APPLIED BEHAVIOR ANALYSIS CURRICULUM

Shenandoah University's online Applied Behavior Analysis Graduate Certificate consists of 21 credit hours of ABA content. Students arrange their own supervision with recommendations from SU faculty. During the program, faculty intermittently meet with students to review their supervision progress.

This program meets the behavior-analytic coursework requirements for Board Certified Behavior Analyst (BCBA) and Board Certified Assistant Behavior Analyst (BCaBA) certification through the Behavior Analyst Certification Board (BACB) Pathway 2 eligibility route. Applicants will need to meet additional supervision requirements before they are eligible to take the exam.

Shenandoah's Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) program is certified by the International Behavior Analyst Organization. Through our IBAO certification, international students can still earn their ABA degree at Shenandoah and sit for the IBAO exam.
