General concentration students must complete MUED 321 Pre-School and Elementary Choral/General Music Methods, MUED 322 Middle School Choral/General Music Methods, and MUED 323 High School Choral/General Music Methods at Shenandoah University prior to directed teaching. In applied music, the student must complete AP 302 before undertaking directed teaching. Bachelor of Music Education students must also pass the Praxis II Music Content Test prior to directed teaching.

Pre-directed teaching observation of elementary and secondary music classes is required of all music education students. Observations must include hours in both elementary and secondary settings. The total observation requirement must be completed prior to admission to directed teaching.

Complete forms and information concerning pre-directed teaching observations, personal and competency screening (public speaking and technology), and directed teaching application are included in the Bachelor of Music in Music Education Handbook.

Bachelor of Music in Collaborative Piano

Elizabeth Temple, Professor of Music
Ruebush Hall, Room 200, (540) 665-4640, etemple@su.edu

The Bachelor of Music in Collaborative Piano curriculum is designed for the talented pianist seeking a career in the fields of chamber music performance and vocal accompanying. The student aspiring to college teaching or concertizing as a collaborative pianist should realize the exacting standards required for such a career. The student who hopes to achieve professional status should plan to continue study at the graduate level.

Program Objectives

Students completing the Bachelor of Music in Collaborative Piano will be able to:

- demonstrate musicianship in solo and ensemble performance;
- perform a variety of repertoire;
- perform in a variety of instrumental and vocal chamber music settings;
- demonstrate the ability to lead a rehearsal;
- demonstrate knowledge of opera literature, vocal literature and piano chamber literature;
- demonstrate basic knowledge of classical music languages and diction as encountered in standard vocal repertoire;
- demonstrate knowledge of music theory, music history, world music and music technology;
- demonstrate the ability to express ideas orally and in writing; and
- attend a variety of public performances and events.

Bachelor of Music Therapy
Daniel Tague, Assistant Professor of Music
Ruebush Hall, Room 218, (540) 678-4478, dtague@su.edu

The Bachelor of Music Therapy curriculum prepares students for careers in which music is used to accomplish therapeutic aims, working with children and adults who require special services because of behavioral, learning, physical or psychological disabilities. Following the awarding of the degree, which includes a culminating internship at a site affiliated with Shenandoah University or approved by the American Music Therapy Association, students are eligible to take the national examination in music therapy administered by the Certification Board for Music Therapists. Upon passing the examination, the credential Music Therapist-Board Certified (MT-BC) is granted.

Program Objectives
Students completing the Bachelor of Music Therapy will be able to:

- demonstrate musicianship in solo and ensemble performance including non-symphonic instrumental skills;
- demonstrate knowledge of clinical foundations across distinct population groups;
- demonstrate a variety of methods for clinical settings;
- demonstrate the ability to document music therapy services according to assessment, implementation and evaluation;
- demonstrate the ability to implement music therapy services across distinct population groups;
- demonstrate knowledge of music theory, music history, world music and music technology;
- demonstrate the ability to express ideas orally and in writing; and
- attend a variety of public performances and events.

Advancement in the Bachelor of Music Therapy Curriculum

Academic, personal and music therapy screening requirements must be met prior to enrollment in upper level music therapy courses. Specific requirements and procedures are available from the director of Music Therapy and are included in the Music Therapy Program Handbook.

A student who has failed a required course in areas of musical foundations, clinical foundations or general education for a second time may not register in Music Therapy courses until a passing grade in the required course is earned.

A student who has failed any three field placement courses, including failure in the repeat(s) of any one field placement course, will be dismissed from the Music Therapy Program.

All required courses in music therapy, musical foundations, clinical foundations and general education at the freshmen level must be completed before enrollment in junior level music therapy courses.
All required music courses at the 100- and 200-level must be completed before enrollment in 400-level music therapy courses.

Competency demonstration in the areas of piano, voice, guitar, non-symphonic instruments and music technology is required during the semester preceding the start of internship. Specific requirements and procedures are available from the director of Music Therapy and are included in the Music Therapy Program Handbook. A minimum grade point average of 2.5 in core Music Therapy courses is required prior to enrollment in the Music Therapy Internship.

Mission
The mission of the School of Nursing (SON) is to prepare graduates who deliver, manage and lead nursing care in a variety of health care settings, and who participate in personal and professional development.

Overview of Nursing Program
Since the 1960s, Shenandoah University has played an integral role in the education of nurses in the northern Shenandoah Valley. This rich tradition includes a program of study in the SON that culminates in a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN). Preparation for present and future nursing practice must address the ever-changing, increasingly complex and multi-dimensional health needs of our society. To become educated, learners become involved in intellectual work and critical thinking in order to transform information into knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences necessary for the provision, management and coordination of general nursing care for individuals, families, groups and communities at the baccalaureate level. The scholarly habits of learning, established early, increase the graduate’s lifetime ability to contribute to the discipline/profession of nursing and to society.

The SON undergraduate program is approved by the Virginia Board of Nursing, Perimeter Center, 9960 Mayland Drive, Suite 300, Henrico, VA 23233-1463; (804) 367-4515; www.dhp.virginia.gov/nursing

Undergraduate Program Objectives
Graduates of the Baccalaureate Program will be able to:

1. Analyze knowledge associated with professional nursing practice and membership within the nursing profession.

2. Demonstrate skill in the delivery, management, and leadership of professional nursing care.

3. Demonstrate values consistent with the ethical delivery of professional nursing care.

4. Exemplify unique meanings associated with professional nursing.

5. Actively and intellectually engage in professional nursing experiences.

The BSN may be achieved via several tracks including:

• Traditional four-year
• Transfer
• Accelerated second degree
• Registered nurse to BSN
The curriculum highlights the art and science of nursing and includes experiences in the classroom, clinical sites, and local and global communities. Students have access to modern facilities and equipment at both the Health Professions Building in Winchester and the Northern Virginia Campus in Leesburg. Facilities include computer labs, well-equipped nursing skills labs, computerized simulation mannequins, health professions library services, a technology-based conference center, distance learning facilities and multiple technology-equipped classrooms. Undergraduate students participate in the university technology program.

Nursing Policies and Procedures
In addition to policies and procedures of the university as identified in this catalog and the university Student Handbook, nursing students are responsible for reading, understanding and implementing policies and procedures found in the School of Nursing Student Handbook. Students must meet the Technical Standards for Nursing as described in the School of Nursing Student Handbook and listed below.

Essential Qualifications for Candidates for Admission, Progression and Graduation
Nursing technical standards for admission establish expectations and abilities considered essential for students admitted to the nursing program in order to meet theoretical and clinical course objectives required to achieve the level of competency necessary for graduation and practice of essential functions as a registered nurse. All students admitted to nursing are expected to be able to demonstrate the abilities specified throughout their program of study.

Students must demonstrate the ability to function competently in a variety of clinical situations and to provide a broad spectrum of care. Students who require technological support or other accommodations must be able to perform in a reasonably independent and timely manner that does not affect the quality of care, the safety of patients or other individuals, and in a manner that does not impose undue hardship on the School of Nursing or other members of the health care team.

Use of trained intermediaries to carry out functions described in technical standards is not permitted. A student’s judgment and skills may not be mediated by reliance upon someone else’s power of selection, observation, or clinical ability.

Students must satisfy the following with or without reasonable accommodation, in order to be admitted, progress, and graduate:
Sensory/Observation

• Must have functional use of the senses of touch, speech, smell, hearing, and vision.
• Must be able to observe patients to assess their health status accurately, including verbal and nonverbal signals such as facial expressions, gestures, temperature, position, equilibrium, and movement.
• Must hear and see signals from monitoring equipment.
• Must be able to elicit, transmit, and record patient data and other information from faculty, classmates, clinicians, and other personnel, and family members using the English language orally and in writing.

Motor Skills

• Must demonstrate sufficient manual dexterity and other motor skills to execute movements reasonably required to engage in assessment and patient care procedures, including palpation, auscultation, percussion, administration of medication, and emergency interventions such as cardiopulmonary resuscitation, application of pressure to stop bleeding, and suction of obstructed airways.
• Clinical settings may require the ability to carry and lift loads from the floor; from 12 inches from the floor; to shoulder height and overhead.
• Must be able to occasionally lift 50 pounds, frequently lift 25 pounds, and constantly lift 10 pounds.
• Must be able to maintain consciousness and equilibrium and have the physical strength and stamina to perform satisfactorily in clinical settings.
• Must have the capability to navigate easily and quickly in small spaces in order to execute appropriate care to a patient.
• Must have the ability, within reasonable limits, to safely assist a patient in moving, for example from a chair to a bed, or from a wheel chair to a commode.
• Must have a reliable means of transportation in order to travel to educational experiences off campus for clinical experiences.

Cognitive

• Must be able to measure, calculate, analyze, integrate, and synthesize data accurately and make decisions that reflect consistent and thoughtful deliberation of appropriate data.
• Must be able to quickly read and comprehend extensive written material.
• Must be able to evaluate and apply information and engage in critical thinking in the classroom and clinical setting.
Communication

• Must possess interpersonal skills sufficient to communicate effectively with students, patients, families, faculty, colleagues, and other professionals of diverse religious, cultural, or social backgrounds.

• Must be able to clearly express his or her ideas and feelings and demonstrate a willingness and ability to give and receive feedback.

• Must be able to convey or exchange information at a level allowing development of a health history, identify problems presented, explain alternative solutions, and give directions during treatment and post treatment.

• Must be able to process and communicate information on the patient’s status with accuracy in a timely manner to members of the health care team. Appropriate communication may rely on the individual’s ability to make a correct judgment in seeking supervision and consultation in a timely manner.

Behavioral/Emotional

• Must possess the emotional health required for the full utilization of his or her intellectual abilities, exercise good judgment, and provide prompt completion of all responsibilities related to the diagnosis and care of patients and families.

• Must be able to maintain mature, sensitive, and effective relationships with patients, family, other students, faculty, staff and other professionals under all circumstances including stressful situations.

• Must have the emotional stability to function effectively under stress and able to adapt to an environment that may change rapidly without warning or in unpredictable ways.

• Must be able to experience and effectively communicate empathy in sharing the situations and experiences of others.

• Must know that his or her values, attitudes, beliefs, emotions, and experiences affect his or her perceptions and relationships with patients, families, and others. The student must be able and willing to examine and change his or her behavior when it interferes with productive individual and/or team relationships.

• Must possess skills and experience necessary for effective relationships in diverse academic and working environments.

Professional Conduct

• Must possess the ability to reason morally and practice nursing in an ethical manner.

• Must be willing to learn and abide by professional standards of practice.

• Must possess personal qualities that include compassion, empathy, altruism, integrity, honesty, responsibility and tolerance.

• Must be able to engage in patient care delivery in all settings and to all patient populations regardless of age, ethnicity, gender, disability or any other basis protected by law.
All students must meet the essential requirements of the program as outlined in the Technical Standards for Nursing. Reasonable accommodations will be granted to qualified students with disabilities to the extent the accommodation will enable them to perform the essential functions of the program and will not create an undue hardship – however no accommodations are given that will alter the essential program requirements. Therefore all students must pass all courses at an acceptable level and master all essential clinical competencies as established by the nursing program. Questions regarding the technical standards for nursing should be directed to the Dean of the School of Nursing.

While the nursing program requires students to have essential skills for the program, the program has a duty to accommodate where accommodations can be had, and that accommodation process is based upon an individualized assessment of the applicant/student. Therefore, it is advised that students with disabilities must register with the Office of Learning Resources and Services before any accommodations can be granted to the student. Revealing a disability is voluntary and student disability information is handled in a confidential manner. Reasonable accommodations will be made to comply with the university’s responsibilities to facilitate equal access to university programs, events, activities, and services for students with disabilities according to the legal, ethical, and philosophical principles of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the 1990 Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). For any questions regarding disability service, please contact the Director of Learning Resources and Services.

In addition to the SU policy on Accommodation of Persons with Disabilities in the university catalog, the SON supports the guidelines for ADA set forth by the National Council of State Boards of Nursing (NCSBN). These guidelines serve to guide applicants and students of nursing in understanding what functions, standards and competencies will be required of them during their course of study and whether or not some accommodations will be necessary in order for them to be successful. The NCSBN has offered a perspective on core licensure requirements at the following website: www.ncsbn.org/271.htm.

Students should determine their ability to meet these standards. In addition, they should notify the faculty as soon as possible of any special accommodation required to complete requirements for the course of study in their nursing education program. At the time of application for licensure, applicants will be asked by the Virginia Board of Nursing about any accommodations that were necessary to complete nursing education requirements. Virginia Board of Nursing will also request disclosure of any felony, plea agreement, misdemeanor conviction, or drug related behaviors.

Transfer Credit

Transfer credit for nursing courses is evaluated by the nursing faculty. It is the student’s responsibility to request consideration of all transfer credits and to arrange that official transcripts be sent to the Office of Admissions at Shenandoah University in a timely manner.

Shenandoah University admits transfer students who have been successful in accredited institutions of higher education. Transfer of nursing credits will be evaluated and awarded on an individual basis. Students who have been dismissed from another program of nursing are not eligible for admission to the Shenandoah University School of Nursing.
Students requesting advanced placement and/or consideration of transfer of nursing courses must complete the following process:

- Send formal transcripts to the Office of Admissions at Shenandoah University that include grades of all courses to be considered for the advanced placement/course transfer process.
- Provide a written request for consideration of advanced placement or course transfer along with two (2) hard copies of the appropriate nursing course syllabi/outlines for consideration. Each course will be evaluated individually.
- Schedule an interview with a faculty member in the School of Nursing.
- Demonstrate competency of selected nursing skills through challenge exams or standardized tests prior to beginning classes.
- Nursing faculty will evaluate the request and determine acceptance of the individual course.
- Pre-licensure nursing courses with a grade of “B” or better will be considered for transfer.

The deadline for nursing transfer credit consideration is July 1st for acceptance in the fall semester and by November 1st for spring semester.

Once students are admitted into the Shenandoah University undergraduate nursing program, all nursing courses with an N prefix must be taken within the School of Nursing. Courses completed prior to admission to Shenandoah University will be evaluated on an individual basis.

For further information contact nursing@su.edu

School of Nursing Academic Progression Policy

Please see the SON Student Handbook.

Grading Criteria

Grading criteria of the SON are divided into three areas:

1. Academic Grades
2. Safety
3. Professional Behavior

Students must demonstrate proficiency in all these areas in order to successfully pass required courses in the nursing program. Failure to meet any one of the three areas constitutes failure of the course. Requirements for academic grades are identified in each course outline. Professional behavior and safety are expected of all SON students. Refer to the Professional Behavior and Safety Performance section in the SON Student Handbook for criteria.
Grading Scale:

- 93 - 100 = A
- 85 - 92 = B
- 78 - 84 = C
- 70 - 77 = D
- Below 70 = F

Any grade involving a numerical fraction is rounded ONLY at the end of the semester in the final grade. To be rounded up, a fraction must be equal to or greater than .5.

Licensure Considerations

Students and graduates are subject to the current Commonwealth of Virginia, Health Regulatory Boards, Board of Nursing statutes regarding legal limitations of licensure, licensure examinations and professional practice.

Students who have been convicted of a felony or who may have had previous legal experiences that would interfere with their ability to become licensed as a registered nurse are responsible for informing the dean of the School of Nursing and for contacting the Board of Nursing regarding their eligibility for licensure and the licensure application procedure.

Upon acceptance into the Nursing Program, the following will be required for all tracks:

1. Current American Heart Association CPR certification as a Health Care Provider.

3. Criminal background check, fingerprinting and random urine drug screen as directed by the SON.

The SON tries to limit student expenses. However, students will encounter fees or expenses in the following areas:

- Textbooks
- Lab coats/uniforms
- Campus learning laboratory equipment
- IM Learning Technology fee each semester. The technology fee provides a laptop computer, selected software, insurance and hardware and software support
- Standardized tests
- Photocopying on campus
- Technology fee each semester. The technology fee provides a laptop computer, selected software, insurance and hardware and software support
- Lab and clinical course fees
Nursing Curriculum Requirements

The following undergraduate nursing tracks are offered.

Traditional Four-Year Track

The Traditional Four-Year Track in Nursing at Shenandoah University is designed for students beginning the BSN program as freshmen. These students are interested in the full, traditional college experience that includes living on campus and fully participating in campus life. Nursing courses begin in the first semester of study as a freshman and occur during every semester of the curriculum. Students have the opportunity and are encouraged, to work in health care during summers. Technology in the nursing program is integrated throughout the curriculum; therefore, all nursing students participate in the computer technology program offered through the university.

Applicants seeking admission to the Traditional Four-Year Track must meet the following guidelines:

1. Meet all requirements for admission to Shenandoah University.
2. Cumulative high school GPA of 3.0.
3. Submit official transcript(s) from their high school.
4. Minimum combined SAT score of 900 (math and critical reading only).

Admitted freshmen must complete the Test of Essential Academic Skills (TEAS) by the end of the freshman year and must achieve a minimum overall score of 65 percent (may be subject to change) to continue in the nursing program. Candidates may retake the exam only once.

The traditional 4-year BSN student must attain a minimum grade point average (GPA) of 3.0 on all pre-requisite science courses (BIO 121, BIO 231 and 232, Anatomy and Physiology I and II, BIO 260 Microbiology, and CHEM 121) and a 3.0 GPA in the remaining prerequisites for nursing in order to progress to the nursing 200-level courses.

BSN Transfer Track
(Fall and Spring Entry)
The BSN Transfer Track in Nursing at Shenandoah University is designed for students transferring to Shenandoah University and prepares the student with necessary skills and knowledge for an entry-level nursing position in a variety of settings. This track begins in the fall or spring semester and may be completed in five academic semesters. Students in the transfer track must have completed all prerequisites prior to admission.

Guidelines for Application and Admission
Fall Priority Consideration Deadline: June 1
Spring Priority Consideration Deadline: October 1
Thereafter, admission is based on availability of seats in the program.

Applicants seeking admission to the BSN Transfer Track must meet the following guidelines:
1. Meet all requirements for admission to Shenandoah University
2. Submit official transcripts from all colleges and/or universities previously attended.
3. A cumulative GPA of 3.0 in these four science courses:
   - Human Anatomy and Physiology I with lab (Domain 4) 4
   - Human Anatomy and Physiology II with lab (Domain 4) 4
   - Chemistry with lab (Domain 4) 4
   - Microbiology with lab (Domain 4) 4
4. A cumulative GPA of 3.0 in these prerequisite/general education courses:
   - Medical Terminology 1
   - English Composition (Domain 1) 3
   - Public Speaking (Domain 1) 3
   - Statistics (Domain 3) 3
   - Introduction to Psychology (Domain 6) 3
   - Introduction to Sociology (Domain 6) 3

   Courses that satisfy the following SU general education domains:
   - Artistic Expression (Domain 2) 3
   - Moral Reasoning (Domain 5) 3
   - The Individual in the World (Domain 7) 3
   - Free Electives 7
   - Total Prerequisite Credits 48
5. Completion of the Test for Essential Academic Skills (TEAS) with a minimum total score of 65 percent (score may be subject to change). Applicants may retake the exam one time only.

Accelerated Second Degree Track
(Fall and Spring Entry at the Northern Virginia Campus and Fall entry only at the Winchester Campus)

The Accelerated Second Degree Track in Nursing at Shenandoah University prepares students with necessary skills and knowledge for entry-level nursing positions in a variety of diverse settings. This track is 15 months in length and designed for the student who already holds a baccalaureate degree in another discipline. Because of the intensity of the program, it is strongly recommended that students not be employed while enrolled in this accelerated program of study.

Guidelines for Application and Admission

Priority consideration for Fall admission is June 1.

Priority consideration for Spring admission is October 1.

Thereafter, admission is based on availability of seats in the program.

Applicants seeking admission to the Accelerated Second Degree Track must meet the following guidelines:

• An earned baccalaureate degree or higher.
• Official transcripts from all previous colleges and/or universities attended.
• A minimum grade point average of 3.0 on all prerequisite courses required.
• A cumulative GPA of 3.0 in these four science courses:
  - Human Anatomy and Physiology I with lab (Domain 4) 4
  - Human Anatomy and Physiology II with lab (Domain 4) 4
  - Chemistry with lab (Domain 4) 4
  - Microbiology with lab (Domain 4) 4

• Completion of the Test for Essential Academic Skills (TEAS) with a minimum total score of 65 percent (score may be subject to change). Applicants may retake the exam one time only.
• Two letters of recommendation.
• All prerequisite courses must be completed prior to enrollment.

Registered Nurse (RN) to BSN Online Track (Fall Entry Only)

The RN to BSN track at Shenandoah University offers Registered Nurses the opportunity to complete a Bachelor of Science degree in nursing online in synchronous, asynchronous, and face to face coursework. Completion of the BSN degree increases career options and broadens leadership opportunities for RNs. Throughout the course of study, communication, leadership, ethics, genomics, concepts of research and evidence based practice are included, along with community practice and emergency preparedness. The program begins with a summer transition seminar that is delivered face to face and online, and offers students the opportunity to meet faculty and adjust to technology requirements.

The School of Nursing offers advanced placement for RNs who hold an associate degree or a diploma in nursing. Students may receive transfer credit for required prerequisites, general education, and nursing courses from accredited institutions of higher education. Upon completion of prerequisite courses, Students may complete the BSN degree in two semesters of full-time study. Part-time study may be arranged. The program, including prerequisite courses, requires a total of 121 credits. Applicants are strongly encouraged to meet with a nursing advisor to review transcripts from previous academic institutions.

Each student must have a personal laptop computer and will pay a technology fee. The following minimum configuration requirements are recommended in order to successfully interface with the wireless technology available to all SU students. It is recommended that the student has an extended warranty and an up to date antivirus program. The laptop may be a PC or Mac with Windows platform added.

- 1.7 GHz Core 2 Duo or Centrino processors
- 80 GB hard disk drive
- CD/DVD drive RW
- Wireless capability (built in)
- Web Cam capability and Headphones
• Minimum 2 Gb RAM
• MS Windows XP, Vista, or Windows 7
• MS Office Professional (may be student and teachers version)*

*May be purchased through the SU bookstore.

It is recommended that RN-BSN students have access to a reliable, stable and efficient high-speed Internet connection at a place where they study and prepare assignments. Learning assignments often include materials and learning content that must be accessed on SU Web-based platforms and Internet sites. The student must have the capability to transfer large files of data and learning materials. This is not easily possible with a dial-up Internet connection.

For more information on use of technology, please see the School of Nursing Student Handbook.

Applicants seeking admission to the RN-BSN track must have completed or show evidence of the following in order to be considered for admission:

1. An associate degree or diploma in nursing from an accredited institution of higher education. NLNAC accreditation preferred; state board approval required.

2. A current Virginia license to practice as a registered nurse.

3. Cumulative GPA of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale of all undergraduate coursework.*

4. Completion of all prerequisite courses before starting the RN-BSN track.

5. Contact the Admission Office and the School of Nursing for details of the online program delivery.

*No grade lower than “C” will be transferred. All course credits for transfer are evaluated on an individual basis. Evaluation of nursing transfer credits will not be completed after June 1.

Articulation Agreements between Shenandoah University and Community Colleges in the Mid-Atlantic Region are on file within the School of Nursing and the Office of Admissions. Please contact SU Admissions for further information.

BSN Completion Option for Registered Nurse (RN) to MSN

The RN to MSN Degree Option in the School of Nursing enables students who are registered nurses without a BSN to obtain an MSN degree within one of four specialty areas: Nurse-Midwifery, Family Nurse Practitioner, Health Systems Management and Psychiatric Mental-Health Nurse Practitioner.

However, certain states’ laws (e.g., West Virginia and Maryland) require certified nurse practitioners to have a bachelor’s degree or BSN in order to obtain prescriptive authority as a nurse practitioner. Students who anticipate practicing in those states should consider earning the BSN from Shenandoah University.

Please refer to the Graduate Academic Catalog for the specific criteria required to complete the BSN as part of their RN to MSN track.
Division of Respiratory Care
Beverly Watson, Program Director
Health Professions Building – Respiratory Care
1775 North Sector Court, (540) 678-4380, brecny@su.edu

Mission Statement
The mission of the Shenandoah University Respiratory Care Program is to prepare and educate its students to become exemplary health care providers in the field of respiratory care. The curriculum employs the standards instituted by the Commission on Accreditation for Respiratory Care (CoARC) and provides students with an atmosphere that promotes critical thinking, the ability to develop the knowledge and skills essential to become an integral member of the health care team, and a consideration of human diversity.

Bachelor of Science in Respiratory Care
The Bachelor of Science in Respiratory Care degree is offered in two tracks. The RT to BSRC track provides already practicing respiratory therapists the ability to continue their education and expand their professional development. The second track, the Three-Semester track, is for students without any respiratory therapy credentials.

Program Requirements
A grade point average of 2.5 in previous respiratory care and science courses is required.

Other Regulations
Regulations on academic standing governing Shenandoah University students apply to respiratory care students along with the following additional requirements:

1. Students must meet the physical requirement of SU’s clinical affiliates for essential job functions.

2. Students are enrolled in the program subject to its policies and guidelines as outlined in the Respiratory Care Student Handbook, copies of which are available in the Respiratory Care program office and on Blackboard.

3. Students are responsible for arranging their own transportation to and from clinical facilities and between campus sites.

The RT to BSRC Track
The RT to BSRC degree program is a BS-degree-completion program designed for the practicing, credentialed, professional respiratory therapist who wishes to advance their professional development by earning a Bachelor of Science degree in Respiratory Care. Students may enroll in the RT to BSRC track any semester.

The program requires a minimum of 120 credit hours for graduation. Shenandoah University’s general education requirements are considered to be met by the student’s associate degree, which provides up to 88 credit hours toward the minimum 120 credit hours required for graduation. Respiratory Care core courses provide the remaining 32 credits and must be taken through Shenandoah University. These courses are offered online.
or by independent study, allowing students to structure their study while maintaining employment.

Entrance Requirements for the RT to BSRC Track

An overall grade point average of 2.5 is required for admission. A minimum GPA of 2.5 is also required in all respiratory care courses.

In order to be accepted into this program of study, students must have an Associate of Applied Science (AAS) degree from a program accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Respiratory Care (CoARC), offered at a regionally-accredited institution. Prospective students must also be credentialed by the National Board of Respiratory Care (NBRC) as a Registered Respiratory Therapist (RRT) or be eligible to take the RRT exams. Students must be currently working as a respiratory care practitioner.

Students who have not completed all required general education courses or who do not have 88 credits of course work to transfer in may be enrolled in the RT to BSRC program and take non-Respiratory Care courses while completing their RT to BSRC requirements. Such applicants will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Three-Semester Track

This track is available to students who do not hold any respiratory therapy credentials. Students must complete all program prerequisites, Shenandoah University general education requirements and free electives (for a minimum of 80 credit hours) before enrolling in any Respiratory Care courses. This is a sequenced program; students may only enter in the fall semester.

Entrance Requirements for the Three-Semester Track

An overall grade point average of 2.5 is required for admission. In addition, a grade point average of 2.5 in the prerequisite science courses is required. A minimum GPA of 2.5 is also required in all respiratory care courses, if taken.

Applicants with no more than one science prerequisite and six additional hours of credit outstanding at the end of the spring semester prior to enrollment may be admitted on a provisional basis, but must submit official transcripts documenting completion of those credits to the Office of Admissions prior to the first day of fall semester enrollment, or they will not be permitted to begin the program. All credits to be transferred must be earned at a regionally-accredited institution.

Purpose and Vision Statement

Part of Shenandoah’s mission is to “educate and inspire individuals to be...compassionate citizens who are committed to making responsible contributions within a community, a nation and the world.” Among Shenandoah’s core values are the ideas of respect for diverse cultures, experiences and perspectives; cultivation of leadership to advance positive change and growth; and dedication to citizenship, professional service, and global outreach. The university’s focus on global awareness encompasses a variety of initiatives, inside the classroom, around campus, in the local community and around the world.

The Center for International Programs (CIP) at Shenandoah University facilitates successful connections for learning between the university community and the world. CIP is a key resource for learners and educators to advance intercultural competency development and for local to global learning opportunities. The Center for International Programs at Shenandoah University consists of two offices: the Office of International Student Services and the Office of Study Abroad.

Office of International Student Services

Shenandoah University welcomes over 150 international students to its campuses each year from over 40 different countries. The Office of International Student Services provides an array of programs and services in support of international students including handling immigration requirements, advising on transition issues, supporting orientation and learning needs, facilitating social programming and supporting employment immigration requirements to advance learning.

CIP staff work closely with the International Student Association, a student organization that organizes events and advocates for international students.

Office of Study Abroad

Shenandoah University encourages all students to seek opportunities to become globally engaged citizens. In facilitating this effort, the Office of Study Abroad provides a range of programs and resources to assist students in meeting their international learning objectives. These include SU’s notable programs such as the Global Citizenship Project (GCP), the Global Experiential Learning (GEL) program, and International Student Exchange Program (ISEP).
Global Citizenship Project (GCP)
The Global Citizenship Project (GCP) was created in 2005 to send members of the SU community on all-expenses-paid trips abroad during spring break.

The application process is open to all full-time members of the SU community, with a selection focus on campus members who have had no or limited international travel opportunities. Five groups for five destinations are selected and are limited in size to maintain intimacy of experience, 10 to 12 participants, composed to represent the diversity of Shenandoah and result in the unexpected benefit of cross-disciplinary networking. Undergraduate and graduate students from all schools within the university have traveled in a mixed group with administrators, including the president and vice presidents, deans, faculty, maintenance workers, housekeepers, accounting personnel, and even members of the board of trustees.

The GCP program experience was designed to be a limited travel experience, approximately 10 days during spring break, and utilize a group oriented and faculty led approach. Its purpose is to whet the appetite of learners for longer-term learning abroad. The program removes the boundaries associated with first-time travel, mainly time and financial restraints.

Applicants must sign on without prior knowledge of the destination to which they might travel and study. Participants must be willing and able to travel anywhere in the world with the intent to examine a theme, such as global citizenship (2005), power (2006), time (2008) or sustainability (2010). GCP has traveled to locations on six continents, including Costa Rica, Peru, Mali, India, Taiwan, Oman, Denmark, Romania, Australia, Vietnam, Morocco and Burma. Participants share their international experiences with the rest of the community in unique ways upon return.

Global Experiential Learning (GEL)
The Global Experiential Learning (GEL) Program offers Shenandoah students a short-term, faculty-led, study-abroad experience for academic credit. Since the program’s inception in 2000, students have traveled to countries around the world, including Argentina, China, England, France, Ireland, Italy, Poland, Russia, Spain, and Thailand. The GEL program aims to make the world a learning laboratory for students, providing deep exploration into individual fields of study, the opportunity to understand where the United States fits in terms of the world viewpoint, and the ability to enhance skills in cultural sensitivity, flexibility, and capability to adjust and adapt.

International Student Exchange Program (ISEP)
Shenandoah University is a member of the International Student Exchange Program (ISEP), a global network of 300 universities. This partnership allows students to study for a full semester or year abroad at other member campuses. By working closely with their academic advisors and the study abroad advisor, students can take advantage of the opportunities to take general education and major classes taught in English abroad and to receive transfer credit at their home institution. A full list of courses and campuses available can be found at www.isep.org.
Additionally, many other international learning programs are also supported with coordination and information services for students, faculty and staff while traveling abroad.

All offices in the Center for International Programs along with the director’s office are located in the International & Cross-cultural Center of Cooley Hall on Main Campus. Further information can also be found at www.su.edu/cip.
Shenandoah Conservatory Arts Academy (SCAA)
Jennifer Green-Flint, Director
John Kerr Building, (540) 665-4602

Purpose and Mission Statement
The Shenandoah Conservatory Arts Academy (SCAA) was founded in 1977 with two piano teachers to provide enrichment opportunities in the fine arts for local students of all ages. Today, the SCAA has over 80 faculty members of professionally trained musicians, dancers, artists and educators with many faculty members serving on both the Shenandoah University Conservatory faculty and the faculty of the SCAA. The student body of the SCAA includes over 1,100 students weekly. Instruction at the SCAA serves two purposes; community introduction and outreach in the arts for students who do not have art instruction as part of their k-12 education and serving students who have a desire to pursue the performing arts in a conservatory collegiate environment.

Central to the SCAA mission is developing the next generation of performers, arts educators, arts patrons and audience members. Many SCAA students enter the Academy as young children and remain active students until they graduate from high school. SCAA students not only attend Shenandoah University in the performing arts disciplines, but also in the health sciences, liberal arts fields, business and nursing.

SCAA offerings during the academic year (September- May) number more than several hundred dance, theater, fencing, fitness, and large ensemble classes. The Academy also offers applied music instruction in over 35 instruments as well as youth choirs, chamber music, and several youth orchestras. Classes in composition and music technology are also offered. The Early Childhood Music program fosters a love of performing arts and music instruction for life in many of the Academy’s smallest learners. Summer instruction (June- August) focuses on art in the community, film, dance and theater intensives as well as light hearted exploration classes designed for the novice learner with a passion for the arts. Performing opportunities on the campus of Shenandoah University and in the community are numerous.

Learn more about the Shenandoah Conservatory Arts Academy by visiting the website at SCArtsAcademy.org or by visiting our facility at 203 South Cameron Street in downtown Winchester.
The Center for Lifelong Learning
Jo Miller, Coordinator
Gregory Hall, Room 120, (540) 665-5442, jmile3@su.edu www.su.edu/academics

Purpose and Mission Statement
The Center for Lifelong Learning serves Shenandoah University’s campus, its students and the local community engaging them in educational development. The Center focuses on three major areas: creating knowledge; promoting public awareness; and maintaining a strong association with its community and alumni.

Created in 1995, the Center for Lifelong Learning seeks to make learning an important and enriching aspect of the lives of all peoples. Courses offered are of a wide range of knowledge within various disciplines, cultures and eras without the formality of having any collegiate background or training.

The Center for Lifelong Learning offers continuing education, non-credit, non-degree seeking classes for persons who no longer wish to earn a degree, but still want to engage in a traditional classroom or take classes for personal enrichment at an affordable cost.

The Center produces two brochures, one in the spring and fall, filled with a variety of classes and topics suggested by the public or brought back by popular demand. It offers over 300 online career development and personal enrichment classes for everyone to take in the privacy of their own homes if they choose.

The Center engages with the local community by providing special topics of interest FREE to the public, such as health, safety, global and historical issues to promote educational interest for anyone who wishes to come.

Center for Lifelong Learning brochures and registration details are available online at www.academics.su.edu/academics/center-for-lifelong-learning-cll/.

The Center for Public Service and Scholarship
Karen Schultz, Director
Gregory Hall, Room 120, (540) 678-4385; kschultz@su.edu

Purpose and Mission Statement
The Center for Public Service and Scholarship supports the entire Shenandoah University community by furthering its commitment to prepare students and the broader community to become active, informed citizen-leaders. We promote engagement in community service, scholarly understanding of the role of public service, and civility in all public actions.

The Center serves as a resource for faculty, staff, and community members for the integration of engaged teaching, research, and Service-Learning. It supports students in their development as active citizens and scholars and develops partnerships with communities in support of the university’s mission.

We facilitate engaged learning activities such as Partnership in Community Day, Public Service recognitions, AmeriCorps VISTA, faculty and student development that foster an exchange of ideas and that create opportunities for our Shenandoah University to be in community.
Goals

• Engagement in Public Service: Serve as a center for facilitating community-campus exchanges for community service and scholarship opportunities.

• Future Citizen Leaders: Provide students and community members with opportunities to participate in activities for gaining experience and rich understanding of leadership, public service, advocacy and civic responsibility.

• Scholarship through Public Service: Increase student participation in community engagement with scholarly projects and outcomes in support of the university-wide mission statement.

For more information, please visit our website at www.arts.su.edu/arts-sciences-home/special-programs/center-for-public-service-and-scholarship/.

Office of Education Outreach
Dennis L. Keffer, Director
Bowman Building, School of Education and Human Development
(540) 535-3544 or (540) 535-3552

What is the Office of Education Outreach (OEO)?
The Office of Education Outreach is a department within Shenandoah University’s School of Education and Human Development (SEHD) which provides professional and licensure courses approved by the Virginia Department of Education (VDOE) for teacher licensure and recertification. Many of these courses are available in Winchester and Leesburg; a variety of licensure and recertification distance courses are also available via distance learning each trimester.

Initial Teacher Licensure Courses (graduate credit)
Students may enroll in OEO initial licensure courses as a Visiting Student. These courses are beneficial since students can enroll at an affordable tuition as they select the licensure program that best fits their needs.

OEO initial licensure courses will transfer into PSC (Professional Studies Certificate) or M.S.Ed. (Masters of Education) programs. It is important that students apply for admission to the university once they are enrolled in their first OEO licensure course, since the number of credits that transfer does vary by program. OEO course offerings and registration information may be found at www.su.edu/oeo.

Licensure Recertification Courses (graduate credit)
Partnering with Virtual Education Software, Inc. (VESI), OEO provides distance learning graduate-credit courses in a self-paced format via an online download (computer-based instruction for teachers). These courses are to be used towards recertification of teacher licensure. These courses are either 2-credit or 3-credit courses.
The Career Switcher Program
For twelve years, OEO has offered a non-traditional path to Virginia teacher licensure. The Career Switcher Program was created by the VDOE to provide an alternative pathway into teaching for individuals who have not completed a teacher preparation curriculum but who have considerable life experiences and career achievements that are relevant for teaching in grades 6-12. Applicants must hold a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited university and have at least 5 years full time work experience (or its equivalent). Please see www.su.edu/cs for additional details.

School Development and Partnerships
OEO is able to offer individualized courses for school districts to meet specific needs the district may have. School divisions may contract with OEO to arrange sponsored sections as well.

OEO also offers the Teachers for Tomorrow Dual Credit program to high schools participating in the “grow your own” program. This program is designed to attract teacher candidates from high school to the field of education through exposure to a world-class curriculum and hands-on experiences that focus on teaching.

Teachers for Tomorrow — EDU 201
Advanced Academic Dual Enrollment Program
Four hours of undergraduate credit

This course is offered to high school seniors through the dual enrollment process. Students are awarded four hours of undergraduate credit upon successful completion of the program. In keeping with the challenge to increase the pool of highly qualified teachers, the purposes of the Virginia Teachers for Tomorrow Program are:

• To identify, train and nurture high school students interested in a teaching career;
• To support the efforts of Virginia’s school divisions to meet hiring targets by cultivating an effective “grow your own” recruitment program;
• To create a high school curricular experience designed to foster student interest, understanding and appreciation of the teaching profession; and
• To attract students to teaching in critical shortage and high needs areas of the state.

For information on either individualized courses or greater details of the Teachers for Tomorrow program, please contact the Director of the Office of Education Outreach.
APPLIED MUSIC (AP OR AE)

In these course descriptions, AP = curricular study and AE = elective study;  stands for a two-letter code used for registration and * stands for the name of the applied area, as follows:

AC = Accompanying BN = Bassoon
BT = Euphonium/Baritone
CH = Coaching
CL = Clarinet
CN = Conducting*
DA = Dance
DB = Double Bass
EB = Jazz Electric Bass
FL = Flute
GT = Guitar
HC = Harpsichord
HN = Horn
HP = Harp
JB = Jazz Trombone
JD = Jazz Double Bass
JG = Jazz Guitar
JH = Jazz Piano
JP = Jazz Percussion
JS = Jazz Saxophone
JT = Jazz Trumpet
LT = Lute
MC = Composition
OB = Oboe
OG = Organ
OI = Organ Improvisation*
PD = Performance Development
PN = Piano
PR = Percussion RP = Teaching Repertoire*
RS = Recital Study
SR = Score Reading*
SX = Saxophone
TN = Trombone
TP = Trumpet
TT = Teaching Techniques
TB = Tube
VA = Viola
VC = Cello
VN = Violin
VO = Voice

*Available as elective applied study only (AE101, 102)

Applied Major Study

3 credits (per semester)

Individual lessons for students majoring in performance curricula to fulfill degree requirements as described in specific curriculum outlines. Detailed course descriptions are obtained from the instructor at the first lesson or found in the handbook of the division offering the instruction.

AP  103  Applied*
First-year applied major study; one-hour lesson per week. Prerequisite: successful audition in area of study. Three credits.

AP  203  Applied*
Second-year applied major study; one-hour lesson per week. Prerequisite: two semesters of study in this applied area. Three credits.

AP  303  Applied*
Third-year applied major study; one-hour lesson per week. Prerequisite: four semesters of study in this applied area. Three credits.

AP  403  Applied*
Fourth-year applied major study; one-hour lesson per week. Prerequisite: six semesters of study in this applied area. Three credits.
Applied Major Study

2 credits (per semester)

Individual lessons for students majoring in non-performance music curricula to fulfill degree requirements as described in specific curriculum outlines. Detailed course descriptions are obtained from the instructor at the first lesson or found in the handbook of the division offering the instruction.

AP 102 Applied

First-year applied major study; one-hour lesson per week. Prerequisite: successful audition in area of study. Two credits.

AP 202 Applied

Second-year applied major study; one-hour lesson per week. Prerequisite: two semesters of study in this applied area. Two credits.

AP 302 Applied

Third-year applied major study; one-hour lesson per week. Prerequisite: four semesters of study in this applied area. Two credits.

AP 402 Applied

Fourth-year applied major study; one-hour lesson per week. Prerequisite: six semesters of study in this applied area. Two credits.

Applied Minor Study

1 credit (per semester)

Individual lessons for students to fulfill degree requirements as described in specific major or minor curriculum outlines. Open to students in other curricula if accepted into a Conservatory minor. Detailed course descriptions are obtained from the instructor at the first lesson or found in the handbook of the division offering the instruction.

AP 101 Applied

First-year applied minor study; one-half-hour lesson per week. Prerequisite: successful audition in area of study. One credit.

AP 201 Applied

Second-year applied minor study; one-half-hour lesson per week. Prerequisite: two semesters of study in this applied area. One credit.

AP 301 Applied

Third-year applied minor study; one-half-hour lesson per week. Prerequisite: four semesters of study in this applied area. One credit.

AP 401 Applied

Fourth-year applied minor study; one-half-hour lesson per week. Prerequisite: six semesters of study in this applied area. One credit.
Applied Elective Study (AE)

Individual lessons for students to fulfill duration requirements as described in specific curriculum outlines. Open to students for non-curricular study as instructor time and studio space allow. Detailed course descriptions are obtained from the instructor at the first lesson or found in the handbook of the division offering the instruction. Must be approved by associate dean for undergraduate studies.

- AE 101 Applied*
  Elective applied study; one half-hour lesson per week. One credit.

- AE 102 Applied*
  Elective applied study; one-hour lesson per week. Two credits.

Applied Performance Development (APPD)

Applied study in a specific instrument designed to expand knowledge of repertoire and performance practice in idioms as determined by the applied instructor.

- APPD 101 Applied Performance Development
  Applied performance study; one half-hour lesson per week. One credit.

- APPD 201 Applied Performance Development
  Continuation of APPD 101; one half-hour lesson per week. One credit.

- APPD 301 Applied Performance Development
  Continuation of APPD 201; one half-hour lesson per week. One credit.

- APPD 401 Applied Performance Development
  Continuation of APPD 301; one half-hour lesson per week. One credit.

Applied Recital Study (APRS)

Study designed to allow students to register for applied study if a recital is scheduled and curricular applied requirements have been met. Applied Recital Study carries an additional fee and may not be used to fulfill curricular requirements. Corequisite: registration for applied recital.

- APRS 101 Applied Recital Study
  Applied recital study; one half-hour lesson per week. One credit.

- APRS 102 Applied Recital Study
  Applied recital study; one hour lesson per week. Two credits.

Applied Teaching Techniques (APTT)

Study of the pedagogical approaches related to a specific instrument, voice or area of applied study. Review of the sequential development of technique related to the performance medium. Instruction includes review of etude and technical materials or appropriate physical exercises related to individual pedagogical approaches appropriate to specific stages, ages or grade levels from beginning through adult study, observation of students at various levels of technical development and observed introductory teaching experiences. The course includes preparation of an annotated bibliography of specific materials and an in-depth outline of specific courses of study with appropriate approaches and related etudes, solos, and supplementary material for each stage of development.

- APTT 101 Applied Teaching Techniques
  Applied teaching technique study; one half-hour lesson per week. One credit.
Applied Class Piano (APCP)

Group lessons in piano for students majoring in music or music theatre, or students minoring in music, to fulfill degree requirements as described in specific curriculum outlines. Open to students in other curricula as instructor time and studio space allow. The determination of whether the applied piano minor is fulfilled with APPN (private lessons) or APCP (class piano) is made through the piano minor screening, which is administered by the Keyboard Division each year.

APCP 105 Basic Piano and Keyboard Harmony Skills I
A course designed especially for non-keyboard majors to fulfill basic piano requirements for all curricula. Included are scales, triad qualities and inversions, cadences, chord progressions, transposition, harmonization, score-reading, sight-reading and repertoire. Students must pass the final examination to pass the class. One credit.

APCP 106 Basic Piano and Keyboard Harmony Skills II
A continuation of keyboard skills developed in APCP 105. Each category continues at a more advanced level. Prerequisite: APCP 105. One credit.

APCP 205 Basic Piano and Keyboard Harmony Skills III
A continuation of keyboard skills developed in APCP 106. Each category continues at a more advanced level. Prerequisite: APCP 106. One credit.

APCP 206 Basic Piano and Keyboard Harmony Skills IV
A continuation of keyboard skills developed in APCP 205 and completion of basic piano requirements through projects involving skills directly related to possible professional needs. Student must pass the final examination to pass the class. Prerequisite: APCP 205. One credit.

APCP 305 Advanced Piano and Keyboard Harmony Skills
A continuation of the class piano sequence with emphasis on the development of practical keyboard skills needed in the professional career. Specifically designed for music education and music therapy majors, content includes advanced harmonization, transposition, score-reading, and improvisation. Prerequisite: demonstrated proficiency of skills developed in APCP 206. One credit.

APCP 306 Score-Reading
A continuation of APCP 305 with direct emphasis on score-reading, and designed especially for Music Education majors. Prerequisite: APCP 305. One credit.

APCP 405 Keyboard Skills for Music Educators I
A continuation of the class piano sequence and specifically designed for music education majors in the choral/general concentration curriculum in preparation for student teaching. Content focuses on the further development of accompanying and other keyboard skills needed in general music programs and classrooms. Prerequisite: APCP 306 or equivalent proficiency. One credit.

APCP 406 Keyboard Skills for Music Educators II
A continuation of the class piano sequence specifically designed for music education majors in the choral/general concentration during student teaching. Content focuses on the further development of accompanying and other keyboard skills needed in general music programs and classrooms. Prerequisite: APCP 405 or equivalent proficiency. One credit.
ART (ART)

ART 101 Introduction to Drawing and Composition I
A studio course designed to develop basic observational and drawing skills and to expose students to various drawing materials and techniques. Two credits.

ART 102 Introduction to Drawing and Composition II
Continuation of ART 101. Prerequisite: ART 101. Two credits.

ART 200 Art Appreciation
A survey of the principles of aesthetics as applied to painting, sculpture, architecture, ceramics and photography. Three credits.

ART 214 Investigations in Modern Art
Discussion of images and ideas, using slides of art works as subjects, tracing developments in Western art from Impressionism to the present. Prerequisite: ART 200. Three credits.

ART 216 American Art
An historical survey of American art from 1700 to the present. Three credits.

ART 295 Topics
Study of specific topics, issues or themes within the field of art. Three credits.

ART 395 Topics
Selected upper-level topics in art history. Three credits.

ARTS MANAGEMENT (AMGT)

AMGT 309 Foundations of Arts Management
This course is designed to give students an overview of the nonprofit performing arts industry from a management perspective. Specific topics covered include arts and culture in community, strategic planning, governance and board development, fundraising and marketing, financial and personnel management, program development and arts education, volunteerism and cultural access, and program evaluation. Three credits.

AMGT 312 Arts Marketing and Audience Engagement
This course is designed to provide students with an in-depth understanding of nonprofit performing arts marketing and audience engagement. Specific topics covered include current conditions in arts attendance, understanding performing arts audiences and consumerism, strategic marketing process and planning, communicating and delivering value, market research, new communication technology, brand identity, building customer loyalty and delivering service. Three credits.

AMGT 313 Production/Project Management in the Arts I
Course is designed to provide students with the tools necessary to act as producers or project managers to effectively manage arts productions and/or projects. Specific topics covered include stage technical production, project/production initiation, project implementation, and project evaluation. Prerequisites: AMGT 305, AMGT 312 and AMGT 317. Three credits.

AMGT 314 Production/Project Management in the Arts II
Course is designed to build upon the concepts introduced in Production/Project Management in the Arts I. Students explore methods of multi-production/project management as well as integrating goals with the organization strategic plan. Students also examine how special events management related to the arts is handled. Prerequisite: AMGT 313. Three credits.

AMGT 317 Financial Management for Arts Organizations
Course is designed to give students an in-depth understanding of nonprofit performing arts financial management. Specific topics covered include bookkeeping and nonprofit accounting fundamentals, organizational budgeting, and financial reporting. Prerequisites: AMGT 305, ISCT 204, and BA 211. Three credits.
AMGT 401  Arts Management Internship I
Practical experience (150 hours minimum for each three-credit course) in a professional arts management situation. Prerequisites: All AMGT required courses, all BA requirements, all ENG requirements, EC 211, all major applied study (for music concentration). Three credits.

AMGT 402  Arts Management Internship II
Practical experience (150 hours minimum for each three-credit course) in a professional arts management situation. Prerequisites: All AMGT required courses, all BA requirements, all ENG requirements, EC 211, all major applied study (for music concentration). Three credits.

AMGT 403  Arts Management Internship III
Practical experience (150 hours minimum for each three-credit course) in a professional arts management situation. Prerequisites: All AMGT required courses, all BA requirements, all ENG requirements, EC 211, all major applied study (for music concentration). Three credits.

AMGT 418  Governance of Arts Organizations
Course is designed to give students an in-depth understanding of nonprofit performing arts policy issues and how organizations are governed. Specific topics covered include the legal framework for nonprofit arts organizations, understanding best practices within the nonprofit arts industry, and contemporary views of leadership and governance. Prerequisite: AMGT 305 or AMGT 317. Three credits.

AMGT 495  Special Topics
Investigation of a specialized area of arts management knowledge in a class setting. Prerequisites will vary with topic. One, two or three credits, dependent upon topic.

AMGT 499  Individual Directed Research
An individual instruction setting for projects in arts management. Project must be approved by the associate dean for undergraduate studies and the division chair and/or program coordinator prior to registration. One, two or three credits, dependent upon topic.

ARTS STUDIES (AS)

AS 499  Senior Comprehensive Study
An interdisciplinary seminar in the arts culminating in a comprehensive examination or research project. Project proposal must be approved by the associate dean for undergraduate studies and the division chair and/or program coordinator prior to registration. Prerequisite: Senior standing in the Bachelor of Arts in Arts Studies curriculum. One, two or three credits.

BIOLOGY (BIO)

BIO 105  The Natural World
Intended for students not majoring in the natural sciences, BIO 105 surveys basic concepts of the life and earth sciences through class discussions, lab and field exercises and written assignments. Students also examine the nature of science, and gain insight into many of the societal implication of scientific knowledge. This course also forms part of a three-course series with PHYS 105 and CHEM 105. Together the three courses provide an overview of the natural sciences and fulfill the requirements for Virginia state elementary (K-6) teacher licensure. The courses may be taken in any sequence. Three lecture hours plus two laboratory hours per week. BIOL 105 The Natural World lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

BIO 121  General Biology I
General Biology is a two-course sequence that examines the ideas and methods basic to an understanding of contemporary biology. This first course focuses on the fundamental theories of biology, historically significant discoveries, classification of organisms, the chemical basis of life, cell biology and heredity. Three lecture hours plus three laboratory hours per week. BIOL 121 General Biology I lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.
BIO 122 General Biology II

General Biology is a two-course sequence that examines the ideas and methods basic to an understanding of contemporary biology. This second course focuses on the fundamentals of evolution, ecology, classification of organisms and basic plant and animal anatomy and physiology. Three lecture hours plus three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: earned a grade of “C-” or better in BIO 121. BIO 122 General Biology II lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

BIO 192 Forensic Science Biotechnology

The objective of this course is to give students who wish to further learn and use forensic science techniques in their current or developing careers a basic understanding of forensic science and how it is used in criminal cases by using case studies, class discussion, laboratory procedures and techniques. This course is designed to be a companion course to the introductory course, BIO 191 Introduction to Biology Research in a sequence of classes primarily used to prepare freshman and sophomore students knowledge and skills and to satisfy the requirement in the Biology major for experiential skills-based instruction. Two-hour lecture hours and two laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: earned grade of “C-” or better in BIO 121. BIO 192 Forensic Science Biotechnology lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

BIO 201 Medical Terminology

The relationship of word parts to their anatomic and physiologic counterparts will be learned in this course. Students will learn to combine appropriate word parts into complete medical terms, to interpret and explain clinical pathology reports, to interpret and explain clinical laboratory results and be able to use correct abbreviations and medical scribe notation. Accurate pronunciation and spelling of complete terms will be emphasized throughout the course. This course is designed to enhance student experiences in courses such as Human Anatomy and Physiology, Pathophysiology or other clinically or medically relevant course. Three lecture hours per week. Three credits.

BIO 231 Human Anatomy and Physiology I

A course on the structure and function of the human organism. The central theme of homeostasis will be carried throughout. After studying the different structural levels of organization, cells and cellular activity are investigated, followed by the physiology of tissues, skin, bone and muscle. The integrative aspects of the nervous system and sensory organs complete the course. Three lecture hours plus three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: earned grade of “C-” or better in BIO 121. BIO 231 Anatomy and Physiology I lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

BIO 232 Human Anatomy and Physiology II

As a continuation of BIO 231, the central theme of homeostasis will be carried throughout. This course begins with the integrative roles of the endocrine system. The cardiovascular system with all of its ramifications is investigated. Study of the maintenance systems of respiration, digestion, metabolism, excretion, body fluids and reproduction completes the course. Three lecture hours plus three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: earned grades of “C-” or better in BIO 121 and BIO 231. BIO 232 Anatomy and Physiology II lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

BIO 260 Microbiology

The fundamental principles of the importance of microorganisms are presented in the course. Topics of course discussions will include the historical importance of microbiology, systematics, microbial metabolism, microbial genetics, biotechnology, pathogenesis, antimicrobial epidemiology and immunology. In addition to traditional learning tools, students will use a variety of multimedia and Internet-based technologies for classroom and laboratory learning experiences. The laboratory will introduce students to the basic techniques for growth and identification of microorganisms. Three lecture hours plus three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: earned grade of “C-” or better in BIO 121. BIO 260 Microbiology lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

BIO 312 Genetics

This course introduces the major concepts of transmission, molecular and population genetics. Emphasis will be placed upon the various modes of Mendelian (transmission) inheritance. A human perspective will be used in conveying these fundamental aspects of heredity. The laboratory component will include experimental design, data analysis, cytogenetics, as well as experiments, problems and research information from an Internet site. Three lecture hours plus three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: earned grades of “C-” or better in BIO 121 and BIO 122 or in BIO 232. BIO 312 Genetics lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.
BIO 320 Introduction to Neuroscience
This course explores the function of the nervous system from the level of a single neuron to the interactions of large numbers of neurons in functional and dysfunctional systems. Emphasis will be placed on the electrophysiology and molecular biology of the neuron, sensory systems and the control of motor function. Prerequisites: BIO 121 and BIO 122 or BIO 231. Three credits.

BIO 321 Ecology
Ecology is the study of the interrelationships between organisms and their physical and biological environments. The course will examine the various levels of ecology — populations, species, communities, and ecosystems — in lecture-discussions, laboratory studies and field investigations. Ecological concepts will be considered from various perspectives including theoretical predictions, laboratory experiments, observations, field measurements and resource management applications. Three lecture hours plus three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIO 121 and 122. BIOL 321 Ecology lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

BIO 325 Animal Behavior
A study of the principles and mechanisms of animal behavior. Behavior will be viewed in a genetic, ecological, and evolutionary context. Three lecture hours plus three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: earned grades of “C-” or better in BIO 121 and BIO 122, as well as one additional biology course above BIO 201. BIOL 325 Animal Behavior lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

BIO 344 Plant Morphology
A survey of the evolution of plant forms, life cycles and functions from algae to angiosperms. The relationships between adaptive strategies — such as those for reproduction and dissemination — and the structures that pertain to those strategies will also be examined. Many class exercises will integrate morphology with other biological disciplines including taxonomy, evolution, genetics and ecology. In the laboratory and field, students will examine plant features useful in identification and classification. Three lecture hours plus three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIO 121 and BIO 122. BIOL 344 Plant Morphology lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

BIO 351 Vertebrate Zoology
Vertebrate Zoology investigates the comparative anatomy, taxonomy, evolution, ecology and behavior of the Subphylum Vertebrata of the Phylum Chordata. The class will consider vertebrates from a variety of perspectives. Such an approach will integrate the various sub-specialties of the biological sciences such as genetics, morphology and systematics. Students are expected to come to field sessions prepared for outdoor work, including data collection, regardless of the weather. Field and laboratory studies will emphasize techniques for species identification as well as investigating population biology, morphology and adaptations. Three lecture plus three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIO 121 and BIO 122. BIOL 351 Vertebrate Zoology lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

BIO 364 Pharmacology
This course is a comprehensive introduction into the ways in which drugs move through and interact with our bodies in order to exert their intended effect. Interdisciplinary in nature, the course is designed to promote an understanding of how the chemical nature of the drug contributes to its ability to gain access to the targeted cell(s); elucidation of both general and specific cellular response patterns to drugs provide insight into common cellular signaling mechanisms that promote a change in the physiology of the organism. Three-hour lecture. Prerequisites: BIO 121 and CHEM 122. Three credits.

BIO 365 Diseases in History (same as HIST 365)
This course is an interdisciplinary topics course examining the impact of human disease on the development of human history. Topics to be discussed include: 1) fundamental information about different types of diseases, disorders, syndromes and disease processes; 2) an extensive review of significant points in history where either the illness and possible death of an individual leader or wide spread epidemics changed the course of human history; and 3) research papers and presentations by each student participating in the course. Diseases to be discussed include infectious diseases and genetic disorders. Three lecture hours per week. Prerequisites: earned grade of “C” or better in BIO 121, BIO 122, or HIST 101 or HIST 102. Three credits.

BIO 395 Topics
Selected topics in biology for reading, discussion, writing, laboratory and field investigation. Prerequisites: BIO 121 and BIO 122. BIOL 395 Topics lab might be taken concurrently. Two to four credits.
BIO 409 Cell Biology
This course involves a detailed exploration of the organelles and supra-molecular organization of eukaryotic cells. Topics will include cellular growth and reproduction. The physiological processes involved in motility, energetics, and synthesis are also investigated. Three lecture hours plus three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: earned grades of “C-” or better in BIO 121, BIO 122, CHEM 121 and CHEM 122. BIOL 409 Cell Biology lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

BIO 420 Developmental Biology
A study of gametogenesis, fertilization, cell type determination, histogenesis, organogenesis and the formation of the early body plan. Both molecular and organismal aspects of these processes will be discussed, using a text and primary literature. Model systems covered include invertebrate (fly, worm), vertebrate (chicken, frog, fish, mouse) and plant. Laboratory will include observation of and experimentation with invertebrate, vertebrate and plant systems. Three lecture hours plus three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: earned grades of “C-” or better in BIO 121, BIO 122, CHEM 121 and CHEM 122. BIOL 420 Developmental Biology lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

BIO 430 Histology
This course explores the microscopic structure of tissues and organs of the body. The course will focus on the structural organization of cells, tissues and organs, as well as methods of visualization and how structure is related to function. This course will include both laboratory and lecture components. Prerequisite: BIO 260. Four credits.

BIO 465 Medical Microbiology
A comprehensive course on infectious diseases, students learn how to correlate disease symptoms with laboratory findings, the types of specimens required for diagnosis, laboratory procedures to determine microorganism identity and drug susceptibility, current modes of treatment and any new technological advances used for identification and susceptibility testing in the clinical microbiology laboratory. Three lecture hours plus three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: earned grades of “C-” or better in microbiology at the 100 or 200 level (BIO 260), as well as in BIO 121 and BIO 122 or in BIO 231 and BIO 232. BIOL 465 Medical Microbiology lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

BIO 470 Endocrinology
This course explores the anatomy and physiology of the human endocrine system. The regulation, synthesis and degradation of major hormones will be discussed. Interactions of hormones with their receptors and target cell responses will be covered in detail. Dysfunction of the endocrine system and resulting disorders will also be addressed. BIO 231 and BIO 232 are recommended, but not required for success in the course. Prerequisite: BIO 121. Three credits.

BIO 472 Immunology
The study of the immune system including the importance of humoral and cell-mediated immunity in inflammation, infection, vaccination, hypersensitivity, autoimmunity, immunodeficiency, tumor formation and transplantation. This course is designed for students interested in health professions and health education. Three lecture hours plus three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: earned grade of “C-” or better in BIO 232 or BIO 260. BIOL 472 Immunology lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

BIO 490 Clinical Internship
Students interested in a career in clinical health professions must participate in a nationally accredited clinical internship that requires on-site training in the clinical discipline of their chosen profession. Examples of disciplines requiring clinical internships include the following: 1) clinical laboratory science (medical technology), 2) cytology (cytotechnology), 3) cytogenetics, 4) histology (histotechnology), 5) histocompatibility technologist, 6) ultrasound technology, and 7) radiology (radiation technician, nuclear medicine technology). Prerequisites: BIO 121 and BIO 122, BIO 260, CHEM 121 and CHEM 122, and junior or senior standing. One to twelve credits.

BIO 491 Research Project
Students will undertake a set of tasks or activities for a research project under the guidance and mentorship of a Biology Program faculty member. The research project will be of a specific and directed nature, and have a definable starting point and well defined objectives. Each task will have a planned completion date (due date) and assigned resources. The organization of the project will generally follow three major parts: planning, execution and completion. Planning and execution will be the focus of this semester activity. The assigned project tasks may encompass a wide variety of activities and may include working with microorganisms, plants, animals, field trips, laboratory procedures and experimentation. Prerequisite: junior or senior standing. Two credits.
BIO 492 Research Project

Students will undertake a set of tasks or activities for a research project under the guidance and mentorship of a Biology Program faculty member. The research project will be of a specific and directed nature and have a definable starting point and well-defined objectives. Each task will have a planned completion date (due date) and assigned resources. The organization of the project will generally follow three major parts: planning, execution, and completion. Execution and completion will be the focus of this semester activity. Completion of the project may include submission of a research paper with the findings suitable for publication in scientific journals, or presentation of project information at scientific symposia. The assigned project tasks may encompass a wide variety of activities and may include working with microorganisms, plants, animals, field trips, laboratory procedures and experimentation. Prerequisite: junior or senior standing. Two credits.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (BA)

BA 103 Introduction to Business

The role of the business firm is studied together with its effect upon the economic and social environment. Emphasis is placed upon business principles and applications. Three credits.

BA 107 Personal Finance

Students learn to budget their finances, balance their checking accounts, and learn about taxes, banking, consumer credit, casualty and life insurance, investment markets, stock transactions, and retirement planning. Intended for students not majoring in business. Three credits.

BA 112 Mind of the Entrepreneur

Current issues and topics in entrepreneurship are examined via the most recent academic and practitioner printed and electronic media and sources. These issues and topics will be subjected to in-depth analysis in the class sessions and in individual written assignments. Three credits.

BA 203 Statistics and Data Analysis for Business

This course provides the student with an overview of some important analytical tools that are used to examine business phenomena and improve management decision-making. The two foci of attention are: 1) learning about the structure of analytical tools, namely exploratory data analysis, probability and statistics; and 2) learning how to use these tools to analyze business phenomena and improve business decision-making. In the process of conducting analyses of business phenomena, the student will focus special attention on one- and two-sample hypotheses testing; contingency-table analysis; simple linear regression; forecasting and time series analysis; and analysis of variance. Prerequisites: MATH 101 and IST 204. Three credits.

BA 211 Principles of Accounting I

An introduction of the fundamentals of accounting which is a basic language of business. Journals, ledgers, adjusting entries and closing entries are introduced and utilized in building the financial and operating statements of sole proprietorships. Three credits.

BA 212 Principles of Accounting II

A continuation in the study of accounting fundamentals which covers accruals and deferrals, current liabilities, capital stock, investments, and the preparation and analysis of financial statements including the statement of cash flows. The remaining topics will focus primarily on information for management decision-making including cost concepts, budgetary planning and control and responsibility accounting. Prerequisite: BA 211. Three credits.

BA 302 Quantitative Methods

This course provides the student with an overview of some of the quantitative (mathematically and statistically based) methods that are commonly used to support business decision-making. Course emphasis is on business applications – not on mathematics and statistics. Prerequisite: BA 203. Three credits.

BA 303 Legal Environment of Business

A study of law as it applies to ordinary business situations with focus upon the Uniform Commercial Code dealing with obligations, contracts, agency and negotiable instruments. Three credits.
BA 307 Introduction to Management and Organizational Behavior

This course introduces students to the fundamental concepts of management systems to include roles, ethical behavior, planning/strategy, structure/organization, leadership, control and change. In like manner, the behavioral aspects of individuals in organizations will be studied. These include improvement of individual, group and organizational behavior, including group dynamics. Prerequisite: Junior-level standing. Three credits.

BA 310 Introduction to Management Information Systems and Electronic Commerce

This course introduces the student to the concepts underlying the design, implementation, control and evaluation of a contemporary computer-based information system. Students will understand the role that management information systems play in the development of the Internet worked/e-commerce enterprise. The course strives to show how, through information systems, the manager is able to better understand today's new business model. The course will emphasize the interrelationship between the three major business resources: information, information technology and people. This course is intended to provide the student with a major overview of the information function within the e-commerce enterprise. At all times, the emphasis will be on the application of technology to the business environment, with the intent of understanding how information technology has transformed how we live and work. Prerequisites: IST 204 and junior-level standing. Three credits.

BA 311 Intermediate Accounting I

The application of generally accepted accounting principles and the actions of FASB to the recording of financial data. A more sophisticated and detailed approach is demonstrated for income statement presentation and for classified statements of financial position. Additional topics include receivables, inventories, fixed assets and accounting applications of the time value of money. Prerequisite: BA 212. Three credits.

BA 312 Intermediate Accounting II

A continuation of the application of generally accepted accounting principles and the actions of FASB. Topics considered include income determination and valuation of intangible assets, current liabilities, long-term liabilities, short and long-term investments, tax deferrals, pension liabilities and long-term leases. Prerequisite: BA 311. Three credits.

Specific topics include the role of financial markets and institutions in the intermediation of credit, the determination of the structure of interest rates, the influence of law and regulation on the industry, and a survey of financial instruments, institutions and markets. Prerequisites: EC 350 and BA 330 (may be taken concurrently). Three credits.

BA 429 Leadership and Cultural Change
This course is designed to develop and put into practice fundamental leadership skills in the context of an organization's overall corporate philosophy and value system. Emphasis is placed upon how the leadership process is derived from and supports the overall organizational culture. It shows how the practice of leadership in turn influences and modifies this culture. Prerequisites: Senior-level standing. Three credits.
BA 431 Project Management
This course provides a comprehensive overview of project management. The course addresses the culture, principles and basic techniques of project management. The course reviews the general states of a project in rough chronological order and describes how the stages interrelate. Basic tools of project management, such as work breakdown structure, scheduling, earned value analysis and risk management are introduced. The principles and tools are integrated and clarified through case studies from a variety of organizational settings and through creation of project management plans developed by students working in a team. This course is designed to help students prepare for examinations leading to professional certification in project management. Prerequisites: BSB senior-level standing and BA 395. Three credits.

BA 442 Purchasing and Supply Management
This course addresses modern practices and techniques of the purchasing and supply management (PSM) function. Included in the coverage of PSM are supply organization, quality, supplier selection, price determination, purchasing policy and procedures, material and logistic systems, inventory, global purchasing, acquisition of capital assets and supplier relations. This course is designed to help students to prepare for examinations leading to professional certification in supply chain management. Prerequisites: BSB senior-level standing and BA 395. Three credits.

BA 446 Logistics and Distribution Management
This course provides an overview of distribution operations and tools to make strategic, tactical and operational level decisions. The course includes order management, packaging and materials handling, transportation, location selection, warehousing management and global logistics. This course is designed to help students to prepare for examinations leading to professional certification in supply chain management. Prerequisites: BSB senior-level standing and BA 395. Three credits.

BA 453 Human Resource Management and Business Ethics
This course provides a rigorous and comprehensive approach to understanding the management of both human resources and ethics in a framework of current trends and practice. Emphasis is placed on practical, theoretical, and ethical management principles as well as examples and methods for promoting good employment practices. In the study of ethics, the course seeks an understanding of the day-to-day ethical and moral forces impacting employees within public organizations both domestically and internationally where local practices and cultural norms differ from our own. Situational public policy case studies, analysis and problem solving approaches to enhancing passion and commitment to personal and corporate honesty are highlighted. In the field of human resource management, emphasis will be placed upon planning, strategy, personnel selection, equal employment, the legal environment, training, appraisal, compensation and contemporary issues. The course has been developed for the student of general management whose job will involve responsibility for principled leadership in a global environment. Prerequisite: Senior-level standing. Three credits.

BA 454 Innovation and Design Thinking
This course will enhance students’ ability to use design methodologies and tools for identifying and developing innovation and growth opportunities for business. This applied learning course will introduce students to design-based approaches that enhance business model innovation, expand students’ understanding of innovation for value creation beyond product development, strengthen individual and collaborative competencies for working through the design process, and develop the ability to translate broadly defined opportunities into actionable innovation possibilities and recommendations. Prerequisite: BSB senior-level standing. Three credits.

BA 455 International Business
The growth and development of the multi-national corporation is the focus of this course, with attention given to the organizational and staffing problems that occur in the corporation’s international role. The impact of differences in customs, mores, habits and their historical basis, economic and political systems, tax structures, religious beliefs, and societal expectations on the business firm when it crosses its national boundaries are studied. Prerequisites: BA 307, BA 212, BA 330 and BA 360. Three credits.

BA 456 Seminar in International Business
This seminar provides an opportunity for students to experience firsthand business operations in varying international settings. The seminar will include preparatory classes and lectures, meetings with professors and senior managers of enterprises in the countries visited, and concluding with classes and lectures and a major term paper. Prerequisite: BSB junior-level or senior-level standing. Three credits.
BA 457 Entrepreneurship Law
In our complex business world, entrepreneurs face unique legal challenges as they develop start-up businesses and other enterprises. This course prepares entrepreneurs to identify legal issues and avoid legal pitfalls through a multi-disciplinary lens. The course emphasizes practical aspects of start-ups and growth through and up to an IPO. Prerequisite: BA 303. Three credits.

BA 458 New Venture Creation and Launch
This course is a practical guide to starting a new business, providing students with exposure to every crucial aspect of the entrepreneurship experience. From the initial phase of evaluating a business idea to the actual business launch, students are introduced to the frameworks, complemented by practical advice and guidelines, providing students with a solid foundation to launch their own businesses while understanding the various risks their startup may face. For those who do not plan to launch a new business, skills learned can be used in their corporate and non-profit careers. Prerequisites: BA 112, BA 303, and BA 360. Corequisite: BA 393. Three credits.

BA 460 Marketing and Brand Strategy
Presents brand identity fundamentals and a comprehensive dynamic process for developing and maintaining successful brands. From researching the competition to translating the vision of the CEO to designing and implementing an integrated brand identity program, the process is presented through a step-by-step approach. Topics include research and analysis, brand and identity strategy, brand identity design, brand identity applications, brand asset management as well as standards, guidelines, trademark and other applicable laws. Case studies from small and large businesses are employed to portray the brand identity process in action. Prerequisite: BA 360. Three credits.

BA 464 International Marketing
Introduction to international marketing for business-to-business and business-to-consumer markets. Course will include examination of cultural, legal, social, environmental and economic trends impacting marketing; international marketing research (primary and secondary research methods); the international marketing mix (product, pricing/INCOTERMS, distribution systems, promotion/branding); marketing strategy development, including market entry and penetration; and ethical issues in international marketing. Implications for small and large businesses will be examined in each case. Prerequisite: BA 360. Three credits.

BA 470 Current Issues in Health Care Management
Through the media of reading, lectures and presentations, students will be exposed to many of the challenges facing the health care delivery system in relation to its environment. These areas will include organization for delivery of health care services, financing, political and social issues. Ethical considerations in delivery of health care will be addressed. The student will become a more knowledgeable user of health care services. Three credits.

BA 471 Health Care Law
This course surveys current ethical and legal responsibilities of health care providers and administrators. Emphasis is placed upon institutional defensive law (medical negligence and torts), health care regulation (administrative law), patient confidentiality, informed consent and advanced directives, professional discipline, health care access, government health care policies, managed care, criminal fraud and abuse, patient rights, labor and employment law, environmental regulation, insurance law, public safety and homeland defense/terrorism. Prerequisite: BA 303. Three credits.

BA 473 International Financial Management
Management of the contemporary firm’s international financial operations. Topics include international money and capital markets, exchange rate risk, international capital structure and the cost of capital, international capital budgeting and cash management. Prerequisite: BA 330. Three credits.

BA 490 Business Policy and Strategy
Strategic management, formulation, implementation and control are examined using a case study approach. Topics include corporate social responsibility (CSR), agency theory, resource-based-view of the firm, value chain analysis, executive compensation, balanced scoreboard, bankruptcy, strategic analysis and choice, strategy implementation, structuring an effective organization, organization, organizational leadership, strategic control and continuous improvement. The focus is upon the strategic management and alignment of these areas to achieve the objectives of the business empire. Prerequisite: BSB senior-level standing. Three credits.
BA 493 Advanced Management Theory and Practice
A future oriented senior capstone in management designed to synthesize previous learning and to prepare the student for entry into the work force as an entry or mid-level manager. Prerequisite: BSB senior-level standing. Three credits.

BA 495 Directed Study
Utilized for courses in business administration that are not offered elsewhere, and for individuals desiring to pursue a given issue, topic, or concentration further than obtainable in regularly scheduled courses. May be repeated once. Prerequisite: BSB junior-level or senior-level standing. Three credits.

BA 498 Business Internship
A link between the classroom and experience on the job, the internship provides qualified students a three-way arrangement among the professor-advisor; the employer and the student-employee. Students may obtain appropriate employment on their own or in conjunction with the internship advisor of the school of business. A minimum of two 40-hour work periods is required for each semester hour of credit for which the course is taken. Prerequisites: BSB junior-level or senior-level standing and permission of the internship advisor. Three or six credits.

BA 499 Business Seminar
Group study of an advanced topic in business administration. This course can be built around a common interest of the enrolled students or may be used as a forum for presentation and discussion of current faculty research. Prerequisite: BSB junior-level or senior-level standing. Three credits.

CHEMISTRY (CHEM)

CHEM 105 Chemistry and Society
This course is intended for students not majoring in the natural sciences. It provides an introduction to the chemistry of everyday life with a focus on its relation to societal issues. Topics may include the atmosphere, water, nuclear and solar energy, plastics, drugs, cosmetics, and nutrition. Three lecture hours plus two laboratory hours per week. CHML 105 Chemistry and Society lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

CHEM 121 General Chemistry I
A study of the fundamental laws and principles of chemistry. Emphasis is given to standard laboratory procedures and techniques for chemical analysis. This course is designed to provide the student with a chemical background to be utilized in other fields of work as well as for further work in science. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory per week. CHML 121 General Chemistry I lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

CHEM 122 General Chemistry II
A continuation of the fundamental principles of chemistry. Included is a study of the preparation, properties, and uses of the more important elements and their compounds. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite: a “C-” or better in CHEM 121. CHML 122 General Chemistry II lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

CHEM 211 Analytical Chemistry
Recent techniques of chemical analysis are presented. Basic principles of quantitative acid-base, redox and complexometric titrimetry; Gravimetric and colorimetric analysis are included. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite: a “C-” or better in CHEM 122. CHML 211 Analytical Chemistry lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

CHEM 301 Organic Chemistry I
A comprehensive introduction to the modern theories of organic structure and reactivity. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite: a “C-” or better in CHEM 122. CHML 301 Organic Chemistry I lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

CHEM 302 Organic Chemistry II
A continuation of the fundamental principles of organic chemistry. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite: a “C-” or better in CHEM 301. CHML 302 Organic Chemistry II lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.
CHEM 311 Instrumental Analysis
Modern analytical methods of separation and characterization. The theory and technique of spectrophotometric, electronanalytical and chromatographic methods of analysis. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite: a "C-" or better in CHEM 122. CHML 311 Instrumental Analysis lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

CHEM 317 Inorganic Chemistry
A survey of fundamental aspects of the inorganic chemistry of main group and transition metal elements. Topics include atomic structure, molecular symmetry, bonding models, coordination chemistry and metal carbonyl chemistry. Prerequisite: a "C-" or better in CHEM 122. Three credits.

CHEM 321 Physical Chemistry I
An application of laws and principles of physics and mathematics to chemical systems. Topics studied include thermodynamics, kinetics, equilibria, electrochemistry, nuclear chemistry, and elementary quantum mechanics. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisites: a "C-" or better in CHEM 122 and MATH 201. CHML 321 Physical Chemistry I lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

CHEM 322 Physical Chemistry II
This course is a continuation of CHEM 321. Topics covered include quantum mechanics and spectroscopy. Prerequisite: CHEM 321. Three credits.

CHEM 331 Biochemistry I
A study of the fundamental principles, applications, and major recent advances in biochemistry. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisites: a "C-" or better grade in CHEM 121 and CHEM 122. CHML 331 Biochemistry I lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

CHEM 332 Biochemistry II
A continuation of the fundamental principles, applications, and major recent advances of biochemistry. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite: a "C-" or better in CHEM 331. CHML 332 Biochemistry II lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

CHEM 380 Chemistry Practicum
This course will involve observation and participation in the operation of an industrial chemical laboratory. Assignments will be made by Shenandoah University faculty in cooperation with local industry and will include twenty-five hours of working experience per semester. Prerequisite: Chemistry majors with 15 credit hours of chemistry only. One credit.

CHEM 420 Advanced Synthesis and Analysis
This is a laboratory-oriented course in which advanced techniques in chemical synthesis and qualitative analysis are studied. Four-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisites: CHEM 211, CHEM 302 and senior standing. Three credits.

CHEM 491 Research Seminar
This course is designed to provide an opportunity for study of the scientific approach to the solution of technical problems. Prerequisites: CHEM 211 and CHEM 302. It is strongly recommended that students enroll in this course in the fall or spring of their junior year. Two credits.

CHEM 492 Research Seminar
This course is designed to provide an opportunity for study of the scientific approach to the solution of technical problems. Prerequisites: CHEM 211, CHEM 302, and CHEM 491. Two credits.

CHEM 495 Topics in Chemistry
Study of specific topics, issues or themes within the field of chemistry. One, two or three credits.
CHURCH MUSIC (MUCH)

MUCH 331 Church Music I
An inclusive week of “hands on” study in the field of church music with special emphasis on children’s choir methods and materials, basic conducting and the role of music in the church. Three credits.

MUCH 332 Church Music II
An inclusive week of “hands on” study in the field of church music in which students plan, prepare and participate in a wide variety of church services. The adult choir (methods and materials and conducting the adult volunteer choir), plus the role of music in the church, is the central focus of the week. Three credits.

MUCH 333 Church Music III
An inclusive week of “hands on” study in the field of church music in which the participants plan, prepare, and participate in a wide variety of church services. Special emphasis of this week is the role of the organ in worship, organ repertoire, hymn playing and organ accompaniment. Three credits.

MUCH 334 Church Music IV
An inclusive week of “hands on” study in the field of church music in which the participants plan, prepare, and participate in a wide variety of church services. Emphasis will be placed on service playing, organ repertoire and console conducting. Three credits.

MUCH 335 Church Music V
An inclusive week of “hands on” study in the field of church music in which the participants plan, prepare, and participate in a wide variety of church services. Emphasis will be placed on the study of hymns, their utilization in worship and their history and theological interpretation. Three credits.

MUCH 336 Church Music VI
An inclusive week of “hands on” study in the field of church music in which the participants plan, prepare, and participate in a wide variety of church services. Hymns as theological statements and advanced choral conducting are the special emphases. Three credits.

MUCH 407 Church Music Internship
Supervised practical experiences in a church music setting for a minimum of 150 clock hours. Three credits.

MUCH 495 Special Topics
Investigation of a specialized area of knowledge in a class setting. Prerequisites will vary with topic. One, two or three credits, dependent upon topic.

MUCH 499 Individual Directed Research
A private instruction setting for individual projects in Church Music. May be used to fulfill electives only. Project proposal must be approved by the associate dean for undergraduate studies and the division chair and/or program coordinator prior to registration. One, two or three credits, dependent upon topic.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE (CJ)

CJ 201 Introduction to Criminal Justice
A survey of the organization and practices of police, courts and prisons in America. Three credits.

CJ 220 Crime and Its Analysis
This course provides an introduction to the nature and causes of crime, typologies, offenders and victims through a review of specific crime categories and criminological theories. Prerequisite: CJ 201. Three credits.

CJ 261 Juvenile Delinquency
Defining and explaining delinquency, its social context and types of intervention. Three credits.

CJ 295 Topics in Criminal Justice
Investigation of specific topics or issues in the field of criminal justice. Three credits.
CJ 305 Criminal Theory
A review of the classical and contemporary schools of criminal theory. Prerequisite: CJ 201. Three credits.

CJ 321 Policing and Law Enforcement
Policing and Law Enforcement is an upper-level course for criminal justice majors designed to acquaint students with how society came to accept policing and law enforcement historically and how law enforcement officials operate currently, primarily in the U.S. but also globally. Prerequisite: CJ 201. Three credits.

CJ 322 The Courts
The Courts is designed to examine the structure of the various courts of the United States at the local, state and federal levels. Class will survey current issues that inform and compose court administration using sociological criminological theories. Prerequisite: CJ 201. Three credits.

CJ 323 Corrections
Examination of theories and programs that inform and compose corrections in the United States. Prerequisite: CJ 201. Three credits.

CJ 335 Women and Crime
Women and Crime is an upper level course for criminal justice majors designed to allow students to examine how crime impacts women, both as perpetrators and victims. Prerequisites: CJ 201 and six additional hours of criminal justice. Three credits.

CJ 343 Law for the Criminal Justice Professional
An examination of the central legal principles, procedures and concerns in the criminal justice system. Prerequisite: CJ 201. Three credits.

CJ 350 Criminological Research Methods
This course presents research design as used in criminological research. Both qualitative and quantitative methods will be examined with emphases placed on formulating research questions, collecting data, conducting analyses, interpreting and reporting results with the information to be used to aid professionals in the criminal justice system to better do their jobs. Prerequisite: CJ 201. Three credits.

CJ 360 Criminal Procedure
This course reviews how constitutional law creates rules and standards for law enforcement, prosecution, defense and court procedures. Prerequisite: CJ 201. Three credits.

CJ 370 Drugs and Crime
This course investigates the history, theory, practice and legal environment of drug related crime and related criminal justice issues. Prerequisite: CJ 201. Three credits.

CJ 371 White-Collar Crime
This course reviews the history, theory, practice and legal environment of white-collar crime as it affects law enforcement, the justice system and American society. Prerequisite: CJ 201. Three credits.

CJ 372 Organized Crime
This course addresses the history, theory, practice and legal environment of law enforcement challenges and responses to organized crime in the United States and other countries. Prerequisite: CJ 201. Three credits.

CJ 373 Terrorism
This course studies the history, theory, practice and legal environment of various crimes committed by terrorist acts and the responses of law enforcement, government and society to the challenges. Prerequisite: CJ 201. Three credits.

CJ 374 Homicide
This course is an analytical study of homicide in the United States. Different types of homicide, theoretical explanations of homicide, homicide offenders, homicide victims, trends in homicide, the setting and circumstances surrounding homicide and capital punishment will be presented and discussed. Prerequisite: CJ 201. Three credits.
CJ 390 History of Criminal Law
This course presents the ways individuals and their societies have defined, recognized and punished those who chose not to follow societal rules and laws across time. Legal codes from throughout history will be examined and compared. Prerequisites: CJ 201 and CJ 220. Three credits.

CJ 401 Internship in Criminal Justice
Internship in the field of Criminal Justice. Prerequisites: Junior standing or Criminal Justice major; 2.5 GPA and permission of the instructor. Three credits.

CJ 477 Issues in Criminal Justice
A seminar on selected topics in the administration of criminal justice. Prerequisite: Senior standing as a Criminal Justice major. Three credits.

CJ 495 Topics in Criminal Justice
Investigation of specific topics or issues in the field of criminal justice. Prerequisites: CJ 201 and junior standing. Three credits.

CJ 499 Guided Independent Study
Guided individualized study of a particular area of topic in Criminal Justice as agreed by the student and instructor. An outline of the proposed study content, learning activities, and evaluation methods must be submitted to the instructor for approval prior to enrollment. Prerequisite: CJ 201. One to three credits.

DANCE (DA)

DA 111 Modern Dance I
A course for dance majors (and others with instructor's permission) that involves the development of skill, knowledge, and appreciation of modern dance through the study of fundamental techniques and other movement experiences. Through these processes, students develop an understanding of the technical and artistic foundations necessary for performance, choreography and teaching. Two credits.

DA 112 Modern Dance II
A course for dance majors (and others with instructor's permission) that involves the development of skill, knowledge, and appreciation of modern dance through the study of fundamental techniques and other movement experiences. Through these processes, students develop an understanding of the technical and artistic foundations necessary for performance, choreography and teaching. Prerequisite: DA 111. Two credits.

DA 121 Ballet I
A course for dance majors (and others with instructor's permission) that involves the development of skills, knowledge and appreciation of ballet through the study of fundamental techniques and movement vocabulary. Through these processes, students develop an understanding of the technical and artistic foundations necessary for performance, choreography and teaching. Two credits.

DA 122 Ballet II
A course for dance majors (and others with instructor's permission) that involves the development of skills, knowledge and appreciation of ballet through the study of fundamental techniques and movement vocabulary. Through these processes, students develop an understanding of the technical and artistic foundations necessary for performance, choreography and teaching. Prerequisite: DA 121. Two credits.

DA 131 Jazz I
A course for dance majors (and others with instructor's permission) that develops skills, knowledge and appreciation of jazz dance through the study of fundamental techniques and both contemporary and musical theatre styles. Through these processes, students develop an understanding of the technical and artistic foundations necessary for performance, choreography and teaching. Two credits.
DA 132  Jazz II
A course for dance majors (and others with instructor's permission) that develops skills, knowledge and appreciation of jazz dance through the study of fundamental techniques and both contemporary and musical theatre styles. Through these processes, students develop an understanding of the technical and artistic foundations necessary for performance, choreography and teaching. Prerequisite: DA 131. Two credits.

DA 143  Freshman Seminar
A seminar for freshman/first-year dance majors only, focusing on integrating new students into the Conservatory community and developing skills for academic and professional success. Topics will include studio, audition, rehearsal and performance etiquette, production responsibilities, career development strategies, arts advocacy and community engagement. One credit.

DA 152  Contemporary Partnering
Exploration of contact improvisation and contemporary partnering skills. Corequisite: Concurrent enrollment in DAPE 152 (or previous coursework in contact improvisation). One credit.

DA 191  Pilates Mat
This course is designed for students to develop an understanding of Pilates' 6 Principles and physical mastery of the 34 Pilates Mat exercises. The material presented will cover the specific benefits of the Pilates method as it applies to cross training for dance and the professional performer/athlete. One credit.

DA 192  Pilates Mat II
This course offers continued study of Pilates' 6 Principles and the 34 Pilates Mat exercises, focusing on advanced level skill development through the addition of props (bands, balls and ring techniques), as well as more advanced variations of the traditional mat exercises. Emphasis is placed on continued mastery of physical skills at a sustained pace, providing increased cardiovascular wellness benefits and cross-training for the professional performer/athlete. Prerequisite: successful completion of DA 191. One credit.

DA 211  Modern Dance III
For the dance major (and others with instructor's permission), continued exploration in movement and motion further develop skills and knowledge of modern dance technique, with emphasis on performance skills. The American short story surveys the genre from its beginnings in the early 19th century up to the present day. Students will study the genesis of the short story form and the alterations of the form through time, by individual authors. Among the authors who will be examined are Irving, Poe, Hawthorne, Melville, Twain, Jewett, Crane, Cather, Anderson, Faulkner, Fitzgerald, Hemingway, Porter, Welty, O'Connor, Baldwin, Cheever, Updike, Oates and Walker. Representative stories will be read closely and in their literary, historical and cultural contexts. By semester's end, students will understand the vital tradition of the American short story and each author's place in that tradition. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 328 Contemporary World Fiction in English
A comparative study of major contemporary works of world fiction in English from Africa, Asia, the Middle East, the Americas, the Caribbean and the British Commonwealth by a variety of authors. Cross-cultural similarities such as theme and technique will be identified with simultaneous attention to historical and cultural specificities. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 341-360 Studies in Long Fiction
Studies in long prose fiction (novel or other extended prose narrative) in which wide reading of exemplary works is the basis of critical analysis and discussion. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 344 18th Century British Novel
In the last decades of the 17th century, social and economic changes in England led to the growth of a new group of readers. These readers were attracted to romance and adventure, and to realism and humor as well. They were often not among the best-educated people, and this caused their preference for reading prose rather than verse. This was the climate that led to the emergence of the modern novel. Works by Aphra Behn, Daniel Defoe, Henry Fielding, Samuel Richardson and Laurence Sterne will be studied. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 346 19th Century American Novel
Selected novels by James Fenimore Cooper, Nathaniel Hawthorne, Herman Melville, Mark Twain, William Dean Howells and Stephen Crane are examined for their literary accomplishments and in relation to their historical, sociological and psychological contexts. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 347 20th Century American Novel
Crane's Maggie: A Girl on the Streets, Driesser's Sister Carrie, Anderson's Winesburg, Ohio, Fitzgerald's The Great Gatsby, Hemingway's The Sun Also Rises, Cather's Death Comes for the Archbishop and A Lost Lady, and Faulkner's Light in August are examined for their literary accomplishments and in relation to their historical, sociological and psychological contexts. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 349 19th Century British Novel
Join the conversation about several 19th century British novels. We will discuss the effects of social gossip (Emma), the roles of women in society (Jane Eyre), the influence of the Napoleonic War (Vanity Fair), the powerful reach of a decades-long lawsuit (Bleak House), and modes of fin-de-siècle decadence (The Picture of Dorian Gray). As we read and enjoy these novels, our goals will be to analyze the narrative and stylistic techniques employed, and to examine these novels from various critical perspectives, such as the psychological, historical and feminist. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 350 Modern British Novel
Students will read several of this century's most important novels, including Conrad's Heart of Darkness (1902), Forster's Lawrence's Sons and Lovers (1913), Joyce's Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man (1916), Woolf's Mrs. Dalloway (1925), a novel by Greene or Golding, and Lessing's Golden Notebook (1962). In addition to enjoying these novels, students will discover the narrative and stylistic techniques employed (often experimental in form and content), will discuss the philosophical and psychological views presented, and will examine the social and historical backgrounds of these novels. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.
ENG 356  Arthurian Literature

In Arthurian Literature, students will examine the historical evidence for King Arthur before studying the growth and development of the legend of Arthur during the Middle Ages. Students will read about the Grail quest and the Knights of the Round Table in excerpts from French and English romances, and will study Gawain and the Green Knight before reading a significant portion of Malory's Morte d'Arthur. During the second half of the course, students will investigate 19th and 20th century versions of Arthurian legend in writers such as Tennyson and T.H. White; in Wagner's opera Tristan und Isolde; in artistic representations by Morris, Burne-Jones, D.G. Rossetti, Beardsley, Dore and others; and in British and American popular culture. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 358  Willa Cather

A broad and intensive study of Willa Cather's fiction (novels and short stories) that emphasizes her prominence as an American modernist. Major works may include My Antonia, A Lost Lady, The Professor's House, Death Comes for the Archbishop and Sapphira and the Slave Girl. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 361-380  Studies in Drama

Studies in drama in which wide reading of exemplary works is the basis of critical analysis and discussion. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 361  Comic Drama

Comic drama isn’t just for laughs. For 25 centuries, in fact, playwrights have used comedies to communicate serious ideas about people as individuals and groups. This course will survey comic plays written during those 25 centuries. Aristophanes, Plautus, Shakespeare, Moliere and Sam Shepard are just five of the playwrights from five different eras and parts of the world the course will consider. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 362  Modern Continental Drama

This course is a survey of Continental drama from Ibsen to Ionesco, with Strindberg, Chekov, Pirandello, and Brecht as other major figures. Additional playwrights addressed may include Becque, Hauptmann, Gorki, Maeterlinck, Molnar, Capek, Lorca and Beckett. Major course requirements are quizzes on assigned plays, midterm exam, a final exam and a term paper. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 363  Shakespeare

Preliminary work consists of orientation to modern English, the language of Shakespeare, and to Elizabethan history, thought and culture. Most importantly, this course involves the study of plays representing the range of Shakespeare's dramatic works. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 365  Modern American Drama

Modern American Drama is a course in critical reading, discussion and reflection on some of the finest American plays from 1915 to 1965. Featured playwrights include O'Neill, Odets, Sherwood, Saroyan, Wilder, Anderson, Williams, Miller and Albee. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 366  Major Trends in Contemporary Drama

This course explores the work of five important playwrights of the past three decades: Beth Henley, David Mamet, Sam Shepard, August Wilson and Lanford Wilson. Classes will be devoted to critical analysis and interpretation of the plays and discussing the playwrights' views of late 20th century America. We will watch filmed productions of several of the plays. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 367  Tragic Drama

This course surveys influential tragic plays spanning the last 2,500 years from ancient Greece through Elizabethan England and into the contemporary United States. Students will consider how these works have helped to shape our contemporary understandings of dramatic tragedy. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 381-399  Studies in Poetry

Studies in poetry in which wide reading of exemplary works is the basis of critical analysis and discussion. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 381  Poetic Genres

The most important objective of this course is to define and comprehend the significant genres and subtypes of English and American poetry, both fixed and free forms. While not a course in literary history or poetic theory, both are inescapable parts of the study. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.
ENG 382 English Romantic Poets
This course explores Romanticism in its English context by study of many of the finest poems by the most prominent poets of the period. Five writers are featured: William Wordsworth, Samuel Taylor Coleridge, George Gordon (Lord Byron), Percy Bysshe Shelley and John Keats. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 383 Modern American Poetry
This is a study of American poetry from about 1900 until about 1939. Among the major writers covered are Frost, Eliot, Pound, Williams and Stevens. Day-to-day work emphasizes careful reading and discussion of poems. This course is especially useful for understanding Modernism as an artistic, and especially literary, movement. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 386 Victorian Poetry
A study of the major poets of the Victorian era, including Tennyson, Arnold, R. Browning, E. B. Browning, D. G. Rossetti, C. Rossetti, Clough, Meredith, Morris, Swinburne, Hopkins, Wilde, and others. Attention will be focused on various poetic forms such as lyric, dramatic monologue, ode and elegy. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 387 19th Century American Poetry
This course is designed to improve students’ abilities to read poetry critically; to study the poems and poets in the context of American literature and culture; and to study this poetry in the context of allied arts, including landscape painting and photography. Emerson, Poe, Whitman and Dickinson are the major poets studied. Other poets studied include Bryant, Longfellow, Whittier, Melville and Crane. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

ENG 499 Senior Comprehensive Study
Independent study in which a senior English major is expected to demonstrate maturity as a reader, writer and critic. Based on a reading list prepared by the English faculty and made available to students when they declare major status and culminating in a substantial examination. During the time of preparation for the examination, students are invited to arrange for consultation with individual members of the English faculty. If a student’s performance on the examination is unsatisfactory, he or she must wait at least thirty days before re-attempting the examination. Required in the senior year of every student who majors in English. Prerequisites: 21 credits in English courses at and above 200-level with at least nine hours at the 300-level. Three credits.

ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE (ESL)

ESL 100 Beginning English Conversation
Emphasis is placed on verbal skills, which include pronunciation and vocabulary development, providing students opportunities to build their communication ability through face-to-face interactions and through presenting formal speeches. Current issues are discussed and offer students rich content for critical thinking, guided learning and language development. Three credits.

ESL 103 Beginning English Listening Comprehension
Skills developed include hearing and pronouncing vowel and consonant sounds, syllable stress, and intonation common to American English; acquiring listening strategies and developing note taking in order to gain understanding of what is heard in both every day and academic contexts. Three credits.

ESL 105 Beginning English Reading and Writing
Students at the beginning levels of reading English are guided through literature in a question and answer process that strengthens reading comprehension. Beginning written expression is emphasized through various types of essay. Organization, support, focus and mechanics of writing are developed, as well as grammatical accuracy and vocabulary. Three credits.

ESL 106 Intermediate Reading and Writing
Reading and interacting with literature provides the catalyst for academic writing assignments that range from informal essays and formal papers to a process-oriented development of a research project. This course is designed for students at the intermediate level of English proficiency. Prerequisites: ESL 100 and ESL 105. Three credits.
ESL 108 Intermediate Listening Comprehension
Listening comprehension continues to be developed through hearing and pronouncing difficult words and syllabifications in American English and through developing strong note taking skills in academic lecture situations. Prerequisites: ESL 100 and ESL 103. Three credits.

ESL 109 Intermediate Speech Communication
Skills for the intermediate learner focus on the development of academic communicative abilities. Students interact in seminar discussions, draft and present speeches, research and debate topics, and perform group projects. Prerequisites: ESL 100 and ESL 105. Three credits.

ESL 121 Advanced English as a Second Language Composition
Students are guided through the process of written communication through composing quality essays and research papers and orally presenting their writings. While using literature as the foundation for writing, researching, note taking, outlining, drafting and editing to completion are emphasized. The instructor works closely with each student to carefully examine the content and continuity of the writing. This course is taken in conjunction with ENG 101, English Composition, so that students can transfer the skills learned in ESL 121 to mainstream academic classes. Graduate students may choose to take ESL 121 as a stand-alone course. Prerequisite: ESL 106. Three credits.

ESL 122 Advanced English as a Second Language Speech Communication
Emphasis is placed on the principles of public speaking, including purpose, written development, pronunciation, vocabulary choice, delivery and practice. This course is taken in conjunction with MCOM 150, Principles of Public Speaking, so that students can transfer the skills learned in ESL 122 to mainstream academic classes. Graduate students may choose to take ESL 122 as a stand-alone course. Prerequisite: ESL 109. Three credits.

ESL 195 Topics
This directed study class is for the advanced ESL student who desires more focused instruction in English. ESL 195 can be taken on its own or coupled with any 100 or 200 level course in Arts & Sciences. Graduate students may choose to take this class along with any graduate-level course. Prerequisites: ESL 121 and ESL 122. Three credits.

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES (ES)

ES 101 Introduction to Environmental Studies
Intended for anyone interested in the environment, this course addresses the inter-related scientific, technological, economic, social, political and ethical dimensions of environmental issues. Three credits.

ES 105 Field Natural History
An introduction to natural science designed for students not majoring in either environmental studies or biology. Among the topics covered are weather, plate tectonics, geology of the central Appalachians, evolution, pond and stream ecosystems, field and forest succession, plant and animal biology, and the use of identification keys, topographic maps and instruments to measure environmental phenomena. Three lecture hours plus two-hour lab per week. ELAB 105 Field Natural History lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

ES 242 Freshwater Ecology and Pollution
Examines the types, biological communities, ecological processes and environmental health of freshwater ecosystems. Emphasis is placed on nutrient cycling, trophic relationships and organisms’ adaptations to life in ponds, lakes, streams, rivers and wetlands. In addition, freshwater pollution sources, effects, measurement techniques and control methods are addressed. Prerequisite: ES 101 or BIO 121 or BIO 122. Three lecture hours and three lab hours per week. ELAB 242 must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

ES 290 Environmental Issues Seminar
An introduction to current issues and methods in the environmental professions and to selected scientists, thinkers and activists whose efforts have shaped the environmental studies field. The course includes field sessions, laboratory experiences and an examination of career opportunities. Intended for freshmen, sophomores and transfer students in environmental studies and natural sciences programs but open to all students. Two lecture hours per week. Prerequisite: ES 101 or ES 105 or BIO 121 or BIO 122. Two credits.
ES 295 Wildlife, Ecology and Habitat Management
This course will examine the ecology and management of game and nongame vertebrate species. Specific attention is given to ecological principles, population dynamics, conservation concerns and the management of population and habitats. Outside field days may be required. Prerequisite: ES 101 or BIO 121 or BIO 122. Three credits.

ES 300 Geographic Information Systems
An introduction to the theories and applications of geographic information systems (GIS). Emphasis is placed on geographic information acquisition, manipulation and mapping. An integrated system of lectures and hands-on exercises will be used to gain practical experiences in GIS analysis and visualization. A basic knowledge and use of computers is assumed. Three credits.

ES 319 Environmental Policy and Programs
An examination of environmental policies, policy formulation, and policy implementation at the community, state, national, and international levels. Programs, both public and private, to protect environmental quality and implement environmental laws and policies will also be addressed. Trips to the offices of government agencies and non-governmental organizations supplement lectures. Three lecture hours per week. Prerequisite: ES 101. Three credits.

ES 340 Environmental Education
Discusses the history, settings, methods, and prospects for environmental education. Students examine environmental education instructional materials, try out various teaching methods and discuss how the objectives of environmental education can be translated into programs and activities. Teaching sessions in various formal and informal education settings arranged. Prerequisites: BIO 121 and BIO 122 or ES 101, and at least two natural science courses at the 200-level or above. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory per week. ELAB 340 Environmental Education lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

ES 390 Environmental Research Seminar
An examination of selected research techniques for assessing environmental quality. The course includes field sessions, laboratory experiences and discussions with environmental professionals. Intended for juniors and seniors in environmental studies and natural sciences programs. Two lecture hours per week. Prerequisite: ES 101 or ES 105 or ES 290 or BIO 321. Two credits.

ES 395 Topics in Environmental Studies
Selected topics in environmental studies for reading, discussion, writing and project work. Two or three credits.

ES 399 Directed Study
Directed study in a wide variety of areas of environmental studies. May be repeated for credit. One, two or three credits.

ES 401 Environmental Studies Internship
Students undertake professional experience in the environmental field by working for a cooperating institution, company or government agency. Student progress is monitored by a work supervisor in conjunction with Shenandoah University faculty. Forty work hours are required for each credit hour. One, two or three credits.

ES 419 Community and Regional Studies
An examination of the processes that transform the natural environment and create the environments in which people live, plus class investigations of the ways communities deal with the problems they face. Students analyze environmental and social concerns in Winchester and in the central Appalachian region. Results presented orally and in written reports. A group project on a regional environmental issue resulting in a product useful to local citizens concludes the course. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisites: ES 101 and junior standing, SOC 101 or PSCI 101 recommended. ELAB 419 Community and Regional Studies Lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.
ES 421 Environmental Measurement Methods
This course assists students in understanding and applying selected scientific techniques used in ecology, field biology and environmental assessment. The class discusses ecological principles and environmental protection measures as they relate to the methods studied. Students contribute to one or more research projects of the Environmental Studies Program or other science programs at Shenandoah University. Students also have the opportunity to design their own related projects. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite: BIO 321 or the equivalent. ELAB 421 Environmental Measurement Methods Lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

ES 492 Research Seminar in Environmental Studies
Students propose and conduct research on a topic of environmental interest. Two credits.

ETHNOMUSICOLOGY (MUET)

MUET 301 Introduction to Ethnomusicology
Emphasis on methods of study that support the view of musical expression within a cultural context. Topics include theoretical foundations, significant persons, organizational and material resources, regional studies, research topics and employment opportunities. Two credits.

MUET 302 Methods of Ethnomusicology
Analytical methods in ethnomusicology described in terms of purpose, processes, historical and current practice, sources of data for analysis, specific approaches used in the analysis of music and culture, reporting outcomes and ethical considerations. Prerequisite: MUET 301. Two credits.

MUET 401 Field Experience in Ethnomusicology
Methods of field work for generating data on which knowledge, including musical and cross-cultural understanding, is based. Early and recent methodological approaches are compared, including the use of technology. Strategies, protocol and techniques are presented for the collection and initial organization of musical, bio-social-cultural and historical data. Prerequisite: MUET 301. Two credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE (EXSC)

EXSC 130 Introduction to Exercise Science
This course will cover the foundations of exercise science, including history and philosophy, careers, professional organizations, certifications, sub-disciplines, research methods and professional issues. Three credits.

EXSC 270 Structural Kinesiology
This course is designed to study the functional anatomy of muscles, bones and joints as they are involved in human movement. Specifically, the course focuses on boney structures, their interactions, and the muscles creating movement of common activities, of physical exercises, and of sport movements. Movement analyses will progress from simple single joint motion to that of complex sport skills. Three credits.

EXSC 280 Care and Treatment of Athletic Injuries
This course provides knowledge of common athletic injuries: their prevention, care and treatment. Three credits.

EXSC 284 Fitness Program Administration
This course addresses the many facets of the administration of fitness programming, from risk factor analysis and basic exercise prescription to health counseling and legal issues in fitness facilities. Students will also learn a variety of practical skills useful for the assessment of fitness in the general public. Three credits.

EXSC 295 Topics in Exercise Science
Study of specific topics, issues or themes within the field of Exercise Science. Two credits.

EXSC 340 Practicum in Exercise Science
This course is designed to provide clinical lab experience in a work setting under the supervision of experienced professionals. One credit.
EXSC 350  Sport and Exercise Psychology
This course examines the psychological dimensions of exercise and sport with emphasis on skill acquisition and preparation for athletic performance. Three credits.

EXSC 352  Sports Nutrition for Health and Performance
This course examines the effect of nutrition on health, exercise training and sport performance. Discussion will focus on essential nutrients and diet analysis, nutritional practices surrounding competition events, the use of ergogenic aids, weight management issues and best nutritional practices for strength, team and endurance athletes. Three credits.

EXSC 381  Biomechanics
This course introduces students to concepts of mechanics as they apply to human movement, particularly those pertaining to exercise, sport and physical activity. The student should gain an understanding of the mechanical principles that govern human motion and develop the ability to link the structure of the human body with its function from a mechanical perspective. Prerequisites: EXSC 270 and MATH 102. Three credits.

EXSC 384  Physiology of Exercise
This course addresses the functional adjustments of the human body under the stress of motor activity. Emphasis is on physiology of muscular contraction and circulo-respiratory response to activity. Prerequisites: BIO 231 and BIO 232. EXSL 384 Physiology of Exercise lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

EXSC 387  Principles of Strength and Conditioning
This course is designed to provide students with an understanding of the principles of strength and conditioning and the safe and effective application of these principles. Prerequisite: EXSC 270. Three credits.

EXSC 395  Exercise Science Topics
Study of specific topics, issues or themes within the field of Exercise Science. Three credits.

EXSC 399  Directed Studies
Directed studies are designed for study/research in a wide variety of areas of exercise science. The study may consist of a basic independent research problem, a senior thesis or assisting with faculty research. Enrollment requires permission of instructor. May be repeated for credit, for a total of nine credits. One to three credits.

EXSC 401  Internship in Exercise Science
Sixteen-week supervised work experience during the senior year designed to provide exercise science majors an opportunity to gain practical experience in a medical, fitness, or recreational facility. Students will identify and secure an internship as part of their coursework. Enrollment is limited to students with senior standing who have obtained the permission of instructor. Six credits.

EXSC 410  Fitness Concepts and Exercise Prescription
This course provides an understanding of individualized exercise prescription design in programs to develop and maintain physical fitness through testing and re-evaluation strategies. Prerequisite: EXSC-384 or KIN 384. Three credits.

EXSC 460  Certification in Exercise Science
Students preparing for the ACSM’s Health and Fitness Instructor Exam or the NSCA Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist Exam will attend weekly review and quiz sessions for a chapter-by-chapter overview of the exam materials. A practice exam will be administered at the end of the semester. Enrollment is limited to students with senior standing enrolled in the Exercise Science program. Two credits.

FIRST-YEAR SEMINAR: GOING GLOBAL (FYS)

FYS 101  Going Global First-Year Seminar
Multi-disciplinary, first-year seminar classes which cover a wide range of topics designed to facilitate student's interest in global learning and to demonstrate an increased capacity to realize development as global citizens able to make responsible contributions within a community, nation and world. Open only to first-year, first-semester students. Three credits.
FRENCH (FR)

FR 101 Beginning French I
For students who have had very little or no exposure to French. This course introduces the student to spoken French through in-class conversational drills and recreations of everyday situations. Three credits.

FR 102 Beginning French II
A continuation of FR 101, this course builds on the basic speech patterns acquired in the preceding semester and is intended to help the student make the transition from passive familiarity to active use of the language. Prerequisite: FR 101. Three credits.

FR 201 Intermediate French I
This course is intended to help the student acquire the ability to speak fluent French. Emphasis will be laid on idiomatic expressions, the art of translation, and the more sophisticated elements of written and spoken French. Prerequisite: FR 102. Three credits.

FR 202 Intermediate French II
Emphasis is placed on perfecting the student's ability to think and converse in French with ease. Language books are supplemented by readings in French literature, culture, and civilization. Prerequisite: FR 201 Three credits.

FR 301 French Conversation
Development of oral expression and fluency with emphasis on expansion of vocabulary and attention to grammatical correctness. Prerequisite: FR 202 or equivalent. Three credits.

FR 302 French Grammar and Composition
Development of written expression with emphasis on expansion of vocabulary and attention to grammatical correctness. Prerequisite: FR 202. Three credits.

FR 315 French/Francophone Literatures
This course introduces students to literary works from the French and Francophone world. Students will develop through the reading and discussions of works (narrative, prose, drama, poetry, visual materials) analytical skills and will become familiar with major writers of different cultures. Prerequisite: FR 202. Three credits.

FR 316 French/Francophone Cultural Voices
Students explore aspects of French and Francophone culture with an emphasis on cultural expression of contemporary works. We will examine through literary works, artifacts and technological production the impact of historical and political movements and learn about the values and beliefs of the respective cultures. Prerequisite: FR 315. Three credits.

FR 360 Advanced Grammar and Composition
The course stresses improving comprehension and written production skills in French. Culturally authentic written materials will enhance proficiency in all aspects of the French language. Assignments include a review of the fine points of French grammar. Prerequisite: FR 316. Three credits.

FR 395 Topics
This course is designed to enrich student's knowledge of the French and Francophone Literatures and Cultures in their diversity, social and cultural complexity. This course is taught in French. Prerequisite: FR 360. Three credits.
GEOGRAPHY (GEO)

GEO 101 Physical Geography
An examination of the spatial patterns and processes of Earth's physical features. Using case studies, discussions and laboratory exercises, the course will examine earth-sun geometry, atmospheric dynamics, landforms, soils, vegetation patterns and internal dynamics. Interactions between human activities and the physical environment will also be explored. Three credits.

GEO 201 Economic Geography
A study of the locations of economic activities, raw materials, markets, labor supply, and transportation costs; relationships among different economic activities; and specific studies of major commercial products from their origins to consumer. Three credits.

GEO 202 Human Geography
An examination of the geographic patterns and processes of human activities and human-environment interactions, this course will emphasize geographic analyses, the interdependence of geographic scales, the influence and meaning of places and the interdependence of places in a globalizing world. Three credits.

GEO 454 Our Eastern Forests: History, Ecology and Change
This course examines the characteristics and processes of forest communities in the eastern United States. Specific attention is given to environmental history, forest-environment interaction, forest disturbance, tree regeneration and tree-ring analysis. Issues of forest management and conservation concern will also be considered. Outside field days may be required. Prerequisites: ES 101, BIO 121 and BIO 122. Three credits.

GEOLOGY (GEOL)

GEOL 201 Geology
An overview of earth materials and processes including plate tectonics, the rock cycle, minerals, weathering, erosion and physiography. Laboratory and field activities involve map studies, rock and mineral classification and examination of local geologic features. Although primary emphasis is placed upon physical geology, historical geology will be introduced to provide a timeframe for understanding geologic processes and formations. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite: ES 101 or any four-credit laboratory science course. GELB 201 Geology lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

GERMAN (GER)

GER 101 Beginning German I
For students who have had little or no exposure to German. This course introduces the student to spoken German through in-class conversational drills and recreations of everyday situations. Three credits.

GER 102 Beginning German II
A continuation of GER 101, this course builds on the basic speech patterns acquired in the preceding semester and is intended to help the student make the transition from passive familiarity to active use of the language. Prerequisite: GER 101. Three credits.

GER 201 Intermediate German I
This course is intended to help the student acquire the ability to speak fluent German. Emphasis will be laid on idiomatic expressions, the art of translation and the more sophisticated elements of written and spoken German. Prerequisite: GER 102. Three credits.

GER 202 Intermediate German II
Emphasis is laid on perfecting the student's ability to think and converse in German with ease. Language books are supplemented by readings in German literature, culture and civilization. Prerequisite: GER 201. Three credits.
GER 311 20th Century Literature and Civilization I
A systematic survey of German literature and culture from the turn of the century to Expressionism, the Weimar Republic through the collapse of the Third Reich. Among the authors studied are: Kafka, Mann, Werfel, Kaiser, Toll, early Brecht, Rilke, Stefan George and Benn. Prerequisite: GER 202. Three credits.

GER 312 20th Century Literature and Civilization II
A continuation of GER 311, this course resumes with the first major works of POW and repatriation literature. Subsequently, it will examine the novels of Boll and Grass, the plays of Weiss, Handke, Frisch and Durrenmatt. The course concludes with an explication of the poetry of Benn, Sachs, Enzensberger and Celan. Prerequisite: GER 202. Three credits.

HEALTH PROFESSIONS (HP)

HP 291 Searching Medical Resources
This is a hands-on course in searching and evaluating information found in medical databases and online. Student will develop skills and ability to utilize tools needed to locate and interpret information relevant to the topics taught in other health professions courses. Copyright, plagiarism and the latest APA (American Psychological Association) bibliographic format will also be covered. One credit.

HP 301 Cultural Competency and Health Care
This course facilitates development of knowledge, skills, meanings and experiences related to delivering competent cultural care to the clients. Emphasis is also on developing mindful interaction skills with other health care workers through deep exploration of self and interaction with individuals and groups with diverse backgrounds. Three credits.

HP 317 Spirituality in Patient Care
This course is intended to give the student in the School of Health Professions and the School of Pharmacy an overview of spirituality as it relates to healthcare and provide applications in the patient care arena. Students will explore the ever-expanding body of knowledge linking spirituality and patient care outcomes. Emphasis will be placed on the knowledge, skills, values, meanings and of the spiritual experiences of patient, family and the healthcare team. Three credits.

HP 451 Bioethics for Health Care Professionals
This course is designed for the junior/senior student and introduces the student to the history, theory, principles and decision-making frameworks found in the field of bioethics. The course addresses current ethical issues that challenge healthcare professionals and allows the student to use learned ethical theory and principles in analyzing discipline-specific situations. It is a seminar limited to 20 students who will participate in open dialogue. Three credits.

HP 476 Substance and Relationship Abuse
This interdisciplinary course is designed to offer and assist students in the health care professions in recognition and beginning-level interventions in populations at risk for substance dependence and/or abusive relationships. Emphasis is placed on providing interventions that are congruent with age, health status, culture, occupation and legal/ethical concerns. Three credits.
HISTORY (HIST)

HIST 101 World Civilizations I
A survey of world history from Ancient Egypt, Greece, and Rome to the European Middle Ages. Three credits.

HIST 102 World Civilizations II
A survey of world history from the Middle Ages to the present. Three credits.

HIST 103 United States History I
A survey of American history from the colonial period to the Civil War. Three credits.

HIST 104 United States History II
A survey of American history from the Civil War to the present. Three credits.

HIST 111 Thinking Historically
Developing the insights and perspective of thinking historically is a dimension of every field of study. Using principles of critical thinking, analysis of evidence, examination of arguments and assumptions and expository writing, this course helps to develop these skills for any student. Course topics vary; recent offerings have focused on terrorism and women’s issues. Three credits.

HIST 201 The Practice of History
The practice of history requires mastery of important skills. These include: critical thinking, archival research, material cultural analysis, document interpretation, scholarly writing, documentation and oral communication. By developing these skills through instruction, practice, and active experience, this course prepares students for successful performance in the history major, as well as lifelong achievement in a variety of professions. Prerequisites: HIST 101 and HIST 102 or HIST 103 and HIST 104. Three credits.

HIST 242 Introduction to Museums
The course will provide an overview of all aspects of museum work, including museum management, governance, collections care and conservation, marketing, fundraising, interpretation and educational program development and preservation of cultural resources. Themes woven throughout the course will include collection and interpretation ethics, the role of museums in society and strategies of cultural preservation. Three credits.

HIST 295 Topics
Study of specific topics, issues or themes within the field of history. Three credits.

HIST 303 American Colonial History
A study of the social and political development of the American colonies. Prerequisite: HIST 103. Three credits.

HIST 304 Middle Period America
A study of American History from 1789 to 1860 covering the post-Revolutionary Era, Jeffersonian America, Jacksonian America and the Sectional Crisis. Prerequisite: HIST 103. Three credits.

HIST 305 Civil War and Reconstruction
A military, political, economic, social and cultural study of the war from the Compromise of 1850 to the removal of federal troops from the Southern states in 1877. Prerequisite: HIST 103 or HIST 104. Three credits.

HIST 310 U.S. Constitution (same as PSCI 310)
An analysis of Supreme Court decisions throughout our nation’s history affecting the three branches of the national government and federal/state relations. Political Science majors have the following prerequisites: PSCI 101 and PSCI 201. Three credits.

HIST 341 Introduction to Public History
Through readings, discussions, presentations and excursions, students will gain a basic understanding of how to analyze and critique public history as a source of insight about American history and culture. They will seek and discover the meanings behind these sites and will examine theories of public history study. Prerequisites: HIST 103 and HIST 104. Three credits.
HIST 350 Virginia History
The history of Virginia from its founding to the present. Prerequisites: HIST 103 and HIST 104. Three credits.

HIST 362 Modern Middle East
A study of Middle Eastern politics, culture and historical events from the Ottoman Empire to the present. Three credits.

HIST 365 Diseases in History (same as BIO 365)
This course will be an interdisciplinary topics course examining the impact of human disease on the development of human history. Topics to be discussed will include 1) fundamental information about different types of diseases, disorders, syndromes and disease processes, 2) an extensive review of significant points in history where either the illness and possible death of an individual leader or widespread epidemics changed the course of human history, and 3) a research paper and presentation by each student participating in the course. Diseases to be discussed will include infectious diseases and genetic disorders. Prerequisite: BIO 121, BIO 122, HIST 101 or HIST 102. Three credits.

HIST 371 Modern European History
A study of the “Long 19th Century” from the Age of Revolution to World War I. Prerequisites: HIST 101 and HIST 102. Three credits.

HIST 381 British History
A survey of British history from prehistoric Britain to the House of Windsor. Emphasis will be placed on the significance of British history for understanding American social and political institutions. Prerequisites: HIST 101, HIST 102 and HIST 103. Three credits.

HIST 391 Asian History
An introduction to the cultural and historical experience of Pacific Rim countries, particularly China, Japan, Korea and Indonesia. Attention will also be paid to the emerging role of Pacific Rim countries in contemporary world affairs. Three credits.

HIST 395 Topics in History
Selected topics in history for reading, discussion, and writing. Three credits.

HIST 401 Internship in History
Experience in historic site administration and public history, gained through employment at historic sites, archives, and societies. May be repeated once. Prerequisites: HIST 101, HIST 102, HIST 103, HIST 104 and permission of the instructor. Three or six credits.

HIST 445 Renaissance and Reformation
An analysis of the Renaissance in Italy and Northern Europe and the Protestant and Catholic Reformations. Three credits.

HIST 495 Senior Thesis
This course serves as the capstone activity for all History majors. Students will complete the research, writing and presentation, under faculty supervision, of a major research paper initiated during one of their 300-level or above elective courses. Prerequisites: HIST 201 and a 300-level or above HIST course. Three credits.

HUMANITIES (HU)

HU 295 Topics
Study of specific topics, issues or themes within the humanities. Three credits.

HU 495 Advanced Topics
Study of advanced specific topics, issues or themes within the humanities. Three credits.
INFORMATION SYSTEMS AND TECHNOLOGIES (IST)

IST 204 Computer Applications in Business Analysis
A laboratory course that introduces the student to the Internet and productivity software that are used as tools in business problem-solving activities and analysis. It provides a working knowledge of a commercial spreadsheet package to include designing a variety of worksheets, business applications, preparing graphs, working with database query, macro writing and menu techniques to support business analysis and decision making. Emphasis is on understanding, using, and applying these productivity tools to business analysis. Three credits.

IST 307 Object Oriented Programming
This course is designed to serve as an introduction to computer programming in the business environment with a view toward the understanding and learning of the fundamentals of software development. The course is an information systems approach to object oriented programming. The course is also designed to develop a basic and generic foundation in object oriented programming. The course content will include creating simple applications, storing and manipulating data in objects, and changing the program flow with decision. Other areas to be covered will include program loops, encapsulation, arrays and collections, user interface objects, database connectivity and inheritance and polymorphism. Prerequisite: IST 204. Three credits.

IST 321 Emerging Technologies
An examination of emerging technologies and trends that will affect the information systems of the near and distant future. The course will critically evaluate those technologies that 1) are so new that most enterprises haven’t exploited them or 2) are fairly well established, but businesses haven’t fully exploited them. Emphasis will be placed on how these technologies will impact E-commerce. Prerequisite: IST 204. Three credits.

IST 354 Business Intelligence, Knowledge Management and Decision Systems
The purpose of this course is to introduce the student to the concept of expert systems development. The software package VP-Expert will provide the basis of the expert systems development and application to real life business decision-making and prototyping. Prerequisite: IST 307. Three credits.

IST 410 Database Systems
Introduction to application program development in a database environment with an emphasis on loading, modifying and querying the database, discussion and application of data structures, indexed and direct file organizations and models of data including hierarchical, network and relational. Other topics include discussion of storage devices, data administration, data analysis, design and implementation. Prerequisite: IST 307. Three credits.

IST 411 Data Communications and Networking
The features of centralized, decentralized, and distributed systems will be examined. Technology implications of computer hardware, software and communications are discussed as they relate to the design, development and implementation of distributed data processing systems. Prerequisite: IST 307. Three credits.

IST 458 Social Media and Multimedia Applications for Business
The purpose of this course is to introduce the student to social media and multimedia communications and computing technologies, with emphasis on applications to business systems and requirements. The course covers major topics in social media, including blogs, wikis, Web feeds, social networking, tagging, cloud computing, podcasting and V-casting, and presents a brief overview of advanced and futuristic AI (Artificial Intelligence) technologies that will impact the future of social media and multimedia computing and communications, and will underlie the next generation Semantic Web, aka Web 3.0. Coverage of major topical domains in state-of-the-art multimedia systems and applications include: digital audio processing for voice, sounds, and music; graphics production and manipulation; animation; digital imaging and the processing, manipulation, and integration of imagery into documents, presentations, web pages, etc.; digital photography and photographic processing; basic Web page design including hypertext, hypermedia, direct generation of HTML code, and the use of integrated tool environments; and video processing using digital formats for movies on workstations and the Web. The course incorporates hands-on student production of basic social media and multimedia projects and exercises, and includes demonstrations of some advanced applications and integrated development environments, and a multimedia production facility tour. Prerequisite: IST 307. Three credits.
IST 471 Healthcare Information Systems

This course introduces the student to the types of computer information systems used in the health care industry. The emphasis is on the purpose, functionality, and strategic use of various systems. Relevant topics include electronic patient medical records, outcomes management, and use of mobile technology in healthcare practice. Both practitioner and administrator perspectives will be examined. Additional areas covered include regulation, technology standards, security, and management challenges. Prerequisite: BA 310. Three credits.

IST 495 Directed Study

Utilized for courses/subjects in information systems and computer technology, which are not offered elsewhere in the curriculum, and for individuals desiring to pursue a given issue, topic, or concentration further than obtainable in the regularly scheduled courses. May be repeated once. Prerequisite: BSB junior-level or senior-level standing. Three credits.

IST 498 Information Systems and Computer Technology Internship

A link between the classroom and experience on the job, the internship provides qualified students a three-way arrangement among the professor-advisor, the employer and the student-employee. Students may obtain appropriate employment on their own or in conjunction with the internship advisor of the School of Business. A minimum of two 40-hour work periods is required for each semester hour of credit for which the course is taken. Prerequisites: BSB junior-level or senior-level standing. Three or six credit hours.

ITALIAN (IT)

IT 101 Beginning Italian I

For students who have had very little or no exposure to Italian. This course introduces the student to spoken Italian through in-class conversational drills and recreations of everyday situations. Three credits.

IT 102 Beginning Italian II

A continuation of IT 101, this course builds on the basic speech patterns acquired in the preceding semester and is intended to help the student make the transition from passive familiarity to active use of the language. Prerequisite: IT 101. Three credits.

KINESIOLOGY (KIN)

KIN 101 Lifetime Fitness and Wellness

Designed to examine the concepts and benefits of physical activity and develop the knowledge and fundamental skills necessary for maintaining a healthy lifestyle throughout the life span. One credit.

KIN 102 Volleyball/Basketball

Basic instruction in the skills and rules of volleyball and basketball. Team offensive and defensive strategies are presented. One credit.

KIN 103 Tennis

The skills and basic concepts of physical education are taught through tennis. One credit.

KIN 106 Aerobics

The concepts of using oxygen to produce energy for an efficient fitness level will be taught through a variety of aerobic activities as a preventive measure for cardiovascular disease. One credit.

KIN 110 Weight Training and Jogging

The skills and basic concepts of physical education are taught through weight training and jogging. One credit.

KIN 111 Softball

The skills and basic concepts of physical education are taught through softball. One credit.
KIN 113 Yoga
An introductory course in Hatha Yoga introducing the student to asanas (posture), pranayama (breathing techniques) and relaxation techniques. One credit.

KIN 116 Field Sports
Basic instruction in the skills and rules of the following field sports: soccer, speedball, lacrosse, and flag football. Two will be offered together in a semester. One credit.

KIN 119 Tae Kwon Do/Self Defense
Instruction and practice of basic self-defense techniques using principles of Tae Kwon do, Hapkido, and kick boxing. Also, instruction and practice in the basic arm and leg techniques, stances, warm up exercise, one-step sparring, formal exercise and historical background on U.S. Karate. One credit.

KIN 160 Coaching Football
Course topics include football game strategy, principles of practice and training, and team management. One credit.

KIN 162 Coaching Basketball
Course topics include basketball game strategy, principles of practice and training and team management. One credit.

KIN 164 Coaching Volleyball
Course topics include volleyball game strategy, principles of practice and training, and team management. One credit.

KIN 166 Coaching Baseball/Softball
Course topics include baseball and softball game strategies, principles of practice and training and team management. One credit.

KIN 168 Coaching Track & Field/Cross Country
Course topics include track and field/cross country meet strategies, principles of practice and training and team management. One credit.

KIN 170 Coaching Soccer
Course topics include soccer game strategies, principles of practice and training and team management. One credit.

KIN 172 Coaching Lacrosse/Field Hockey
Course topics include lacrosse/field hockey game strategies, principles of practice and training and team management. One credit.

KIN 191 First Aid and CPR
Satisfactory completion of this course will lead to American Red Cross Certification in both Standard First Aid and Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR). A Red Cross certification fee is required. One credit.

KIN 252 Personal and Community Health
Designed to develop attitudes and practices that contribute to better individual and group health. Emphasis is placed upon current health issues and decision making in health behaviors and health needs. Three credits.

KIN 264 Practicum
Designed to provide observation and participation in public school programs under the supervision of an experienced teacher. One credit.

KIN 295 Topics in Kinesiology
Study of specific topics, issues or themes within the field of kinesiology. Two credits.

KIN 395 Kinesiology Topics
Study of specific topics, issues or themes within the field of kinesiology. Three credits.
KIN 477  Principles and Philosophy of Coaching
Development of skills and knowledge related to coaching interscholastic sports in general. Course topics include but are not limited to: managing athletic budgets, interacting with sport media, scheduling athletic contests and communicating with parents and community members. In addition, issues such as player selection/retention, motivation and leadership will be addressed. Prerequisites: KIN 280 and KIN 350. Three credits.

KINESIOLOGY EDUCATION (KNS)

KNS 262  Instructional Strategies for Team Sports
This course addresses methodologies for teaching a variety of team sports. Students will lead peer teaching experiences requiring the generation of lesson plans and a unit block plan for a specific sport. Students will also engage in a 20-hour supervised field experience in an assigned secondary school. Prerequisites: Physical education majors only and sophomore standing. Three credits.

KNS 305  Materials and Methods in Teaching Elementary Health and Physical Education
The developmental approach advocated in this course attempts to apply knowledge of children's growth and motor development in a comprehensive manner, recognizing the essential concept of the individuality of the learner — individually in terms of motor, cognitive, and affective development. This course addresses essential information for successful teaching in regards to the learner, the program, and the teacher at the elementary level. Teacher candidates will engage in a 75-hour supervised field methods experience in an assigned school and participate in a weekly seminar. Prerequisites: EDU 301 and KNS 262; acceptance into the School of Education and Human Development; pass Praxis I. Physical education majors only. Four credits.

KNS 306  Materials and Methods in Teaching Secondary Health and Physical Education
This course will provide teacher candidates the opportunity to examine and observe the traditional curriculum and various new curricula. They will plan and teach activities that are multicultural and interdisciplinary. Students in this course will engage in a 75-hour supervised secondary methods experience in an assigned school and participate in weekly seminars. Prerequisites: EDU 301 and KNS 262; acceptance into the School of Education and Human Development; pass Praxis I. Physical education majors only. Four credits.

KNS 308  Materials and Methods in Teaching Health
This course is designed to familiarize teacher candidates with various modes of course organization, class preparation and instructional methods suitable for teaching health in the secondary school. Students will engage in a 60-hour supervised field experience in an assigned school and participate in a weekly seminar. To be taken fall of senior year. Prerequisites: EDU 301 and KIN 252; pass Praxis I; and acceptance into the School of Education and Human Development K-12 Health and Physical Education Program. Health and Physical Education majors only. Three credits.

KNS 322  Motor Development
This course is designed to acquaint students with the developmental levels and stages children go through and how these stages impact cognitive and psychomotor skills and learning. Course topics include motor skills, principles of learning and performance, teacher feedback and instructional strategies. Three credits.

KNS 370  Measurement and Evaluation in Physical Education
This course will examine the nature and purpose of measurement in physical education. The student will become familiar with heart rate monitors, pedometers and software programs and learn how to use, select and administer tests using these tools. Three credits.

KNS 452  Elementary School Student Teaching in Health/Physical Education
This course involves observation and teaching in the public schools under the direct supervision of public school faculty and Shenandoah University Kinesiology faculty. Placement (at the elementary level for 8 weeks) will be arranged by the Director of Professional Licensure office in the School of Education and Human Development. Student must have a grade of "C" or better in all prerequisite courses. Prerequisites: KNS 305, KNS 306, and KNS 481. Corequisites: KNS 453 and KNS 454. Five credits.
KNS 453 Secondary School Student Teaching in Health/Physical Education
This course involves observation and teaching in the public schools under the direct supervision of public school faculty and Shenandoah University Kinesiology faculty. Placement (at the secondary level for 8 weeks) will be arranged by the Director of Professional Licensure office in the School of Education and Human Development. Student must have a grade of "C" or better in all prerequisite courses. Prerequisites: KNS 305, KNS 306, and KNS 481. Corequisites: KNS 452 and KNS 454. Five credits.

KNS 454 Student Teaching Seminar in Health/Physical Education
This seminar is taken concurrently with Elementary and Secondary Student Teaching Health/Physical Education. It is designed to assist students to become caring, reflective educators by providing a forum for collaborative, critical inquiry based on their student teaching experience. The course offers opportunities and frameworks for thinking about and analyzing classroom and physical education situations, classroom management, legal and ethical obligations, the teaching-learning process, and professional goals and development. Corequisites: KNS 452 and KNS 453. Two credits.

KNS 481 Adapted Physical Education
This course covers the identification and recognition of physical abnormalities frequently found in school-age children and how physical activity can be adapted to improve various conditions. Three credits.

KNS 490 Physical Education Curriculum and Administration
This course covers multiple physical education curriculum models. Students are exposed to various models, who created the model, where the model originated, the strengths and weaknesses of each model, and school districts who use the model. Three credits.

MASS COMMUNICATION (MCOM)

MCOM 101 Understanding Mass Communication
An introductory overview of the history and current trends in mass communication from a socio-cultural perspective. Areas covered include print media (newspapers, magazines and books), electronic media (radio, television, film, the Internet), advertising, public relations and media ethics. Three credits.

MCOM 150 Principles of Public Speaking
An introduction to the principles of public speaking, including theory, history and practice. This course presents both classical and contemporary theories of rhetoric while at the same time emphasizing the practical skills of public speaking. The course offers full coverage of all major aspects of speech preparation and presentation, and requires student practice throughout the course. Three credits.

MCOM 201 Understanding Visual Communication
This course focuses on the nature and power of visual imagery — especially the photographic image. Provides perspective on the cultural significance and social effects of image production, and combines theory with practice. Students apply the principles of image production in visual exercises in using Adobe Photoshop. Three credits.

MCOM 205 Introduction to Public Relations
This course is designed to familiarize students with the field of public relations and the role it plays in the mass media. The course will outline the process of public relations, including fact-finding and research, planning and programming, communication and actions and evaluation. It will also examine relevant communication and persuasion theories. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Three credits.

MCOM 211 Media Ethics
This course considers the ethical issues facing communication students, professional journalists and media practitioners. Students will be provided with ethics principles, models and theories to work through ethical issues and moral dilemmas. Three credits.
MCOM 215 Understanding Movies
This course provides an introduction to motion pictures as an artistic and cultural form, as well as film's relationship to other popular media. The course content explores movies' narrative conventions; the stylistic conventions of lighting, cinematography, sound and editing; and how they communicate to mass audiences in popular genres like the Western, science fiction, the musical, women's films and film noir. Concurrent enrollment in MCML 215 Understanding Movies lab required. Three credits.

MCOM 230 New Communication Technologies
An overview of recent technological developments and their impact in the field of mass communication. Students will be introduced to new communication technologies and applications including desktop publishing, multimedia, desktop video, presentation software and Web page design. Three credits.

MCOM 305 Public Relations Writing
This course examines the forms of informational and persuasive writing used in the public relations field. Emphasis is on developing the writing and research skills necessary for producing various types of public relations copy including news releases, public service announcements and audiovisual scripts, as well as copy for newsletters, brochures, annual reports and press kits. Three credits.

MCOM 310 Mass Media Theory and Research
This course is designed to familiarize students with the social science research methods most commonly used in mass communication. It also examines the theories which have been shaped and informed by media research. Students will design and conduct a media research project. Three credits.

MCOM 315 Mass Media and Society
This course is designed to increase the student's understanding of the impact of the mass media on society and the way these effects have evolved and increased over time. Issues examined include freedom and responsibility of the media, sex and violence in media, portrayals of minorities and women, media and democracy and the emergence of mass culture. Three credits.

MCOM 320 Organizational Communication
This course examines the internal and external systems of communication, including small group, interpersonal and public communication. It provides opportunities for developing organizational skills, identifying problems, analyzing outcomes and taking appropriate corrective action. Three credits.

MCOM 321 Advertising and the Media
This course examines the social, cultural and economic roles of advertising in capitalistic society with a focus on how commercial messages and images help construct social perceptions and consumptive behavior. Three credits.

MCOM 322 History of Gender in Advertising (same as WST 322)
This course uses advertising to examine the construction of gender from the late 19th century to the present, particularly how advertising has contributed to the meanings we attach to being a man and being a woman in American culture. We take a historical look at how consumer culture has represented and defined the male, the female, the masculine, and the feminine by focusing on the development of significant advertising campaigns and consumption items. We will examine the relationship between major shifts for men and women in the private and public sphere and the depiction of those shifts in advertisements. Throughout the semester, we will relate the old to the new by focusing on persistent patterns of meanings that reoccur in advertisements and what these patterns tell us about the development of particular gendered meanings and gendered norms. Three credits.

MCOM 323 Children and the Media (same as PSY 323)
This course examines the relationship between children and the media. It will look at media consumption and content as they relate to child development, as well as how gender, culture, self-concept, attitudes and behavior influence and are influenced by media exposure. Prerequisite: PSY 101 or MCOM 101. Three credits.

MCOM 325 Computer-Assisted Reporting
Students will learn the basic tools of computer-assisted reporting (CAR). They will learn to organize information and develop story ideas using computer spreadsheets and databases. They will learn to research stories using electronically sorted public documents and the Internet. Three credits.

MCOM 405  Public Relations Planning and Management
This course explores theory, techniques and models related to setting long- and short-term goals and objectives, designing strategies and tactics, segmenting audiences, analyzing problems and opportunities, communicating with top management, developing budgets, contingency planning for crises and disasters, managing issues, developing timetables and calendars and assigning authority and responsibility. Three credits.

MCOM 411  Media Law
This course examines media law using historical, theoretical and case study approaches. Among topics covered are the First Amendment, libel, privacy, journalist privilege, free press/fair trial, indecency and obscenity. Three credits.

MCOM 420  Seminar in Intercultural Communication
This course examines the relationship between culture and communication with an emphasis on theory and practical application in intercultural contexts. Ethnography and other approaches will be used to study interpersonal and public communication among people from different cultures. Three credits.

MCOM 425  Public Affairs Reporting
This course introduces student to covering government (primarily state and local), public schools, courts, crime, and social services. Using Winchester and Frederick County as their laboratory, student will cover city and/or county government and school board meetings, courts, the police beat, the environment, health care, and other public policy stories. It also introduces them to the theory of civic journalism and explores the role of journalism in a democratic society. Three credits.

MCOM 441  Violence, Sex and the Sports Media
This course looks at the intersection of sex and violence in the American sports media. Particular emphasis will be placed on how the media frame highly publicized cases and trials. Three credits.

MCOM 461  Gender, Sport and the Media
This course examines media depictions of gender and sport through an examination of media texts, including sports broadcasts, newspaper and magazine articles, and documentary and feature film. Particular emphasis is placed on the social and mediated constructions of femininity and masculinity in sport. Prerequisite: MCOM 101. Three credits.

MCOM 470  Advanced Video Post-Production
This course is designed to familiarize the student with the principles of the post-production process and with advanced techniques of video editing. The primary activity in the course will be the application of these technical and aesthetic concepts through hands-on experience in video editing projects. Students will also be required to participate outside of class in the SUTV non-linear digital editing facility. Corequisite: MCOM 480. Three credits.

MCOM 471  Race, Sport and the Media
This course examines media depictions of race and sport through an examination of media texts including sports broadcasts, newspaper and magazine articles and documentary and feature films. Particular emphasis is placed on the social and mediated constructions of race in American sport. Prerequisites: MCOM 101. Three credits.

MCOM 480  Advanced Video Field Production
This course is designed to familiarize the student with advanced techniques of video field production. The primary activity in the course will be the application of these techniques in video field production projects. The emphasis in this course will be single-camera production techniques, though multi-camera remote production will be discussed. Students will also be required to participate outside of class on the SUTV production crew. Corequisite: MCOM 470. Three credits.

MCOM 481  Print Media Applications
Supervise practicum managing and editing the campus newspaper or magazine as a staff member. May be repeated for a total of three hours credit. Prerequisites: Upper division standing. One credit.

MCOM 490  Directed Study
Directed study in mass communication. Three credits.

MCOM 495  Independent Study
Independent study in mass communication. Three credits.
MCOM 498  Field Internship
A field internship with an area, regional or national communication organization. Prerequisite: Junior standing. Three credits.

MASS COMMUNICATION EDUCATION (MCM)

MCM 270  Practicum in Instructional Technology and Media
A practical survey of audio/visual communications media and computer technologies and their instructional and interactive applications. Focus will be on effective and appropriate production and use of both commercially and locally prepared media and software for training and teaching purposes. Prerequisite: MCOM 201. Three credits.

MATHEMATICS (MATH)

MATH 099  Basic Algebra
This course establishes a foundation in algebraic concepts and problem solving needed for college-level mathematics. Topics include the real number system, equations, inequalities, graphs, exponents, polynomials and factoring. Grade of “S” or “U” only. This course fulfills no curricular requirements. Three pre-college-level credits.

MATH 100  Mathematical Thinking
This course examines the ways mathematics occurs and is used in the world. Patterns, codes, symmetry and mathematical modeling are topics that will be explored. The course is relevant for those students who do not intend to be mathematics or science majors. Prerequisites: Two years of high school algebra and one year of geometry. Three credits.

MATH 101  Precalculus I
A precalculus course for students continuing their study of mathematics. Topics include basic algebraic operations, equations, inequalities and various functions including polynomial and rational functions. Prerequisites: Two years of high school algebra and one year of geometry. Three credits.

MATH 102  Precalculus II
A precalculus course for students continuing their study of mathematics. Topics include logarithmic and exponential functions, trigonometry, and advanced topics of algebra. Prerequisite: MATH 101 or high school equivalent. Three credits.

MATH 201  Calculus and Analytic Geometry I
The study of algebraic, trigonometric, and exponential functions including limits, continuity, derivatives, and an introduction to integration along with their applications. Prerequisite: MATH 102. Four credits.

MATH 202  Calculus and Analytic Geometry II
The study of algebraic, trigonometric, and transcendental functions including methods of integration, improper integrals, rectangular, polar, and parametric graphing, and power series along with their applications. Prerequisite: MATH 201. Four credits.

MATH 206  Linear Algebra
An introduction to the theory of vector spaces, linear transformations, and matrices. Prerequisite: MATH 102 or MATH 201. Three credits.

MATH 207  Introduction to Statistics
A study of elementary statistical methods, probability, estimation, test of hypothesis, regression, correlation and time series. Prerequisites: Two years of high school algebra and one year of geometry. Three credits.

MATH 208  Advanced Statistics
A continuation of MATH 207, designed to develop in the student a level of statistical sophistication sufficient for the comprehension of empirical research and to assist the student in the selection, application, and interpretation of commonly used statistics. Topics include hypothesis testing and parameter estimation on four classes of parameters: relative frequency, location, dispersion, and statistical inference. Prerequisite: MATH 207. Three credits.
MATH 212 Applications of Calculus in the Health Professions
A study of the mathematics behind work done by clinical health professionals. Topics include drug dosage calculations, measurement conversions, percent strength in solutions, mathematical modeling of the circulatory system via differential equations and how concentration of a drug in the bloodstream changes over time. Prerequisite: MATH 201. Two credits.

MATH 295 Topics
Study of specific topics, issues or themes within the field of mathematics. One, two or three credits.

MATH 302 Multivariable Calculus
The study of vector-valued functions, partial derivatives, multiple integrals, vector fields, and their applications. Prerequisite: MATH 202. Three credits.

MATH 310 Using Technology in Mathematics Education
Calculators and computer software are important tools for doing mathematics. How teachers use these tools affects how well students learn mathematics. This course offers opportunities for pre-service teachers in middle and secondary schools to explore the applications of technological tools for learning and teaching mathematics. Prerequisites: 12 credit hours of mathematics courses. Three credits.

MATH 325 Discrete Math
Discrete mathematics is concerned with structures of objects that can assume only distinct values, often characterized by integers. Combinatorics, graph theory, algorithms and recurrence relations are a part of this course. Prerequisite: MATH 102 or MATH 201. Three credits.

MATH 341 Elementary Theory of Numbers
Selected topics in Number Theory including divisibility, Euclidian algorithm, congruencies, residue classes, Euler’s Function, primitive roots, Chinese remainder theorem, quadratic residues, and Gaussian integers. Prerequisite: MATH 102 or MATH 201. Three credits.

MATH 351 Differential Equations
The study of the methods, theory and applications of differential equations including first order and linear second order equations, series solutions, and the Laplace transform. Prerequisite: MATH 202. Three credits.

MATH 365 History of Mathematics
Study of the development of mathematics from classical antiquity through the end of the 19th century. Focuses on the critical periods in the development of areas of mathematics such as equation solving, geometry, calculus, number theory and probability. Prerequisite: MATH 201. Three credits.

MATH 370 Numerical Analysis
An introduction to numerical solutions to problems. Topics include solution of equations, interpolation and approximation of polynomials, numerical differentiation and integration, summation of series, and use of orthogonal polynomials. Assignments using a computer and mathematical software packages are important components of this course. Prerequisite: MATH 202. Three credits.

MATH 399 Directed Studies
Selected topics in mathematics. One, two or three credits.

MATH 403 Introduction to Modern Algebra
A study of sets, mappings and algebraic concepts such as groups, rings, integral domains and fields. Prerequisite: MATH 102 or MATH 201. Three credits.

MATH 405 Geometry
Examination of fundamental topics in geometry from an advanced viewpoint. The historical development of geometry and topics from Non-Euclidean geometry are included. Prerequisite: MATH 102 or MATH 201. Three credits.

MATH 432 Real Analysis
Real Analysis is the study of the theory behind calculus. Based on the development of the basic theorems of calculus, this course includes limits, continuity, differentiability, integrability, sequences and infinite series. Prerequisite: MATH 302. Three credits.
MATH 442 Functions of a Complex Variable
A study of the complex variable including analytic functions, Cauchy-Riemann equations, Cauchy’s Theorem, power series, residue theorem and conformal mapping. Prerequisite: MATH 202. Three credits.

MATH 475 Research Seminar I
This is a capstone course for the mathematics major. The student is expected to find an interesting mathematics topic to explore and pursue it in-depth. The student is expected to write up the results of this exploration in a research paper and do a presentation on the research as a part of this course. Prerequisite: Junior or senior standing and permission of the instructor. Two credits.

MATH 476 Research Seminar II
This is a capstone course for the mathematics major. The student is expected to explore a mathematics topic and pursue it in-depth. The student is expected to write up the results of this exploration in a research paper as part of this course and to present their results to peers and interested faculty. Prerequisite: MATH 475. Two credits.

MATH 495 Advanced Topics
Study of specific topics, issues or themes within the field of mathematics. One, two or three credits.

MATH EDUCATION (MTH)

MTH 335 Mathematics for the Elementary and Middle School I
Concepts and theories underlying elementary school mathematics, including systems of numeration, whole numbers and integers, operations with integers, equations and inequalities, number theory, probability and statistics. Intended for school educators. Prerequisites: MATH 101 and MATH 207 or the equivalent. Three credits.

MTH 336 Mathematics for the Elementary and Middle School II
A continuation of MTH 335. Topics include fraction models and operations, real numbers, patterns and functions, algebra, geometry and measurement. Intended for school educators. Prerequisite: MTH 335. Three credits.

MUSIC CONDUCTING (MU CO)

MU CO 361 Beginning Choral and Instrumental Conducting
Effective musicianship through the study of fundamentals of conducting, including patterns, baton technique, score reading, and rehearsal techniques for choral and instrumental music as these skills relate to teaching music performance ensembles. Students will acquire basic competency in rehearsing and conducting choral ensembles and combined vocal and instrumental school groups. One and one-half credits.

MU CO 363 Choral Conducting
Further refinement of effective musicianship through the development of skills in conducting, score reading, teaching music courses, rehearsal techniques for choral and instrumental music, business procedures, organization and management of large and small choral ensembles. Focus will be primarily on choral conducting with additional emphasis on acquiring competency in rehearsing combined vocal and instrumental school groups. Prerequisites: MU CO 361, MUTC 201, MUTC 203 and MUTC 205. One and one-half credits.

MU CO 364 Instrumental Conducting
Further refinement of effective musicianship throughout the development of skills in instrumental conducting, score reading, teaching music courses, rehearsal techniques for choral and instrumental music, business procedures, organization and management of large and small instrumental ensembles. Focus will be primarily on instrumental conducting, with additional emphasis on acquiring competency in rehearsal combined vocal and instrumental school groups. Prerequisites: MU CO 361, MUTC 201, MUTC 203 and MUTC 205. One and one-half credits.

MU CO 463 Advanced Choral Conducting
Study and interpretation of the standard choral repertoire. Prerequisite: MU CO 363. Two credits.
MU.CO 464  Advanced Instrumental Conducting
Baton technique and critical examination of large-form works, rehearsal techniques, and interpretive problems. Prerequisite: MU.CO 364. Two credits.

MU.CO 495  Special Topics
Investigation of a specialized area of knowledge in a class setting. Prerequisites will vary with topic. One, two or three credits, dependent upon topic.

MU.CO 499  Individual Directed Research
A private instruction setting for individual projects in conducting. May be used to fulfill electives only. Project must be approved by the associate dean for undergraduate studies and the division chair and/or program coordinator prior to registration. One, two or three credits, dependent upon topic.

MUSIC CONFERENCES (MUCC)

MUCC 497  Trends and Practices
This course will provide students with the opportunity to attend a professional conference and experience and review a variety of performance and non-performance sessions. One, two or three credits.

MUCC 498  Readings
This course will provide students with the opportunity to complete analytical readings of current articles from professional journals, book chapters or similar materials. Concurrent enrollment in MUCC 497 required. One credit.

MUCC 499  Best Practices Document
The purpose of this course is to provide students with the opportunity to explore in depth one topic related to exemplary practices currently employed in teaching. Concurrent enrollment in MUCC 497 and MUCC 498 is required. One credit.

MUSIC EDUCATION (MUED)

MUED 130  Orientation to Music Education
An orientation in music education to a wide array of topics regarding music in the schools (K-12). Readings, guided observations, and discussion of contemporary trends and practices presented in a seminar setting. One credit.

MUED 135  Foundations of Education in Music
Introduction and orientation to historical, philosophical and sociological foundations of education and music in the United States. Overview of ethical, legal and contemporary trends and implications for music education are included. Prerequisite: MUED 130. Two credits.

MUED 235  Reading and Literacy in Music
Reading, writing, speaking and listening processes as they apply to the development of literacy in the K-12 education of music students. Study of word, text, sign and symbol and their comprehension and strategies for instruction are included. Prerequisite: MUED 135. Two credits.

MUED 236  Introduction to Curriculum and Assessment in Music Education
A study of music curricula and assessment and the creation of learning environments that support diverse learners in inclusive settings. Includes construction, administration and evaluation of tests and other assessment tools. Begins with an overview of instructional planning, the relationship of objectives to standards and strategies for ensuring alignment between standards, curriculum and instruction, and assessment. Prerequisites: MUED 135 and MUED 235. Two credits.
MUED 321  Pre-School and Elementary Choral/General Music Methods
A study of the various methods and materials used in the teaching of choral and general music in pre-kindergarten through grade six including curriculum design with national and state music standards as well as performing, responding and creative assessments. Course experiences are highly participatory to facilitate improvement of musical and pedagogical skills. Corequisite: MUED 333. Prerequisites: MUED 236 and successful completion of Sophomore Screening in Music Education. Three credits.

MUED 322  Middle School Choral/General Music Methods
Methods, materials and media appropriate to the teaching of general music classes and choral rehearsals for teaching adolescent students in grades six through eight. Basic skills in teaching musical courses, rehearsal techniques for choral music and designing instruction within the middle school learning environment are included. Corequisite: MUED 334. Prerequisites: MUED 321 and successful completion of Sophomore Screening in Music Education. Three credits.

MUED 323  High School Choral/General Music Methods
Methods, materials and media appropriate to the teaching of general music classes and choral rehearsals for teaching adolescent students in grades nine through twelve. Instruction in business procedures, organization and management of large and small choral ensembles, with knowledge of techniques in rehearsing, conducting and designing instruction for vocal/choral schools groups. Knowledge and understanding of artistic copyright laws are included. Prerequisites: MUED 321, MUED 322, MUCO 363 and successful completion of Sophomore Screening in Music Education. Corequisite: MUED 335. Three credits.

MUED 324  Marching Band Techniques
An examination of marching fundamentals and maneuvers, charting techniques and show design principles; auxiliary units; and philosophical, administrative, and organizational concerns of the marching band director. An original half-time/competition show design is required. Two credits.

MUED 325  Jazz and Show Choir Methods
An introduction to materials and techniques for teaching jazz and show choir. Choreography and staging techniques included. One credit.

MUED 329  Instrumental Music Methods and Materials I
A study of the methods, materials, techniques, administration, and philosophy related to teaching instrumental music in schools, including teacher responsibilities, working with administration, school law, discipline and motivation, teaching beginners, reading in the music content area, school budgets, funding and relationships with parents. Prerequisites: MUED 236 and successful completion of Sophomore Screening in Music Education. Corequisite: MUED 333. Three credits.

MUED 330  Instrumental Music Methods and Materials II
Continued study of the methods, materials, techniques, administration, and philosophy related to teaching instrumental music in schools, including historical bases for music in the schools, philosophical bases for the art of music, curricular development, National Standards for Arts Education, Virginia Standards of Learning, psychology of teaching, adapting for special learners and evaluation of student learning. Prerequisite: MUED 236 and successful completion of Sophomore Screening in Music Education. Corequisite: MUED 334. Three credits.

MUED 333  Field Experience I
Component designed to be taken in conjunction with MUED 321 or MUED 329. This experience provides practical application of the teaching skills and strategies discussed in the methods class. Corequisite: MUED 321 (Choral/General concentration) or MUED 329 (Instrumental concentration). One credit.

MUED 334  Field Experience II
Component designed to be taken in conjunction with MUED 322 or MUED 330. This experience provides practical application of the teaching skills and strategies discussed in the methods class. Corequisite: MUED 322 (Choral/General concentration) or MUED 330 (Instrumental concentration). One credit.

MUED 335  Field Experience III
Component designed to be taken in conjunction with MUED 323. This experience provides practical application of the teaching skills and strategies discussed in the methods class. Corequisite: MUED 323. One credit.
MUED 421 Directed Teaching in Elementary Music

Directed Teaching in Elementary Music

Observation and teaching in the public schools under the direct supervision of public school faculty and Shenandoah Conservatory faculty. (At present, the minimum number of directed teaching hours is 300, which is subject to change, as specified by the Virginia Board of Education to fulfill teacher licensure requirements. The student teaching experience as required by Shenandoah Conservatory, including observation, teaching and seminars, is a full semester in duration.)

Prerequisites for both concentrations: Completion of pre-directed teaching observation and personal screening; successful completion of the Sophomore Screening in Music Education; completion of competencies in public speaking and technology; minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.5; completion of AP302; and a minimum grade of “C” in specific prerequisite courses listed below:

Choral/General Concentration prerequisites: APCP 306, MUCO 363, MUED 130, MUED 135, MUED 235, MUED 236, MUED 321, MUED 322, MUED 323, MUED 325, MUED 333, MUED 334, MUED 335, MUPP 304, MUTC 201, MUTC 204 and MUTC 206.

Five credits each, taken concurrently.

MUED 423 Student Teaching Seminar

This seminar, taken concurrently with Directed Teaching in Elementary and Secondary Music, is designed to assist students to become caring, reflective educators by providing a forum for collaborative, critical inquiry based on their student teaching experience. The course offers opportunities and frameworks for thinking about and analyzing classroom situations, the teaching-learning process, classroom management, legal and ethical obligations, current issues in education and professional goals and development. Corequisites: MUED 421 and MUED 422. Two credits.

MUED 495 Special Topics in Music Education

Investigation of a specialized area of knowledge in a class setting. One, two or three credits, dependent upon topic.

MUED 499 Individual Directed Research

A private instruction setting for individual projects in music education. May be used to fulfill music electives only. Projects must be approved by the associate dean for undergraduate studies and the division chair and/or program coordinator prior to registration. One, two or three credits, dependent upon topic.

MUSIC ENSEMBLES (MUEN)

Large Ensembles

MUEN 300 Performing Ensemble

A performing organization whose major objective is the development of musical understanding through the study and preparation of original compositions and transcriptions of significant musical works for the instrumental or vocal ensemble. Prerequisite: Multiple ensemble registrations, as assigned by the division chair, which results in an excess of 18.5 credits. Must be approved by the associate dean for undergraduate studies. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 301 Symphonic Wind Ensemble

An instrumental organization of winds and percussion whose major objective is the development of musical understanding through the study and preparation of original compositions and transcriptions of significant musical worth for the ensemble. Audition required. Two credits.

MUEN 302 Concert Band

An instrumental organization that provides students with an opportunity to develop musical understanding through the study and preparation of representative compositions and transcriptions for bands. Audition required. Two credits.
MUEN 303 Symphony Orchestra
A concert organization that studies and performs the standard orchestral literature and contemporary compositions. Membership is required of string majors and open to wind and percussion students by audition. Audition required. Two credits.

MUEN 304 Conservatory Jazz Ensemble
Consisting of full sections of trumpets, trombones, saxophones, rhythm section instruments, and other instruments needed for various arrangements, the jazz ensemble is a select group dedicated to performing music ranging from the style of the “big bands” to contemporary and experimental jazz forms. In addition to developing jazz skills, the musicians develop facility in jazz composition, arranging and improvisation. Audition required. Two credits.

MUEN 306 Guitar Ensemble
An ensemble that performs music composed or arranged for multiple guitars. Audition required. Two credits.

MUEN 311 Conservatory Choir
A select group of singers who perform sacred and secular choral music ranging from Renaissance to contemporary compositions. Audition required. Two credits.

MUEN 312 Shenandoah Chorus
A mixed vocal ensemble that performs sacred and secular choral music. Emphasis is also placed upon the development of basic choral skills. Audition required. Two credits.

MUEN 313 Cantus Singers
A select choral organization that performs music written especially for treble voices. Audition required. Two credits.

MUEN 323 Accompanying Ensemble
For keyboard majors in performance and accompanying curricula. Consists of four clock hours of assigned accompanying responsibilities per week (2 hours in studio; 2 hours in rehearsal or the equivalent as determined by the accompanying coordinator), with regular individual coaching by members of the keyboard faculty. Formal instruction in the art of piano accompanying, including the study of vocal and instrumental literature, differing musical styles and performance practices from the earliest material through the present. Audition required. Two credits.

Small and Chamber Ensembles

MUEN 314 Shenandoah Singers
A vocal group that performs an eclectic repertoire of a cappella jazz, pop and world music. Designed for students interested in studying repertoire drawn from the popular music tradition, this vocal chamber group consists of a select ensemble of eight to twelve singers. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 316 Double Bass Ensemble
An ensemble performing original compositions and transcriptions for homogeneous double bass ensemble. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 331 Kammermusik Players
A large, mixed chamber ensemble comprised of wind, string and percussion instruments (mostly one instrument per part) that studies and performs music of all styles. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 332 Clarinet Choir
The clarinet choir, comprising all members of the clarinet family, performs original works and transcriptions. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 333 Percussion Ensemble
This ensemble performs standard and original compositions, written for percussion instruments. Audition required. One credit.
MUEN 335 Jazz Guitar Ensemble
The jazz combos are designed to expand upon the student’s improvisation and interpretative skills in a jazz chamber music setting. Emphasis will be placed on standard repertoire from the swing era up to the present. Student arrangements are encouraged. Particular attention will be focused on ear training and listening skills with respect to chord/scale recognition in improvisation. The student may also be required to memorize some or all of the repertoire. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 341 Chamber Choir
A highly selected mixed vocal group of limited size that performs vocal chamber music of all periods. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 352 New Music Ensemble
A mixed ensemble of indeterminate personnel, open to both singers and instrumentalists, that regularly performs contemporary chamber music and frequently features premiere performances of new works. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 353 Pit Orchestra
An orchestra that plays for musical theatre productions. Specific instrumentation needed is determined by the production offered, but typically would include: five woodwinds (doubling), five to eight brasses, strings (3,2,2,1), piano and percussion. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 354 Pep Band
A small instrumental ensemble of no more than 20 performers that performs music suitable for home football events. May not be used to fulfill any curricular ensemble requirement in the conservatory. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 361 Brass Ensembles
Small brass ensembles, mainly brass quintets, coached by faculty members of the brass faculty. Membership on a yearly basis. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 362 Woodwind Ensemble
Various ensembles of woodwind instruments in diverse groupings whose repertoire includes standard quartets and quintets. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 363 String Chamber Ensemble
Preparation and performance of standard string ensemble literature (duo, string trio, piano trio, string quartet, piano quartet, etc.). Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 364 Saxophone Ensemble
One or more student saxophone quartets are formed each semester to perform standard quartet literature from the French, German, and American schools. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 365 Flute Ensemble
An ensemble performing music for flute groups of varying size. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 366 Guitar Consort
Performance of repertoire expressly composed or arranged for guitar duo, trio, or quartet. Enrollment is limited and each student will be expected to assume total responsibility for one part. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 367 Cello Ensemble
An ensemble performing original compositions and transcriptions for homogeneous cello ensemble. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 368 Chamber Music
Preparation and performance of representative unaccompanied chamber works for three or more instruments. Placement in ensembles will be at the discretion of the Chamber Music Coordinator and approval of the division chair. Audition required. One credit.
MUEN 371 Jazz Combo Ensemble
Jazz combos are designed to expand upon the student's improvisation and interpretive skills in a jazz chamber music setting. Emphasis will be placed on standard repertoire from the swing era up to the present. Student arrangements are encouraged. Particular attention will be focused on ear-training and listening skills with respect to chord/scale recognition in improvisation. The students may also be required to memorize some or all of the repertoire. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 372 World Music Ensemble
Contextual study, rehearsal, and performance of vocal and instrumental music primarily associated with indigenous, non-Western music traditions. Audition required. One credit.

MUEN 375 Jazz Combo: Improvisation Laboratory
A small ensemble with the emphasis on development of performance and improvisational skills. No audition required. One credit.

MUEN 378 Harp Ensemble
Study and performance of compositions and transcriptions for harp ensemble to develop the ensemble skills of harp students. Study of orchestral excerpts is included. Audition required. One credit.

MUSIC LITERATURE (MULT)

MULT 203 History of Western Music I
A survey of European art music from the medieval period through the Baroque. The course consists of lecture, reading and listening exercises, bibliographic and essay exercises and a weekly listening lab. Students are assessed on knowledge of factual, conceptual and aural materials. The course final project is a large-scale bibliographic exercise. Corequisite: MLLB 203 Lab. Two credits.

MULT 204 History of Western Music II
A survey of European art music in the Classical and Romantic eras. The course consists of lecture, reading and listening exercises, bibliographic and essay exercises and a weekly listening lab. Students are assessed on knowledge of factual, conceptual and aural materials. The course final project is an extended literature review. Prerequisite: MULT 203. Corequisite: MLLB 204 Lab. Two and one-half credits.

MULT 205 History of Western Music III
A survey of European art music from the end of Romanticism to the present. The course consists of lecture, reading and listening exercises, bibliographic and essay exercises and a weekly listening lab. Students are assessed on knowledge of factual, conceptual and aural materials. The course final project is an extended literature review. Prerequisites: MULT 203 and MULT 204. Corequisite: MLLB 205 Lab. Two and one-half credits.

MULT 225 Introduction to Rock Music
This course serves as an introduction to the history of rock music, emphasizing primarily the period between 1955 and 2000. Mixing historical and cultural readings with intense listening, this course covers the vast repertoire of rock music and many other associated styles. Students focus on the sounds of the music, learning to distinguish a wide variety of genres, while also tracing the development and transformation of rock and pop styles. The lectures that comprise the teaching element of the course use a wide variety of multimedia, including audio, video and interactive Web-based sources. Knowledge of a technical musical vocabulary and an ability to read music are not required for this course. Three credits.

MULT 275 Western Art Music Appreciation
A survey of Western European art music representing all periods and genres. Emphasis on basic terminology and knowledge of standard musical works. Three credits.

MULT 355 American Musical Theatre I
The history and development of popular musical theatre in the United States from colonial times through 1942, including extravaganza, minstrelsy, revue, vaudeville, burlesque, operetta and early musical comedy. Three credits.
MULT 356 American Musical Theatre II
The history and development of popular musical theatre in the United States from 1943 through the present, including musical comedy, the musical play, the concept musical, the through-sung musical, foreign influences and modern trends. Three credits.

MULT 361 Survey of World Music: South Asia/Middle East/Europe
Study of contemporary music indigenous to South Asia/Middle East/Europe. Analysis and comparison of tonal and rhythmic attributes. Promotion of socio-cultural awareness. One credit.

MULT 362 Survey of World Music: Sub-Saharan Africa/Caribbean

MULT 363 Survey of World Music: The Americas

MULT 364 Survey of World Music: Central/East/South-East Asia

MULT 401 Symphonic Literature
Historical and analytical study of selected works from the Classical period to the present. Prerequisites: MULT 203, MULT 204 and MULT 205. Three credits.

MULT 402 Oratorio/Choral Literature
Historical and analytical study of selected works representing major forms and styles from the late Renaissance to the present. Three credits.

MULT 403 Brass Literature
Historical and analytical survey of solo literature and advanced method materials written for brass instruments. Three credits.

MULT 407 Organ Literature I
Historical and analytical survey of organ literature. Two credits.

MULT 408 Organ Literature II
Continuation of MULT 407. Prerequisite: MULT 407. Two credits.

MULT 409 Percussion Literature
Historical and analytical survey of percussion solo and ensemble music. Three credits.

MULT 411 Piano Literature I
A historical and analytical survey of piano literature from the earliest sources through the Classical period. Two credits.

MULT 412 Piano Literature II
Historical and analytical survey of piano literature from the Romantic period to the present. Two credits.

MULT 413 Woodwind Literature
Historical, analytical and pedagogical survey of solo and ensemble literature written for woodwind instruments, including solos with large ensemble accompaniment. The literature of each instrument is surveyed from the Baroque period through the 20th century period. Three credits.

MULT 417 String Literature
Historical and analytical survey of literature for solo and chamber strings throughout the major historical musical periods. Three credits.
MULT 420 Opera Literature
A brief history of opera through the examination of major works in historical context, as well as a survey of opera repertoire through in-class performance and in and out of class listening. Students will develop individual repertoire reference materials. Three credits.

MULT 432 Jazz History
A study of the origin, development styles and major contributors of jazz through listening, analysis and research. Two credits.

MULT 433 Survey of Vocal Literature
A presentation of the history and development of the art song, including in-class performances and discussions. The song compositions of Italian, German, French, Spanish, Latin American, British and American composers will be covered. If time allows, Scandinavian, Russian and Slavic composers will be addressed as well. Performance and critical listening are the major emphasis of the class. There will be assigned readings, a term paper with oral presentation and two songs by the composer chosen for the paper. Three credits.

MULT 434 The Piano in Chamber Literature
Historical and analytical survey of repertoire for chamber ensemble with piano. Exploration through listening, reading and class discussion of works from the 17th century to present day. Two credits.

MULT 435 Guitar Literature I
Historical and analytical survey of guitar literature from the Renaissance Era through the music of J. S. Bach. Two credits.

MULT 436 Guitar Literature II
Historical and analytical survey of guitar literature from the Classical Era through the music of the 21st century. Two credits.

MULT 495 Special Topics
Investigation of a specialized area of knowledge in a class setting. One, two or three credits, dependent upon topic.

MULT 499 Individual Directed Research
A private instruction setting for individual projects in music literature. May be used to fulfill music electives only. Project proposal must be approved by the associate dean for undergraduate studies and the division chair and/or program coordinator prior to registration. One, two or three credits, dependent upon topic.

MUSIC PERFORMANCE AND PEDAGOGY (MUPP)

MUPP 121 Beginning Guitar Class
A class for anyone who would like to learn the basics of playing the guitar. The course will cover basic music reading, chord building, song accompaniment, playing solos and the guitar heritage. One credit.

MUPP 151 Recording Systems: Design and Application I
Acquaintance for musicians with appropriate applications of hardware used to record musical performances. Two credits.

MUPP 152 Recording Systems: Design and Application II
A continuation of MUPP 151. Aspects and applications of recording studio techniques, including editing, session set-ups, mixing, console flow logic, patch bay applications and microphone placement. Two hours of studio time per week accompany the class. Prerequisite: MUPP 151. Two credits.

MUPP 162 Recording Systems Studio Time
Course provides a laboratory experience to parallel the content of MUPP 152, Recording Systems II. Weekly small group sessions provide practical experience with equipment and techniques utilized in MUPP 152. A studio recording fee is assessed. Prerequisite: MUPP 151 and concurrent enrollment in MUPP 152. One-half credit.
MUPP 225 Opera Stage Training I
Use of dramatic techniques in the interpretation and performance of operatic music. Basic acting for the operatic stage, movement, improvisation, makeup, period dances, and techniques of relaxation. One credit.

MUPP 226 Opera Stage Training II
A continuation of Opera Stage Training I. Acting of operatic roles in different periods and styles including pantomime, spoken dialogue, recitatives and short scene study in English. Prerequisite: MUPP 225. One credit.

MUPP 233 Voice Class
Designed for non-voice majors, this course is a study of vocal physiology, diction, tone production and performance. Vocal literature, voice classification and vocal health will be discussed. Classes will be oriented toward performance improvement. One credit.

MUPP 239 Studio Accompanying
Practical experience through assigned accompanying responsibilities coordinated by a member of the piano faculty. Open to all keyboard majors in non-performance curricula. No credit.

MUPP 241 Oboe Reed Making Class
Practical instruction in the gouging, shaping, tying and scraping of oboe reeds. Concurrent enrollment in APOB Applied Oboe instruction recommended. One-half credit.

MUPP 242 Bassoon Reed Making Class
Practical instruction in the profiling, shaping, forming, and scraping of bassoon reeds. Concurrent enrollment in APBN Applied Bassoon instruction recommended. One-half credit.

MUPP 251 Sound Reinforcement
A study of equipment used for musical sound reinforcement, including small, large, portable and fixed systems; specifications on instrumentation, nature of music performed and location; set-up, microphone placement and equipment selection. Prerequisite: MUPP 152. Two credits.

MUPP 252 Remote Recording Practicum
Practical application of remote recording techniques in recitals and other concerts, working as a sound technician and assisting with remote recording sessions. May be repeated for a total of two credits. Prerequisite: MUPP 151. One credit.

MUPP 253 Sound Reinforcement Practicum
Practical application of equipment used for sound reinforcement, including small, large, portable and fixed systems; specifications on instrumentation, nature of music performed and location; set-up, microphone placement and equipment selection; and practical application through working as a sound technician for a variety of on-campus performances in a variety of venues. Prerequisite: MUPP 251. One credit.

MUPP 260 Introduction to Lyric Diction
Designed for the non-performance voice major; this course is a discussion and practice of the fundamentals of Latin, Italian, German and French pronunciation for singers utilizing the International Phonetic Alphabet. Performance of songs in each language will be required. Two credits.

MUPP 263 Singer’s Diction I
Discussion and practice in the fundamentals of Latin and Italian pronunciation for singers utilizing the International Phonetic Alphabet. Performance of songs in these languages is required. Two credits.

MUPP 264 Singer’s Diction II
Discussion and practice in the fundamentals of French and German pronunciation for singers utilizing the International Phonetic Alphabet. Performance of songs in these languages is required. Prerequisite: MUPP 263. Two credits.

MUPP 303 Pedagogy of Jazz Teaching Techniques
An introduction to the fundamentals of jazz and jazz teaching, focusing on ensemble conducting, program development, improvisation, jazz style and basic jazz history. This course is designed to assist students in becoming successful middle, junior and senior high school jazz band directors. One credit.
MUPP 304 American Folk and Orff Instruments
The study of chanting, singing, moving and playing in ensemble using voice, body percussion, pitched and unpitched percussion and recorder for elementary music classes. Instruction will include strategies that focus on composing, arranging and adapting music to meet the classroom needs and ability levels of school vocal/choral and general music students, skills in providing and directing creative experiences and improvising when necessary, and proficiency on appropriate accompanying instruments. Prerequisite: MUED 321. One credit.

MUPP 311 Musical Theatre Styles
An in-depth study and application of methods for singing musical theatre styles. Instruction will be two hours weekly, consisting of lecture, training and discussion of relevant techniques and solutions. Course will cover treatment of vowels, consonants, song authenticity and correct style musically and vocally. Through songs, students will explore various vocal styles found in musical theatre while maintaining vocal health. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing in the musical theatre curriculum. One credit.

MUPP 313 Percussion Teaching Techniques
Fundamental playing techniques of percussion instruments. Focus includes survey of teaching techniques and materials, competency in rehearsing and conducting instrumental ensembles. One credit.

MUPP 314 String Teaching Techniques
Fundamental playing techniques of string instruments. Focus includes survey of teaching techniques and materials, competency in rehearsing and conducting instrumental ensembles. One credit.

MUPP 316 Woodwind Teaching Techniques I
Fundamental playing techniques of woodwind instruments. Focus includes survey of teaching techniques and materials, competency in rehearsing and conducting instrumental ensembles. One credit.

MUPP 317 Woodwind Teaching Techniques II
Additional acquisition of playing techniques of woodwind instruments. Focus includes teaching techniques and materials, competency in rehearsing and conducting instrumental ensembles. Prerequisite: MUPP 316. One credit.

MUPP 318 Brass Teaching Techniques I
Fundamental playing techniques of brass instruments. Focus includes survey of teaching techniques and materials, competency in rehearsing and conducting instrumental ensembles. One credit.

MUPP 319 Brass Teaching Techniques II
Additional acquisition of playing techniques of brass instruments. Focus includes teaching techniques and materials, competency in rehearsing and conducting instrumental ensembles. Prerequisite: MUPP 318. One credit.

MUPP 320 Guitar Class
Fundamentals of guitar playing. Basic chords strummed to familiar songs, with emphasis on folk song styles in order to provide sufficient skills for classroom instruction of guitar. Nylon string guitar preferred. One credit.

MUPP 322 Functional Guitar Skills
Fundamentals of guitar playing is the primary focus of this course. Students perform a basic repertoire of traditional, folk and popular songs with or without printed music. Many basic chords, strumming patterns and picking patterns employed. Overall general care and use of the guitar taught. Open only to Music Therapy students. One credit.

MUPP 330 Repertoire for Piano Ensemble
A survey of the history and performance of literature for piano four hands and for two or more pianos. Two credits.

MUPP 332 Piano Pedagogy
A study of materials, methods, and repertoire for the successful teaching of piano students from the beginning stages through the advanced and college preparatory levels. Two credits.

MUPP 336 Supervised Private Teaching
Supervised teaching of beginning and intermediate applied music students with periodic seminars to discuss relevant teaching techniques and solutions. May be repeated with different instructor or in a different applied field. Prerequisite: Keyboard - MUPP 332; Voice - MUPP 433; Instruments - appropriate pedagogy class. Three credits.
MUPP 338  Business of Studio Teaching
A study of the business of studio teaching and management. Individual project resulting in the development of studio policies, resume and other materials appropriate to the successful operation of an independent teaching studio. One credit.

MUPP 341  Half Recital
Presentation of a half recital, including classical music and jazz performances, may be undertaken by a Conservatory student after AP™ 200-level study has been completed. Students in non-Conservatory curricula may undertake a half recital after four semesters of study. The length of each half of the recital is not to exceed 25 minutes of music. Concurrent enrollment in applied study is required. One credit.

MUPP 343  Jazz Repertoire
A course devoted to developing the repertoire necessary for jazz musicians to work in various environments, specifically in professional “club date” and “jam session” settings. Memorization of music in various styles is emphasized. One credit.

MUPP 345  Fretboard Theory
Development of functional theoretical concepts on the guitar. Prerequisite: Completion of APGT 200-level study. One credit.

MUPP 350  Basic Electronics
Basic electronics survey for the recording studio. Theoretical concepts of voltage, current, resistance, capacitance and inductance are developed. Two credits.

MUPP 351  Digital and Advanced Recording
A continuation of MUPP 152. Aspects and application of digital audio recording and principles of digital audio. Working with computer software programs such as Pro Tool and Cubase including editing, recording and MIDI. Two hours of studio time per week accompany this class. Prerequisite: MUPP 152. Two credits.

MUPP 353  Studio Maintenance and Repair
Development of skills for the use of test equipment for preventative maintenance and equipment calibration. Trouble shooting and basic repair procedures are included. Prerequisite: MUPP 350. One credit.

MUPP 354  Tonmeister Seminar
A course taken near conclusion of the program consisting of study and application of the aesthetics of Tonmeister technology by recording various student and/or faculty performing ensembles. Prerequisite: MUPP 351. One credit.

MUPP 361  Digital and Advanced Recording Studio Time
Course provides a laboratory experience to parallel the content of MUPP 351, Digital and Advanced Recording. Weekly small group sessions provide practical experience with equipment and techniques utilized in MUPP 351. A studio recording fee is assessed. Prerequisite: MUPP 152 and concurrent enrollment in MUPP 351. One-half credit.

MUPP 403  Guitar Pedagogy
Survey of teaching methods and materials for private instruction. Prerequisite: Completion of APGT 200-level study. Two credits.

MUPP 405  Organ Pedagogy
Methods of private instruction, analysis of teaching, problems and investigation of graded literature. Two credits.

MUPP 425  Opera Workshop
In-depth study of scenes selected from the standard operatic repertoire. In addition to background research and character development exercises, the course culminates in a public performance of excerpts performed in the original language, with minimal sets and costumes. Emphasis is on the expressive use of the body and the language. May be taken multiple times. Prerequisites: MUPP 225 and MUPP 226. Two credits.
MUPP 433 Anatomy and Function of the Singing Voice
Emphasis on the analysis of teaching problems and the development of vocal technique through the study of anatomical structures and physiological mechanisms as applied to singing. A study of how the human voice physiologically emerges from the body through the combined blending of body actions that overlap and assist each other; specifically: posture and movement, respiration, phonation, resonation and articulation. Analysis of the voice as an acoustic chain. Practical application and laboratory experiences include supervised private teaching. Prerequisite: completion of APVO 200-level study. Three credits.

MUPP 440 Full Recital
Presentation of a full recital, including solo classical, accompanying and/or jazz performances. May be undertaken at any time after AP 300-level is begun by Conservatory students. Non-Conservatory students may undertake a full recital after six semesters of study. Concurrent enrollment in applied study is required. Two credits.

MUPP 461 Music Production I
This course is intended for students who expect to be in a recording studio as a musician, writer or producer. A study of console mixing from multi-track to stereo or mono format, using multi-band equalization, pan pots, reverberation and outboard effects such as compressors and limiters. Prerequisites: MUPP 351, MUPP 252, MUTC 419 and MUTC 420. Two credits.

MUPP 462 Music Production II
A continuation of MUPP 461, culminating in a final project which the student must compose, produce and record. Prerequisite: MUPP 461. Two credits.

MUPP 463 Mixdown Techniques Lab I
A one-hour lab that provides a laboratory supplement to the work done concurrently in MUPP 461 Music Production I. Prerequisite: MUPP 351. One-half credit.

MUPP 464 Mixdown Techniques Lab II
A one-hour lab that provides a laboratory supplement to the work done concurrently in MUPP 462 Music Production II. Prerequisites: MUPP 461 and MUPP 463. One-half credit.

MUPP 465 Music Production and Recording Technology Internship
Internship to provide the opportunity to apply expertise gained in controlled classroom to a realistic situation. Minimum requirement of 150 hours of practical experience. Prerequisites: MUPP 462, MUPP 472, MUPP 464, MUPP 253, MUPP 354 and MUTC 452. Three credits.

MUPP 471 Music Production I Studio Time
Course provides a laboratory experience to parallel the content of MUPP 461, Music Production I. Weekly small group sessions provide practical experience with equipment and techniques utilized in MUPP 461. A studio recording fee is assessed. Concurrent enrollment in MUPP 461 is required. Prerequisite: MUPP 351. One credit.

MUPP 472 Music Production II Studio Time
Course provides a laboratory experience to parallel the content of MUPP 462, Music Production II. Weekly small group sessions provide practical experience with equipment and techniques utilized in MUPP 462. A studio recording fee is assessed. Concurrent enrollment in MUPP 462 is required. Prerequisite: MUPP 471. One credit.

MUPP 495 Special Topics
Investigation of a specialized area of knowledge in a class setting. Prerequisites will vary with topic. One, two or three credits, dependent upon topic.

MUPP 498 Internship
Internship or practical training in an area of performance or future employment conducted under the supervision of a member of the faculty. One credit.

MUPP 499 Individual Directed Research
A private instruction setting for individual project in performance practice or pedagogy. May be used to fulfill electives only. Project proposals must be approved by the associate dean for undergraduate studies and the division chair and/or program coordinator prior to registration. One, two or three credits, dependent upon topic.
MUSIC THEORY (MUTC)

MUTC  099  Music Fundamentals
Preparatory course for MUTC 101 or MUTC 121; required of any student who does not meet the minimum threshold score on the Music Theory Placement Test. Review of music fundamentals including pitch reading in treble and bass clefs, basic rhythm and meter; key signatures, scales, intervals and triads. Grade of “S” or “U” only. This course fulfills no curricular requirements. Two pre-college level credits.

MUTC  101  Introduction to Music Theory
Key, modality, rhythm and meter; notation; all tonal interval, scale, triad and seventh chord forms; an introduction to part-writing and harmonic progression in tonal music. Concepts are reinforced with student-written examples, analysis of classical repertoire, intervalic and harmonic identification, melodic and rhythmic dictations, and sight-singing. Enrollment by placement examination only. After successful completion of MUTC 101, students must be continuously registered each fall and spring semester until the sequence of MUTC 101, MUTC 102, MUTC 201, and MUTC 202 is completed. Because success in MUTC 101 is the foundation for subsequent semesters of study in music theory, a minimum grade of “C” must be achieved. Two credits.

MUTC  102  Diatonic Harmony and Simple Forms
A continuation of the study of tonal music, including more advanced harmonic writing and analysis (seventh chords, secondary function and modulation), figured bass realization and part writing. Prerequisite: Successful completion of MUTC 101. Three credits.

MUTC  107  Keyboard Harmony I
Harmonization using diatonic triads reinforced by chord progression drills, accompaniment styles, transposition, reading of open score and C-clef and improvisation. Material is correlated with MUTC 101. Special emphasis on developing the sightreading skills of the performing pianist through the use of appropriate repertoire. One credit.

MUTC  108  Keyboard Harmony II
Continuation of MUTC 107, with harmonization exercises extended to secondary dominants and to the use of figured bass. Material is correlated with MUTC 102. Continuation of special emphasis on developing the sightreading skills of the performing pianist through the use of appropriate repertoire. Prerequisite: MUTC 107. One credit.

MUTC  109  Ear Training
Practical application of the content of MUTC 102 to the hearing and performance of music. Introduction to tonal and rhythmic sight-singing techniques using movable-do solfege. Continuation of the melodic, rhythmic and harmonic dictation skills introduced in MUTC 101. Introduction of cadences and simple four-part dictation. Prerequisite: MUTC 101. Two credits.

MUTC  121  Music Theory for Musical Theatre I
An introduction to counterpoint, tonal harmony, and phrase structure for musical theatre performers. Concepts will be addressed through reading assignments, written workbook assignments and repertoire analyses. Prerequisite: Successful completion of the Music Theory Entrance Examination or MUTC 099. Two credits.

MUTC  122  Music Theory for Musical Theatre II
The study of secondary or “applied” harmonies, modulation, chromatic melodies and song forms for musical theatre performers. Concepts will be addressed through reading assignments, written workbook assignments and repertoire analyses. Prerequisite: MUTC 121. Two credits.

MUTC  123  Sightsinging for Musical Theatre I Practical application of the concepts in MUTC 121 in performance and introduction to diatonic and rhythmic sight-singing for musical theatre performers. Prerequisite: Successful completion of the Music Theory Entrance Examination or MUTC 099. One credit.

MUTC  124  Sightsinging for Musical Theatre II
Practical application of the concepts in MUTC 122 in performance, continuation of diatonic sightsinging and introduction to chromatic sightsinging for musical theatre performers. Prerequisite: MUTC 123. One credit.
MUTC 201 Chromatic Harmony and Compound Forms
The final examination of tonal music, including advanced harmonic writing and analysis (augmented sixth chords, Neapolitan sixth chords, other altered chords, and ninth chords), style period analysis concentrated on the Classical and Romantic periods, sonata form and contrapuntal techniques, including fugue. Prerequisite: MUTC 102. Three credits.

MUTC 202 Post-Tonal Theory
Examination of compositional materials and techniques of the late 19th and early 20th centuries, techniques of the Contemporary period, including the twelve-tone system, new uses of tonality and modality, the avant garde and music of the present. Prerequisite: MUTC 201. Two credits.

MUTC 203 Intermediate Aural Skills
Intervals, triads, modulatory melodic examples, seventh chords, cadences, four-part dictation with inversions and altered chords. Aural analysis parallels MUTC 201. Prerequisites: MUTC 109 and MUTC 102. One credit.

MUTC 204 Advanced Aural Skills
Continuation of MUTC 203. Addition of 9th, 13th, Neapolitan sixth and augmented sixth chords. Prerequisites: MUTC 201 and MUTC 203. One credit.

MUTC 205 Intermediate Sightsinging
Tonal and rhythmic performance techniques paralleling MUTC 201 and MUTC 203 (using moveable-do solfege). Prerequisites: MUTC 109 and MUTC 102. One credit.

MUTC 206 Advanced Sightsinging
A continuation of MUTC 205, with techniques paralleling MUTC 202 (using moveable-do solfege for tonal music and fixed-do solfege for atonal music). Prerequisites: MUTC 205 and MUTC 201. One credit.

MUTC 310 Music Notation
A practical course in music notation, including correct practices for instrumental, vocal and keyboard music in all combinations, editing, proofreading, layout, and extractions of parts from a score. Also includes pencil/pen techniques (studio and publisher styles) and computer music notation and printing. Two credits.

MUTC 311 Jazz Theory I
A course designed to equip the student with theory skills necessary to successfully improvise in the jazz idiom. Lead sheet notation, modes, and harmonic analysis are emphasized, as well as an introduction to jazz style. Two credits.

MUTC 312 Jazz Theory II
A continuation of Jazz Theory I, with a review of chord/scale relationships, modal interchange, voicings and voice leading, non-harmonic tone treatment, melodic elaboration, chord substitution, rhythm changes, Coltrane matrix and extensive exploration of solo analysis. Prerequisite: MUTC 311. Two credits.

MUTC 401 Form and Analysis I
A study of the various structural elements of music: melodic, rhythmic, harmonic, and textural. Emphasis on traditional structural concepts and terminology, from sub-phrase units through single-movement classical forms. Prerequisite: MUTC 201. Two credits.

MUTC 402 Form and Analysis II
A continuation of MUTC 401 including work with baroque and pre-baroque forms and procedures, concerto forms, art songs, etc. Prerequisite: MUTC 401. Two credits.

MUTC 408 16th Century Counterpoint
A study and application of modal counterpoint in two, three and four parts, including text-setting. Prerequisite: MUTC 201. Two credits.

MUTC 409 18th Century Counterpoint
A study and application of principles of tonal counterpoint, including canons, inventions and fugues. Prerequisite: MUTC 201. Two credits.

MUSIC THERAPY (MUTH)

MUTH 311 Introduction to Music Therapy
An introductory orientation to music therapy in terms of its history, theoretical foundations, scope of current clinical practice and research and relationship to other health care professions. Two credits.

MUTH 312 Music in Therapy
A survey of music resources used in a variety of therapeutic settings with emphasis on student development of musicianship, including accompanying skills on keyboard, guitar and other fretted instruments, and leadership skills used by music therapists. Two credits.

MUTH 321 Standards of Clinical Practice
Emphasis on application of the AMTA Standards of Clinical Practice, in preparation for music therapy field placement experiences. Topics include music therapy assessment, treatment planning, program implementation, program evaluation, documentation and termination/discharge planning. Prerequisite: MUTH 311. Two credits.

MUTH 322 Music Therapy Methods
A survey of methods used in music therapy practice, including performance, improvisation, song materials, physiological/psychological responses to music, music and movement, technology, recreational music, music psychotherapy, and combined interdisciplinary approaches. Prerequisites: MUTH 311, MUTH 312 and MUTH 321. Two credits.

MUTH 331 Psychology of Music
The study of psychological dimensions of musical behavior, including psychoacoustics, neurological considerations, the perception of musical elements, affective responses to music, the development of musical preference, musical ability, learning strategies and sociocultural influences. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Two credits.

MUTH 332 Influences of Music on Behavior
Emphasis on reading, evaluating and applying experimental research findings on the influence of music on behavior to music therapy clinical settings. Topics include measurement of physiological and psychological responses to music and the use of quantitative research methods when collecting, codifying, interpreting and presenting behaviorally-based data generated within a musical context. Prerequisites: MUTH 321 and MUTH 322. Two credits.

MUTH 340 Music Therapy Practicum: Gerontology
The integration of music therapy knowledge and skills in pre-internship clinical settings associated with gerontology. The AMTA Professional Competencies serve as the basis for student learning. Upon successful completion of this course, the student will have earned 75 hours toward the 1,200 hours of clinical training required by AMTA. Prerequisites: MUTH 312 and MUTH 321. Two credits.

MUTH 350 Music Therapy Practicum: Developmental Disabilities
The integration of music therapy knowledge and skills in pre-internship clinical settings associated with developmental disabilities. The AMTA Professional Competencies serve as the basis for student learning. Upon successful completion of this course, the student will have earned 75 hours toward the 1,200 hours of clinical training required by AMTA. Prerequisites: MUTH 312 and MUTH 321. Two credits.

MUTH 361 Clinical Improvisation
This experiential course focuses on developing skills necessary for achieving therapeutic goals through the use of continuous, interactive music based initially on client-centered motor, affective and cognitive behaviors. Prerequisite: MUTH 311 and MUTH 312. One credit.

MUTH 363 Introduction to Sign Language

MUTH 401 Music Therapy Seminar
A synthesis of music therapy education and training in preparation for internship. Emphasis on foundation, functions, professional responsibilities, therapeutic relationships, the identification of competency-based strengths and needs and future directions. Corequisite: MUTH 440 or MUTH 450. Prerequisites: MUTH 331 and MUTH 332. Two credits.
MUTH 440 Music Therapy Practicum: Mental Health
The integration of music therapy knowledge and skills in pre-internship clinical settings associated with mental health. The AMTA Professional Competencies serve as the basis for student learning. Upon successful completion of this course, the student will have earned 75 hours toward the 1,200 hours of clinical training required by AMTA. Prerequisites: MUTH 312 and MUTH 321. Two credits.

MUTH 450 Music Therapy Practicum: Medicine/Rehabilitation
The integration of music therapy knowledge and skills in pre-internship clinical settings associated with medicine/rehabilitation. The AMTA Professional Competencies serve as the basis for student learning. Upon successful completion of this course, the student will have earned 75 hours toward the 1,200 hours of clinical training required by AMTA. Prerequisites: MUTH 312 and MUTH 321. Two credits.

MUTH 482 Music Therapy Internship
Internship requires a minimum of 900 hours of clinical music therapy services under the supervision of a board certified music therapist, completed at a facility approved by the American Music Therapy Association, Inc. or at Shenandoah University affiliate sites. Completion of all courses required for the Bachelor of Music Therapy degree, demonstrated proficiency in piano, voice, guitar and non-symphonic instruments, and minimum grade point average of 2.5 in core music therapy courses. Prerequisites: MUTH 401, MUTH 340, MUTH 350, MUTH 440 and MUTH 450. Twelve credits.

MUTH 483 Music Therapy Internship I
A minimum of 225 hours of clinical music therapy services under the supervision of a board certified music therapist, completed at a facility approved by the American Music Therapy Association, Inc. or at Shenandoah University affiliate sites. Completion of all courses required for the Bachelor of Music Therapy degree, demonstrated proficiency in piano, voice, guitar and non-symphonic instruments, and minimum grade point average of 2.5 in core music therapy courses. Prerequisites: MUTH 401, MUTH 340, MUTH 350, MUTH 440 and MUTH 450. Three credits.

MUTH 484 Music Therapy Internship II
A minimum of 225 hours of clinical music therapy services under the supervision of a board certified music therapist, completed at a facility approved by the American Music Therapy Association, Inc. or at Shenandoah University affiliate sites. Completion of all courses required for the Bachelor of Music Therapy degree, demonstrated proficiency in piano, voice, guitar and non-symphonic instruments, and minimum grade point average of 2.5 in core music therapy courses. Prerequisites: MUTH 401, MUTH 340, MUTH 350, MUTH 440 and MUTH 450. Three credits.

MUTH 485 Music Therapy Internship III
A minimum of 225 hours of clinical music therapy services under the supervision of a board certified music therapist, completed at a facility approved by the American Music Therapy Association, Inc. or at Shenandoah University affiliate sites. Completion of all courses required for the Bachelor of Music Therapy degree, demonstrated proficiency in piano, voice, guitar and non-symphonic instruments, and minimum grade point average of 2.5 in core music therapy courses. Prerequisites: MUTH 401, MUTH 340, MUTH 350, MUTH 440 and MUTH 450. Three credits.

MUTH 486 Music Therapy Internship IV
A minimum of 225 hours of clinical music therapy services under the supervision of a board certified music therapist, completed at a facility approved by the American Music Therapy Association, Inc. or at Shenandoah University affiliate sites. Completion of all courses required for the Bachelor of Music Therapy degree, demonstrated proficiency in piano, voice, guitar and non-symphonic instruments, and minimum grade point average of 2.5 in core music therapy courses. Prerequisites: MUTH 401, MUTH 340, MUTH 350, MUTH 440 and MUTH 450. Three credits.

MUTH 495 Special Topics
Investigation of a specialized area of knowledge in a class setting. One, two or three credits, dependent upon topic.

MUTH 499 Individual Directed Research
A private instruction setting for individual projects in theory and musicology. May be used to fulfill music electives only. Project proposal must be approved by the associate dean for undergraduate studies and the division chair and/or program coordinator prior to registration. One, two or three credits, dependent upon topic.
NURSING (N)

N 121 Medical Terminology
This course is designed to assist the student in developing basic knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences with medical terminology. The course will focus on recognizing, using and understanding medical terms, prefixes, suffixes, roots and their combined forms as they apply to the delivery of professional nursing care. One credit.

N 200 Fundamentals of Nursing Practice
This course introduces the student to nursing as a profession and the roles of the nurse as provider of care, coordinator of care and member of the profession. Concepts related to provision of nursing care and health promotion are introduced. The clinical component provides the student the opportunity to learn basic skills in the campus learning lab and to provide direct nursing care to individuals in selected health care settings. Concurrent enrollment in NLAB 200 and N 201 is required. Four credits.

N 201 Health Assessment
This course assists students in developing knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences necessary to achieve competency in performing comprehensive and holistic health assessment of individuals across the lifespan. Concurrent enrollment in NLAB 201, N 272, N 283, N 200 and NLAB 222 or N 213 is required. Four credits.

N 209 Health Across the Lifespan: Psychiatric Mental Health Nursing
This didactic and clinical course assists the student to integrate and apply essential knowledge from biopsychosocial sciences associated with the individual’s emotional and behavioral responses to common lived experiences across the continuum of care throughout life. Principles of caring behaviors along with therapeutic communication principles and skills will form the basis for Psychiatric Mental Health Nursing care. Common mental health lifespan issues along with psychiatric mental health disorders will be addressed. Nursing care that fosters a higher level of mental health function and enhanced life quality is emphasized. Clinical experiences will include hospital and community sites. Concurrent enrollment in NLAB 209, N 272 and N 283 is required. Prerequisite: PSY 101 or equivalent. Four credits.

N 213 Fundamentals and Skills for Nursing Practice
This laboratory course introduces the accelerated second degree track nursing student to basic and intermediate skills that are essential to providing direct nursing care to individuals across the lifespan with a variety of lived experiences. Concurrent enrollment in NLAB 213 is required. Three credits.

N 214 Health Across the Lifespan: Adults I
The intent of this course is to facilitate the development of knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences in order to provide comprehensive nursing care of diverse patients with alterations in fluid and electrolyte balance, diabetes, perioperative, pulmonary and cardiovascular function. Concurrent enrollment in NLAB 214 is required. Prerequisites: N 201, N 283 and N 272. Five credits.

N 216 Lifespan Development and Nutrition
This course introduces the student to knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences essential to understanding the development of individuals, families and communities across the lifespan. In addition to growth and development, the course examines nutritional wellness including the relationship between food, nutrition and health. Therapeutic nutrition for use in the treatment of health alterations will be introduced. Three credits.

NLAB 222 Skills for Nursing Practice I
This laboratory course complements N 200 skills and introduces the student to additional beginning skills used in providing comprehensive nursing care to individuals across the lifespan. Concurrent enrollment in N 201 is required. One credit.

N 272 Pathophysiology
This course is designed to assist the student in developing basic knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences associated with the pathophysiology of common illnesses/diseases. Emphasis is placed on cellular, tissue, organ and systems concepts as they interact to influence the health of human beings across the lifespan. Prerequisites: BIO 260, BIO 231, BIO 232 and CHEM 121 or equivalents. Three credits.
N 283  Pharmacotherapy
This course examines theories and basic principles of pharmacokinetics, pharmacodynamics and pharmacogenetics which provide a foundation for critical thinking, the application of research findings and the utilization of the nursing process in the use of pharmacotherapeutic agents to diverse clients across the lifespan. MATH 210 is required if TEAS math score is unsatisfactory. Three credits.

N 306  Theory, Reasoning and Research in Nursing
This course is designed to assist the student in developing knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences associated with utilization of theory, research, and reasoning in nursing practice. Students will learn how to translate and utilize replicated research in nursing practice. Student must pass N 214 before enrollment to this course. Additional prerequisite: MATH 207 or equivalent. Three credits.

N 307  Health Across the Lifespan: Children and Adolescents
This course is designed to assist the student in developing knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences associated with comprehensive nursing care for diverse infants, children, adolescents and their families and communities. Emphasis is placed on provision of individualized care based on growth and developmental needs. Concurrent enrollment in NLAB 307 and NLAB 323 is required. Prerequisite: N 214. Four credits.

N 308  Health Across the Lifespan: Families
This course prepares the student to utilize nursing knowledge, skills, values, and meanings and experiences to design and deliver comprehensive nursing care to families across the lifespan and in a variety of settings. Emphasis is placed on issues relevant to the experiences of families. Concurrent enrollment in NLAB 308 and NLAB 322 or N 213. Prerequisite: N 214. Four credits.

N 313  Essential Concepts for Professional Practice
This course is designed to enhance the transition of the Registered Nurse student who is entering the RN to BSN Online Track. Personal growth and expanding perspectives will be highlighted. The student will be intellectually and technologically challenged through online opportunities for reflection, review and enhancement of technology and critical thinking skills. Building on preexisting knowledge and experiences, the student will gain a more global perception of professional nursing and what constitutes professional practice at the baccalaureate level. Communication, personal values and philosophy, evidence-based nursing practice, group theory, critical thinking, economics, informatics, cultural diversity and the political process are among the topics presented and analyzed. Three credits.

N 314  Health Across the Lifespan: Adults II
This course facilitates further development of nursing knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences related to the delivery of professional comprehensive nursing care for patients with common alterations in genetic, hematological, gastrointestinal, urinary tract, reproductive and endocrine health as well as those experiencing cancer. The role of the nurse as a provider and manager of care is also emphasized. Concurrent enrollment in NLAB 314 and N 214 (ASD only) is required. Prerequisite: N 213 or N 214. Five credits.

N 315  Health Across the Lifespan: Adults III
This course builds on previous nursing knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences in preparing students to provide, manage and coordinate professional comprehensive nursing care for diverse patients with common alterations in neurological, musculoskeletal, immunological, and infectious alterations in health. Concurrent enrollment in NLAB 315. Prerequisite: N 314. Five credits.

N 316  Palliative and End of Life Care
This course introduces the student to the basic principles and concepts involved in palliative and end of life care. The role of the nurse is explored with emphasis on holistic care. The student will be prepared to provide symptom management and pain control to the patient. Students will address ethical issues surrounding end of life care and various cultural issues of a diverse population. Students will gain knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences related to the chronically ill or dying patient. Prerequisite: N 214. Three credits.

N 319  Ethics and Genomics in Nursing Practice
This course introduces the nursing student to ethics in nursing practice. The course addresses current ethical issues that challenge nursing professionals and allows the student to use learned ethical theory and principles in analyzing ethical dilemmas found in nursing practice. The course also introduces basic concepts in genetics and genomics and their integration into nursing practice. Prerequisites: N 201 and N 272. Three credits.
NLAB 322  Skills for Nursing Practice II
This laboratory course builds upon basic knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences achieved in NLAB 222 and introduces the student to intermediate skills used in providing direct nursing care to diverse individuals across the lifespan. Prerequisites: N 200, N 272, N 283 and NLAB 222. One credit.

NLAB 323  Skills for Nursing Practice III
This laboratory course builds upon basic knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences in previous skill courses and introduces the student to advanced skills used in direct nursing care of diverse individuals across the lifespan. Prerequisite: NLAB 322 or N 213 (ASD students). Corequisite: N 314. One credit.

N 334  Health Disparities in Rural Settings
This course will aid the student to develop the KSVME to critically analyze the complexity of health disparities in rural settings rooted in multiple levels of historic and contemporary inequities. These levels include health care systems, health policies, distributions of and access to resources and health care professionals. The critical thinking process throughout the course will emphasize ethical considerations. Existing multi-level intervention strategies aimed at eliminating health disparities will be assessed, including those specific to rural settings as well as community-academic partnerships that translate research into action. Three credits.

N 374  Living with Grief and Death
This course is designed to explore the knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences surrounding death and death traditions of selected global populations. It will focus on an in-depth analysis of grieving and dying. The course will explore nursing measures that facilitate acceptance of the grieving and dying processes. Three credits.

N 375  Adult and Adolescent Physical and Sexual Assault
This course is designed to provide a basis for study of the evolving status of forensic nursing by exploring issues, identifying trends that will influence the development of this specialty, and interacting and working with members of a multidisciplinary team of professionals involved in the care of victims of violent crime. Emphasis is placed on providing interventions that are congruent with age, health status, culture, occupation and legal and ethical concerns. Knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences will be incorporated in the course presentation. Three credits.

N 376  Evolution of the Nursing Profession
The focus of this course is to review the history of nursing and analyze its impact on contemporary nursing knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences. The class examines historical nursing leaders and events that influenced the development of the nursing profession. Prerequisite: N 214. Three credits.

N 401  Health Across the Lifespan: Communities
This course is designed to prepare senior students in the last semester for contemporary public and community health nursing practice. Students will develop appropriate knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences associated with public and community nursing of diverse individuals, families, groups, and aggregate communities. Concepts of community as partner, empowerment and healing, participatory research and ecology are explored. Clinical experiences will take place in a variety of community settings. Prerequisite: SOC 101 or equivalent. Corequisites: N 415 and NLAB 401. Five credits.

NLAB 403  Health Across the Lifespan: Clinical Elective
This course provides the senior student with additional experiences in the provision, management and coordination of professional and comprehensive nursing care in a variety of specialty practice areas. This course also begins to transition individuals from the role of student to the role of independent nurse. Post-conference time allows for discourse and analysis of specialty clinical experiences in preparation for the National Council of Licensure registered nurse examination. Corequisite: N 401. Three credits.

N 407  Transition to Professional Practice
This course will prepare the senior student for transition to independent practice and licensure through the integration of critical thinking skills, critical appraisal of comprehensive nursing knowledge and development of a focused plan of study. The student will demonstrate achievement of comprehensive nursing knowledge obtained throughout the curriculum via standardized testing. Corequisites: N 401, NLAB 403 and N 415. Three credits.
N 414 Leadership and Management in Professional Nursing Practice
This course continues to develop knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experiences associated with developing professional and ethical leaders and mentors in the delivery of comprehensive nursing care. A variety of nursing management and leadership theories, principles and issues are examined. Students will have the opportunity to apply management, leadership, ethics theories, legal principles and models in simulated experiences. Prerequisite: N 314. Three credits.

N 415 Emergency Preparedness and Disaster Nursing
This course explores and prepares the nurse for response to various types of disasters, including natural, environmental, mass casualty, public health emergencies, terrorism and bioterrorism by utilizing essential knowledge, skills, values, meanings and experience in the basic competencies of emergency preparedness and disaster nursing. The RN-BSN track can register for this course. Co-requisite: N 401. Three credits.

N 450 International Health Care
This course provides students with the opportunity to experience international travel and develop knowledge, skills, values, meanings, and experiences associated with nursing and health care in a variety of international settings. Students will explore political, economic, and cultural influences on the role of nursing and other health care providers in promoting and providing health care in the international community. Three credits.

N 499 Selected Topics in Nursing
This independent study course is designed to allow students to scientifically explore selected problems or issues in nursing and/or health care under the direction of a nursing faculty member. One, two or three credits.

OUTDOOR LEADERSHIP (OLED)

OLED 101 Foundations of Outdoor Leadership and Education
This course includes a detailed examination of the meaning, scope and value of outdoor leadership and education. Emphasis is given to the historical, philosophical and theoretical foundations of outdoor leadership and education, the direct application to instructional procedures for providing leadership for outdoor education, and the planning and administration of such programs. Experiential education concepts will be introduced as they relate to recreation, education, developmental and social service settings. Field trips will be required. Three credits.

OLED 225 Introduction to Outdoor Pursuits
This course includes a comprehensive overview of outdoor adventure and recreation activities. Activities for exploration may include group development, outdoor living, backpacking, flat and whitewater paddling, mountain biking, rock climbing, caving, and winter-based pursuits. Emphasis is placed on activity-specific technical skill development, equipment management, risk management, environmental ethics, and basic instructional facilitation strategies. Field sessions/trips and additional course fees are required. OLED 101 is strongly recommended, but not required for success in this course. Four credits.

OLED 250 Group Development and Dynamics
This course provides theoretical and experimental comprehension of the use of group development activities for facilitating individual and group learning. The methods and strategies incorporated into the course are primarily practical in nature, and students will be afforded numerous opportunities to apply and demonstrate concepts and skills related to basic group facilitation, program planning, processing and risk management. Emphasis will be placed on the process of utilizing indoor and outdoor experiential activities and initiatives for group development in recreation, education, developmental and social service settings. Field trips may be required. OLED 101 is recommended, but not required, for success in this course. Three credits.

OLED 290 Technical Skills Intensive Topics
This course includes a comprehensive overview of specific outdoor adventure and recreation activities. The student is immersed in a focused exploration of the knowledge, skills, and dispositions necessary to facilitate specific outdoor pursuits in a variety of settings. Emphasis will be placed on technical skill development, facilitation and instructional strategies, equipment management, safety management, and program design. Field sessions/trips and additional course fees are required. OLED 101 and OLED 250 are recommended, but not required for success in the course. Students majoring in Outdoor Leadership and Education will be required to successfully complete two different topic areas. Prerequisite: OLED 225. Three credits.
OLED 300  Risk Management and Legal Issues in Outdoor Leadership and Education

This course includes a detailed examination of general legal concepts, federal and state legislation, and legal liabilities as these relate to and impact programming within the fields of outdoor leadership and education. Emphasis is placed on the process of identifying and managing potential risks in recreation, education, developmental, and social service settings as well as organizational structures. Field trips may be required. OLED 101 is recommended, but not required for success in the course. Three credits.

OLED 340  Nature Interpretation

This course provides students with an in-depth investigation of the fundamental principles and concepts of nature interpretation. Topics for exploration include historical development of the field, principles of exhibit design, interpretative program designs and techniques, common field techniques and current trends used by outdoor leaders. This course emphasizes experimental learning theories and their application to natural history interpretation and environmental education program design. Students will develop and present interpretive materials and a nature interpretation program relevant to their course of study. Field trips will be required. Prerequisites: OLED 101 and OLED 250. Three credits.

OLED 350  Advanced Facilitation and Processing

This course includes a theoretical and experiential examination of strategies for maximizing transfer of learning based on the development of client specific and evidence-based program outcomes. Topics will include program design, implementation, and evaluation, outcome assessment, isomorphic matching of activity components, foundations of experiential education, and stages of experience. Students will be afforded the opportunity to develop, facilitate and evaluate an experiential program with community group in the context of recreation, education, developmental or social service setting. Field trips will be required. Prerequisite: OLED 250. Three credits.

OLED 360  Ethical Issues in Outdoor Leadership and Education

This course includes a detailed examination of major ethical theories and their relation to the development of personal and professional ethics in the field of outdoor leadership and education. The differences between ethics and morality will be analyzed and selected codes of ethics will be presented for review and discussion. Emphasis will be placed on the application of ethical decision making and problem solving in relation to recreation, education, developmental and social service settings. OLED 101 is recommended, but not required, for success in the course. Three credits.

OLED 375  Advanced Theory and Programming

This course includes a detailed examination of how to plan, implement and evaluate adventure education experiences for groups in a variety of diverse outdoor and indoor settings. Topics for discussion and discovery include adventure theory and theorists, program design, group dynamics, leadership styles and facilitation techniques. Students will be provided with the opportunity for a supervised practical experience in group facilitation. Field trips will be required. Prerequisites: OLED 101 and OLED 250. Three credits.

OLED 400  Management of Outdoor Education Programs

This course includes a detailed examination of the administrative responsibilities and procedures related to outdoor education programs and services. Emphasis will be placed on professional standards, human resources, legal perspectives, accident and risk management, financial management, and program administration. In addition, a variety of organizational models will be explored. Field trips will be required. Prerequisites: OLED 300 and OLED 375. Three credits.

OLED 440  Senior Seminar in Outdoor Leadership and Education

This is a capstone course focusing on professional development and critical issues in the profession in preparation for the internship. Students will complete a project of professional interest, and compile a professional portfolio that provides evidence of competency for program goals and degree requirements. Students will explore and develop strategies for utilizing theory, philosophy and practical skills to address current issues and trends in the field. The course will culminate in students presenting the major issues and trends in a public forum to professionals and peers in the field. Field trips may be required. Enrollment limited to students with senior status majoring in the Outdoor Leadership and Education program. Three credits.
OLED 475  Internship in Outdoor Learning and Education
This is a capstone course based on an individually designed and planned field experience following the completion of all major requirements. Internship site selection will be the responsibility of the student, must be based on the student’s professional goals, and with an organization and facility suitable for offering an appropriate learning opportunity. Site selection will require approval of faculty supervisor prior to registration. Enrollment is limited to students with senior status who are enrolled in the Outdoor Leadership and Education program. Students applying for internship must have a minimum GPA of 2.5. Six to twelve credits.

PHIL 331 Philosophy of Nonviolence
This course examines the history, theory and practice of nonviolence as it has developed through human history. Particular attention is paid to the nonviolence of Mahatma Gandhi and Martin Luther King, Jr. through their writings and campaigns for justice, as well as an evaluation of the merits and limitations of nonviolence as a means of social change. Prerequisite: One course in philosophy or religion and one course in history or political science. Three credits.

PHIL 361 History of Western Political Philosophy I
A survey of the great political writings of Western Civilization from Ancient Greece to the Renaissance. Three credits.

PHIL 362 History of Western Political Philosophy II
A continuation of PHIL 361 covering the great political writings from the Renaissance to the present. The course covers the rise of modern political ideology. Prerequisite: PHIL 361. Three credits.

PHYSICS (PHYS)

PHYS 103 Acoustics
Basic concepts of sound in relation to music. The course includes an introduction to the physics of vibrations, the nature and transmission of sound waves, spectrum description of complex waves, spectrum analysis of musical instruments, properties of musical scales, and temperament. The biophysics of sound reception includes a study of the ways in which the ear and the auditory nervous system transform and encode musical messages. Two-hour lecture plus two-hour laboratory per week. PHYL 103 Acoustics Lab must be taken concurrently. Three credits.

PHYS 105 The Physical Universe
This is a conceptual survey course covering the basic principles of physics and space science. Emphasis will be placed on developing an appreciation of the subject as it relates both to everyday phenomena and to socially relevant physical science issues. The course is specifically designed for the non-technical student and requires only a minimal fluency in mathematics. This course also forms part of a three-course series with BIO 105 and CHEM 105. Together the three courses provide an overview of the natural sciences and fulfill the requirements for Virginia state elementary (K-6) teacher licensure. The courses may be taken in any sequence. Three-hour lecture plus two-hour laboratory per week. PHYL 105 The Physical Universe lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

PHYS 111 College Physics I
A study of the fundamental laws and principles of physics with emphasis on topics and applications to areas of the health professions. This course covers principles of statics, dynamics, work and energy, states of matter, heat and thermodynamics and wave phenomena. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory and one-hour recitation per week. Prerequisite: MATH 102 or MATH 201. PHYL Lab and PHYR 111 Recitation must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

PHYS 112 College Physics II
A continuation of PHYS 111. Topics include electricity, magnetism, light, modern physics, and nuclear radiation. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory and one-hour recitation per week. Prerequisite: PHYS 111. PHYL Lab and PHYR 112 Recitation must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

PHYS 121 General Physics I
An introduction to the basic principles of physics including classical mechanics, vibrations and waves, properties of matter; kinetic theory of gases, light, relativity, electricity, magnetism and radioactivity. This course is calculus-based and intended for students majoring in science, mathematics, computer information systems, and engineering. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory and one-hour recitation per week. Prerequisite: MATH 201. PHYL Lab and PHYR 121 Recitation must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

PHYS 122 General Physics II
A continuation of PHYS 121. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory and one-hour recitation per week. Prerequisite: PHYS 121. PHYL Lab and PHYR 122 Recitation must be taken concurrently. Four credits.
PHYS 201 Introduction to Microcomputers
Topics to be covered include microcomputer system components and how they function, instruction sets and how they are programmed, input/output controller design and A/D and D/A converters. Selected experiments conducted to obtain hands-on experience with micro-computer circuitry. Three-hour lecture plus three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite: PHYS 122. PHYS 201 Introduction to Microcomputers Lab must be taken concurrently. Four credits.

PHYS 221 Modern Physics
An introduction to post-classical physics as based upon the twin pillars of relativity and quantum mechanics. Material will be selected from areas of atomic, nuclear, solid-state and astrophysics. Prerequisites: MATH 201 and MATH 202, PHYS 111/PHYS 112 or PHYS 121/PHYS 122. Three credits.

PHYS 295 Topics
Study of specific topics, issues or themes within the field of physics. PHYL 295 Topics lab might be taken concurrently. Three or four credits.

PHYS 299 Directed Studies
This course is designed to provide an opportunity for open-ended study of scientific methods and results of current interest in physics. The independent study may consist of a basic research problem, a library thesis or a problem in science education. Prerequisite: Four credits in physics. One, two or three credits.

PHYS 331 Mathematical Methods in the Physical Sciences
A course designed to provide the science student with a repertoire of advanced mathematical techniques. Topics include infinite series, multivariate calculus, Vector analysis, complex variables, differential equations, integral transform and probability. Emphasis placed on applications to problems in physics. Prerequisites: MATH 201 and MATH 202. Recommended: PHYS 111/PHYS 112 or PHYS 121/PHYS 122. Three credits.

PHYS 352 Health Physics
This course deals with topics in physics related to the health area. Topics include nuclear binding energy, nuclear models, radioactive decay, interaction of radiation with matter and radiation dose measurements. Prerequisite: PHYS 112 or PHYS 122. Three credits.

PHYS 375 Research Seminar
This course is designed to provide an opportunity for study of the scientific approach to the solution of technical problems. Prerequisite: Junior or senior standing. Two credits.

PHYS 495 Advanced Topics
Study of specific topics, issues, or themes within the field of physics. PHYL 495 Advanced Topics lab may be taken concurrently. Three or four credits.

POLITICAL SCIENCE (PSCI)

PSCI 101 Introduction to Political Science
An introduction to political science emphasizing concepts basic to politics and political thought. Three credits.

PSCI 102 Introduction to Public Administration
A survey of the principles, functions and processes of public administration with the specific emphasis on the political aspects and environment of bureaucracies. This is an introductory course. Three credits.

PSCI 201 American Government
An introduction to the processes and institutions of the federal government. Three credits.

PSCI 202 State and Local Government
An introduction to the forms and functions of state and local government, emphasizing Virginia. Three credits.
PSCI 204 Introduction to International Politics
This course is designed as an introduction to the complex and dynamic nature of world politics. The goal of this course is to assist students in their endeavor to make sense of global issues and how they affect the global system, nation-states, not-state actors and the individual. Three credits.

PSCI 205 Introduction to Public Policy
A study of the process of making public policy, including detection of public issues, consideration of alternatives and adoption and implementation of solutions. Recommend PSCI 102. Three credits.

PSCI 206 Introduction to Theories of Public Organization
An introduction into public administration theory with a focus on public organization theories of management, motivation, leadership, communication, conflict resolution and decision making. Three credits.

PSCI 207 Communism, Fascism and Democracy
During the last century, three competing ideologies dominated the global system: liberalism, communism and fascism. The primary goal of this course is to familiarize students with the philosophical foundations for these ideologies and the goal cultures they hope to achieve. Three credits.

PSCI 209 Introduction to Comparative Politics
This course is designed as an introduction to the comparative study of political institutions and social processes at both the theoretical and practical levels. Examination at the theoretical level will entail a comparative assessment of the multiple means of governance. The practical study will include an examination of a set of nation-states with differing political, ideological, cultural and economic structures. Three credits.

PSCI 210 American Legal Systems and Practices
This course provides undergraduate students with an overview of the American legal system in theory and practice. In addition, students examine the ethical and advocacy responsibilities in the promotion of justice. Students will also survey major fields of U.S. law, develop basic legal writing and reasoning skills and be exposed to basic research methodologies. Three credits.

PSCI 295 Topics
Study of specific topics, issues or themes within the field of political science. Three credits.

PSCI 301 History of Western Political Philosophy I
A survey of the great political writings of Western Civilization from Ancient Greece to the Renaissance. This includes a discussion of Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, Augustine, Aquinas and Machiavelli. Three credits.

PSCI 302 History of Western Political Philosophy II
A continuation of PSCI 301 covering the great political writings from the Renaissance to the present. Prerequisite: PSCI 301. Three credits.

PSCI 303 American Foreign Policy
This course serves as an introduction to the complex nature of American foreign policy and focuses on several aspects of the foreign policy making process. These include the historical evolution of U.S. foreign policy, institutional processes involved in decision making and key issues American officials confront. Three credits.

PSCI 306 American Political Parties, Elections and Voting Behavior
A study of national political organizations, processes, and behavior to include political parties, the nomination and election process, and the development of political attitudes and behavior. Three credits.

PSCI 308 The American Presidency
This course will focus on the emergence and development of the modern presidency as an institution and its role in contemporary politics. The course will emphasize the constitutional background of the office, the evolution of presidential powers, the relationship between the presidency and Congress and the bureaucracy, the presidential election process, and the role of the presidency in policy-making. Three credits.

PSCI 310 U.S. Constitution (same as HIST 310)
An analysis of Supreme Court decisions throughout the nation's history affecting the three branches of the national government and federal/state relations. Three credits.

PSY 308 Research Methods in Psychology II
This course focuses on the application of research design and statistical principles. Emphasis is placed on formulating, conducting, analyzing and reporting psychological research, building on the scientific literacy stressed in PSY 208. Prerequisites: PSY 208. Three credits.

PSY 310 Abnormal Psychology
A survey of the description, causes, and treatment of abnormal or maladaptive behaviors. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Three credits.

PSY 312 Theories of Personality
A critical examination of the major theories, past and present, that have been proposed to explain individual differences in behavior. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Three credits.

PSY 316 Cognitive Psychology
This course explores the cognitive processes that occur in our daily lives. The emphasis of this course is to develop an appreciation and a working understanding of various cognitive processes that underlie our behavior. In addition to applying their understanding to real world situations, students will also have the opportunity to analyze and evaluate current topics within the field of cognitive psychology. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Three credits.

PSY 322 Adolescent Development
This course provides students with an understanding of the biological, cognitive and socio-emotional changes occurring during adolescence, and factors that may individually influence these changes, such as the family, culture, gender, peer group, media and school. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Three credits.

PSY 323 Children and the Media (same as MCOM 323)
This course examines the relationship between children and the media. It will look at media consumption and content as they relate to child development, as well as how gender, culture, self-concept, attitudes and behavior influence and are influenced by media exposure. Prerequisite: PSY 101 or MCOM 101. Three credits.

PSY 324 The Adult Years and the Aging Process
This course is a study of the stages and processes of adult development from young adulthood until death. Developmental theories and research from many disciplines are used to investigate the continuity and change that define the journey of adulthood. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Three credits.

PSY 325 Psychology in the Classroom
This course applies the principles of psychology and psychological research methods to the teaching and learning processes in the classroom. Theories of learning and motivation as well as strategies for classroom management, effective teaching and student assessment are examined with regards to both children exhibiting “typical” development and children with exceptionalities. Socioeconomic, cultural, ethnic and gender influences also are emphasized. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Three credits.

PSY 330 Behavior Modification
Learning theories and their application to therapeutic situations are presented. Classical conditioning, operant conditioning, and social learning are presented and applied to clinical settings. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Three credits.

PSY 335 Social Psychology
An investigation of how individuals interact with each other in varying social contexts, including emphasis on social cognition and social influence. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Three credits.

PSY 360 Biopsychology
This is a course about the biology of behavior and thought. Topics include perception, sleeping and dreaming, drug action and addiction, neuroplasticity, stress, memory, autism and what happens when sexual differentiation goes wrong. This course also includes an optional field trip to an area cadaver lab to examine human brains. A background in biology is helpful, but not required. Prerequisite: PSY 101 or any class in biology. Three credits.

PSY 391 Topics in Psychology
Investigation of specific topics or issues within the field of psychology. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Three credits.
PSY 401 Psychology Practicum
An opportunity for psychology majors to integrate classroom experiences in applied psychological settings. Prerequisites: Twelve credit hours in psychology. May be repeated once. Three credits.

PSY 405 Independent Research
This course provides an opportunity for psychology majors to work under the direct supervision of a psychology faculty member on a research project within the field of psychology. Prerequisites: PSY 101 and PSY 308. One to three credits.

PSY 411 Foundations of Counseling and Counseling Theories
An introduction to the profession of counseling with emphasis upon relevant personal, situational, ethical and legal aspects of the counseling process, as well as traditional and contemporary theories of counseling. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Three credits.

PSY 412 Clinical Helping Skills
This course provides an introduction to the basic helping and interviewing skills that apply to a broad range of helping professions. The format of the course emphasizes experiential learning in meeting course objectives. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Three credits.

PSY 413 History and Systems of Psychology
This course is a study of the emergence of psychology as science. It emphasizes both continuity and change as psychology has evolved, and provides an overview of the development of schools of thought, prominent figures and key theories of psychology. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Three credits.

PSY 423 Social and Personality Development
This course addresses the theory and research related to social and personality development, from infancy to young adulthood. Through readings and discussion, students will examine the complex interplay between nature and nurture with regards to the formation of first attachment relationships and their influence on later social and personality development. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Three credits.

PSY 425 Psychology, Gender and Culture
This course examines gender and culture drawing examples from the fields of psychology, anthropology, religion and history. Special attention is given to how biological and cultural factors work in concert with our psychological perceptions to shape our definitions of sex/gender and how this impacts our daily lives. Topics include gender identity whether male or female, or other; gender diversity in stereotypes and roles, relationships, sexuality, gendered rituals and gender portrayals in myth and religion. Prerequisite: PSY 101 or WST 100. Three credits.

PSY 428 Children’s Thinking
This course focuses on how children perceive, understand and learn about the world. Topics highlighted include language, social cognition, theory of mind, the influence of culture and the importance of play. Prerequisites: PSY 101 and PSY 220. Three credits.

PSY 465 Cross-Cultural Psychology
This upper division course is intended for students interested in exploring how culture affects and interacts with the entire range of psychology and human behavior; from our senses and perception to development, emotions, cognition and learning, etc. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Three credits.
PUBLIC HEALTH (PH)

PH 101 Introduction to Public Health
Public health is the science and art of preventing disease and promoting health through the organized efforts and informed choices of society, organizations, communities and individuals. This course provides an introduction to public health concepts and practice by examining the purpose, history, organization, functions and results of public health practice. Three credits.

PH 202 Global Health
Global health is the study of the biological, social and environmental factors that contribute to the creation and maintenance of health and disease in populations around the world. These factors include infectious disease, nutrition, economic factors, clean water; pollution and globalization, among others. This course will introduce students to the study of global health by exploring these topics in detail. Three credits.

PH 301 Epidemiology
Epidemiology is the basic science of public health, a discipline responsible for improving health and preventing disease in populations. This course will describe the study designs used to study disease in human populations, including randomized trials and four types of observational studies (cohort, case-control, cross-sectional and ecological) and provide an overview of basic analytic strategies used in public health settings. Prerequisite: MATH 207. Three credits.

PH 375 Physical Activity and Chronic Disease
This course will examine the etiologic link between physical activity and risk of chronic disease with a focus on prevention, including premature mortality, cardiovascular disease, type II diabetes mellitus, cancer, obesity, skeletal health and pregnancy complications. A review of study designs and physical activity measurement methods will be presented. Prerequisite: PH 301. Three credits.

PH 395 Public Health Topics
Study of specific topics within the field of Public Health. Three credits.

PH 490 Internship in Public Health
The public health internship provides an opportunity for each student to work in a public health setting in a position that utilizes coursework knowledge and skills. The student will acquire the internship position with approval from the instructor in advance of final registration. Junior/Senior standing, Public Health major/minor, and a minimum GPA of 2.75 required. Three credits.

PH 495 Topics in Public Health
Studies of specific topics, issues or themes in Public Health. Three credits.

PH 499 Program Implementation in Public Health
This course is designed to serve as a culminating experience for public health majors with an emphasis on experiential learning. Students will integrate concepts and skills from the core public health disciplines in the context of applied public health. Prerequisite: PH 301. Corequisite: WR 302. Three credits.
READING EDUCATION  (RDG)

RDG 424 The Diagnostic Teaching of Reading
Training in techniques for evaluation of reading progress, diagnosis of reading difficulties and correction of reading problems. Prerequisite: EDU 324. Must submit evidence of Praxis I score that satisfies licensure regulations for the Commonwealth of Virginia. Three credits.

RDG 425 Reading and Writing in the Content Area
This course will examine effective methods of teaching reading and writing within the frameworks of content areas other than language arts. Students will become familiar with the theoretical foundations of teaching reading and writing in content area coursework, as well as have opportunities to apply those theories to their own reading and writing skills improvement. The focus will be on reading and writing principles and practices employed to increase student achievement in the content areas. For their application projects, students will have tutoring experiences with local middle and secondary school students who need tutoring in reading and writing skills. Prerequisite: EDU 301. Must submit evidence of Praxis I score that satisfies licensure regulations for the Commonwealth of Virginia. Three credits.

RELIGION  (REL)

REL 101 Introduction to Religious Thought

REL 110 The Global Context of Christian Leadership
This course explores the global context of 21st century Christian leadership. It examines the challenge of Christian mission and leadership in a post-modern and post-Christian world. Three credits.

REL 112 Christian Discipleship
This course will focus on the beliefs, attitudes and practices that define Christian discipleship. Drawing upon both film and a variety of types of literature (both fictional and non-fictional), it will consider various possible cross-denominational understandings of what it means to be a Christian, contrasting those that focus on “beliefs” with those that focus on “character” and “practices.” Of particular interest will be the distinctive spirituality and morality associated with Christian life. The course will introduce the spiritual or devotional practices (both corporate and personal) by which Christians cultivate their relationship to God and through which Christian identity and character are formed. Finally, the course will look at ways Christians make decisions in relation to significant contemporary moral challenges. Three credits.

REL 202 World Religions
This course offers a survey of the major world religious traditions, exploring their origins, basic teachings, and ritual practices. Three credits.

REL 210 Introduction to the Hebrew Bible
This course will survey the religious ideas and theological motifs of the Hebrew Bible. Students will be introduced to critical methods of scriptural study as these relate to the origins, development, canonization and meanings of the text. The role of the Hebrew Bible in shaping the devotional, liturgical and moral lives of both Jewish and Christian people today will be considered. Three credits.

REL 211 Introduction to the New Testament
This course will survey the religious ideas and theological motifs of New Testament. Students will be introduced to critical methods of scriptural study as these relate to the origins, development, canonization and meanings of the text as a document written in the Greco-Roman world of the first century. The role of the New Testament in shaping the devotional, liturgical, and moral lives of Christian people today will be considered. Three credits.
REL 220 A Survey of Western Christianity
This course will survey a selected number of the major ideas and events in the history of the western churches from the second to the 20th century. The course content will provide familiarity with the central concepts and practices of Christian traditions as well as setting forth the ideas and practices that ground the faith of ordinary Christians through the centuries. Three credits.

REL 225 Christian Social Ethics (same as PHIL 225)
This course explores possible Christian responses to contemporary social problems. Topics include just war and pacifism, poverty and economic justice, sexuality (including homosexuality, abortion and sexism), euthanasia, capital punishment and racism. Three credits.

REL 251 Christian Spirituality
This course studies the beliefs, attitudes and practices by which Christians seek to cultivate their relationship with God and grow in Christian discipleship. Three credits.

REL 301 Christian Theology
This course serves as an introduction to Christian Systematic Theology and considers the purposes and methods for engaging in systematic theological reflection, the nature of God as Trinity, the person and work of Christ (Christology and Soteriology), the work of the Holy Spirit (Pneumatology), the nature and ministry of the Church (Ecclesiology) and Christian Hope (Eschatology). Prerequisite: REL 210 or REL 211. Three credits.

REL 310 Judaism
This course examines basic Jewish beliefs, sacred texts, customs/ceremonies, Holy Days (the Jewish year), as well as the most common issues facing modern day Jews and Judaism. Three credits.

REL 311 Asian Religion and Philosophy (same as PHIL 311)
This course examines the major philosophies and religions of Asia, including Hinduism, Buddhism, Taoism, Confucianism and Shinto. Particular attention will be paid to conceptions of self, nature, divinity and ethics. The course examines the ways in which these religions have influenced each other. Three credits.

REL 312 Islam
This course provides a general introduction to the origins and development of Islam, the principle teachings of the religion's faith, practice, the Islamic legal system (the Shari'a), and the evolution of Islamic sects and intellectual movements to the 21st century. Three credits.

REL 320 Christian Education
In this course, students examine the educational ministry of the church. Some of the key topics include the teaching style of Jesus, theories of Christian education, the formation of Christian identity and conscience, theories of faith development, leadership development and practical issues related to resources, curriculum and programming. Prerequisite: Any religion course focused on the Christian tradition. Three credits.

REL 321 Church Leadership
This course provides students with a foundation for understanding the ministry of the local congregation and of the leadership issues related to ministry in that setting. It considers biblical and theological understandings of the ministry of the church and of the distinction between clerical and lay ministry. Different forms of church organization, styles of leadership and the decision-making structures in the local church considered. Each student has an opportunity to explore leadership issues of individual interest such as leadership in social or political ministry, the leadership of women, leadership in Black churches, worship leadership, etc. Three credits.

REL 330 Christianity in the United States
This course provides an introduction to the history of Christianity in the United States, considering the particular ways in which Christian faith and life have been manifest during the successive periods of U.S. history, particularly in the 18th and 19th centuries. Extended attention is typically given to the historical origins of the First Amendment’s "religion clauses," religious nationalism in the United States, and the role of Christianity in the Civil War. Three credits.
REL 332 Christianity and the African-American Experience
This course examines the interrelationship between Christianity and the unique experience of persons of African descent in the United States. The course focuses on the impact of the slave experience on African-American religion, the development of African-American churches with particular emphasis on the African-American church as a social and political institution and the role of African-American churches in the Civil Rights and Black Power movements. Three credits.

REL 340 Religion and Ecology
This course examines and evaluates the beliefs, attitudes and practices of the major religious traditions as they pertain to human interaction with the natural world. It will help students understand the relation of religion and ecology and to become acquainted with the thought of the best thinkers in this emerging field of study.
Prerequisite: Completion of the general education requirements in natural sciences and moral reasoning. Three credits.

REL 391 Topics in Religion
Selected topics in religion for intensive reading, discussion and writing. Prerequisite: Any 100- or 200-level religion course. Three credits.

REL 401 Seminar in Religion
An intensive seminar on a current Biblical or theological topic. Prerequisite: Nine credits of religion beyond the 100 level. Three credits.

REL 421 Practicum in Ministry I
In this course, a student serves as an apprentice in ministry at a local church or agency. The course offers students an opportunity to explore, in a practical way, a particular aspect of the ministry of the church while receiving on-site and faculty supervision. Two or three credits.

REL 422 Practicum in Ministry II
A continuation of REL 421. Prerequisite: REL 421. Two or three credits.

REL 451 Interdisciplinary Topics
This course is designed to make available areas of study in religion and its relation to other disciplines that are not included in the regular course offerings. It may be taken as an Independent Study. Since the content will vary, this course may be repeated once for credit. Prerequisite: Nine credits in philosophy or religion above the 100 level.
Three credits.

RESEARCH (RSCH)

RSCH 110 Information Resources for ESL Students
An introduction to the use of print and electronic information resources that are necessary for ESL student success at the college level. The course aims to acquaint those students with best practices for finding, evaluating and utilizing information in proprietary online databases, as well as utilizing Blackboard, MS Office Suite and other online resources at SU. Note: This course is designed specifically for those students for whom English is a second language. Students may not take both RSCH 190 and this course for credit. Three credits.

RSCH 190 Information Literacy
This course introduces students to a variety of traditional print and electronic information resources including proprietary online databases and specially selected free Internet sites. Students will learn how to develop search strategies for electronic databases and how to critically evaluate the materials found. Additionally, students will learn to use computer mediated communication tools to disseminate information including word processing, presentation and Web page creation software. Please note – bibliographic research is the heart of this course; less than 15 percent of class time will be devoted to software training. Three credits.

</tbody>
</table>
RC 404 Respiratory Health and Disease I
This course is offered in the first semester of the program. The purpose of this course is to introduce the major cardiopulmonary diseases and their pharmacological interventions. Three credits.

RC 406 Respiratory Health and Disease II
This course is offered in the second semester and is a continuation of RC 404, Respiratory Health and Disease I. The purpose of this course is to complete the student’s knowledge of pulmonary diseases and their pharmacological interventions. Prerequisites: RC 404, RC 410, RC 411 and RC 412. Three credits.

RC 408 Mechanical Ventilation
This course is a study of the clinical application of mechanical ventilation. It includes the design and operation of common mechanical ventilators and the indications for mechanical ventilation. Monitoring devices, assessment procedures, clinical strategies, weaning methods and potential complications of managing patients on ventilators are also studied. Prerequisites: RC 410, RC 411 and RC 412. Corequisites: RC 406, RC 421 and RC 422. Four credits.

RC 410 Cardiorespiratory Physiology
This course is the foundation of anatomy and physiology of the heart and lungs. It begins with a comprehensive study of the respiratory system including structure and function, pulmonary mechanics, ventilation, oxygenation and acid-base balance. Other topics include cardiac cycle, hemodynamics, fetal circulation and effects of exercise. Three credits.

RC 411 Methodology of Respiratory Care I
This course serves as the basis for the practice of respiratory care. Topics include infection control, patient assessment, medical gas therapy, humidity and aerosol therapy, hyperinflation therapy, chest physiotherapy, airway management and closed chest drainage. Also included is a physical assessment workshop. Four credits.

RC 412 Applied Respiratory Care I
The application, in the laboratory and clinical setting, of the patient care procedures and equipment covered in RC 411. Corequisites: RC 404, RC 410 and RC 411. Four credits.

RC 413 Pulmonary Diseases and Treatment
This course focuses on the current pharmacological treatments for diseases of the respiratory system. A comprehensive study of the diseases, etiology and treatment modalities are the focus of this course. Three credits.

RC 415 Ethics in Practice
This course introduces the health care practitioner to common ethical issues experienced in their practice. This course covers the various theories and principles that currently provide the foundation of ethics as they relate to health care and the practitioner. Three credits.

RC 416 Emergency Preparedness
Emergency preparedness has become the responsibility of all health care providers. This course introduces the student to the many aspects of emergency preparedness on a professional and personal level. It provides the students the opportunity to learn how various conditions and situations affect their practice and personal lives. Three credits.

RC 420 Capstone
This course is offered in the last semester of the BSRC program. It provides students the opportunity to demonstrate their ability to analyze and apply accumulated learning and present creative solutions to requirements presented within the course. Three credits.

RC 421 Methodology of Respiratory Care II
This course is a continuation of RC 411 and includes the study of cardiopulmonary diagnostics and monitoring techniques, pulmonary rehabilitation and home care and special procedures. Prerequisites: RC 410, RC 411 and RC 412. Corequisite: RC 422. Three credits.
RC 422 Applied Respiratory Care II
This course involves the application of procedures and equipment covered in RC 408 and RC 421 in the clinical setting. The accent is on respiratory care for the critically ill patient. Mechanical ventilation, airway management, chest drainage systems, patient assessment and cardio-pulmonary instrumentation are covered during clinical rotations. Prerequisites: RC 410, RC 411 and RC 412. Corequisites: RC 408 and RC 421. Four credits.

RC 423 Respiratory Care Seminar
This seminar is directed to the study of topics pertinent to respiratory care. The course introduces concepts of credentialing, continuing education, clinical simulation examinations, grief, death and dying and ethics in the overall health system. Clinical simulations and clinical simulation concepts reviewed are used in the course. Two case studies will be completed by the student. This course is offered in the last semester of the program of study therefore all courses from the previous two semesters are prerequisites for this course. Prerequisites: RC 410, RC 411 and RC 412. Two credits.

RC 433 Clinical Practice III
This course involves the application of procedures and equipment covered in RC 408 and RC 421 in the clinical setting. The accent is on respiratory care for the critically ill patient. Mechanical ventilation, airway management, chest drainage systems, patient assessment and cardio-pulmonary instrumentation are covered during clinical rotations. Clinical experience allows the student to independently apply knowledge acquired in didactic, laboratory and clinical exposures. This course is designed to give the student an opportunity to provide patient care within the limits of their previous learning experiences. Decision-making, priority-setting skills and critical thinking skills are enhanced. Didactic time is incorporated into this clinical experience to provide the student with computerized practice for the entry level and advanced practitioner tests offered by the National Board for Respiratory Care. Prerequisites: RC 408 and RC 421. Four credits.

RC 439 Education Practicum II
This course is designed to introduce the student to preparation, teaching and evaluation in the classroom. The course includes self-directed study in course development, correlation of clinical and classroom instruction, evaluation and lesson planning. Prerequisite: RC 399. Three credits.

RC 452 Cardiopulmonary Instrumentation and Hemodynamics
This course covers hemodynamic monitoring and pulmonary artery catheter anatomy, insertion and use. Topics include the development of hemodynamic profiles for and monitoring in, acute myocardial infarction, respiratory failure, post-operative cardiac surgery and critical care transport. Three credits.

RC 485 Selected Topics in Respiratory Care
This independent study allows students to investigate selected issues in respiratory care or health care in general under the direction of a respiratory care faculty member. One to three credits.
SERVICE LEARNING (SRVL)

SVRL 101 Leadership and Community Engagement
This course is designed to support students in their study, active engagement, and critical thinking of leadership in public service in their participation of the Summer High School Leadership by Design. Students will participate and provide service in a variety of non-profit organizations. Through discussions, exercises, interviews, debates, and readings, they will gain a greater understanding of the characteristic of outstanding leadership as well as examine their own developing leadership styles and abilities. Students will apply their findings to the community setting with the outcome of having a greater understanding of how those abilities and leadership traits can be utilized in community and public service. Students will maintain interactive reflective journals throughout the course in order to evaluate their own learning. As students engage in this interactive process, they will monitor the progression of their own growth. This course may be repeated for credit, for a total of six credits. Three credits.

SRVL 401 Public Service and Not-for-profit Organizations
This course utilizes service learning as a basis for learning. It is intended to foster a sense of community involvement by undergraduate students with an emphasis on working with populations and the non-profit sector with whom the student may have had little or no interaction. Analysis of the effectiveness of the non-profit with creation of an action plan presented to leaders of the non-profit is central to this course. For each credit hour, at least 15 hours in service in the community is required. One, two or three credits.

SOCIOLOGY (SOC)

SOC 101 Introduction to Sociology
Designed to acquaint the student with the general field of sociology, the course surveys sociological concepts, processes and mechanisms of group behavior, the community and its structure, social organization and interaction and culture and personality. Three credits.

WOMENS STUDIES (WST)

WST 100 Women’s Issues Across Perspectives
This course introduces students to the interdisciplinary field of women’s studies by exploring feminist theory and women’s issues from multiple perspectives. A particular topic is explored through its representation in literature, film and art, as well as from the perspectives of health, history, sociology, politics and/or psychology. Through this cross-perspective approach, students are introduced to feminist approaches to theory and criticism. Three credits.

WST 200 Images of Women in American Film
This course examines the changing images of women in American film from the silent era to the present. Readings, film screenings and discussions will focus on the historical, social and cultural contexts that helped shape the portrayals of women as mothers, wives, workers and sexual beings. The course also examines film genres, narrative techniques and directorial styles. Three credits.

WST 320 Interdisciplinary Seminar in Women’s Studies
This seminar is offered to undergraduate students who are interested in conducting research in the interdisciplinary field of women’s studies and who wish to pursue one of the methodological questions raised in feminist scholarship. The course provides students with the opportunity to share their research ideas and lived experiences with each other in a seminar setting. Students will be expected to present their findings in a university or community forum. Prerequisite: WST 100. Three credits.

WST 322 History of Gender in Advertising (same as MCOM 322)
This course uses advertising to examine the construction of gender from the late 19th century to the present, particularly how advertising has contributed to the meanings we attach to being a man and being a woman in American culture. We take a historical look at how consumer culture has represented and defined the male, the female, the masculine, and the feminine by focusing on the development of significant advertising campaigns and consumption items. We will examine the relationship between major shifts for men and women in the private and public sphere and the depiction of those shifts in advertisements. Throughout the semester, we will relate the old to the new by focusing on persistent patterns of meanings that reoccur in advertisements and what these patterns tell us about the development of particular gendered meanings and gendered norms. Three credits.

WST 400 Special Topics in Women’s Studies
This course provides opportunity for critical reading, discussion and analysis of a selected topic in Women’s Studies. The course meets three hours each week with students arriving in class prepared to discuss readings and other assigned learning activities. Topics vary depending on the instructor. Three credits.

WST 410 Supervised Individualized Study
Guided individual study of a particular area or topic in Women’s Studies as agreed by the student and instructor. An outline of the proposed study content, learning activities and evaluation methods is submitted to the instructor for approval prior to enrollment. Prerequisite: WST 100. One to three credits.
WST 420 Women and the Holocaust
This course introduces students to the origins and ramifications of the Holocaust with special emphasis on women's experiences during the Holocaust. Drawing on primary sources of women's studies and trauma theory, the course explores the complex interplay of gender, race, nation and global culture in the context of mass murder. No prior knowledge of the Holocaust is necessary. WST 100 is recommended but not required. Three credits.

WRITING (WR)

This list includes those full-time and part-time faculty members who taught during the 2012-13 academic year and who are expected to continue, and new full-time faculty hired as of January 1, 2013, for the 2013-14 academic year.

* Members of the Graduate Faculty are designated by an asterisk (*). The graduate faculty is defined as those members of the full-time and part-time faculty who hold the appropriate terminal degree, or the professional equivalent, and who are to teach graduate courses. Graduate faculty may also teach undergraduate courses. The undergraduate faculty is defined as those members of the faculty who hold at least a master's degree, or the professional equivalent, and who are assigned to teach undergraduate courses. Most of Shenandoah's undergraduate faculty also hold terminal degrees in their field; however, those designated as undergraduate faculty are not teaching graduate courses.

^ Full-time administrative appointments with part-time teaching assignments are designated by a caret symbol (^). + Full-time staff appointments with part-time teaching assignments are designated by a plus sign (+). = Faculty members teaching in more than one school or division are designated by an equal sign (=).

*Summer Add/Drop Policy:

The last day to add or drop a course differs for summer term and is based on duration of meeting times. A student is entitled to a full refund on a course when it is dropped prior to the published drop date for the specific course.

- Courses meeting less than one and up to two weeks: Any drop must be prior to the first day of class
- Courses meeting three to four weeks: First day of class and the following business day
- Courses meeting five to six weeks: First day of class and the following two business days
- Courses meeting seven to eight weeks: First day of class and the following three business days
- Courses meeting nine or more weeks: First day of class and the following four business days

*Summer Withdrawal Policy:

A summer course withdrawal is based on the length of the course. For courses running less than two weeks, the withdrawal period is the first day of class and the following business day. For courses running longer than two weeks, a student is able to withdraw prior to the 60 percent point of course completion. Tuition is only prorated if a student withdraws from all summer courses in a term by the 60 percent point.
