

Sexual & Gender-Based Violence

What You Need to Know About Finding Information, Assistance and Support, and Your Reporting Options

If you have experienced sexual or gender-based violence, you may think you're alone and without support. Far from it. There are many people at Shenandoah University who will provide information, assistance and support to ensure your physical and emotional wellbeing. Here are answers to questions about reporting, finding health-related resources and information about the formal complaint process.

REPORT To Local Authorities

Call the Winchester Police Department at 540-662-4131 if the sexual assault occurred on main campus or in a university-owned building downtown.

Call the Frederick County Sheriff's office at 540-665-5600 if the incident occurred at East Campus Commons or the Health Professions Building.

Go to the Winchester Magistrate Office at 141 Fort Collier Rd., Winchester, for orders of protection.

Though you may decide not to report the sexual assault, you are encouraged to go to a hospital as soon as possible after the assault. Ask for a Physical Evidence Recovery Kit (PERK). The Violence Against Women Act requires these sexual assault forensic exams be given free of charge so evidence is properly preserved.

Shenandoah's Reporting Process

The reporting party has the right to pursue an official complaint with local law enforcement and/or Shenandoah University.

If the reporting party does not want to pursue a claim or requests their complaint remains confidential, Shenandoah takes reasonable action in response to the reporting party's information, but the university's ability to respond will be limited by adherence to the reporting party's wishes.

While Shenandoah makes every effort to adhere to the wishes of the reporting party, officials must balance the needs of the individual with the obligation to protect the safety and well being of the community at large. Therefore, depending on the seriousness of the alleged incident, further action may be necessary.

In all cases of felony sexual violence, a report must be made to the Commonwealth Attorney. If such a report is made, the reporting party will be notified by the Title IX Coordinator.

REPORTING

RESOLUTION

Shenandoah University has policies and procedures in place to respond to sexual misconduct. The current policy can be found at: www.su.edu/sexualmisconduct.

In May of 2020, the Department of Education released new regulations on how institutions of higher education must respond to reports of sexual misconduct. Shenandoah University is revising its policies and procedures to comply with the new laws. The implementation date of the new regulations is August 14, 2020.

The updated policies and procedures will be posted to: www.su.edu/sexualmisconduct.

Please contact the Title IX Coordinator with any questions you have regarding Shenandoah University's policies and procedures.

Actions that may be taken while a report is being investigated are...

- Interim suspension of the accused student
- University no-contact orders
- Modifying class or work schedules, making alternative housing arrangements
- Addressing other academic concerns
- Reporting to local law enforcement
- Obtaining a protective order from the Magistrate, General District judge or Juvenile & Domestic Relations judge.
