Dear Ms. Mason,

I am writing in reference to the Callaway's Golf Ball R&D Testing Technician position. I found out about the position while searching Callaway for entry-level positions in the company. I want to work for Callaway because I am passionate about the game of golf and want to apply my skills to the golf industry for many years to come because it is what I truly enjoy doing.

Currently, I work at Winchester Golf Center, a golf shop, where I have been fitting equipment and conducting computer analysis to fit people for golf clubs for the past year and a half. I have also taken many classes at Shenandoah University that have been extremely Excel intensive, meaning that I have had to do many calculations and equations that require the use of Excel. I am great with detail and work as diligently as possible, especially when it comes something I have a passion for.

Callaway is a quality golf brand that I would be proud to work for. I have always found happiness in working in the golf business, and I find that my performance greatly improves when working with people and products at the golf shop. You will see the same dedication of time and passion from me applied while working for Callaway.

It would be an honor and privilege to work for Callaway Golf. I look forward to speaking with you about this wonderful opportunity. I can be reached at (444) 444 - 4444 or emailaddress@su.edu. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Cameron Someone
