DIVISION OF OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY

Shenandoah University's (SU) Division of Occupational Therapy (SUDOT) offers an innovative hybrid graduate program leading to a Doctor of Occupational Therapy. At SU, hybrid education means learning occurs in three environments: online, the classroom, and the community. The majority of didactic content is delivered online through podcasts/lectures, interactive learning activities and cutting-edge e-learning platforms. Classroom-based face-to-face experiences emphasize skill development, small group learning forums, and faculty-student/clinician-student mentoring.

OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY DOCTORATE CURRICULUM

Shenandoah University's Doctor of Occupational Therapy program is delivered in a hybrid format, with much of the content delivered online. Students attend classes on campus one day per week (Tuesdays) for the face-to-face portion of their courses. All fieldwork experiences are completed on non-campus days and during normal working hours. Additionally, students are expected to engage in application in their home communities as directed by faculty. Non-classroom time commitment will take at least 40 hours per week. This dynamic and demanding curriculum recommends that full-time students not engage in outside employment greater than 10 hours per week.

The learning model requires students to think critically and act professionally in independent, interpersonal and community-based problem-solving experiences. Graduates of this program enter the field as passionate, self-reflective learners, critically thinking practitioners, and professionals who understand the importance of ethics, leadership and service.

WINCHESTER CAMPUS

The Winchester Campus is housed in the Health Professions Building located on the grounds of the Winchester Medical Center. The OT facility features multimedia classrooms, plus numerous smaller classrooms and laboratories for demonstrations, problem-solving exercises, and simulations. A low student-to-faculty ratio enhances personalized education. Wireless technology provides instant web access throughout the entire building, including the laboratories, conference rooms, library, and fitness area.

ACCREDITATION

Shenandoah University's Doctor of Occupational Therapy program is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Occupational Therapy Education (ACOTE®) of the American Occupational Therapy Association (AOTA). Located at 6116 Executive Boulevard, Suite 200, North Bethesda, MD 20852-4929. ACOTE's telephone number c/o AOTA is (301) 652-AOTA and its web address is www.acoteonline.org. Graduates of the program will be eligible to sit for the national certification examination for the occupational therapist administered by the National Board for Certification in Occupational Therapy (NBCOT). After successful completion of this exam, the individual will be an Occupational Therapist, Registered (OTR). In addition, all states require licensure in order to practice; however, state licenses are usually based on the results of the NBCOT Certification Examination. Note that a felony conviction may affect a graduate's ability to sit for the NBCOT certification examination or attain state licensure.
